REASONS FOR PARDONS GRANTED BY THE GOVERNOR
FROM FEBRUARY 1, 1927, TO DECEMBER 31, 1928.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Governor's Office.

Harrisburg, January 1, 1929.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I have the honor to present herewith the reasons for pardons granted by me from February 1, 1927, to December 31, 1928; also one copy of reasons for remission of a fine.

JOHN S. FISHER,

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Pa., February 16, 1927.

Sir: At No. 59 September Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Troy Fender was convicted of larceny from the person, and on October 21, 1925, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is 24 years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest his occupation was that of weaver. He is unmarried and resided with his parents in the City of Philadelphia.

On the evening of August 21, 1925, the applicant went to Broad Street Station to meet a friend, John Bennett, who was coming from Bridgeport to visit him. When the train arrived the applicant met his friend. Before leaving the station they saw a man whom they both knew, named Wolf. The three went to a moving picture show. After the show, they went to the applicant's room, where they sat, talked and drank until late in the night. About 1.30 A. M. Wolf said that it was too late for him to go home and asked if he could remain with them until morning. They were all under the influence of liquor and hardly responsible for their actions. All three lay on the same bed and were soon fast asleep. The next morning when they awoke and went out for breakfast Wolf missed his money and watch and immediately accused Bennett and the applicant with having robbed him. At the Station House the money and watch were found in Bennett's pocket, but the latter claimed that Wolf had given them to him for safe-keeping just before retiring. The money and watch were returned to Wolf but nevertheless he was advised to prosecute the case. Bennett, the co-defendant, was pardoned by the Board at the December Sessions.

The applicant has now served one year and 4 months of his term of imprisonments. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that there should be no discrimination shown between Bennett, who has already been pardoned, and the applicant, and therefore he favors clemency. A representative of the District Attorney's Office who was present during the hearing verbally joined in the application for pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the comparative youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; the fact that the co-defendant has already been pardoned by the Board; and in consideration of the fact that the trial Judge and District Attorney's Office both recommend clemency; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Troy Fender.

Lieutenant Governor.

THOMAS J. BALDRIGE,

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., February 16, 1927.

Sir: At No. 2 January Sessions 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Clinton, Buckley Dalton, alias E. Davis, pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary and larceny and on November 1, 1924, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is 29 years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, a veteran of the World War, and a nurse by occupation.

The applicant was in poor health when discharged from the Army at the close of the World War. His nearest living relative is an aged grandfather. In October 1924, the applicant and two others were drinking liquor in the Town of Avis, Clinton County. Being hungry they broke into a grocery store and took food which they proceeded to eat.

The applicant has now served 2 years and 3 months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with, or convicted of crime. He has an excellent prison record. On May 1, 1927, his record in prison would entitle him to a release on parole, but his health is now in such a critical state that he may not live until that date.

The Medical Director of the Penitentiary has filed with the Board an affidavit in which he states that the applicant has been under his observation since March 1926, when he came to the prison farm. At that time he was suffering from Bright's disease and was given light duty and special treatment and diet. He has now lapsed into a critical condition. He has Bright's disease, dropsy, anemia and signs of uremia are on the increase. If released he will go to his grandfather who resides near Hot Springs, Ark., where he will receive special care and treatment.

The trial Judge and trial District Attorney have both filed letters with the Board in which they recommend clemency, largely on account of his critical physical condition. The application for pardon in this case is made by the Chaplain of the Penitentiary and is presented by request of the administrative officers and physician of that Institution.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case, the prior good record of the applicant, the term of imprisonment already served, his excellent prison record, and because of his critical physical condition, and in further consideration of the fact that the trial Judge, trial District Attorney, and Penitentiary authorities recommend clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now liberated will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 544, December Sessions, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Francis Hagerty was convicted of murder in the second degree, and at Nos. 546 and 547, of the same term and in the same Court, he pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with omitting to render assistance to injured person and operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and on February 26, 1924, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years.

The applicant is 25 years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, and a chauffeur by occupation. He is married and has a wife and one child 3 years of age. He resided in Philadelphia.

About 3 A. M. on November 19, 1923, a number of men entered a Checker Taxicab at Eighth and Vine Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, driven by the applicant. At the time, the latter was intoxicated and while driving up Fifth Street he passed a standing trolley car at Fifth and York Streets and is alleged to have struck a passenger who had alighted therefrom and continued on his way without stopping or endeavoring to render any assistance. The passenger, Leon Levy, was immediately killed. The applicant did not know that he had struck any person and kept driving until he had taken his passengers to their destination, when he took the car to the Company's garage. At the trial he was only identified by one person. A police officer named Haas said that he fired after the cab when it passed him and that he could see the driver but could not identify the applicant as the driver of the car. The three passengers in the cab at the time of the alleged accident testified that they knew nothing concerning any person being struck by the cab.

The applicant has now served approximately three years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He was only 25 years of age when the events above narrated occurred. He was the first person convicted by a jury in Philadelphia County on a charge of murder while driving an automobile. The District Attorney's office do not energetically oppose the pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the comparative youth of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; the need which his family has of support; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Francis Hagerty.

Sir: At No. 506 March Sessions, 1919, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the county of Philadelphia, William Keegan pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with Robbery, and on March 24, 1919, was sentenced by the Court to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nine years and eleven months nor more than ten years.

The applicant is now forty-three years of age, a native-born American citizen unmarried, a laborer by occupation and has resided in the city of Philadelphia for practically his entire life.

The applicant had been drinking to excess for a number of years and worked intermittently at odd jobs. On March 20, 1919, he and one Borowski were carousing together in the vicinity of Sixth and Wood Streets, which is in the heart of the "tenderloin district" of the city. The applicant claims that Borowski entrusted him with $2.07 and sent him for more liquor. When he returned without either the rum or money a fight ensued and both parties were arrested. Borowski entered a charge of Robbery against the applicant, although the indictment shows that the latter was not armed and that no weapons were used. At that time a crime wave prevailed in Philadelphia and this case was rushed for trial. The applicant was not represented by counsel and there is no stenographic record of the case.

The applicant has now served approximately seven years and eleven months of his term of imprisonment. While he had previously been arrested on several occasions as a result of the excessive use of alcohol, he was never before convicted of crime.

The District Attorney's Office was represented at the hearing before the Board. They did not join in the application for pardon but a verbal statement was made that the application was not opposed.

The trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that he has fully considered this case and believes that the applicant has been sufficiently punished, and furthermore has no objection to a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case, the term of imprisonment already served; the excessive sentence imposed for what appears under all the circumstances to have been a minor offense; because of the favorable attitude of the trial Judge, and in consideration of the fact that the prosecuting Attorney's Office does not oppose the application; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 63 and 64, October Sessions 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Philadelphia, George Stafford was convicted of larceny and making use of and operating a motor vehicle without consent of the owner, and on November 28, 1924, was sentenced by the Court to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than three years nor more than six years.

The applicant is 23 years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, unmarried, and a chauffeur by occupation and was employed by the Quaker City Cab Company at the time of his arrest.

On October 1, 1924, a driver of a Quaker City Taxicab went into a restaurant leaving his cab parked in front of the place. The applicant and one Mitchell entered the car and drove north on Thirteenth Street. The taxicab driver discovering his loss raised an outcry and started in pursuit of the fleeing cab. At Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets the cab was overtaken and the occupants arrested. Mitchell, the driver, was in the act of escaping, but the applicant was found in the back seat of the taxi. The latter insisted that he was a passenger in the cab, but the jury evidently did not believe his story and convicted both men.

The applicant has now served two years and two months of his term of imprisonment. While he had previously been arrested for minor offenses he was never before convicted of crime. His prison record is excellent, as certified to by the Warden of the Eastern Penitentiary. The Chaplain of the Institution has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. There was also filed a numerously-signed petition to the same effect. F. J. Figarotta has also filed with the Board a letter in which he states that the applicant was under his supervision for a number of years and that he found him to be honest and industrious. He also states that he will give him employment upon his discharge.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case, the comparative youth of the applicant when the crime was committed, the term of imprisonment already served, his excellent prison record, and because of the recommendation of the Chaplain of the Eastern Penitentiary, and because employment has been offered him if liberated we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 49 April Sessions, 1921, and 7 and 8 April Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, and at Nos. 135 and 136 April Sessions 1921 in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the same County, John Bohn was convicted of robbery, burglary, pointing fire arms and carrying concealed deadly weapons, and on June 9, 1922 was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of eighteen and three-fourth cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten years nor more than sixteen years.

The applicant is 25 years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest for the commission of the crimes above referred to he was unmarried, resided with his mother in the City of Pittsburgh and was employed as a clerk by his father, who was a general contractor.

The alleged robbery was committed on March 1, 1921, by John Sloane and the applicant who, being armed with revolvers, assaulted Charles Abt on West Carson Street, Pittsburgh, and robbed him of one Reo automobile truck and two barrels of bakers' malt, being the property of the Hankey Baking Company. The charge of pointing fire arms and carrying concealed deadly weapons was incident to the robbery. In his defense the applicant claimed that he and his co-defendant were authorized by the First Assistant District Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania to obtain evidence of violations of the Volstead Act occurring in the western end of said City, and that while carrying out these instructions these alleged offenses were committed. They were corroborated in their story by the testimony of the Federal official referred to and two Federal prohibition agents, and they also showed that the property alleged to have been taken at the time of the robbery was later turned over by them to the Federal Government for confiscation. The conviction for pointing fire arms and carrying concealed deadly weapons was based solely upon the testimony of the driver of the truck and his helper, admitted violators of the law in the transportation of intoxicating liquors. The conviction for burglary grew out of alleged whiskey thefts in and about the City of Pittsburgh and the applicant's conviction was secured chiefly upon the testimony of Edward McCabe, the alleged leader of the gang, and of other defendants, who had entered pleas of guilty to thirteen or more indictments. McCabe, the master mind, was recently pardoned by the Board. The applicant was the youngest one connected with the alleged gang and not the moving spirit.

The applicant now has served four years and eight months of his term of imprisonment. He had no prior criminal record with the exception that about ten years ago he pleaded guilty to the larceny of a bicycle, was paroled for two years by the Court and subsequently discharged therefrom.

A number of letters have been filed with the Board advocating clemency. Judge Gray, one of the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County, in a letter filed with the Board, recommends pardon. The trial District Attorney by letter filed also recommends pardon. The Warden and Deputy Warden of the Penitentiary, the parole officer, and the Superintendent of Police of the City of Pittsburgh, by letter, urge clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case, the term of imprisonment already served, the fact that McCabe, the leader of the gang has already been pardoned by the Board; because of his excellent prison record and the recommendations of Judge Gray, the trial District Attorney, the Warden and Parole Officer of the Penitentiary, and the Superintendent of Police of the City of Pittsburgh, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said John Bohn.

Sir: At No. 119, February Term 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Northampton, William Strauss, Samuel Strauss and Stewart Mathias were jointly indicted and convicted of conspiracy with intent to defraud insurance companies; and on September 24, 1925, were jointly sentenced by the court to pay a fine of $500, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Northampton County Prison for a period of one year.

Applicant William Strauss is thirty-nine years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. He is a graduate of the Dickinson School of Law, and at the time of his arrest he was engaged in the business of renting cars under the pay-as-you-drive system. He resided on R. D. No. 1, Bethlehem with his wife and two children. His place of business was located in the City of Bethlehem.

Applicant Samuel Strauss is forty-one years of age and a native-born American citizen. He is a graduate of Lehigh University and was on the faculty of the said university, in the Department of Science (Chemical Department). When the commission form of government was instituted in the City of Bethlehem, he was elected upon said commission and served as Safety Commissioner. At the time of his arrest he was engaged in business with the Wagner Manufacturing and Polishing Company and resided in said city. These two applicants are brothers.

Applicant Mathias is fifty-seven years of age, a native-born American citizen, and a laborer by occupation. He also resided in Bethlehem prior to the alleged arson. He had done odd jobs of work for applicant William Strauss.

The three applicants were jointly tried and convicted of conspiracy with intent to defraud four fire insurance companies, under certain policies of insurance issued and payable to applicant William Strauss on his premises, and contents, which premises were located on R. D. No. 1, leading from Easton to Bethlehem.

The three applicants were acquitted on the charge of burning the building, but convicted of conspiracy to defraud the insurance companies, after five hours' deliberation.

Their conviction rested mainly on the testimony of George Wagner and his wife. Wagner had been associated in business with applicants William Strauss and Samuel Strauss, and was found by them to be short in his accounts. He and his wife became incensed against the brothers because they had discovered his misconduct. Desire for revenge, as claimed by applicants, may have induced him to testify against the applicants. Another potent cause contributing to the conviction was a certain threat alleged to have been made by applicant Mathias, as follows: "That, if Bill (William Strauss) did not give him (Mathias) title to a certain automobile, he (William Strauss) would not put his foot on the gangplank to go to Europe." Applicant William Strauss had contemplated a European trip.

While the applicants were jointly sentenced on September 24, 1925, their imprisonment did not actually begin until after the Superior Court, on July 8, 1926, affirmed their conviction. They have now served approximately eight months of their term of imprisonment. Neither of them had ever before been charged with or convicted of crime.

The attorney for the four insurance companies, who were represented the State Bureau of Fire Protection, orally opposed this application for pardon and filed a formal protest thereto. Since the public hearing, however, he telephoned the Secretary of the Board of Pardons that he had received from the applicants a written power of attorney to discontinue the civil suit brought by applicants William Strauss and Samuel Strauss against the insurance companies for the recovery of the insurance moneys; and that he, representing said companies, had no further objection of a pardon.

Harry A. Mackey, of Philadelphia, has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that he had interviewed the Trial Judge with regard to his attitude in the present case; and that the latter stated that he had never paroled a prisoner, and that he had never written to the Board of Pardons about a case, except in one instance; that his feelings would not be hurt whether or not a pardon was granted. The Mayor and the Superintendent of Police of Bethlehem, the cashier of the Bethlehem National Bank, and other prominent citizens have filed letters with the Board recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the anomalous fact that the applicants (who alone were implicated in the arson) were acquitted by the jury on the charge of burning the building, and yet convicted of conspiracy with intent to defraud the insurance companies by destruction of the property; the prior good record of the applicants; the term of imprisonment already served by them; because the insurance companies, through their attorney, have withdrawn all objections to the pardon; because of the attitude of the Trial Judge; and in further consideration of the recommendations of the Mayor and the Superintendent of Police of the City of Bethlehem, the cashier of the Bethlehem National Bank and others we have concluded that they have been sufficiently punished and that, if they are now liberated they will become useful and law-abiding citizens.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said William Strauss, Samuel Strauss and Stewart Mathias.

Sir: At No. 316 February Term, 1922, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Washington, Michael Landis alias George Smith was convicted of robbery armed with an offensive weapon; and on July 3, 1922, was sentenced by the court to pay a fine of $1, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a minimum period of nine years and a maximum period of ten years.

The applicant is now forty years of age, a native of Austria, and owes allegiance to that country. He is unmarried. His parents are both dead. His occupation is that of plumber; and at the time of his arrest he was employed by the Pittsburgh Steel Products Company.

The applicant, together with George Daris, alias Wilson Courtley, and Nick Davis were jointly indicted and convicted of breaking into and entering the store of C. L. Harper, on December 10, 1921, and taking and carrying away therefrom goods to the value of $1,080. Daris was sentenced to serve from five to six years in the Western Penitentiary. Davis was never apprehended. The applicant was arrested and convicted on the testimony of Daris.

The applicant has now served four years and eight months of the term of his imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. His prison record is excellent.

The warden of the penitentiary has filed with the Board a letter, in which he recommends pardon. He states that the applicant has been an assistant in the dental department of the penitentiary and has so developed that he is now able to manufacture bridges, crowns, and dental plates in an expert manner. Dr. Stuart, in charge of the dental clinic of the penitentiary, has filed with the Board a letter in which he refers to the applicant's proficiency, his excellent prison record, and recommends pardon. There was also filed with the Board a letter addressed to the applicant by the Trial District Attorney, in which after referring to his excellent prison record, he states that he would recommend to the Pardon Board clemency, believing the applicant to be worthy to receive another chance in life. Byron E. Tombaugh, who was one of the attorneys in the case, has also written a letter to the Board in which he recommends clemency. The Union Electric Company of Pittsburgh, by letter, offers to give the applicant employment immediately upon his release.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because employment has been offered him if released; and in consideration of the recommendations of the warden and other prison authorities and the Trial District Attorney; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished; and that if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Michael Landis alias George Smith.

Sir: At No. 42, May Sessions, 1923, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, John Devlin was convicted of entering with intent to steal, larceny and receiving stolen goods; and, on February 15, 1924, was sentenced to pay a fine of $500, costs, and undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is thirty-two years of age, a native-born American citizen, married, and an electrician by occupation.

On April 4, 1923, at 3:00 A. M., Grover C. Stoecker, Nelson Dinneger, May Hyman and Harold McGillicuddy were arrested in the basement of the fur shop conducted by Max Finkel, at 130 South Seventeenth Street, Philadelphia. The shop was protected by an electrical wiring system, installed and operated by the Auxiliary Burglar Alarm Company of Philadelphia; and the alarm running to their office at 1524 Chestnut Street, was set off at the hour above stated. The manager of the Company, James Moran, answered the alarm, in company with the applicant, who was an employee of the company. They were joined at the store by two police officers, who had been notified by telephone to meet them there.

Finkel conducted a retail fur business and occupied the first floor and most of the basement of the building. In the basement was a vault containing the most valuable stock, although about three thousand dollars worth of furs were kept on the first floor for display and advertising purposes. Entrance was effected by means of a key which was manufactured for and found on Hyman. No furs had been removed. Three or four bags containing furs, valued at about nine thousand dollars, were found on the floor of the basement by the officers when they entered the building. The four men were arrested without resistance in the basement. At the trial the presence of these men at the scene of the crime was not denied; but it was contended that they were there pursuant to an agreement made between Stoecker and the applicant to stage a fake burglary which should be discovered by the applicant, and which would enable him to gain prestige and promotion from the company by whom he was employed. This contention was supported by the applicant himself, who was a witness for the Commonwealth at the first trial. The applicant has always maintained that there was an express agreement that nothing should be stolen nor removed from the premises. At the last trial of the applicant, Dinneger, who was on probation at that time, testified that the four men spent the evening of the robbery in a saloon, and that the applicant visited the saloon three times, and that on each occasion he talked to Stoecker. He further testified that he heard the applicant say, "Everything is set—but don't take a thing, or you will get me in Dutch."

The first trial of the four defendants resulted in a disagreement of the jury. Later, the applicant was arrested on the same charge as the other defendants. On June 1, 1923, Stoecker and Hyman were each sentenced to a term of ten years in the Philadelphia County Prison and Dinneger was placed on probation for five years by the Trial Judge. McGillicuddy was subsequently convicted of the same offense as the other defendants and sentenced to not less than eighteen months nor more than two years in the Philadelphia County Prison, but was pardoned after having served about six months. Stoecker was pardoned in November, 1926.

The applicant has now served three years and ten months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime.

The owner of the fur store, Max Finkel (who was the private prosecutor in the case), has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. The Auxiliary Fire Alarm and Telegraph Company, which employed the applicant, has also, by letter filed, asked for a pardon. The Assistant Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency, stating that the applicant has been sufficiently punished, and that he is suffering from tuberculosis and is compelled to live in an outside tent.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the fact that all of the men implicated in this alleged robbery have been liberated; because of the impaired health of the applicant; and in further consideration of the fact that the private prosecutor, his former employer and the Assistant Trial District Attorney all join in his application for clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished; and that, if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommended that a pardon be now granted to the said John Devlin.

Sir: At Nos. 91, 92 and 93, November Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Allegheny, Fred Ruslander pleaded guilty to three indictments charging him with fraudulently making and uttering a written instrument, and on November 25, 1925, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay fines of 18½c, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half nor more than five years.

The applicant is forty-three years of age, a native-born American citizen. For many years he was by profession a newspaper reporter and editor, but at the time of his arrest, was engaged in the business of building, contracting and real estate brokerage, and resided in the City of Pittsburgh with his wife and three boys, aged sixteen, ten and seven years, respectively.

The applicant has been engaged in newspaper work practically all of his adult life, until the time of the World War. During the War, and until the Spring of 1922, he was engaged in the work connected with the collection and administration of funds for sufferers in the European war zones. In 1922, after his return to Pittsburgh, he went into business as a contractor, and insurance and real estate broker. Being inexperienced in this kind of business, he became financially involved to the verge of ruin. In his desperation, he made up spurious mortgages on non-existent properties, which mortgages were accepted by one Weiler who had loaned him capital for the erection of houses, and who afterwards became the prosecutor in this case.

The applicant has now served practically one year and four months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He is connected with a Jewish family of very high character. His wife and children require his support.

The trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that he is entirely conversant with the facts of the case, has given the matter careful consideration and has no objection to a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; because of the term of imprisonment already served; the prior good record of the applicant; the need which his family have of support; and because of the fact that the trial District Attorney does not object to the granting of clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now liberated, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Fred Ruslander.

Sir: At No. 110 April Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Allegheny, A. Stanley Thompson pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with embezzlement and on November 16, 1925, was sentenced by the court to pay a fine of 6¼c, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than one and one-half nor more than three years.

The applicant is twenty-seven years of age, a native-born American citizen, and his occupation is that of clerk and salesman. At the time of his arrest he was employed as a Clerk by the Colonial Trust Company, Pittsburgh, and resided with his parents in that City. He is unmarried.

For more than two years prior to his arrest, the applicant was a clerk in the coupon department of the Colonial Trust Company, Pittsburgh. During this period he associated with companions who were accustomed to gamble and live beyond their means. On the dates charged in the indictment he appropriated to his own use, the proceeds of coupons which were presented to him for payment by customers of the bank.

The applicant has now served one year and four months of his term of imprisonment, lacking two months of having served the minimum term. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

The President of the Trust Company which employed him has filed a letter with the Board in which he requests clemency. The manager of the publicity department of the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh, in a letter filed, makes the same recommendation. Honorable John W. Vickerman also recommends pardon. W. G. McCleave, a contractor of Pittsburgh, in a letter filed with the Board, offers immediate employment to the applicant if released. The trial District Attorney, in a letter filed, recommends pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because of the recommendations of his former employer and others; because employment has been offered him if released; and in further consideration of the fact that the trial District Attorney recommends clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now liberated, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 881, September Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Allegheny, Philip Fazio was convicted of larceny by trick, and on March 29, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, costs and to undergo imprisonment of not less than one year nor more than two years in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

The applicant is twenty-seven years of age, a native of Italy and owes allegiance to that country. He has filed his first naturalization papers. He is a shoemaker by occupation and at the time of his arrest, resided in Clairton, Allegheny County, with his wife and was employed as a salesman for the Tube City Beverage Company, McKeesport.

The prosecutor testified at the trial that on August 24, 1925, he met the applicant (whom he had known for two years), and another unknown man. The latter wanted to get some papers at the bank. The prosecutor stated that he got $999.00 at the bank in addition to the $72.00 which he already had; that the applicant then went to a drug store for pills to cure the headache of the stranger and before going turned over his money to the prosecutor; that the latter then went to the drug store for more pills but before doing so the stranger suggested that as the applicant had given his money to the prosecutor before he (the applicant), went to the drug store, that the prosecutor should leave his money with the applicant in order to insure the prosecutor's return; that the latter then gave his money, about 1071.00, to the applicant and when the prosecutor returned, both the applicant and stranger were gone. The prosecutor said that he was with the applicant from about 12:05 P. M. until about 12:20 or 12:25 P. M. His testimony was practically uncorroborated. The applicant denied at the trial that he ever saw the prosecutor at the time of the alleged larceny or that he even knew him before that time. The applicant testified that he was at another place, to wit, Wilson, at the time of the alleged offense, which is distant about ten minutes ride in an automobile. On January 3, 1927, the trial Judge, after interviewing the prosecutor in Chambers, and in view of the prosecutor's repudiation of his testimony given at the trial, paroled the applicant. In the meanwhile, deportation proceedings were instituted by the Federal authorities, on account of the applicant's conviction and sentence, and unless a pardon is granted, the applicant will be returned to Italy.

While the applicant is now out on parole he had previously served nine months in the Allegheny County Workhouse. His prior record was good with the exception that at the age of seventeen years he was committed to the Huntingdon Reformatory for having stolen $1.50.

There was filed with the Board an affidavit made by the prosecutor after the trial, in which he flatly repudiated the testimony which he had given. He therein states that he did not know the applicant; did not meet him on August 24, 1925, or at any other time, and that the applicant is innocent of the charge for which he was convicted and sentenced. There was also filed with the Board affidavits made by four disinterested witnesses to the effect that the prosecutor had admitted to them that he did not know the applicant and that the latter was innocent of the charge. These witnesses did not testify at the trial. There was also filed with the Board, the affidavits of two disinterested witnesses, neither of whom testified at the trial, to the effect that the applicant, when the alleged crime was committed, was in their company some distance from the place where the alleged crime was committed and was, therefore innocent. There was also filed with the Board, a petition requesting clemency and letters as to the good reputation of the applicant, and fourteen affidavits to the same effect. Fred Batchelor, who testified that the applicant was in the company of the prosecuting witness on the day of the crime, has since repudiated his testimony. The trial District Attorney in a telegram to the Board, states that he has no objection to the granting of a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the genuine doubt as to the guilt of the applicant because of the affidavits on file with the Board; the petitions and letters recommending clemency and because the trial District Attorney has no objections thereto, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Philip Fazio.

Sir: At Nos. 35, 35-1, 35-2, 35-3, 35-4, 35-5, 35-6, June Term, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Montgomery, Everett Sutton alias Ed. Davis pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary, and on June 9, 1925, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $1000, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Montgomery County jail for a term of not less than two and one-half nor more than five years.

The applicant is twenty-five years of age and a native-born American citizen. He is by occupation an electrician and upholsterer, and at the time of his arrest he was employed as an upholsterer by the Ford Motor Company of Philadelphia. He was out of employment at the time of the commission of the alleged offense. He resided in the City of Philadelphia with his father, mother and brother, and while married, has been separated from his wife for about seven years.

The applicant was without employment for a period of about six weeks prior to the commission of these crimes. He met two men, Simon Dalgueest and Charles Mefketta, and between March 19 and May 4, 1925, in company with these two men, he committed a series of burglaries in the settlement known as Melrose Park, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, for which prosecutions were instituted against him by the Chief of Police of Cheltenham Township, at whose instance the present application for pardon is made.

The applicant has now served one year and ten months of his term of imprisonment. His prior record is good except that he had been previously sentenced to the House of Correction in Philadelphia for a period of three months on the charge of non-support. His prison record is good.

The first assistant trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends a pardon and quotes the prosecutor as also being favorable thereto, on account of the assistance which the applicant gave the police authorities in recovering the stolen property, and because of the frankness and truthfulness with which he testified against the receivers of the stolen goods and secured their conviction in Philadelphia County.

The trial Judge has also filed with the Board a letter in which he states that at the time of imposing sentence, believing the applicant to have been the victim of evil associates rather than a professional crook, he had intimated to him that if his prison record was good he might be paroled before the expiration of his term. He further states that because of judicial construction of legislation enacted since the imposition of the sentence, he is powerless to parole the applicant.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; the prior good record of the applicant, with a minor exception; his excellent prison record; because of the recommendation of the Chief of Police who was the prosecutor in these cases, and the recommendation of the assistant trial District Attorney who tried it; and in consideration of the favorable attitude of the trial Judge; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now liberated, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 134, 136 and 137, January Session, 1922, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Mercer, Byron Forney, entered pleas of autrefois acquit and not guilty to three indictments charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses, and on December 30, 1925, at No. 137, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $50.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny County Workhouse for a period of fifteen months. From this sentence an appeal was taken to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, and pending the disposition of this appeal, the applicant was released on bail and did not actually begin to serve his sentence until July 3, 1926. On October 18, 1926, he was sentenced in the two remaining indictments to pay in the aggregate a fine of $2.00 and to undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny County Workhouse for a period of fifteen months respectively, the two last mentioned sentences to run concurrently with the sentence imposed in No. 137, and to be computed from July 3, 1926.

After the affirmance by the Superior Court of the sentence at No. 137, the applicant withdrew his pleas and without a trial submitted to sentence on the remaining indictments.

The applicant is thirty-eight years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest he was engaged in the undertaking business in the City of McKeesport. He is married and has one child aged fourteen years.

These indictments were based upon charges that the applicant, intending to defraud, made false representations in soliciting the sale of stock in an oil and gas company.

The applicant has now actually served nine months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His wife, child and mother, aged seventy-six years, who resides with his family, require support.

Dr. W. C. Heisey has filed with the Board, an affidavit in which he states that the applicant is convalescing from an operation performed for chronic cholecystitis with gall-stones and chronic appendicitis, and certifies that he is not in condition to undergo further imprisonment, and that his detention would be a detriment to his complete recovery. The Mayor of McKeesport, the President of the First National Bank of McKeesport, the Kiwanis Club and the local Lodge of Knights of Pythias have filed letters with the Board recommending clemency. The trial judge is strictly non-committal.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; the need which his family has of support; his impaired physical condition due to serious illness; because of the recommendations of the Mayor of McKeesport and other prominent citizens; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Byron Forney.

Sir: At No. 126, June Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Beaver, Earl T. Lance pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with assault with intent to commit rape, and on August 10, 1926, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than one and one-half nor more than three years.

The applicant is twenty-four years of age, a native-born American citizen, a mill worker by trade and at the time of his arrest was employed by the Standard Seamless Tube Company at Ambridge, Beaver County. He is unmarried.

On August 2, 1926, about 11:30 P. M., the applicant was driving along the street in Ambridge when he saw a young woman named Ethel McPherson, whom he knew, aged about twenty years, and asked her if she cared to go for a ride. They drove to Baden, about five miles distant. The applicant turned into a side road where he parked. He made advances to her which were not improper. The girl suddenly decided to return to her home. The side road was narrow at the point where the car was parked and the applicant drove ahead intending to turn around at the first highway intersection. The girl acted in a peculiar way. The applicant asked her if she "would be a sport." She replied that she would if he would let her out of the car. As she was leaving the car he put his arm around her waist. She turned and caught hold of him. He then slapped her in the face. She screamed. Her scream was heard by two men who were following in a Ford coupe and one of the men said "I am a constable and will have to arrest you." The following day the applicant was taken before a Justice of the Peace. The girl was present but refused to make any charge against him. The constable who was present made the charge. The applicant was then taken to the County jail where he was advised by the night turnkey to plead guilty and ask the mercy of the Court. The applicant being without funds and without counsel, followed this advice.

The applicant has now served seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record is excellent.

The Adult Probation Officer of Beaver County has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that he had made an investigation of the facts in this case. He states that he interviewed Miss McPherson and that she felt that the applicant had been sufficiently punished and had no objection to his release. He gives as his opinion that the girl was unchaste and recommends a pardon. There was also filed with the Board, several letters and affidavits attesting the applicant's good character. The psychologist of the Western Penitentiary has filed with the Board a letter in which he reviews the circumstances of the case.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; his excellent prison record; in consideration of the recommendations of the Probation Officer of Beaver County and others; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 128, June Sessions, 1918, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Delaware, Ralph Garemore alias Jack Carson, pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the second degree, and on March 25, 1919, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than fifteen years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is thirty-six years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States an electrician by occupation. He was married in July, 1915, and lived with his wife in the City of Philadelphia when he was drafted into the regular army, in September, 1917. He did not claim his exemption as a married man and was assigned to Camp Meade, Maryland. While there the applicant's wife endeavored, without his consent, to secure his release from the army. In December, 1917, she sent a false telegram to the commanding officer, stating that the applicant's mother was dying, and when he reached Philadelphia on furlough he found that the statement was false. He returned to camp. Later in the same month, his Captain informed him a telegram had been received stating that his mother was expected to die. When he reached home on furlough he again found the statement to be false. The applicant's wife induced him to overstay his leave. She informed him that she would do herself bodily harm if he went back. He finally returned to camp, on January 14, 1918, and reported for duty, but was at once placed under arrest. He was court martialed for overstaying his leave of absence, and while awaiting sentence, on January 19, 1918, received a letter stating that his wife would be dead when the letter reached him, whereupon, on January 20th, the applicant left the camp and when he reached home, found his wife living. She then stated that she would kill herself unless he remained with her. Applicant remained until March 17, 1918. Finally the applicant informed his wife he would return to camp and take his sentence. She again endeavored to persuade him to remain with her. They planned to visit her father's grave. They went there and spent considerable time in the cemetery. Before returning, while they were eating their lunch, the wife took a pistol from the pocket of the applicant's overcoat lying on the ground beside them, and before he could prevent, she shot herself, with fatal results. The applicant went to his home to get into uniform. When he arrived he found a note in his wife's handwriting stating that she had intended to commit suicide. The applicant notified the Chief of Police of his wife's suicide, and where the body would be found. A second note was found upon the body of the wife stating that she intended to commit suicide. Both notes were in her handwriting. At the trial, the applicant was under the impression that he was filing a plea of "accidental homicide," for which he would not receive punishment, and was surprised when the Court sentenced him for murder.

The applicant has now served practically eight years of his term of imprisonment. He was entirely innocent of his wife's death, in act or intent. His plea of guilty was entered ignorantly and inconsiderately.

There was filed with the Board a copy of the note found on the body of the deceased which read as follows: "I am broken down mentally and I cannot stand it any longer. I am sorry that I must end my life this way." There was also filed a copy of the note written by the applicant to the Police Department in which he stated that he was present when his wife shot herself and that he would explain the details when he surrendered. There was also filed the affidavit of John J. Stetser, one of the applicant's counsel, who states that there were no notes of testimony transcribed by the Court stenographer. Two notes in the handwriting of the deceased were found, both of the same tenor and effect, one upon the body of the deceased, the other in the room occupied by her at the time of her death. These notes were not produced at the time of the hearing, and the applicant received no benefit therefrom.

There was also filed with the Board, a number of letters from Harry J. Trainer, C. G. A. Baldi, William W. Roper and other prominent citizens, recommending clemency. Employers have been offered the applicant by a firm of contractors if he is liberated.

The assistant trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that there were no eye-witnesses to the shooting and that the Commonwealth had no evidence as to the circumstances of the killing except what was given by the applicant. He doubts if a conviction could have been secured had the case come to trial. He further states his belief that the term of imprisonment is adequate under the facts.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the probable innocence of the applicant; the fact that through misapprehension and ignorance he pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree; whereas he had no direct connection with his wife's death; the further fact that he did not receive the benefit to which he was entitled from the notes written by the wife and found on her dead body and in her room; because employment has been offered him if released; and in further consideration of the statement of the assistant trial District Attorney and the recommendations of Messrs. Trainer, Baldi and Roper, prominent citizens of Philadelphia, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now liberated, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session" recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Ralph Garemore alias Jack Carson.

Sir: At Nos. 56 and 57, September Session, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Cumberland, Robert Smith entered pleas of nolo contendere to two indictments charging him with felonious entry and larceny, and on September 18, 1925, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of $100, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than three and one-half nor more than seven years.

The applicant is twenty-one years of age and a native-born American citizen. His occupation is that of motor mechanic. He resided in Carlisle, Pa., with his maternal grandmother. He is unmarried.

The applicant, in company with a man by the name of Pierce, on November 2, 1924, committed the crime of larceny by taking a Ford automobile, the property of M. J. Currie of Mechanicsburg. Several days later the two men entered the Battery Service Station of one F. M. Trout, located in Carlisle, and took therefrom batteries, radio sets, and accessories of the value of about $825. They then drove to Hagerstown, Maryland, where they disposed of the batteries, later traveling on to Baltimore, in which city the automobile was recovered, and Smith was arrested. He made a complete confession, waived extradition and was brought back to Carlisle for trial.

The applicant has now served one year and six months of his term of imprisonment. He has completed his minimum term of sentence imposed by the Court at No. 57, for larceny. If pardoned of sentence imposed by the Court at No. 56, for felonious entry, he will be for the next one and one-half years under the control and supervision of the parole authorities. The trial District Attorney has filed with the Board, a letter in which he strongly recommends a pardon on No. 56, and the prosecutor in the case of felonious entry also recommends clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant; his prior good record; the fact that the trial District Attorney and the prosecutor both recommend clemency in the case of felonious entry, at No. 56, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished for said offense and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 70, January Term, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Mercer, Emilio Gonzalez and Angel Helguera pleaded guilty to indictments charging them with attempt to commit robbery and pointing firearms, and, on January 25, 1921, were each sentenced to pay a fine of $1 costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven nor more than twelve years.

Applicant Gonzalez is twenty-four years of age and owes allegiance to the Kingdom of Spain. He is by occupation a barber, but was not employed at the time of his arrest. His residence is in Spain.

Applicant Helguera is twenty-one years of age and owes allegiance to the Kingdom of Spain. He is by occupation a farmer, but was not employed at the time of his arrest. His residence is in Spain. Neither of the applicants is married.

In the fall of 1920, both applicants had been in this country about three or four months and were living together in a rooming house at Farrell, Pennsylvania. The steel works were shut down and they were without work and unable to buy food. They could not speak English and could not make themselves understood. A Cuban, Andrew Diaz, who roomed in the same house, and who spoke both English and Spanish, proposed to the applicants, in order to obtain money with which to buy food, that they accompany him to the bank, where he said he could obtain it easily. The Cuban gave each of the applicants a revolver and they went with him to the entrance of the bank, where they were stopped by the watchman, who suspected something wrong and took the revolvers from them. Some one started to shoot and the applicants started to run away, but were caught and arrested by the police. The Cuban did not run and was not arrested until later, when the police were informed where he could be found.

At the trial, all the blame was put upon the applicants; and as they could not speak English and could not understand the proceedings, although they had the aid of a person who acted as interpreter, they pleaded guilty and were sentenced for the crime. The Cuban, who stood trial and was convicted under the name of Andrew Diarai, pleaded not guilty, but was convicted of the crime of attempting to commit robbery, and was found not guilty of pointing firearms. The Cuban and the applicants all received the same sentence. The former was subsequently pardoned by the Board in December, 1925.

The Trial Judge and the Trial District Attorney have both filed with the Board letters recommending clemency, on expressed condition that the applicants immediately upon their release be deported to Spain.

There was also filed with the Board a letter from the United States Department of Labor, Immigration Service, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, stating that warrants of deportation have been issued and are in the hands of the Immigration Service, in Pittsburgh, for execution, and that they will be executed as soon as the applicants are released from prison. The applicants have promised that they will immediately leave for their home in Spain, and never return to the United States.

The applicants have served six years and three months of their respective terms of imprisonment. They were never before charged with nor convicted of crime.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicants; their terms of imprisonment already served; in consideration of the fact that the Trial Judge and the Trial District Attorney have recommended clemency, on express condition that the applicants be immediately deported to Spain, under the supervision of the Federal authorities; because the applicants have agreed to return to their homeland and remain there; in further consideration of the fact that warrants of deportation have been issued by the Department of Labor, to be executed when the applicants are released from prison by the proper authorities we have concluded that the applicants have been sufficiently punished, should now be released and returned to Spain, pursuant to the warrants of deportation by the Federal Government.

Sir: At No. 1160, November Sessions, 1917, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Schuylkill, Dominick Puponick was convicted of murder in the second degree, and, on January 28, 1918, was sentenced to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is thirty-one years of age, a native-born American citizen, and unmarried. He is a coal miner by occupation and was so employed at the time of his arrest. He resided in the Village of Maryd, with his aged parents.

Sunday evening, September 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock, the applicant (who at that time twenty-two years of age), in company with Joseph Yunitis and Harry Leymeister, went to the home of John Skutches. During the afternoon, the former drank sixteen glasses of beer and three glasses of gin and became intoxicated. Those present in the Skutches house were drinking beer. Both the applicant and Skutches were drunk. Yunitis got into a quarrel with Peter Kasakiewicz, and the applicant took up the quarrel on behalf of the latter. While Yunitis and the applicant were fighting Skutches tried to part them and told them to go home. He got an axe and said he would cut them if they would not go. He put them out of the house. The quarrel continued on the outside. The coat which the applicant had drawn in order to fight Yunitis was left behind. Skutches went out and told the applicant to go home and ran after the applicant and Leymeister brandishing an axe. He threw the axe after them. The applicant ran home and, fearing Skutches, got a shotgun. He went out, carrying the gun with him. He met Skutches coming toward him. They met and walked side by side, quarreling and abusing one another. The applicant carried the gun under his right arm. Skutches reached for the gun. While they were struggling for possession of the weapon the gun discharged. It was uncertain at the time who had hold of the gun. In the melee, Skutches was shot and killed.

At the trial, the applicant proved good character and the quarrelsome disposition of Skutches, which was known to him. He also showed that Skutches chased him with an axe and that he got the gun because he was afraid that Skutches would come after him. He started out to get his coat, which he had left at Skutches' house, carrying the gun with him. Skutches and applicant met and the quarrel was renewed. The applicant said that Skutches had the axe at the time. There was a struggle for possession of the gun. It went off. The applicant claimed that he did not pull the trigger and did not know what made it discharge.

The applicant has now served nine years and seven months since his arrest in September, 1917. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. The prison authorities certify to his excellent prison record. He was only twenty-two years of age when the crime was committed and was intoxicated.

The Trial Judge, the Trial District Attorney, former District Attorney Palmer, and the present District Attorney have filed letters with the Board recommending clemency; there was also filed a petition of citizens to the same effect.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; the need of his aged parents of support; because employment has been offered him if released; in further consideration of the recommendations of the Trial Judge, the Trial District Attorney, former District Attorney Palmer, and the present District Attorney, and the petition of citizens, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that, if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 1109 and 1110 December Sessions, 1925, in Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Arthur Zweig was acquitted of murder in the first-mentioned indictment, and convicted of voluntary manslaughter on the first count of the second indictment, with a recommendation of mercy, and on March 12, 1926, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than three and one-half nor more than seven years—the sentence to be computed from December 1, 1925. The applicant is thirty-seven years of age, a native of Austria-Hungary, but a naturalized citizen of the United States. He has a wife but no children. He resided in the City of Philadelphia, where at the time of his arrest he conducted a small cigar store. Prior thereto, he was employed by the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia. As a result of an accident, both legs were crushed below the knee, compelling him to use crutches in order to walk. He was operated on five times; and during his imprisonment he has been continuously confined in the hospital of the institution. It appears from a letter from Dr. Davidson to the Board that one or more operations will be required in an attempt to unite the troublesome fracture; and it is possible an amputation may ultimately be necessary. At the present time, there is much seropurulent discharge, and both legs are in braces.

The applicant at the time of his arrest was living on the compensation he received because of his injuries and from the income derived from the cigar store.

The applicant was convicted of killing one Michael J. Knapp on February 21, 1925. Knapp for a short time before the tragedy had been an occasional visitor at the applicant's cigar store, but was not a customer in the ordinary sense. There had never been an argument or dispute between them. On that day, Knapp came to the store and insulted the applicant, calling him "cripple-legged bastard" and other opprobrious epithets, and also called his wife similar offensive names. At the time the decedent used this language there were three or four men in the store, who asked the decedent to "cut out that language." This happened about 7:30 P. M. Knapp then left applicant's store, but returned again about 10:30 P. M., at which time the applicant, with two other men, was sitting at a table preparatory to playing a game of cards. One other man was present. When Knapp came in, he repeated his insults, saying "Hello, you cripple-legged bastard," and caught hold of the applicant's shirt, tore it, and grabbed him by the throat. The applicant pushed him away and told him to sit down. Knapp tried to hit him and again called him opprobrious names. He evidently had been drinking. When Knapp attempted to hit the applicant, the three men tried to hold him back; and then Knapp said he would kill the "cripple-legged bastard." The three men then struggled with Knapp and got him out on the pavement of the street. After the three men ejected him from the store he broke away from them, came back into the store, and punched the applicant on the jaw, and also reached into his pocket, which act, in view of his previous threat to do the applicant bodily harm, the latter interpreted as an attempt to draw from his pocket a gun or other weapon. The applicant thereupon reached for a gun that he had in a show case. When Knapp saw it, he grabbed for it; and while he and the applicant were wrestling, the gun discharged and one shot entered the body of Knapp, causing his death. The applicant called the police, surrendered his gun, and himself.

The applicant has now served one year and four months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. His prison record is good.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his good prison record; because of his critical physical condition as shown by the letter of Doctor Davidson, and the prospect of one or more operations and a possible amputation in the near future (which in order to be successful, requires better treatment than the prison affords), we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that, if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommended that a pardon be now granted to the said Arthur Zweig.

Sir: At No. 32 February Sessions, 1916, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny, William McClure pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with murder, the degree of which was fixed by the Court at second degree murder, and on March 3, 1916, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than eighteen nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is thirty-six years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States, and unmarried. At the time of his arrest he worked as a blacksmith with the Oil Well Supply Company, Pittsburgh in which City he resided.

On the morning of December 12, 1915, Caroline Viehmier, a widow aged seventy years, was found dead in her home in McCandless Township, Allegheny County, having been bound and gagged. The Coroner's jury found that she had been gagged and strangled by Joseph P. White and the applicant, and also found that death was due to the above cause and recommended that the said White and the applicant be held to await the action of the Grand Jury upon a charge of murder and that one Aaron Fell be held as accessory before the fact. At the time of the commission of the crime White and the applicant were rooming at a boarding house in Pittsburgh. Fell was a son-in-law of the decedent and resided on a farm or tract of land near the residence of decedent. He was indicted and tried as an accessory to the murder and acquitted by the jury. White testified at the trial that he met Fell pursuant to a written request and as a result of several meetings was employed to go to the home of the decedent and procure a $4000 note drawn by Fell to the order of his mother-in-law, Caroline Viehmier, and in her possession. About December 7, 1915, White asked the applicant if he would go with him into the country on the following Saturday night and make $50.00 easy money. On December 11, 1915, the applicant after work went to a saloon nearby with White and others and spent the greater portion of the afternoon drinking, as a result of which he became intoxicated. The applicant afterwards returned to his boarding house for supper but being too sick to eat laid down on his bed and fell asleep. Some time later he was awakened by White and went with him to the home of Caroline Viehmier and found her on the first floor. White told McClure that he was going to get some money due him and if she refused it he intended to take it from her. Two farm hands were sleeping on the third floor of the house. White and the applicant bound and gagged Mrs. Viehmier in order to prevent her arousing the farm hands by her outcries and while the applicant watched to see that she did not make an outcry White went to the second floor of the house and began a search. He later returned with a gold filled watch, a small amount of money, and they then left the house. Mrs. Viehmier was left in the house bound and gagged but still living and struggling. She must have died late in the night for she was found on the floor of her home on the next morning by the farm hands. The testimony in the Fell case was used as evidence against White and the applicant.

The applicant has now served eleven years and one month of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record has been good.

There was filed with the Board the sworn statement of White, the applicant's accomplice, who was pardoned by the Board in December 1923, in which he states that when he invited the applicant to accompany him to the residence of Mrs. Viehmier. The applicant had no part whatever in planning what he proposed to do. Together they tied and gagged Mrs. Viehmier. The applicant had no part whatever in planning the transaction or in carrying it out otherwise than as stated. The trip to the farm was planned by Fell and the applicant had no knowledge about the note until after he was arrested. He was in an intoxicated condition at the time and his mind was not clear enough to realize what he had done even after they left the house.

The trial Judge and trial District Attorney have both filed letters with the Board recommending clemency. The Vice-President of the Board of Trustees of the Penitentiary, the Steward and Assistant Steward also recommend pardon. Employment has been offered the applicant if released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the fact that the crime was unpremeditated; the reasonable doubt that the death was the direct consequence of binding and gagging the decedent; in consideration of the sworn statement of White, the accomplice; because of the term of imprisonment already served; the prior good record of the applicant; in consideration of the recommendations of the Steward, Assistant Steward and Vice-President of the Board of Trustees of the Penitentiary; in further consideration of the recommendations of the trial Judge and trial District Attorney; because Fell, who planned the visit to the Viehmier home, escaped punishment and White, the accomplice, was pardoned by the Board three years ago, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 5 September 1920 and 28 December Session 1920, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Lycoming, Dennis G. Lewis, pleaded guilty to two charges of larceny and on January 3, 1921, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of $2,000, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than 16½ years nor more than 18½ years.

The applicant is 31 years of age, a native-born American citizen. He was not employed at the time of his arrest, but prior thereto had been employed as a clerk by the Harbison-Walker Refractories Company.

The applicant was charged with having stolen two motor vehicles belonging to Catherine M. Larimer and George L. Elliott, respectively.

The applicant has now served 6 years and 3 months of his term of imprisonment.

The trial Judge and trial District Attorney have filed letters with the Board recommending clemency. The prosecutors in the two cases also ask pardon. Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker, Assemblymen Harer and Bidelspacher, Senator Sones, the Sheriff of the County and many other prominent citizens, in letters filed, asked clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; because the prosecutors in the two cases, the Trial Judge and Trial District Attorney, Senator Sones, Colonel Shoemaker and other prominent citizens have recommended clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if released he will prove a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Dennis G. Lewis.

Sir: At No. 2 June Sessions, 1917, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Fayette, Wright Presley, was convicted of assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery with intent to ravish, rape, and on June 8, 1917, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of six cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is forty-three years of age, a native-born American citizen, a laborer by occupation, and was so employed at the time of his arrest. He is unmarried. He resided in Brownsville.

The applicant was convicted of the crime of rape, alleged to have been perpetrated upon Helen L. Watson, a white woman, at Brownsville, on the night of February 28, 1917.

The only direct testimony was that of the prosecutrix herself, who said that the applicant seized her by the throat, choked her, threw her down, and ravished her. She identified the applicant as her assailant, although she did not know him and had never seen him before.

The constable who made the arrest testified that there was snow upon the ground and that he traced the prints of a man's shoes from the scene of the crime to the house where the applicant boarded. There was no evidence that these tracks, or footprints, were made by him; and the testimony disclosed that there were at that time two other men boarding in the same house. The fact that the outrage was committed at night, by a colored man, makes it possible that the prosecutrix may have been mistaken in her identification.

The applicant has now served nine years and ten months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime.

The Warden of the Penitentiary certifies as to his good prison record.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the Trial District Attorney, in which he states that "the circumstances of the case justify favorable action" on behalf of the applicant.

Captain Baer, of the Monongahela Railway Company's Police, has filed with the Board a letter, in which he recommends clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; his excellent prison record; because of the recommendations of the Captain of the Monongahela Railway Company's Police and the trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that, if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Wright Presley.

Sir: At No. 63, November Sessions, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny, Joseph Friedman was convicted of arson, and, on July 3, 1925, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years.

The applicant is thirty-one years of age, a citizen of Czecho-Slovakia, who came to this country about twenty-five years ago, going to McKeesport, Pennsylvania, where he has since resided. He is a baker by occupation and resided with his mother in McKeesport.

The scene of the crime was an ice-cream cone factory, which was located in McKeesport. The building was owned by Mary Cardillo, and was next door to her home. The machinery and other equipment in the factory were owned by the applicant's brother Charles, either singly or as co-partner of Mary Cardillo.

After the fire, a dispute arose between Mary Cardillo and Charles Friedman as to the right to collect insurance moneys due by reason of the fire. The dispute culminated in an altercation between them, in consequence of which Charles Friedman refused to pay any of the insurance moneys to Mary Cardillo. The applicant claims that Mary Cardillo, out of malice and for the purpose of forcing a financial settlement with Charles Friedman, falsely charged the applicant with arson and suborned witnesses to identify him as having been on the premises at the time when the fire was started. The applicant avers that he was not on the premises, but was at his home, asleep from shortly after eleven-thirty in the evening until he was awakened by his brother, Charles, who drove him to the scene of the fire, which fire occurred between the hours of three and four in the morning.

At the trial, the Commonwealth had shown that the applicant was in the cone factory about ten minutes of three, and that he ran from the rear portion of the factory shortly after the fire was discovered.

The applicant filed with the Board affidavits from two disinterested witnesses, who were not heard at the trial, to the effect that they were driving past the factory building about 3:00 or 3:30 A. M. and noticed flames breaking from the building. They stopped, aroused the occupants of the dwelling house, and remained until the fire department came, which was about fifteen minutes after they first noticed the fire, at which time Charles and his two brothers, Nathan and the applicant, came to the fire in an automobile.

There were also filed with the Board a number of affidavits from disinterested witnesses, who passed the factory daily, showing that the windows of the factory building were painted, and that it was impossible for anyone on the outside of the building to see the occupants.

There was also filed with the Board an affidavit of the painter who painted the windows.

It was also shown to the Board that Mariana Cardillo, the husband of the owner of the building, was a bootlegger, engaged in the manufacture of moonshine whisky; and it was suggested that the fire in question might have been caused by the operation of a still or an explosion on the premises.

The applicant has now served one year and four months of his term of imprisonment, which did not actually begin following the sentence of the Court, but on December 14, 1925, after the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, on appeal, had affirmed the judgment and sentence of the Lower Court. The applicant was never before charged with nor convicted of crime.

The Assistant Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter, in which he sets forth that he has personally interviewed the affiants, who deposed as to the arrival of the applicant on the scene of the fire about fifteen minutes after it broke out, and has read the affidavits made by citizens of McKeesport, to the effect that the windows of the cone factory were painted in such manner as to make it impossible for a person passing along the street to discern the occupants of the factory. While he does not recommend a pardon, in view of the circumstances, he feels that the case deserves serious consideration from the Board.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the applicant, based on affidavits filed with the Board; because of the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; because of the favorable attitude of the Assistant Trial District Attorney, we conclude that the applicant has been sufficiently punished, and that, if released, he will prove a useful and law-abiding citizen, etc.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Joseph Friedman.

Sir: At No. 1326, September Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Allegheny, Thomas O'Brien pleaded guilty to a charge of entering a building with intent to commit a felony and larceny, and on October 30, 1925, was sentenced to pay a fine of 6¼ cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years.

The applicant is twenty-five years of age, and a native-born citizen of the United States. His occupation was that of salesman, and at the time of his arrest he was employed in that capacity by the Electric Appliance Company of Pittsburgh, in which city he resided. He is unmarried.

The applicant was a member of the Green Goose Hunting and Fishing Club, a social organization, located in the City of Pittsburgh. Prior to the alleged breaking into the club house, to wit, on October 8, 1925, the applicant had been drinking. Between the hours of two and three A. M. he entered the club premises and took therefrom liquor belonging to the Club, together with a small amount of money. One David Ryan, who accompanied the applicant, and who was arrested for the same offense, was indicted as an accomplice, but the bill of indictment was ignored by the grand jury.

The applicant has now served one year and six months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record is good. He is the sole support of his aged mother.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; the fact that his accomplice Ryan escaped punishment; because his aged mother requires support; in consideration of the recommendation of the Warden and the Deputy Warden of the Western Penitentiary; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that, if released, he will prove a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Thomas O'Brien.

Sir: At No. 19, June Term, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Fayette, Charles Newell was convicted of voluntary manslaughter, and, on June 6, 1925, was sentenced by Court to pay a fine of six cents (~~60~~).

costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, colored, and seventy-two years of age. He is a laborer by occupation, and at the time of his arrest was employed in the mines at Allison, three miles from Brownsville, Pennsylvania. His legal residence is in the State of Alabama.

In April, 1925, the applicant was working in the mines at Allison. On a Sunday evening, the date of which the applicant is unable to recall, except that it was in the latter part of the month, he was in the mining camp, where he resided. About five o'clock, Robert Holland, with his two brothers, met him and accused him of having some money (a small amount) belonging to Robert Holland. The applicant denied the accusation, told Holland that he was wrong, that he had no money of his, that he did not even know him nor had any association with him. Holland repeated his accusation, and each time he made it advanced in a menacing manner and with threatening words, saying, "I will kill you, etc." The applicant, being an old man, was unable to flee from the advances of Holland, and warned him repeatedly to stay away and not molest him. Holland disregarded the applicant's warnings and continued to advance upon him, until the latter felt that he had no other recourse but to defend himself. Accordingly, with a last word of warning, he fired one shot, which struck Holland in the side, with fatal results.

The applicant has now served one year and ten months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with nor convicted of crime; his prison record is excellent; he is in a serious physical condition; and the resident physician of the Penitentiary declares that he will not live long.

The Deputy Warden and Chaplain of the Penitentiary, in letters filed, recommend clemency, on account of the applicant's advanced age and his grave physical condition. The Trial Judge and the Trial District Attorney, for the same reasons, join in the application for pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the advanced age; grave physical condition of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge, the Trial District Attorney, and the Deputy Warden and Chaplain of the Western Penitentiary, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and, if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 66, April Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny, Robert W. H. Neal was convicted of murder in the second degree, and, on September 23, 1922, was sentenced to pay a fine of six and one-fourth cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, sixty-two years of age, colored. At the time of his arrest, he was employed as a teamster by Robert K. Lee, of Oakmont, Allegheny County, for whom he drove a garbage wagon in the Boroughs of Oakmont and Verona. The applicant has four minor children, who are dependent on him for support, and a mother-in-law, upwards of seventy years old.

On March 21, 1922, applicant shot and killed his wife with a shotgun, which he had borrowed for hunting purposes months before the crime occurred.

One of applicant's daughters, thirteen years of age, was married to a Mexican, by the name of Felix Ramos, who resided in a Mexican settlement in the lower end of Oakmont. The applicant's wife frequently visited this settlement and caroused with the Mexicans; and there were intimations of grave misconduct. The applicant often went after her and brought her home. At eleven o'clock on the night of the murder, he went to the Ramos house for that purpose. While there, he was threatened by the Mexicans present. He then returned to his home and obtained his shotgun. He went back to the house where his wife was, leaving his gun against the gatepost in the front yard. He had some trouble in the house which was darkened, went out, got his gun, came back and shot his wife with fatal results.

The applicant claims that he did not know that he had shot his wife or anyone else, contending that the gun had been discharged accidentally. Ramos, the main witness called by the Commonwealth, went on the stand and testified that he had not threatened the applicant on the night of the murder; but after the case was over, he admitted to Cochran, Assistant Chief of Detectives, that he had threatened him.

The applicant has now served four years and eight months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. He has a good prison record. His family, consisting of four minor children and his aged mother-in-law, is destitute and dependent on him for support.

The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter, in which he recommends a pardon, on account of the age of the applicant and his previous good character. Lee, his former employer, also recommends clemency, and in his letter offers a permanent home to the applicant and his family (if he is released), upon a farm in Mercer County, which he owns. There were also filed with the Board several petitions of citizens and neighbors, urging clemency. The Chief of Police of Oakmont, who arrested him, recommends clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the advanced age of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; because of the destitute condition of his family; because a permanent home has been offered him, if released; because of the recommendations of the Trial District Attorney, the Chief of Police, and neighbors and friends; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, etc.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Robert W. H. Neal.

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 20, 1927.

Sir: At No. 551, February Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Allegheny, Edward D. McAleer pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with fraudulently making and uttering a written instrument, and, on April 7, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of six and one-fourth cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years. At Nos. 120 and 121, April Sessions, 1926; 574, April Sessions, 1922; 381, June Sessions, 1925; 384, February Sessions, 1925; and 790, June Sessions, 1925, in the same Court, he entered a similar plea, but sentence was suspended by reason of the sentence imposed in No. 551, supra. At No. 575, April Sessions, 1922, in the same Court, the defendant pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with larceny by bailee, and, on April 7, 1926, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of six and one-quarter cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than one and one-half years and not more than three years, the latter sentence to run concurrently with the sentence imposed in No. 551, supra.

The applicant is thirty-nine years of age, a native-born American citizen; he resided in the City of Pittsburgh with his wife and five children, ranging in age from four to fourteen.

The applicant had been in the automobile business as a dealer and repair man from 1911 to 1921, at which time he was thrown into bankruptcy. He was left in a destitute condition. His misconduct consisted in buying automobiles upon the installment plan and selling them to innocent holders, various finance companies accepting the assignment of the leases upon these installments. Upon discovery of the forged leases, the applicant made a full confession of his misconduct and arranged to repay his creditors, paying immediately the cash he had on hand and turning over to them the home that he had purchased for his wife. He was unable to carry out these arrangements, whereupon informations were made against him for false pretense and forgery.

The applicant has now served one year of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime, except for similar transactions at Nos. 374, 675 and 676, June Sessions, 1922, which were nolle prossed. His prison record is good.

A number of letters have been filed with the Board, recommending clemency. The prosecutors in four cases recommending clemency, and the Trial District Attorney has filed a letter, joining in the application for pardon.

The applicant has a wife and five children dependent upon his for support. The oldest child is fourteen, and the wife is in delicate health. Employment has been offered him by his brother, if released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of four of the prosecutors, the Trial District Attorney, and other citizens; because his family is in destitute circumstances and requires support; and in further consideration of the fact that employment has been offered him, if released, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that, if liberated, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 86, September Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Centre, Harry F. Lutz, alias Fred Lutz, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with breaking and escaping penitentiary, and, on December 30, 1924, was sentenced by Court to pay a fine of one dollar ($1.00), costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than one year and six months nor more than three years; sentence to compute after completion of sentence from Clearfield County for larceny, the last-mentioned sentence being for a minimum term of one and a half years and a maximum term of three years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, twenty-four years of age, and unmarried. He was by occupation a salesman, working for the Goodwear Tailoring Company when arrested. He resided with his parents in Lock Haven, Pennsylvania.

The applicant escaped from the Penitentiary on the night of August 10, 1924, and was recaptured at Clearfield on November 19, 1924. With the exception of the three months that he was at large, he has served approximately two years and four months, which would include, not only the entire minimum sentence imposed for larceny, but also ten months of the sentence imposed for breaking and escaping.

The applicant was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. His prison record, barring the escape, is good. His aged parents, with whom he resided, require his support. He now asks for pardon on the charge of breaking and escaping, so that, at the expiration of his original sentence imposed for larceny, he may return to his home and aid in the support of the family.

The Trial Judge and present District Attorney have filed letters with the Board, recommending clemency. The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter, in which he states that, if the Board thought that a pardon would enable the applicant to make a better citizen, he would consider it proper to grant a pardon. Former Judge Orvis has also filed with the Board a letter, in which he joins in the request for clemency. Other letters filed from citizens of Lock Haven are to the same effect.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the comparative youth of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record (barring the escape); in consideration of the recommendation of the Trial Judge, Trial District Attorney, present District Attorney, former Judge Orvis, and other citizens, we have concluded that he has been sufficient punished and, if have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and, if citizen.

Sir: At No. 21, November Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Erie, Floyd Wallace pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with larceny; and on October 28, 1926, the imposing of sentence was suspended by the Court, and the applicant was placed on probation for a period of one year, to be computed from that date. On November 8, 1926, the said parole order was revoked by the Court, and the applicant sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25.00), costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than one year and six months nor more than three years.

The applicant is fifty-three years of age, a native-born American citizen, and a painter and decorator by occupation. At the time of his arrest, he resided in the City of Erie.

The applicant was sentenced for having stolen, on October 15, 1926, one pair of buckskin gloves, valued at $5.00, and one automobile robe, valued at $7.50, the property of Charles Hinkler. The applicant had been drinking heavily on the date mentioned, and at about 7:00 P. M. he left his home to go to the business section of Erie to purchase groceries for the following day. On his way home, he was hailed by a friend, who insisted that he take a drink with him. They went to a speakeasy and indulged in a few drinks and later parted. On his way home, the applicant became cold and, seeing a blanket and gloves in a car which was parked along the curb, wrapped the blanket around his shoulders and proceeded toward his home. The night being cold, he decided that another drink would warm him up, so he went to another speakeasy and drank again. He put the stolen blanket on the bar, or table, and forgot to take it home. He was arrested the following day. The stolen articles were returned to the rightful owner.

The applicant has now served five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. He is in very poor physical condition, and death may occur at any time.

Dr. C. J. Newcomb, Medical Director of the Penitentiary, certifies that the applicant is in a bad physical condition, having valvular heart disease. He has high blood-pressure, and his liver and kidneys are badly affected. His condition is grave.

The Trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter, in which he states that, on account of the applicant's serious physical condition, he does not object to a pardon. The Chaplain of the Penitentiary and Senator Kitts, of Erie, have also filed letters with the Board, recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the grave physical condition of the applicant, as shown by the letters of the Medical Director of the Penitentiary; in consideration of the recommendation of the Chaplain of the Penitentiary and Senator Kitts, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that, if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 63, October Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, George Mitchell was convicted of larceny, and, on November 28, 1924, was sentenced by the court to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than three years nor more than six years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States, twenty-two years of age, and unmarried. At the time of his arrest, he was employed by the Merchants' Parcel Delivery, of Philadelphia, and resided in that city.

On October 1, 1924, about 2:00 A. M., the applicant and one George Staford, after attending a party, hired a taxicab at Thirteenth and Wood streets, Philadelphia. On nearing Thirteenth and Brandywine streets, they saw four men whom they knew and told the taxi driver to stop. In stopping, the car backfired. The applicant and Staford left the taxi, and the four men they knew came up to talk with them. While they were talking, a policeman, who had been about a half-block away, came along. The taxi driver immediately left, went up a side street, and did not return. The policeman inquired about the cab, and the applicant and Staford told him that they had hired it. He asked who had fired the shot. They told him that no shot had been fired, but that the noise was the backfire of the taxi. He lined the six men up against the wall and searched them, but found no guns nor weapons. He then ordered the applicant and Staford, who had admitted hiring the taxi, into the taxi, and told one of the other four men to drive to the police station, where they were again searched and locked up. It appeared that the police station had been notified by the Quaker City Cab Company that the taxi in which they were riding had been stolen. Later in the day, they appeared before a magistrate and told their story; but they were accused of stealing the taxi and jointly tried and convicted of the theft. Conviction was secured mainly on the evidence of the police officer. His own testimony shows that he was half a block away when the taxi stopped; and there was no direct testimony that anyone had seen the defendants take the taxi, nor was there any contradiction of the defendants' testimony that they had hired the taxi and were driven to the point where they were arrested.

The applicant has now served approximately two years and five months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with nor convicted of crime; he was only twenty years of age when the alleged crime was committed; if released, employment has been offered him. His alleged accomplice, Staford, has already been pardoned by the Board.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the comparative youth of the applicant when the alleged crime was committed; the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; because of the insufficiency of the testimony to warrant conviction; in further consideration of the fact that, if released, employment has been offered him, and because his alleged accomplice has been pardoned, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and, if now released, he will prove a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 518, November Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery and Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Jacob Tillger was convicted of assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery with intent to ravish, rape, and incestuous adultery, and, on April 28, 1922, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven and one-half years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is thirty-eight years of age, a native of Germany, but a citizen of the United States by allegiance. At the time of his arrest, he conducted a restaurant and saloon at 149 Jefferson Street, Philadelphia, and resided at the same address. He is married.

These crimes were alleged to have been committed on the person of his daughter, who at the time was under the age of sixteen; and his alleged evil conduct continued for several years.

The applicant has now served approximately five years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime.

The applicant's daughter, the main witness as to the alleged misconduct, has filed with the Board a letter, verified by affidavit, in which she declares that her father was innocent of the crimes charged, and that she was induced to make the false accusations by her stepmother. She testified in Court that she hated her father because he beat her; and this also, in part, supplied a motive for the false accusation.

The Trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter, in which he withdraws objections to the granting of a pardon in this case, because of the retraction of the false statement made by the daughter. The Court adds that, even if the daughter's retraction is untrue, the applicant has been sufficiently punished.

The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter, in which, while not recommending pardon, he withdraws his former opposition. The Chaplain of the Eastern Penitentiary, has by letter filed recommended clemency; and Harry Connor, a contractor of Philadelphia, offers to give employment to the applicant, if released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the fact that his daughter has retracted her accusations and absolves her father from wrongdoing; in consideration of the fact that the Trial Judge recommends clemency and the Trial District Attorney withdraws all objection thereto and the Chaplain of the Penitentiary joins in the application, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, etc.

Sir: At Nos. 49, April Sessions, 1921; 7, 8, and 9, April Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny, John Sloan was convicted of robbery, burglary, and receiving stolen goods; and, on June 9, 1922, was sentenced, in the aggregate, to pay a fine of twenty-five cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years and not more than twenty-years.

The applicant is thirty years of age, a native-born American citizen. At the time of his arrest, he was employed in an automobile repair shop in the City of Pittsburgh. For three years prior thereto, he was employed in the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Car Shops, located in McKees Rocks, Allegheny County. He is unmarried.

During the years 1921-2, intoxicating liquors were bought, sold, stolen, and transported openly, contrary to law, in the City of Pittsburgh. Individuals and organizations in different sections of the city operated in many instances in collusion with policemen and others sworn to uphold the law. It is estimated that during this time more than two hundred homes and other places were robbed of liquors and other articles. Many of the offenders were never apprehended nor punished.

Earl McCabe was arrested on February 22, 1922, on the charge of being a suspicious person. Shortly after his arrest, and while under detention, he made a voluntary confession to the Captain of Detectives of the City of Pittsburgh of all the illegal activities of himself and his associates. This confession involved a number of persons, including the applicant, John Bohn, two police lieutenants, a city policeman, and others. McCabe, Bohn, and the applicant were jointly indicted, but tried separately. McCabe first pleaded guilty and then went on the stand and testified against Bohn and the applicant, who were convicted largely on his testimony. All men were charged with the stealing of liquor and other articles from homes and other places in the City of Pittsburgh. The applicant strenuously denied his guilt.

McCabe, who appears to have lead the gang in their depredations, was pardoned by the Board in February, 1926; and Bohn, an accomplice, was pardoned by this Board in February, 1927.

The applicant has now served four years and ten months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before, except on one occasion, charged with nor convicted of crime. In boyhood he spent one year in the Huntingdon Reformatory.

The Chaplain of the Western Penitentiary, the Superintendent of Police of Pittsburgh, the County Controller of Allegheny County, and other prominent citizens have filed letters with the Board, recommending clemency. The Assistant Trial District Attorney also recommends pardon. Employment has been offered the applicant, if released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant (with a minor exception); the term of imprisonment already served; the fact that two of his accomplices, McCabe (who was the master mind) and Bohn, have been pardoned by the Board; because of the recommendations of the Chaplain of the Penitentiary, the Superintendent of Police, the County Controller, the Assistant Trial District Attorney, and others, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that, if released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 550, 550½, 562 and 562½, September Sessions, 1920, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Luzerne, Edward Finley pleaded guilty to the charges of extortion and impersonating an officer, and on October 11, 1920, was sentenced by the Court in the aggregate to pay a fine of $2000, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nine and one-half years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is thirty-three years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest he resided in the City of Wilkes-Barre with his wife and one child, eight years of age, who are dependent upon him for support.

The applicant's offenses consisted of impersonating coal and iron policemen, and while acting as such, compelling persons, principally women, who were caught taking coal from culm banks, to pay him small sums of money in order to avoid arrest and prosecution. The sums of money thus extorted did not aggregate more than $100. At the time he was arrested the applicant was regularly employed, was sober and industrious, and there was no apparent reason why he should resort to these illegal practices.

The applicant has now served six years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. His wife and child require support. The wife is at the present time employed as a domestic in homes wherein she can have the child with her.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the need which his wife and child have of his support; because of the long term of imprisonment already served; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

At No. 219, September Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Fayette, Frank Miller was convicted of statutory rape, and on November 7, 1925, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $300, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years, with the proviso that if he paid the fine and costs he would be paroled for a period of three years.

The applicant is thirty-seven years of age, a Croation by birth and allegiance, a coal miner by occupation, and unmarried. At the time of the alleged offense he was employed by the Isabella Coal Company and lived at Isabella, Fayette County.

The alleged crime was committed on the person of Anna Baker, a girl between fifteen and sixteen years of age. The applicant had formerly boarded with the mother of the girl. The offense is alleged to have occurred during the progress of a wedding dance in an upstairs room of the house in which the wedding was being celebrated. At the time there were approximately thirty or thirty-five people in the house. There was no testimony during the trial that the girl had made any outcry, nor did she make any complaint for some months after the alleged offense and not until after the applicant had caused her mother to be prosecuted for a violation of the liquor law. The girl denied that she brought the charge against the applicant out of spite because of the proceeding against her mother. The applicant protested his innocence and denied any attempt to commit the crime.

The applicant has now served one year and six months of imprisonment. He was never before charged with, or convicted of, crime.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of his prior good record, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Frank Miller.

Sir: At No. 33, August Term, 1924, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the county of Jefferson, Earl Leonard Ford was convicted of the larceny of an automobile, and on September 16, 1924, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-seven years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, an electrician by occupation. At the time of his arrest he was employed by the New York Central Railroad Company and resided in New York City.

The applicant was arrested on April 26, 1924, at Cleveland, Ohio, and was convicted and sentenced for the larceny of an automobile belonging to Montgomery Crawford, of Brookville, Pa. He was convicted on circumstantial evidence. He was invited by one Kit Carson, who had the car in his possession, to ride in a car, which afterwards proved to have been stolen. Carson was arrested for the theft of the car and the applicant held as a material witness. Subsequently, Carson was allowed to go free while the applicant was charged and convicted of the larceny of the car.

The applicant has now served two years and eight months of his term of imprisonment, prior to which he served seven months in the county jail awaiting trial. He was never before charged with, or convicted of, crime. He served in the Marines during the World War and has an excellent record.

The officers of the Western Penitentiary certify to his excellent prison record and recommend clemency. Morris Sheppard, United States Senator from Texas, who knows the applicant and his family, has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends a pardon. The trial District Attorney, in a letter filed with the Board, while not recommending pardon, indicates a favorable attitude.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the fact that Carson, who had the car in his possession, escaped punishment; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served, including the time spent in jail awaiting trial; because of the recommendation of the prison officials, Senator Sheppard, and the favorable attitude of the trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Earl Leonard Ford.

Sir: At No. 554, January Sessions, 1917, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Carl Nadziezka, alias Carl Nadzeko, pleaded guilty to murder, the grade of which was fixed by the Court at murder in the second degree, and on March 30, 1917, was sentenced to pay costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is fifty-one years of age, a Russian by birth, a widower, and a laborer by occupation. He is the father of four children, aged twelve, fifteen, twenty and twenty-two years, respectively. Prior to his arrest, he resided with his family in the City of Philadelphia.

The applicant returned home and found his wife, Mary, in the act of committing adultery in the dining room with his half-brother, Mike. The applicant put his brother out of the house, and the wife pleaded for mercy. He forgave her on her promise to behave in the future. A few days later, he found them together, coming out of a motion picture theater. He then had his brother arrested for fornication and started a civil suit against him for alienating his wife's affections. He again forgave his wife, who continued to live with him until October, 1916, when she told him she preferred to live with Mike. The applicant remonstrated with her, and she threatened to poison him and the four children unless he dropped the criminal and civil proceedings and stopped annoying her and Mike. A few days later, she drove the applicant from his home, and lived in adultery with Mike in the applicant's home, with her four children. For six weeks the applicant wandered about heartbroken and drinking heavily. About December 4, 1916, he returned to Philadelphia to see his children. He was unable to eat or sleep, and continued drinking. On December 6, 1916, he purchased a revolver, while intoxicated, with the intention of committing suicide. Before doing so, he hunted up his children, and during the afternoon of December 7, waited around the neighborhood of his house. While so doing, his wife came along. He pleaded with her for a reconciliation and reminded her of her duty, both to him and to the children. She rebuffed him and told him she was through. In his grief and despair, while under the influence of liquor, he used the weapon intended for himself upon his wife, and shot and killed her. After the shooting, he wandered around until 2:00 o'clock the next morning, when he surrendered to an officer in a saloon, where he had gone to procure a drink.

The applicant has now served ten years and two months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His two younger children require his support.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters and petitions advocating pardon, among others, a letter from the superintendent and foreman of the Surpass Leather Company, for whom the applicant worked for ten years, who offer him employment if he is released, and a petition from the Lithuanian Republican Club. The Trial Judge also recommends clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge, his former employers and others; because his younger children require his support; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 48, 69, 71, 74, 78 and 288, April Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Allegheny, Walter Everson pleaded nolo contendere to indictments charging him with entering a building, larceny and receiving stolen goods, and on July 9, 1922, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of twenty-five cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight nor more than sixteen years.

The applicant is thirty-three years of age, a native-born American citizen, and an electrician by occupation. He was unemployed at the time of his arrest, but prior thereto, from the years 1913 to 1921, was employed by the American Steel Foundries Company in Pittsburgh, where he resided with his parents. He is unmarried.

In 1921-1922 there existed in Pittsburgh, a gang under the leadership of Earl McCabe, and known as the "McCabe Gang." McCabe, until his exposure, had been well and favorably known in the city. The applicant met McCabe and one Fehl, a member of the gang, at a dance in the fall of 1921. The applicant was invited to several parties with them, and finally was brought into criminal relations with them in November, 1921, more than a year after the gang had been operating. The applicant was with this gang on eight different occasions between November, 1921, and February, 1922. In four of the entries to the buildings nothing was taken, and the total loot obtained in the other places was $564.00, of which amount the applicant received $115.00. When arrested, the applicant furnished the police with material facts and evidence which they used to convict other members of the gang. He assisted the police in the prosecution and in clearing up the activities of the gang, thereby saving the city and county considerable moneys. The leader of the gang, McCabe, received a sentence of from ten to twenty years in the Western Penitentiary, on seventeen charges. He was pardoned in February, 1926. Fehl, who was one of the original members of the gang, was sentenced to from four to eight years in the Western Penitentiary. He has been paroled. Bohn and Sloan, members of the same gang, have recently been pardoned by this Board.

The applicant has now served four years and ten months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The prison authorities certify to his excellent prison record. His mother, seventy years of age, is dependent upon him for support.

There was filed with the Board, in addition to letters from the prison authorities, a letter from one, G. G. Alston, Auditor of the American Steel Foundries, in which he refers to the Applicant's excellent record with the Company during the years he was employed by them. There was also filed, a letter from the trial District Attorney, in which he states that he is unable to see any distinction between the present case and that of John Sloan. The latter was pardoned at the last meeting of this Board. The District Attorney, therefore, recommends a pardon.

In consideration of the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the Applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; the recommendation of the trial District Attorney and the Auditor of the Company which employed the Applicant for many years; because his aged mother requires support, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 18, 1927.

His Excellency, John S. Fisher, Governor:

Sir: At No. 1038, October Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia,

Joseph Rosenberg alias Joseph Somers was convicted of robbery, and at No. 1039, October Sessions, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for said County, he was also convicted of entering to steal, and on November 1, 1921, was sentenced by the Court in the aggregate to pay costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than fourteen years and ten months, nor more than twenty years.

The Applicant is twenty-eight years of age, a native of Budapest, and owes allegiance to the Hungarian Government. He is a machinist by occupation and unmarried.

The Applicant had been unable to obtain employment in New York City, where he was residing, and had been out of work for about five months preceding October 28, 1921, the date on which the alleged crimes were committed. The Applicant and one Anton Miller came to Philadelphia the previous day in search of work. They were in destitute circumstances. They went to a lodging house known as the Hotel Wellington, located at No. 47 N. 10th Street, in said city. After engaging a room they asked the clerk, James Cleary, to show them the room. When they got him upstairs, they held him up at the point of a revolver, taking from him $20.00 in money. They then left the building. The clerk followed them, made an outcry, and the two men were captured, without resistance, less than two blocks from the place they had entered.

The Applicant has now served five years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He has an aged mother dependent on him for support.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters, including three from former employers, certifying to his good character, industry and capacity as a machinist. The Peirce Accounting Machine Company, of New York, offers the Applicant employment if he is released. Isaac Feinberg, Jewish Chaplain of the Penitentiary, in a letter to the Board, states that the Applicant, during his incarceration, has taken a course in trigonometry through Pennsylvania State College, and is now taking a course in mechanics through the International Correspondence School.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the Applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because his aged mother is dependent on him for support; and in consideration of the fact that former employers certify to his good character, industry and mechanical ability; and employment has been offered him if released, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 4, June Term, 1924, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Lebanon, Levi Mease was convicted of manslaughter and on May 22, 1924, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years.

The Applicant is forty-two years of age, a native-born American citizen. At the time of his arrest he was a constable in the third ward of the city of Lebanon, and resided in that city with his wife and two children, one of whom has since died.

On the evening of May 21, 1924, about 9:00 P. M., Applicant, as constable, went to arrest one Walter Mease (a cousin) in his sister's home in Lebanon, on two charges which had been made against him; one for driving an automobile while intoxicated and the other for surety of the peace. The Applicant made the formal information because complaints against Walter Mease had been made to him, and he had been urged, as constable, to make the information. He took the warrants with him and showed them to Walter Mease. The latter had previously threatened the life of the applicant, according to the testimony in the case. The applicant found Walter Mease in the kitchen of the home belonging to the sister of the latter, and when he exhibited the warrants to Walter Mease, the latter picked up a heavy iron bar, being then only five or six feet away from the applicant, and resisted arrest raising the iron bar to strike the applicant. The latter drew his revolver which was loaded and as he was about to raise the weapon the applicant's wife, who was present, jumped between the applicant and Walter Mease, grappled with her husband and attempted to seize the weapon. In the scuffle that ensued the revolver was discharged once, the shot entering the abdomen of Anna Mease, the wife of the applicant, and she died about forty hours thereafter. At the trial, evidence was introduced in the nature of a dying declaration of the wife, taken an hour before death, in which she stated that the applicant had previously threatened her and had deliberately shot her, but the mother of the deceased and another woman testified at the trial that the deceased told them in the hospital that the shooting was an accident. The applicant claimed that he had not pulled the trigger and had made no effort to shoot.

The applicant has now served three years and one month of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His child, a cripple seven years old, resides with its aged grandmother, and requires his support.

There was filed with the Board letters from former Mayor Spang, Gabriel H. Moyer, Chief of Police of Lebanon, County detective, Sheriff of the County, and others, recommending clemency, also a petition of citizens to the same effect. The present and trial District Attorney have also filed letters with the Board recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; the need which his crippled child has of support; because of the recommendations of former Mayor Spang, Gabriel H. Moyer, County detective, Chief of Police, Sheriff, and others; and in consideration of the recommendations of the present and trial District Attorney, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished, and that if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Levi Mease.

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 29, 1927.

Sir: At Nos. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 46, 48, 69, 71, 75, 76, 77, 78, 286, 288, 289, April Sessions, 1922, Frank Wonoski alias Frank Welsh pleaded nolo contendere to eighteen indictments charging him with entering a building and larceny and on June 9, 1922, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of six and one-quarter cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve nor more than twenty-four years.

The applicant is now thirty-two years of age, a native-born American citizen, and an automobile mechanic by occupation. At the time of his arrest he resided in the City of Pittsburgh with his wife.

In 1919, Earl McCabe, known as "Paddy" McCabe, opened a florist shop next door to the home of the applicant. McCabe knowing the applicant was an automobile mechanic had him do some repair work on the trucks belonging to him. The latter, until his criminality was exposed, had been well and favorably known in the community. He was of a strong personality and wielded considerable influence. Through his business association with McCabe the applicant was gradually drawn into the operations of what was known as the "McCabe gang." The total loot received by the applicant as his share was $600.00. Of the twelve members of the "McCabe gang" who were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment in 1922, all have been released except the applicant. Five: McCabe, (the leader), Sloan, Bohn, Everson and Mucinski have been pardoned and the others have either been released on parole or by expiration of sentence.

The applicant has now served five years of his term in prison; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; he has an excellent prison record; he rendered the Commonwealth a distinct service when he appeared as witness for the Commonwealth against Paul Orlakouski, who was charged with the murder of a penitentiary guard; his wife's health has failed since his incarceration; she is unable to perform work and requires his support.

The penitentiary authorities have filed strong letters with the Board recommending clemency; the trial District Attorney has filed with the Board, a letter in which he recommends clemency because of the fact that the leader and three members of the so-called "McCabe gang" have already been pardoned and because the applicant assisted the Commonwealth in the investigation of the riots in the penitentiary.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his good prison record; because the leader and five of the prominent members of the so called "gang" have already been pardoned, and all others have been released with the exception of the applicant; because the applicant's wife is unable to work and requires his support, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful and law abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Frank Wonoski alias Frank Welsh.

Sir: Aa Nos. 18, 19, 20 and 48, April Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Allegheny, Felix Muczinski pleaded nolo contendere to indictments charging him with entering a building, larceny and receiving stolen goods, and on June 9, 1922, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of twenty-five cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight nor more than sixteen years. The applicant also pleaded nolo contendere to five other indictments at Nos. 46, 47, 286, 288 and 289, April Sessions, 1922. The sentences in these cases were made to run concurrently with the sentence at No. 48, April Sessions, 1922.

The applicant is of Polish descent and has always resided in the City of Pittsburgh. He is twenty-eight years of age and has a wife and four children, aged eight, six, five and four years, respectively. Shortly before his arrest he was working for Mr. Edwards as an auto repairman in the City of Pittsburgh, but at the time of his arrest he was unemployed.

Earl McCabe, known as "Paddy" McCabe, in 1919, opened a florist shop in Pittsburgh. Until his criminality was exposed, he was well and favorably known in the community. He was of a strong personality and exercised considerable influence. The applicant was thrown into association with the members of what was known as "The McCabe Gang," (of which Earl McCabe was the master mind), and received as his share of all the money taken, less than $100.00.

The applicant has now served five years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He has a good prison record. Employment has been offered him by his former employer, if released. His aged mother, wife and four children are dependent upon him for support.

Of the twelve members of the McCabe gang who were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment in 1922, all have now been released except the applicant. Five: McCabe, (the leader), Sloan, Bohn, Everson and Frank Wonoski alias Frank Welsh, have been pardoned, and the others have either been released on parole or by expiration of sentence.

The assistant trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that the applicant was one of the lesser offenders in the McCabe gang and that for this reason and because of his prior good record, and in view of the excellent letters in his behalf, the District Attorney's office has no objection to the granting of a pardon. Other letters favoring clemency have been filed.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because the leader and five of the prominent members of the so-called McCabe gang have already been pardoned and all others have been released with the exception of the applicant; because the applicant's aged mother, his wife and four small children are dependent upon him for support, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Felix Muczinski.

Sir: At No. 18, September Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Warren, Dominick Colacino was convicted of aggravated assault and battery and on September 14, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of four hundred dollars ($400.00), costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than one year and six months nor more than three years.

The applicant is forty-one years of age, an Italian by nationality and owes allegiance to the King of Italy. He is a shoemaker by occupation but at the time of his arrest was conducting a retail confectionery, tobacco and grocery business and resided with his wife in Warren.

The applicant lived in a building located across the street from his store. William K. Hawthorne and his wife occupied furnished living rooms on the second floor and across the hall from the rooms occupied by the applicant. For several days prior to the date mentioned Mrs. Hawthorne had been employed by the applicant washing dishes, etc., in his store. On the morning of the day in question the applicant objected to her absence from her duties. She then quit his employment. On the afternoon of the same day the applicant closed the store and ascending the stairs, entered the hall between the apartments, taking with him a check for her pay. He rang the bell and when Mrs. Hawthorne appeared handed her the check and asked for her husband in order to give him a notice to vacate the apartments which had been leased from him. A dispute arose. A fight ensued during which a table knife was snatched from the Hawthorne dining table and Hawthorne in the course of the struggle received some cuts from the knife and was bruised. Prior to this affair there had never been any trouble between the applicant and Hawthorne.

The applicant has now served nine months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His wife is not in good health and has had no experience in conducting the business which is her sole means of support.

The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends pardon on account of the serious physical condition of the applicant's wife, and for the same reason the Trial Judge favors clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; and the need which his wife has of her husband's support; and because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge and the Trial District Attorney; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 7, September Sessions, 1917, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Somerset, William H. Beal pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree and on September 7, 1917, was sentenced to imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period not less than fourteen nor more than eighteen years.

The applicant is 46 years of age and a native-born American citizen. His occupation is that of a coal miner but he was not regularly employed at the time of his arrest. At that time he resided in Elk Lick Township, Somerset County, Pennsylvania. He has a wife, a married daughter and two sons.

The applicant, while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, met his neighbor and friend, S. C. Hemming, on the public road between their respective homes. A dispute arose. The applicant fired three shots from a revolver, all of which took effect in Hemming's body and although none of them were fatal to him, one shot passing through Hemming's arm, struck and killed his five year old daughter, Irene Hemming. For the death of this child the applicant was indicted and tried for the crime of murder. Her death, under the circumstances, was entirely accidental. The applicant bore no hatred or malice toward her but on the contrary she was a particular favorite and friend of his and when he learned of the accidental death of the child, he was so overcome with grief and remorse, that he attempted to kill himself by firing a bullet through his own body, the result of which did not prove fatal. The applicant and his neighbor, S. C. Hemming, were friends, neighbors and associates prior to this encounter. There was no malice or hatred existing between them and the whole trouble is attributable to the applicant's intoxication at the time of the shooting.

The applicant has now served nine years and nine months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; he has an excellent prison record. His wife and two sons are dependent on him for support.

The private prosecutor in the case has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. The authorities of the Western Penitentiary, headed by the chairman of the Board of Trustees, strongly recommends pardon. There was also filed with the Board a number of letters and a large petition of citizens of the community to the same effect. The trial Judge and trial District Attorney are both deceased. The present District Attorney has filed with the Board, a letter in which he states that from information he has received from the neighbors of the applicant, he feels that the latter has been sufficiently punished and that there will be no gain to the public keeping him in prison. He states that he has no objection to a pardon. The present Judge has also filed with the Board, a letter in which he states that the community generally favors a pardon and that he believes nothing will be gained by keeping him confined in prison. He further states that he has no objection to a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the inebriated condition of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; the need which his wife and two sons have of his support; because of the recommendations of the prison authorities, the friends and neighbors of the applicant and the favorable attitude of the present Judge and District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will become a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 132, November Sessions, 1913, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Luzerne, Samuel Evanichowich was convicted of murder in the second degree, and on November 22, 1913, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nineteen years and eleven months, nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is a Montenegrin by birth, and is now forty-eight years of age. At the time of his trial he was thirty-six years of age and was unable to speak or understand the English language. At the trial it was almost impossible for him to be understood, and it was with the greatest difficulty that an interpreter could be secured who could act at the trial. The applicant was without funds or friends and counsel was appointed by the Court to defend him. The applicant maintained his absolute innocence of the crime. There were no eye witnesses to the killing except the applicant and the deceased. No testimony was transcribed.

The Commonwealth's version of the crime is that Rodomon, a fellow countryman, and the applicant were, on October 25, 1913, in the city of Hazleton, drinking liquor in the saloon of one Mike Hudock, in company with two prostitutes. All were more or less under the influence of liquor, Rodomon and the applicant quarrelled over the apparent preference which one of the women exhibited toward Rodomon. The applicant became jealous and insisted upon accompanying Rodomon to his home although he lived in an opposite direction. While passing through the woods outside of Cranberry village, the applicant shot and killed Rodomon, fled from the scene of the crime, went to his boarding house, and hid in the barn in the rear of the premises where he was captured about midnight of the day of the crime.

The applicant's version of the case is that four men, including Rodomon and the applicant, went to the saloon where they met the two women. They went to a rear room and continued drinking. A controversy arose over one of the two women between Rodomon and one of the men, not the applicant. After the two men and two women left the saloon, Rodomon invited the applicant to go with him to his home. While passing through the woods, near a small village known as Cranberry, Rodomon struck the applicant several times on the head. Rodomon was resentful toward the applicant because the latter was a friend of both of the male members of the party who left the saloon with the two women. Both of these men were intoxicated. The blows were struck without provocation. Rodomon whipped out a pistol and attempted to shoot the applicant. The pistol was discharged three or four times. The two men grappled. Rodomon remarked, "I will kill you," and in the struggle the pistol was discharged and this shot is evidently the one that killed Rodomon. The applicant has steadfastly adhered to this version of the crime.

The applicant has now served thirteen years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record is excellent.

The present District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. President Judge Fuller verbally informed the Chairman of the Board of Pardons that the applicant should be pardoned.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because of the recommendations of the present District Attorney and trial Judge, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now liberated, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Samuel Evanichsowich.

Sir: At No. 45, September Term, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Columbia, Edward Brown was convicted of the possession of intoxicating liquor, and on January 24, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of one thousand dollars ($1,000), costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Columbia County Jail for a period of one year.

The applicant is forty-five years of age and a native-born American citizen. He was the proprietor of a small store and gasoline filling station where he sold cigars, candles, soft drinks, etc., and served meals on order. At the time of his arrest he resided in his home adjoining the store, located on the State road leading from Bloomsburg to Berwick. His family consisted of a wife and a nineteen-year-old daughter.

On August 16, 1926, on complaint of two State policemen, a search warrant was issued by a Justice of the Peace in Bloomsburg and the applicant's store was searched on the same day and ten bottles of beer with a larger alcoholic content than is permitted by law were seized and confiscated. The applicant aided the officers in their search and claimed that when he purchased the beer he was told that it was near-beer and had no reason to believe otherwise. No effort was made to conceal the beer and it was found in the refrigerator with the soft drinks.

The applicant has now served five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His wife and daughter require his support.

There were filed with the Board a number of letters from William Vial, J. L. Freeman, H. A. McKillip, W. N. Corcoran, Charles E. Kesty recommending clemency; also a large petition of citizens to the same effect.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the excessive sentence; in consideration of the fact that only ten bottles of beer were found in the refrigerator, without any attempt at concealment; with no evidence of attempted or actual sale; because the applicant appeared to have acted in good faith in the purchase of the beer alleged to be near-beer; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 452 to 459 inclusive, February Sessions, 1923, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Allegheny, John Adams pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with false pretense, impersonating an officer and larceny, and on February 16, 1923, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of thirty-seven and one-half cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven and one-half years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-four years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, unmarried, a machinist by occupation, and resided with his parents in the borough of Wall, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania. The applicant was unemployed at the time of his arrest for the foregoing offenses.

The applicant, when only twenty years of age, came under the sinister influence of one George, who was ten years older, George took him to several saloons and when the applicant was drunk, he induced him to commit two of the foregoing offenses. When arrested, the applicant immediately confessed and offered to assist in bringing about the arrest of George.

He maintained that he did not commit the offense of false pretense and impersonating an officer charged against him, but that when arrested and in jail, he agreed to plead guilty, fearing physical violence when the police insisted on charging him with these offenses.

The applicant has now served four years and four months of his term of imprisonment. His prison record is excellent. Employment has been offered him if released. The applicant is in poor health. He sustained a rupture in the abdominal region, which cannot be properly treated while he is in prison. His parents are old, have a small income and large family and are largely dependent upon the applicant's support.

A petition of citizens of the Borough of Wall has been filed with the Board recommending clemency.

The trial District Attorney has filed a letter with the Board recommending pardon on the ground that he was under age when the crimes were committed, has served almost four and one-half years and has a good prison record. Senator Coyne of Pittsburgh, also recommends clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crimes were committed; the term of imprisonment already served; the fact that employment has been offered him if released; the further fact that he is in poor health and that his aged parents require his support; because of the recommendations of the trial District Attorney, Senator Coyne and citizens of the Borough of Wall, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said John Adams.

Sir: At Nos. 13 and 23, February Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, George E. Schreider pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with robbery, larceny and receiving stolen goods, and on March 27, 1925, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of twelve and one-half cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-seven years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States. He worked as clerk and electrician for six or seven years but was without employment at the time of his arrest. He was married at the age of seventeen to a girl of fifteen, and began housekeeping in Pittsburgh. He has a boy five years old who is being cared for by his wife's parents. The wife is a victim of tuberculosis.

On November 1, 1924, the applicant was without work and was desperately in need of money to support his family. While passing the Standard Cigar Company plant located in the Lawrenceville district of Pittsburgh the applicant saw money being paid to numerous employees. Being desperate from lack of funds he was seized with the impulse to get money there. Learning that the next pay day would be on November 15th, he stole an automobile from J. A. Pilson the night before the 15th in which to escape after the contemplated robbery. On the following morning Leo Linkiewicz (who had entered into the plan) and the applicant went in the automobile to the cigar company's place of business and went into the office after they had seen two packages of money delivered there. They secured the packages containing about $8,200, went out, jumped into the automobile and drove away. Four men and a woman were in the office at the time. The two robbers had revolvers in their hands but no shots were fired and no one was injured in any way. The people in the office were taken by surprise and offered no resistance to the taking of the money, and made no outcry. Both men entered pleas of guilty.

The applicant has now served two years and three months of his term of imprisonment, during which time he has been paralyzed in both legs and unable to move about except by means of a wheel chair. The paralysis followed severe illness from scarlet fever and diphtheria contracted in the Allegheny County jail. Medical treatment for a year in the penitentiary hospital has brought no improvement. If released, he may be benefited by special treatment which the penitentiary does not admit of. The applicant's uncle has offered to provide a good home for him if released, and therefore he will not become an object of charity.

United States District Attorney Meyer of Pittsburgh has filed with the Board a letter in which he strongly recommends clemency. The present District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends pardon because of his paralyzed condition. The trial Judge for the same reason recommends pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; the seriously impaired physical condition of the applicant; because a home has been offered him by a near relative; because his wife and child require his support; in consideration of the recommendation of United States District Attorney Meyer, the present District Attorney and trial Judge, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now liberated, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 11, October Term, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Chester, Pratt Rich Lee alias Patrick Lee was convicted of assault and battery, incest and statutory rape, and on August 4, 1923, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $500.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven nor more than fourteen years.

The applicant is a colored man, fifty-five years of age, a carpenter by trade, but a laborer by occupation. At the time of his arrest, he was a widower living at South Coatesville. The applicant is charged with having committed the offense on the person of his daughter, Gladys, under sixteen years of age, who lived with and kept house for him.

On the day of his arrest he returned to his home for some cause and found his daughter in the kitchen in the company of a colored boy who delivered ice. The kitchen door was closed and the applicant claims to have encountered some difficulty in getting into the house. When he finally gained entrance he charged the daughter and the ice delivery boy with improper conduct and whipped his daughter. A colored woman in the neighborhood became interested in the case and Lee was arrested, charged with assault and battery and at the same time the daughter charged him with incest and statutory rape. At the time of the trial the only witness to the fact was the daughter and it appeared she made the complaint after the father had whipped her.

There was filed with the Board the affidavit of Gladys Hutchinson, the daughter, in which she avers that at the time when she made her information and complaint, she had been whipped by her father and had been accused by him of improper conduct with the young man who was delivering ice; that because of her anger on account of the whipping and because of the father's accusation, she added to the charge of assault and battery, the charge of incest and statutory rape. She declares in her affidavit that her statements with respect to the last mentioned offenses were untrue, and that she had been restrained from making this fact known heretofore for fear of being prosecuted for perjury.

The applicant has now served three years and eight months of the term of imprisonment.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the affidavit of his daughter, Gladys, (the only witness against him), in which she retracts her charges with the exception of the accusation of assault and battery, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Pratt ~~Rich~~ Lee alias Patrick Lee.

Sir: At No. 14, December Term, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Beaver, Joe Perschler pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with incestuous rape and incestuous adultery, and on January 28, 1923, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than six years nor more than twelve years.

The applicant is forty-nine years of age, of German descent but an American citizen. He is by occupation a metal polisher or buffer and was so employed in Rochester, Pennsylvania, at the time of his arrest. He resided in Rochester, Beaver County, with his wife and four children.

The crimes charged against the applicant were committed by him on the person of his oldest daughter who at the time was under sixteen years of age.

The applicant has now served four years and five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His wife is now forty-six years of age, in poor health, and without means of support. She is unable to work and has to depend upon friends for her maintenance. The children were all placed in charitable institutions at the time of the applicant's conviction and are still there. If released, employment has been offered him by a former employer.

The District Attorney and County detective of Beaver County have both filed letters with the Board in which they recommend clemency because of the length of time he has served in prison, and because his wife and family require support.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; in consideration of the fact that his wife and children require support; because employment has been offered him if released; because of the recommendations of the County detective and District Attorney of Beaver County, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 29, 1927.

Sir: At No. 11, June term, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Montgomery, George C. Schoffer was convicted of larceny and on October 8, 1926, sentence was suspended by the Court.

The applicant is thirty-six years of age, a native-born American citizen. He worked for a number of years as a riveter. At the time of his arrest he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Philadelphia, and resided in Camden, N. J. He is married but separated from his wife. He has two children, Emma and Elizabeth, aged nine and seven years, respectively, whom he has been supporting.

At the time of his arrest on the charge of larceny the applicant was at liberty on parole, after having served the minimum period of a sentence imposed for the larceny of an automobile. He was then returned to the Western State Penitentiary as a parole violator, and on April 12, 1927, was adjudged guilty of violation of his parole and formally re-committed to the Penitentiary where he now is.

On April 17, 1926, two men, William McClairen and John Jackson, entered a drug store in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania. They perpetrated the film flam game on a negro clerk, McClairen Bolt. By this means they walked out of the store with $5.00. Shortly after they left the store the clerk discovered what had happened, ran out on the street and encountered McClairen and Jackson in conversation with the applicant. He told them that they had $5.00 belonging to him, and McClairen handed the money back with the remark that it was a mistake. Subsequently Bolt informed his employer of what had occurred, and he notified the police, who, later on the same day, arrested the three men as they came out of a restaurant three squares from the drug store. The testimony showed that the applicant had not been in the store at any time. The three men were convicted although it was apparent that the applicant's conviction was more or less accidental and due to his having been in company with the two men, the real participants in the crime. The Court finally suspended sentence on the applicant as above stated.

The present application is made in order to relieve the applicant from the stigma of being a parole violator. If the application is granted, he will be enabled to apply for re-instatement of his parole from the Western Penitentiary.

There was filed with the Board a letter from J. C. Coulter, Parole officer of the Penitentiary, in which he states that if the applicant is granted a pardon, he has no doubt but that the Parole Board will recommend that he be re-paroled. The Railroad Company for which he was working when returned to the Penitentiary is holding his job open for him.

The Assistant Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that the applicant was not in the store when McClairen and Jackson engineered the film flam game, and was not seen by any of the Commonwealth's witnesses until he was subsequently arrested in the company of the two men in a restaurant some distance from the drug store. He further states that the evidence against the applicant was so weak that he was surprised when the jury convicted him. The Court was evidently surprised because on its own motion it suspended sentence on the applicant and he was released. He also states that it was a serious question as to whether the applicant should ever have been convicted and that such conviction would not have been sustained on appeal. He recommends clemency.

In consideration of all the the circumstances of this case; the reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; the need which his children have of support; because of the statement of the Parole Officer and Assistant Trial District Attorney and the recommendation of the latter, we have concluded that he should be relieved from the stigma of being a parole violator and should be placed in such a position that he may be re-paroled.

Sir: At No. 79, March Sessions, 1920, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Delaware, Jerome K. Hearne was convicted of murder in the second degree and recommended to the mercy of the Court, and on September 28, 1920, was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight years nor more than twelve years.

The applicant is thirty-four years of age and a native-born American citizen. He is a bricklayer and plasterer by occupation and was so employed until several weeks before the unfortunate occurrence now under consideration, when he accepted employment as a spinner by the Viscose Company and was in their employ at the time of his arrest. He is unmarried but has an aged mother residing in Georgia.

The applicant was working on a machine in the weaving department between two other men with whom he became acquainted and with whom he boarded at the same boarding house. They were William Biddle and Sidney A. Rhyne, alias Whitey Morris. The applicant had known them for two weeks when they asked him to take a ride with them in a taxi and he agreed. They went down town and hired Vincent Popiel, a jitney driver, to take them for a ride. In the course of their journey they came to the vicinity of Booth's Corner, Delaware County, when Morris, sitting in the back seat of the jitney, struck the driver, Popiel, with the butt end of a pearl-handled revolver, and rendered him unconscious, and dragged him to the tonneau of the rear seat and there hit him several times. He pointed the revolver at the applicant and made him drive the car a short distance to a wooded spot where Morris and Biddle got out and dragged the body out of the car and into the woods where they left it after searching his pockets. The applicant asked if they intended to leave him there, and was told to do as he was ordered or he would get the same dose. He did not know whether Popiel was dead or merely unconscious, but saw that he bled in the mouth and nose. As a matter of fact, he was dead or died shortly thereafter. Morris then entered the car and ordered the applicant to drive to town and then to keep on driving. It was his announced intention to go to Florida, of which State he was a native. He did not leave Biddle or the applicant out of his sight for a minute. They slept in the car and ate anywhere. The applicant endeavored to escape from Morris but the latter was always on the alert. They finally reached Florida and while in Tampa, the applicant finally escaped. Through his efforts the other two men were apprehended. The applicant never saw or heard of Popiel before the tragedy.

The applicant has now served six years and nine months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record is excellent.

The Chaplain of the Penitentiary has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that Morris, the ring-leader, was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to the chair but this sentence was afterwards commuted to life imprisonment and he died shortly thereafter. Biddle was acquitted by the jury. He states that the applicant was very helpful to the Commonwealth in the Morris case; that he is the only person who has suffered any real punishment for this crime. He recommends clemency. There was also filed with the Board a number of letters from citizens of Georgia, the applicant's native State.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the Applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because of the fact that his aged mother requires support; in consideration of the recommendations of the Chaplain of the Penitentiary, the trial District Attorney and citizens, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Jerome K. Hearne.

Sir: At No. —, April Sessions, 1917, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Chester, William Johnson alias "Pie" was convicted of murder in the second degree and on May 4, 1917, was sentenced to pay costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nineteen years nor more than twenty years.

The Applicant is a negro, forty-five years of age, unmarried and has an aged father and invalid brother requiring support, to whom he has contributed large sums even while incarcerated.

The Applicant had lived in and around Coatesville, Pa., during most of his life time. At the time of his arrest he was proprietor of a jitney operating in the City. He also kept roomers and made a business of lending out small sums of money at interest. It was well known that for this purpose he carried considerable money on his person. On the night of the tragedy he had $160.00 with him. For about two and one-half years before his arrest the Applicant cohabited with Hannah Hill, otherwise known as "Hun" Hill.

On October 15, 1916, the Applicant went to his home where he saw his so-called wife, with whom he was on friendly terms. After spending ten or fifteen minutes with her, he told her he was going around the corner to the Elks' Club House. She told him not to stay long as she had supper ready to serve. He walked west on Lumber Street towards 7th Avenue. He met two men who wanted to pawn something with him. He told them to wait until he returned. He then went up 7th Avenue to a pool room and then went to the Elks' Home. He remained there but a few minutes. Returning east, he spoke to Officers Boddy and Jackson about the weather and went to a cigar store and bought a pack of cigarettes. When he left the store a man called him over to the northeast corner of Merchant and 7th Avenue. They walked together and then parted, the Applicant crossing and entering into an alley way which was a short cut to his home. When he reached a dark spot about half way through the alley, someone threw his, or her, arms around him. Applicant took one or two steps with his assailant hanging on and finally fell. As he fell, he whipped his revolver out of his pocket and fired once over his shoulder. Scrambling to a sitting position, he shot twice more into the weeds. After getting to his feet he looked around but could find no one. Leaving the alley he went east on Lumber Street to 8th Avenue where he met two men whom he did not recognize but who turned out to be officers. They shouted and opened fire on him. The Applicant returned the fire, shooting twice when his ammunition ran out. He fled east on Lumber Street to 10th Avenue, and afterwards turned west toward the scene of the hold-up, as he believed it, when he met two men who recognized him and told him that his wife had been shot. Considering the matter he thought that no one would believe his story and he decided to run off. He finally landed in Steubenville, Ohio, where he was arrested and returned to Pennsylvania. Throughout his examination the Applicant stuck to his story that he did not know it was his wife who grabbed him, apparently in play, but thought it was men who approached him intending to rob him.

The Applicant has now served ten years and one month of his term of imprisonment. His prison record is excellent.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency, and also a petition of citizens. The Mayor and Postmaster of Coatesville asked for pardon. The Assistant Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommended clemency. The prison authorities, including Doctor Linn Bowman, ask pardon. The Trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which, while not recommending clemency, he suggests that the Board should be guided by the opinion of the persons who have had him in charge. A contracting firm which formerly employed the Applicant has offered him employment if he is released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because employment has been offered him if released; because his aged father and invalid brother require support; because the Mayor and Postmaster of Coatesville, and many citizens of that City together with the Trial District Attorney and Trial Judge favor clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 199, March Session, 1921, and 34 June Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Fayette, Ira J. Cunningham was convicted of incestuous bastardy and rape and incestuous rape and adultery, and on June 25, 1921, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of twelve cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than sixteen years nor more than eighteen years.

The Applicant is forty-three years of age, a native-born American citizen. He has a wife and five daughters. When arrested he was in the auto-hiring business for himself.

The Applicant was convicted of the alleged crimes on the persons of his two elder daughters.

It appears from the application that Applicant, when about sixteen years of age, went to the soft coal regions to work, and about that time, met and married the woman who is now his wife. She was about eighteen years of age. Within one week after the marriage, he heard that she had led a dissolute life. He told her of the rumors, and she confessed that she had been wayward and was the mother of an illegitimate. He concluded to make the best of a bad bargain. In 1919, he took his wife and two older daughters, aged about sixteen and eighteen years, respectively, to Connellsville to live. The Applicant had been there but a short time when he was informed by his three younger daughters that while he was at work strange men visited his home to see his wife and daughters, and there was considerable gossip in the neighborhood to the same effect. The oldest daughter gave birth to an illegitimate child in the spring of 1920. The wife had been sentenced to jail on four different occasions by the Mayor of Connellsville for disorderly conduct and her behavior finally became so bad that the Applicant, about a year before his arrest, told her to go away and never return. She departed and resided with Esther, her second daughter. They conducted a house of prostitution. These women began circulating scandalous stories in the neighborhood concerning the Applicant, charging him with the paternity of his eldest daughter's child. The County Detective who investigated the matter was informed by the mother and daughter that the Applicant was guilty of the crime charged. The second daughter was also induced to prefer criminal charges against her father.

The Applicant was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He has now served six years of his term of imprisonment. The District Attorney of Fayette County has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that there was no doubt as to the bad reputation and conduct of the wife and daughters of the Applicant; that the mother for many years had been one of the lowest class of prostitutes and that all of her girls had followed in her footsteps when quite young; that his investigation showed that it is the opinion of substantial citizens who appeared to be familiar with the case that the Applicant's wife and daughters swore falsely in the trial for the reason that the Applicant had strenuously objected to their evil conduct. He concludes his letter by recommending a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the Applicant; because of the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; his excellent prison record; and because of the statement and recommendation of the District Attorney of Fayette County, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Ira J. Cunningham.

Sir: At No. 259, June Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Creitien Richardson was convicted of burglary; entering in the night, without breaking, with intent to commit a felony; and on July 2 1925, was sentenced to pay costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is thirty-two years of age, unmarried, and a native-born citizen of the United States. He is an electrical engineer by profession and was employed as such at the time of his arrest in the City of Philadelphia, where he resided.

On the evening of May 25, the applicant attended a party. During the course of the evening liquor was served from time to time, and he imbibed freely. About midnight, according to his version of the affair, he left the house and wandered about the streets in an intoxicated condition. He finally came to an automobile parked along the curb, and sat down on the running board and fell asleep. He was awakened by an officer, who charged him with attempting to rob a nearby residence. He was then taken, in a stupefied condition, to the home of one Dion Martinez where he was confronted with Martinez and the servant girl. The former was unable to identify him and the servant girl's only mark of identification was his voice. She had heard a man's voice in the yard about the time of the alleged burglary. At the hearing, the Magistrate informed the police that the identification was insufficient and unless further evidence was produced, the applicant would be discharged. The hearing was continued, and on being arraigned at a second hearing before another Magistrate, he was, on the evidence previously adduced, held for Court. The applicant engaged counsel but was placed on trial without counsel being present, nor any witnesses being notified to appear in his behalf. Martinez was unable to identify the applicant, and the servant girl again repeated her statement. The officer who made the arrest testified that the applicant was asleep and apparently under the influence of liquor at the time of the arrest, which was effected several blocks from the scene of the alleged crime.

The applicant was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He has now served one year and eleven months of his term of imprisonment.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his intoxicated condition probably rendering him incapable of committing the crime charged; the fact that he was forced to trial without the presence of counsel and witnesses; in consideration of the fact that he was unarmed when arrested and had no tools in his possession with which a burglary might be effected; because of his prior good record and the term of imprisonment already served, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Creitien Richardson.

Sir: At No. 847, January Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Frank McDermott alias Mickey Dick was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon and on April 24, 1924, was sentenced to pay costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-six years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States. He served eighteen months in the United States Army during the World War. He has a wife and two children aged five and three years respectively, who reside in the City of Philadelphia with the applicant's mother, a widow, who supports them to the best of her ability. He is by occupation a plumber.

On June 28, 1923, the applicant being in a semi-intoxicated condition, went from his home, where they had been celebrating his sister's wedding, and purchased a quart of whiskey. He then returned to his home and departed with his sister and her husband in a taxicab, leaving them at 16th and Market Streets. He drank the entire quart of whiskey and claims that he does not remember anything that occurred thereafter. On the date above mentioned at 18th and Pierce Streets, Philadelphia, the applicant is charged with having knocked down Joseph Wynne (since deceased), and robbed him of $1.80. Wynne was unable to identify the applicant as his assailant. The applicant states that he was informed by a man who was leading him home in an intoxicated condition that he (the applicant) accidentally bumped into Wynne, who was also drunk. Words ensued which resulted in a fight, but no attempt at robbery was made. Wynne testified at the hearing before the Magistrate that he had been robbed of 40 cents, and at the trial, testified that he had lost $1.60. Only one witness testified definitely that the attack was made by the applicant, and he was a considerable distance from the scene of the alleged assault, which occurred about midnight when it was dark. The applicant may have been guilty of assault and battery. Both men were drunk at the time.

The applicant has been in prison since January, 1924, and has served three years and two months of his term of imprisonment.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; in consideration of his inebriated condition; because the amount of money alleged to have been taken did not exceed $1.80; in consideration of the fact that the applicant has served three years and two months of his term of imprisonment; in consideration of the fact that his wife and two small children are dependent upon him for support, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 41, February Sessions, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Luzerne, John McIntyre pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter.

The applicant is forty-two years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. He is an anthracite coal miner by occupation but at the time of his arrest he was a constable and a special policeman of the Borough of Ashley, on duty as a special officer because of a strike in the Ashley Shops of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey. He resided in Ashley with his mother. He was unmarried.

On the night of October 29, 1922, Clement Jablonski, a Polish office-holder and next door neighbor of the applicant gave a birthday party at his home in Ashley, to which the applicant and John Campbell, the deceased, were invited. These two men were both coal miners. Life-long friends and associates. The applicant had leave of absence from the Burgess for the occasion. All the witnesses sworn in the case agree that at and before the party there was much drinking by all of the guests. The party started at nine o'clock and the shooting occurred between two and two-thirty the next morning. It was a riotous affair. All present were intoxicated. All agreed that there was no quarrel, provocation or ill feeling between the applicant and Campbell, but there was much dancing, drinking, and music. Just how the shooting occurred will probably never be known. The applicant had been upstairs where they were serving strong drink and came down where there was music and dancing. One witness who acknowledged having had ten ordinary wine glasses of moonshine of a white color called "White Mule", testified to some remarks between the two, but all the other eye-witnesses say that they heard no word spoken by Campbell or the applicant before the shooting. Their testimony was that they were suddenly surprised by a report of a pistol shot and looking around they saw Campbell had been shot and the applicant with a gun in his hand. There was only one shot fired. The applicant stood astonished and overcome and was badly beaten by those present. He went to his home next door and remained there until arrested that same night. There was no attempt to flee or resist arrest.

The court accepted applicant's plea of voluntary manslaughter because on account of the intoxicated condition of the eye-witnesses to the shooting it would have been impossible to have proven a higher degree of guilt.

The applicant has now served four years and three months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the Trial District Attorney, who is at the present time a member of the Board, in which he recommends clemency. There was also filed with the Board a letter from the Trial Judge in which he states that under all the circumstances he feels inclined to concur with the District Attorney in observing that after imprisonment for almost five years clemency at this time might properly be extended to the prisoner.

It must be here noted that the Lieutenant Governor, who was the Trial District Attorney, did not sit with the Board on the hearing of this case. It also appears from the letter of the Trial Judge that he has never recommended or resisted a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge and the Trial District Attorney; we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated will prove himself a useful and law abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said John McIntyre.

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 29, 1927.

Sir: At Nos. 20, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, and 223, August Term, 1921, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Washington, Charles Sorosinski pleaded guilty to eight indictments charging him with felonious breaking entering, larceny, conspiracy, escaping and attempting to break prison, and on August 15, 1921, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of six dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve nor more than seventy-eight years.

The applicant is thirty-two years of age and a former subject of Austria-Hungary. He declared his allegiance to the United States and the Republic of Poland and entered the World War in France in the Polish-American Legion and obtained an honorable discharge. At the time of his arrest he was employed as a coal miner by the Pittsburgh Coal Company in Washington County, and resided in Vestaburg, in said County.

The applicant was charged with breaking into three box cars of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and taking therefrom certain personal property. Also, with breaking and entering into the storerooms of the Maple Glen Supply Company and Miners' Supply Company, and into the warerooms of the American Railway Express Company and Andy Bushta and taking therefrom certain personal property. He was also charged with conspiracy to break jail and attempted jail breaking.

The applicant has now served five years and ten months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

Andy Bushta, the private prosecutor from whom the greater portion of the article of personal property were stolen, has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends pardon. The Superintendent of the Monongahela Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has filed with the Board a letter in which he indicates that he is favorable to a pardon. The Trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency, and adds: "Had I known all the facts that I know now, when I sentenced the applicant, I would have made his sentence run concurrently and not consecutively". Employment with the Ellsworth Collieries has been offered the applicant if he is liberated.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; the prior good record of the applicant; because the sentence imposed by the Court was excessive; in consideration of the fact that the two of the private prosecutors, who were the main losers through the depredations of the applicant, have filed letters with the Board recommending clemency; and because the trial Judge has made similar recommendation, stating that had he known all the facts at the time of imposing the sentences he would have made them run concurrently instead of consecutively, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 8, September Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Centre, Palmer Hetzel pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with breaking and entering, and larceny, and on July 9, 1925, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of two dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than three nor more than six years.

The applicant is forty-six years of age and a German by birth, but an American citizen. He is by occupation a laborer. At the time of his arrest he resided in Lock Haven with his wife and two sons.

On or about May 28, 1925, Raymond Gharrity, Bert Swan and applicant started out one night in Gharrity's automobile to steal chickens. They went to the chicken coop of George Heckman located in Potter Township, Centre County, and took therefrom seventy-two chickens. The applicant claimed that he did not steal any chickens but remained on the outside and watched while the others committed the larceny.

The applicant has now served three years and eleven months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime and his prison record is excellent.

Senator Quigley of Lock Haven has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency on the ground that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that his family requires his support. The trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which, while not recommending clemency, he states that he has no objection thereto because the applicant has served more than one-half of his term of imprisonment and because his family are dependent upon charity. He adds that the real culprit escaped punishment.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the favorable attitude of the trial Judge and the recommendations of Senator Quigley and the penitentiary authorities, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Palmer Hetzell.

Sir: At No. 88, June Sessions 1925 in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Lawrence, Ralph I. Orr pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with perjury and on September 19, 1925 was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of fifty dollars, costs, and to undergo an imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is 43 years of age and a native born American citizen. Prior to May 1, 1925, he was treasurer of the Home Trust Company of New Castle, Pa., and from May 1, 1925, to September 19, 1925, was Secretary and Sales Manager of the O. C. Orr Baking Co. at New Castle, Pa., in which city he resided with a wife and one daughter, aged 14 years. His parents, 69 years of age are both living, the father a hopeless paralytic.

In 1905, the applicant became a clerk in the Home Trust Co., in New Castle, and remained with that institution for twenty years, finally, in March 1919, becoming treasurer, at a salary of $2000 per annum. He built a home which cost him almost double the architect's estimate and to pay for the same was forced to borrow $17,000 from banks, seriously embarrassing him. He tried to sell his home but was unsuccessful. The applicant's father borrowed $17,150 from the Home Trust Company and the applicant borrowed $3200 from the same institution, which money was used in a stock investment, hoping thereby to tide over the applicant pending a sale of the house. The stock investment proved a total loss. The son undertook to take care of the interest on the notes given for the money borrowed from the Home Trust Company and as Treasurer of the company entered interest as paid on the above notes before it was actually paid. In April, 1925, an examination of the bank was made and the interest entries which had not been actually paid were discovered by the examiner. The applicant confessed to the examiner his irregularities. On May 1st of the same year the applicant resigned. About two weeks later informations were made against the applicant on charges of embezzlement and false entries and later, on May 19, another information was made against the applicant on the charge of perjury, the latter charge being based on the applicant's failure to answer correctly certain questions embodied in the call of the State Banking Department for a report of the condition of the institution, which questions were not answered according to certain interpretations or rulings of the said department. The applicant not having included in his report the loans referred to was charged with having made a false report and by swearing thereto committed perjury.

The applicant has now served two years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

The Trial District Attorney (who is now on the bench) and the Trial Judge strongly recommend clemency. The Mayor and New Castle, the President of the Home Trust Company and the attorney for the same, in letters filed, urge pardon. The Chaplain of the Western Penitentiary also recommends clemency. There were also filed with the Board many letters from Senator Weingartner, Representative Moffatt and other prominent citizens to the same effect. The applicant's wife and daughter require his support and the affairs of his aged Father which have been impaired by the son's misfortunes require the attention of the applicant.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of the Trial District Attorney, the Trial Judge, the Mayor of New Castle, the president and attorney of the Home Trust Company, the Chaplain of the Western Penitentiary and other prominent citizens, we have concluded that the applicant should be relieved from the stigma of perjury.

Sir: At Nos. 1176, 1177 and 1178, May Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Israel Yaffe pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with receiving stolen goods, and on December 31, 1925, was sentenced by the Court to pay costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than one year nor more than three years on each of said indictments, sentences to be cumulative.

The applicant is 38 years of age, a native of Russia, but has resided in the United States for about 20 years. At the time of his conviction he was engaged in the clothing business in the City of Philadelphia.

The applicant was indicted on 26 bills of indictment charging him with receiving stolen goods. On twenty of these bills he was indicted alone. On five of them he was indicted with Philip Spector, who pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve a term of from three to six years in the Eastern Penitentiary, which sentence he is still serving. On one of these indictments he was jointly indicted with Washington Nilsea and Samuel Fisher. Nilsea pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months in the county jail and is now on probation. Fisher pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve a term of not less than four nor more than eight years in the Eastern Penitentiary, which sentence he is still serving.

The bills of indictment charging Yaffe with receiving stolen goods grew out of the prosecution of 24 defendants in connection with numerous and wholesale thefts from the American Railway Express Company in Philadelphia. The applicant purchased the stolen goods and resold them.

The applicant has now served one year and eight months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His family, consisting of a wife and four children, ranging in age from 3 to 12 years is in a destitute condition.

The trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which, after referring to the prior good record of the applicant and the destitute condition of his family, he states that he has no personal objection to a pardon. The trial District Attorney has also filed with the Board a letter in which he refers to the applicant's prior good record; his reformation while in prison, and the destitute condition of his family; and favors clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because the family of the applicant is in destitute circumstances and requires support; and in consideration of the favorable attitude of the Trial Judge and Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will become a useful and law abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Israel Yaffee.

Sir: At No. 75, September Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Luzerne, Casper Senchisik, was convicted of felonious rape and on September 17, 1921, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of five hundred dollars, costs, and undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is 32 years of age and an Austrian by nationality. His occupation is that of a mine laborer. At the time of his arrest he was employed as such in No. 5 colliery of the Susquehanna Colliery Co. at Nanticoke, Pa., in which Borough he resided with his sister Mary Skrip. He is unmarried.

In the summer of 1921, during the afternoon, the applicant visited a family with whom he was acquainted and during the visit he was furnished by them with intoxicating liquor, after which he was induced to go upstairs and sleep. While he lay on a bed, resting, one of the children of the family, a girl about 12 years of age, leaving the other members of the family downstairs, approached the bed on which the applicant was lying and placed her hand in his pocket with the evident intent of stealing a roll of money which he had previously exhibited to the family downstairs. The applicant had not fallen asleep, felt the hand in his pocket and caught the girl in the act of thievery. She immediately screamed bringing her father and mother to the bedroom and they thereupon accused the applicant of having had carnal knowledge of the daughter. The latter throughout the trial stoutly maintained his guilt of the offense while the applicant then and always thereafter denied the charge.

The applicant has now served six years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

Mary Nosal, the alleged victim of the assault, has filed with the Board a statement in which she avers that she swore falsely against him; that she was 12 years of age at the time and did know what she was doing, that he is innocent of the crimes charged, and asks that the applicant be given a pardon. There was also filed with the Board the affidavit of the mother of the girl in which she states that while at the time she believed her daughter's statement, now she doubts her veracity because the girl afterward became incorrigible and was committed to a home for incorrigibles. President Judge Fuller has filed with the Board a statement which sets forth that Mary Nosal, on May 24, 1924, on complaint of the mother, was committed by him to the House of Good Shepherd, and that on May 8, 1925, the Mother Superior recommended that the girl remain with them at least a year longer.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; the prior good record of the applicant; because of his intoxicated condition when the alleged crime was committed; because of the bad character of the girl; because of the statements of Mary Nosal, the mother and Judge Fuller, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Casper Senchisik.

Sir: At No. 445, September Sessions, 1908, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, George Lee was convicted of murder in the first degree and on March 31, 1911, he was sentenced to be executed. On November 15, 1911, the Board of Pardons commuted this sentence to life imprisonment.

The applicant, 38 years of age, is a native of and owes allegiance to the Republic of China. His occupation at the time of his arrest was that of a laundryman. He resided on Race Street, in the City of Philadelphia. He is unmarried.

At the trial of the applicant, it was shown that he had previously been living in Chicago and that he had come to Philadelphia several weeks prior to the shooting. On July 14, 1908, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the applicant walked across Race Street, a much frequented thoroughfare, fired several shots into the back of one, Lee Chit, and without making an attempt to escape, walked back across Race Street and returned to his room where he was found immediately afterwards and arrested. There was nothing to show that the applicant had known Chit previous to the shooting or that there was any motive for the crime. A number of alienists testified at the trial, the majority of whom said that at the time of the murder the applicant was mentally unsound and could not distinguish between right and wrong.

There was grave doubt whether this was a case of first degree murder and whether there was a deliberate premeditation on the part of the applicant, and whether he was capable at the time of conceiving or forming the intention of killing Chit.

The applicant has now served more than 18 years of his term of imprisonment or nearly the maximum prescribed by law for second degree murder, which may have been the degree which the Board of Pardons had in mind when recommending the commutation of the sentence from hanging to one of life imprisonment.

His prior record was good with one exception. On October 5, 1907, while in Chicago, he was charged with carrying a concealed deadly weapon, a minor offense, but by agreement of counsel and the Court, the applicant left Chicago and the case was stricken from the docket.

During his incarceration the applicant has been a model prisoner. He has an aged mother residing in China who is depending upon charity for support.

A number of letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency. Dr. Linn Bowman, a chaplain in the Penitentiary, who has had unusual opportunity to observe the applicant, urges pardon, John C. Bell and Francis Shunk Brown, former Attorneys General of Pennsylvania and not in any way connected with the case, in letters filed with the Board, strongly recommend clemency.

The applicant has expressed his willingness to return to China in order that he may care for his aged mother and his friends in Philadelphia have offered to procure from a reputable bonding company, a bond insuring the applicant's immediate return to China.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the reasonable doubt as to the applicant's guilt of murder in the first degree by reason of his mental state at the time of the commission of the crime; in consideration of the applicant's prior good record (with a minor exception); in consideration of his excellent prison record; because of the fact that Dr. Bowman and former Attorneys General Bell and Brown and other citizens recommend clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and should now be released in order that he may be deported to China under the auspices of the Federal authorities.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said George Lee.

Sir: At No. 18, April Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of York, William T. Lloyd, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with larceny from the person, and on April 19, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than two nor more than four years.

The applicant is 27 years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, a moulder by occupation and at the time of his arrest resided in the city of York and was employed as a salesman by Spear and Company, of Pittsburgh, Pa. He was married in 1919, and has one child seven years of age. While the applicant was serving an enlistment in the United States Army his wife obtained a divorce.

On April 10, 1926, the applicant while on the street of York met a young man who gave him whiskey. The latter had no money. The young man told him he could get some money from a woman who was coming up the street. The men were then standing at the corner of South Beaver Street and Mason Alley. When the woman approached the intersection of the street and alley, the applicant grabbed her pocketbook and started to run down the alley but found he was unable to do so. A man who saw him take the pocketbook started after him. When the applicant reached Codorus Creek, distant about 800 feet west, he sat down in the mouth of a large sewer. A policeman came and the applicant handed him the pocketbook, which was unopened. He was then arrested.

The applicant has now served one year and five months of his term of imprisonment. In August, 1923, while in good health, he enlisted as a private soldier in the United States Army, for a period of three years but was discharged by the United States Medical Department in March, 1926, before the expiration of his term of service, he having contracted tuberculosis, and he was admitted into the Fitzsimmons General Hospital in the city of Denver, Colorado.

There were filed with the Board letters from Doctor H. Malcolm Read, Physician-in-charge of the Clinic at York, and Doctor Cohen, the Jail Physician, certifying that the applicant is suffering from chronic pulmonary tuberculosis, open and active; that he is a menace to the other inmates of the Institution and should be given proper treatment and care in some institution for the tuberculosis. On September 19, 1927, Doctor Read made another examination of the applicant and certified to the Board that the applicant is a menace to his associates; that his health is rapidly failing; and that his life, because of recent pulmonary hemorrhage, is in immediate danger.

The trial Judge in a letter filed recommends clemency and urges "unusual speedy action" by the Board. The trial District Attorney also recommends clemency. The Warden of the York County jail, in which the applicant is now confined, urges pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; the critical condition of the applicant's health; the fact that his presence endangers his associates; the need for special treatment in a tubercular hospital; because of the recommendations of the trial Judge, trial District Attorney, physicians and others; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released will become a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 115, 118 and 120, April Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Joseph Clegg, was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon and entering with intent to commit a felony, and on April 27, 1923, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $5.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is thirty-nine years of age and a native-born American citizen. He is a huckster by trade and resided in the City of Philadelphia with his wife and four children.

On April 1, 1922, at approximately midnight, Abe Brickman was held up in his grocery store located at the corner of 7th and Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia, by two men who got away in an automobile. There were no eye witnesses, but the prosecutor was positive in the identification of Logue. In answer to the question "Do you recognize Joseph Clegg," (the applicant), he replied, "He resembles very much. I am almost certain he is the other man but I don't want to say he is the other man, because I am not certain." The prosecutor testified that both men entered his store, drew pistols and commanded him to throw up his hands. While the one pressed the gun against his side, the other one rifled the cash register. The applicant set up an alibi claiming that he went to his home about 11:30 P. M., the home being several miles from the scene of the robbery at Brickman's store. Several neighbors corroborated the applicants statement that he was at home between the hours of 11:00 and 12:00 P. M.

The statement prepared by the District Attorney's office and filed in this case states, among other things, "The alibis presented in the case, especially by Clegg (the applicant) were exceptionally strong" etc., and further on it stated: "It is only fair to say that it was the general impression in the Court Room during the trial of this case that the prosecutor Brickman, was mistaken and that the defendant's (the applicant's) alibi witnesses were correct."

The applicant has now served four years and five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The applicant's wife and children need the care and support of a father.

The District Attorney's office had a representative present at the time of the hearing before the Board and he stated that they would not oppose the application. In the statement of the case prepared by said office, above referred to, appears the following, which seems to reflect the attitude of that office, viz: "In the opinion of the writer these two men (Logue and the applicant) committed the robbery, but in view of the circumstances and in view of the length of time the men have been incarcerated, it might be proper policy not to oppose the pardon."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the favorable attitude of the District Attorney's office; and the need of the applicant's family for support, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful and law abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Joseph Clegg.

Sir: At No. 148 October Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Mercer, Frank White, was convicted of manslaughter and on November 8, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than 8 years.

The applicant is 29 years of age, an American citizen of Italian extraction. He is a meat cutter by trade and was so employed at the time of his arrest. He resided in Farrell, Mercer County. The applicant believed himself to be legally married but it developed that his supposed wife was never legally divorced from her former husband. They lived together for seven years and three children were born to them, ranging in age from two to six.

On October 8, 1926, in the afternoon, the applicant went to his home, entering by the back door. He found one of his children crying, who said, "There is a man in the house with Mama." He went upstairs, met his wife on the stairway, and asked "What's the matter." She was breathless and flustered and the applicant claims that she did not answer him. He then started upstairs, his wife barring the way saying, "You can't go up there." He went into his bedroom. From behind a chimney in the room, Toney Rotell sprang at him, grabbed him by the throat and threw him on the bed where they tussled. The applicant pushed Rotell off, got up and then Rotell made several attempts to stab him. The applicant took a pair of automobile pliers which he happened to have in his pocket and struck at Rotell, who continued after him. Rotell fell on the bed and applicant ran out of the house onto the front porch where he was found when the police arrived. Rotell came out of the house shortly after the applicant and started toward the pavement. When he had gone several feet, he fell into a large rock pile and landed on the left side of his head, the side on which was the wound which it was alleged caused his death. He then got up, walked about twenty-five feet, fell four times within this distance, and his last fall was against the door of the building. Each of these falls was on Rotell's left side. Shortly thereafter, he received temporary treatment and was sent to the hospital, where he died several hours later.

The applicant believed that he was legally married by the ceremony which took place at Youngstown, Ohio. The woman claimed that she had been divorced and the applicant appears to have acted in good faith throughout. The encounter with Rotell was, as he believed, in defense of his home and family.

The applicant has now served more than ten months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

A large number of letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency.

The prosecuting attorney has filed a letter with the Board in which he states that the applicant's conviction was due to the fact of his illicit relations with the woman in the case and that he believed the applicant would have been acquitted had he been legally married, and that the latter thought he was defending his home against an intruder.

The present District Attorney in a letter filed with the Board makes no recommendation. Among the persons recommending clemency were the following: John L. Morrison, a member of the Workmen's Compensation Board of Pennsylvania, The County Treasurer, Prothonotary, Sheriff, Chief of Police of Farrell and Sharon, and many others.

In consideration of the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the reasonable doubt as to whether the deceased came to his death at the hands of the applicant or in consequence of repeated falls; because of the recommendations of County officials, Mr. Morrison and many prominent citizens, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Frank White.

Sir: At No. 644, June Sessions, 1920, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, William R. Feig pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with murder and manslaughter, which was adjudged by the Court to be murder in the second degree, and on December 10, 1920, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years nor more than eighteen years.

The applicant is thirty-two years of age, a native-born American citizen, a riveter by occupation, and, while a native of Harrisburg, resided in Philadelphia for about fifteen years prior to his arrest. He has one daughter, who resides with her grandmother.

On May 3, 1920, the applicant shot and killed his wife, to whom he had been married about nine years. The relations between husband and wife were not harmonious, and there were repeated quarrels between the applicant and the wife's family. About six months prior to the shooting the applicant and his wife parted. The wife went to live with an Italian, DiCola, residing in West Philadelphia, the same neighborhood in which the applicant and his wife had lived. DiCola was intimate with the family of the applicant's wife, and he and a brother of Mrs. Feig had severely beaten the applicant some months prior to the shooting. For this they were arrested, but the charges were not pressed after the murder case had been disposed of.

On May 1, 1920, the applicant received a letter from his wife asking him to come and take her away. At the time she was living with DiCola. Pursuant to her request, he called on her and, after some conversation, a fight ensued, in which the applicant's wife shot at her husband several times and wounded him once on the right hand. The applicant then pursued her into a bake-shop, where he shot her four times and inflicted the wounds which caused her death. During the struggle the applicant's wife's brother and DiCola, who were armed, also fired shots at the applicant.

The applicant has now served six years and nine months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His daughter, now fourteen years of age, requires his support and care. Employment has been offered him if released and the City Treasurer of Harrisburg has offered to become sponsor for his future good conduct.

A number of letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency. A representative of the District Attorney, present at the hearing before the Board, stated that the wife was the aggressor in the tragedy and that the office was not opposed to the present application.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; in consideration of the fact that the applicant's daughter requires his support and care; in consideration of the fact that employment has been offered him if released, and the City Treasurer of Harrisburg, and other friends in that city will look after him; and because of the fact that the District Attorney's office is not opposed to the present application, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said William R. Feig.

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., October 26, 1927.

Sir: At Nos. 30 and 35, December Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Lawrence, Raymond J. Hamilton pleaded guilty to the charges contained in the indictments, viz: adultery, fornication, pandering and acceptance of bawd money, and on November 27, 1926, was sentenced on the first two charges to pay a fine of $50.00 and costs, and on the two last charges was sentenced to pay a fine of $50.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years.

The applicant is twenty-six years of age and a native-born American citizen. At the time of his arrest he was employed as a tin sheet catcher in the Shenango works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company at New Castle, Pa. His place of residence was in the City of McKeesport. He was married but had left his wife on account of her immoral conduct.

In March, 1926, in Spokane, Washington, the applicant met a girl named Edith Zimbrick. Ten days after meeting her he returned to his home in Pennsylvania, the girl following him without his knowledge. The mother of the applicant took the girl in and she secured work. After some months she began running around with other men. The applicant went to Weirton, West Virginia, in August, 1926, and shortly thereafter the girl followed him there. He left Weirton and came to New Castle, Pa., in September, 1926, and several days later the girl followed him to New Castle and secured a furnished room in the same house where the applicant was living. She went away for a short period and after her return she and the applicant began quarreling. During the quarrel a girl, who was a friend of Edith Zimbrick, came into the room accompanied by a policeman or detective, who placed the applicant under arrest on the charges named in the indictments. At the hearing before the alderman the applicant pleaded not guilty. When the case came to trial the applicant, who was without counsel, was informed by the police officers that if he would enter a plea of guilty it was arranged and understood that he was to pay a fine and costs.

Edith Zimbrick had served five years in Walla Walla, Washington, on a charge of bigamy, and in October, 1927, when this application for pardon was filed, she was an inmate of the Home of the Good Shepherd at Pittsburgh. She has filed with the Board a voluntary affidavit in which she states that the applicant was not guilty of the crime of pandering and accepting bawd money and that he never induced her to become a prostitute, nor did he ever receive any money derived from that source.

The applicant has now served eleven months of his term of imprisonment. He has never before been charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency from the prosecutor in the case (who was the Chief of Police of New Castle), the police matron and the Chief of Police and Mayor of McKeesport. The prison authorities have filed with the Board a formal request for a pardon and the Trial District Attorney has also filed with the Board a letter in which he states that he believes the applicant has been sufficiently punished and joins in the application for pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served for pandering and acceptance of bawd money, two offenses of which he was guiltless; because of the recommendations of the prosecutor, police matron, Chief of Police and Mayor of McKeesport, and the Penitentiary authorities, and in consideration of the recommendation of the Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Raymond J. Hamilton.

Sir: At No. 82, April Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, Charles Belfire was convicted of statutory rape and on April 30, 1925, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of six and one-quarter (6¼c) cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years.

The applicant is thirty-five years of age, a native of Italy, and owes allegiance to that Kingdom. He is a laborer by occupation, unmarried, and at the time of his arrest resided in the City of Pittsburgh, where he worked for a contractor by the name of Ray.

The applicant was charged with having committed felonious rape on the person of Mary Mohnoch, a girl fifteen years of age. Testimony showed that he met Mary Mohnoch and Mary Brinka in a grocery store located on the first floor of the building in which he had rooms and invited them to go with him to his rooms, where they remained for some time. It is alleged that the crime was committed during their joint visit and in the presence of the second girl. The applicant admits that the two girls were in his rooms, but denies the actual commission of the offense. He alleges that both girls had the appearance and manner of prostitutes and seemed older than they were.

He has now served two years and six months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record is excellent and the authorities of the Penitentiary formally recommend pardon.

The Trial District Attorney makes no recommendation and refers the Board to a transcript of the testimony taken in the case.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; the prior good record of the applicant; his excellent prison record and because of the recommendations of the Penitentiary authorities and attitude of the District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Harrisburg, Pa., October 26, 1927.

Sir: At No. 2, September Sessions, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Forest, Lyman Hudleson pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with murder, the degree of which was adjudged by the Court to be murder in the second degree, and on September 20, 1922, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten years nor more than ten years and six months.

The applicant is forty-eight years of age, a native-born American citizen, is a glass worker by occupation, and at the time of his arrest was so employed by the American Window Glass Company at Jeannette, Pa. At the time of his arrest he resided in Tionesta, Forest County, with his wife and six children.

The applicant, between the ages of seven and sixteen years, lived in the Soldiers' Orphans' School at Mercer. He served in the Spanish-American War, and when he was mustered out of service began to work with the American Window Glass Company at Jeannette. In 1919 he moved with his family to Tionesta, but remained at Jeannette visiting his home periodically. During one of these visits Willis McKee, a son of one of his neighbors and friends, asked permission to wed his eldest daughter, Elizabeth, who was then eighteen years of age. The applicant willingly consented and the time of the marriage was fixed for May 11, 1923. Early in May, McKee informed the applicant's daughter that he could not marry her as promised because of lack of funds. The applicant's daughter and the applicant offered to advance money to Willis, but he refused to accept it. On May 7th, the applicant received a letter from his daughter stating that she would soon become a mother, and that McKee refused to marry her. The applicant hastened to his home, where he learned that McKee was inquiring as to the probable cost of a trip to Columbus, Ohio, possibly in order to evade the marriage. In the meanwhile McKee had been arrested on a warrant secured by his daughter on a charge of fornication and bastardy, and the applicant, who was very much disturbed in mind, resolved to compel McKee to marry his daughter, whom he had wronged under promise of marriage. When he arrived home he got his pistol in order to frighten McKee and started for the McKee home. When he reached the latter place Willis McKee came to the door, but when the applicant told him that he wanted him to go to Elizabeth he started to run around the house in an endeavor to elude him. The applicant pulled his pistol from his pocket and fired one shot into the air, calling out to young McKee that he would catch him. In the chase they ran up the road and stopped about seventy-five feet from the McKee house. The applicant told Willis that it was his intention to take him to his daughter in order that he might marry her. Willis cried out loudly and his father came and asked the applicant's intention and received the reply that he intended to compel Willis to marry his daughter, whom he had wronged. The elder McKee told him to get out and opened fire upon him with a pistol he had been carrying in his hand. Standing at arm's length his shot abraded the skin near the right eye and when the applicant endeavored to get out of direct range of the pistol he fell, whereupon both father and son pounced upon him. In the meanwhile the applicant, who had fired one shot into the air when the younger McKee ran away, had replaced the pistol in his pocket, but when he realized that the McKees meant to take his life, he drew his own pistol. The elder McKee was taking deliberate aim at his head when the applicant opened fire upon him, and the former fell to the ground and died shortly thereafter. The applicant and the McKee family had been friends and neighbors, and there was no prior ill will between them. The applicant's only thought and desire was to compel the younger McKee to marry his daughter.

The applicant has now served five years and one month of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The warden of the Penitentiary certified to his excellent prison record. His wife and children require support.

The trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that he has conferred with the trial Judge and two associate Judges and that they all agree that, having served five years in the Penitentiary, it will be for the best interests of the applicant, his family and the community to have him pardoned. He also states that the prosecutor in the case writes him that he is satisfied to have the applicant released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because the applicant's wife and children require support; because of the recommendations of the trial and associate Judges, the trial District Attorney and the prosecutor in the case, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. —, August Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Chester, Emanuel Huber pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with adultery and statutory rape and on September 2, 1925, was sentenced on the charge of statutory rape to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years. Sentence was suspended on the charge of adultery.

The applicant is twenty-five years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest he was employed as a silk weaver by the Amalgamated Silk Corporation, in the City of Lancaster, where he resided with his wife and three children.

The applicant, on May 18, 1925, remained in the same room for one night with one Catherine Gray (who represented herself to be twenty years of age). He was then boarding with Mr. Troop in the Borough of Atglen in Chester County and the offense occurred in the boarding house. It seems that Catherine Gray was under fifteen years of age, and upon the advice of counsel the applicant pleaded guilty to indictments for adultery and statutory rape.

The applicant has now served two years and one month of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The applicant's wife and children require his support.

Catherine Gray at the time of the commission of this offense was a woman-child of bad repute and given to unchaste and immoral practices. This fact appears from two letters filed with the Board, the one from Agnes T. Ferriter, a police-woman of the City of Lancaster, and the other from Daniel W. Shaub, of the Bureau of Detectives. Mr. Shaub's letter shows that the girl had been an inmate of the Shelter Home, had consorted with various men, black and white, and had undergone treatment in the Lancaster Hospital for venereal disease.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the vicious character of the girl as shown by the letters on file; and because of the need which his wife and children have of support, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Emanuel Huber.

Sir: At No. —, April Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Chester, Rosalio Amaro waived the finding of a true bill by the Grand Jury and pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary, and on March 6, 1922, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1000, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nine years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-four years of age and a Mexican by birth. At the time of his arrest he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as a track laborer and lived in a labor camp at Paoli, Chester County.

On the night of December 31, 1921, the applicant accompanied Albrevo Silva to the home of Orazio Teti, an Italian family, whom he had known for about one year and who lived about one mile from Paoli. He and Silva entered the Teti home and the applicant took from it an overcoat, which was subsequently recovered and returned to Teti. On January 1, 1922, one day later, the applicant was arrested and charged with burglary and assault and battery. Subsequently he, being without the benefit of counsel, pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary.

The applicant has now served five years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before convicted of crime. He was only eighteen years of age when this offense was committed.

The Mexican Consul at Philadelphia has filed with the Board a letter requesting clemency for the applicant on the ground that he was only eighteen years of age when the crime was committed and has served more than five years of the sentence imposed.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed, and in consideration of the request of the Mexican Consul, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Rosalio Amaro.

Sir: At No. 46, December Sessions, 1905, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, Angelo Jackson was convicted of murder in the first degree, and on December 22, 1906, was sentenced to be executed, which sentence of death, on July 18, 1907, was commuted to life imprisonment.

The applicant is fifty-three years of age and colored. Prior to his arrest he was a small contractor and laborer and lived in Ross Township, Allegheny County.

In 1905, when the applicant was thirty-one years of age, he resided near a family by the name of Nicholis. One of the children, Gertrude Nicholis, about twenty-one years of age, had a bad reputation, and when under the influence of liquor was dangerous. On October 24, 1905, Gertrude Nicholis came to the home of the applicant and informed him if he did not cease his attentions to another woman she would kill them both. She was badly intoxicated. He ordered her to leave the house, and when she refused he walked away. Later in the same day, while on his way home, he met her on the road, when she repeated her threats to kill. The applicant left her and went to the home of one Jackson and remained there a while, hoping that she would go to her home. After a while, endeavoring to go to his own home, he again encountered Gertrude, who cursed him and repeated her threats about killing. She cried, "I will kill you." Suddenly she put her hand in her pocket as though to draw out a pistol. The applicant, believing that he was in danger, drew his revolver and shot, as he believed and intended, above her head. He was then about twenty or thirty paces away from her. Gertrude then ran up the road. The applicant, believing that he had frightened her away and not thinking for a moment that he had shot her, continued his journey homeward. It was not until midnight, when arrested, that he learned that his random shot had struck Gertrude and inflicted the fatal wound.

The applicant has now served twenty years and ten months in the Western Penitentiary. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The steward of the Penitentiary certifies to his excellent prison record and recommends clemency.

Judge Thomson, of the United States District Court at Pittsburgh, has filed with the Board two letters in which he strongly recommends clemency. Judge Thomson was one of the counsel for the applicant when he was tried for homicide. The Assistant Trial District Attorney has also filed with the Board a letter in which he strongly recommends clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the long term of imprisonment already served; the recommendations of the steward of the Penitentiary and because of the recommendations of the Trial District Attorney and Federal Judge Thomson, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Angelo Jackson.

Sir: At No. 926, September Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia,

David Meyers, alias David Bates, was convicted of assault and battery to rob, being armed with an offensive weapon with an intent to rob, and on October 23, 1926, was sentenced by the Court to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen of the United States, thirty-six years of age, married, and at the time of his arrest was employed by Beckman's Health Gymnasium, located at Clark and Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois, as an assistant health instructor, and resided in that city with his wife.

On September 22, 1926, two men, unmasked, and armed with guns, entered the jewelry store of Isadore Chaiken, situated in South Philadelphia, in the day-time; and while one of the men beat the clerk over the head with a gun the other attempted to steal certain articles of jewelry. During the enactment of the crime an alarm was made and both men fled in an automobile. In their flight the door of the automobile, being open, struck a telegraph pole, was wrenched from its hinges and fell to the street. Several days later two men were arrested in or near New York City in an automobile having a door missing. One of them was the applicant. The door which was found lying in the street near the scene of the attempted robbery was found to fit the doorway of the automobile in which the applicant had been driving. At the time of the arrest Isadore Chaiken and his clerk went to Jersey City to identify the men. One of these men, since a fugitive, Eugene Ryan, was positively identified as one of the robbers. At no time was the applicant (who was placed in front of them along with Ryan) identified as one of the perpetrators of the crime. Nevertheless, he was finally indicted with Ryan on six bills of indictment growing out of this crime and acquitted on all charges except the one for which he was sentenced as above-stated.

The applicant has now served one year of his term of imprisonment. While he has been fined for the perpetration of minor offenses he was never before convicted of any crime.

There was filed with the Board the affidavit of Dr. Arthur P. Keegan, in which he states that he has made a thorough physical examination of the applicant and finds that he is suffering from diabetes in an advanced stage; that the disease has progressed to such an extent that he in all probability will not live out the minimum sentence, to wit: five years, and that in order to prolong his life it will be necessary to take him away from his present surroundings, subject him to special treatment and that, even then, the probability of his living a few years longer is remote. The trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that the basis of the present application consists of matters which have arisen since the trial and sentence, and that he will be satisfied with whatever action the Board takes in the premises.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served, and because of the critical condition of the applicant, as revealed by the affidavit of Dr. Keegan; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 94, 111, 365, 367, 368, 372, 373 and 374, February Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, Joseph Novis, alias Joe Fritchett, pleaded guilty to eight indictments charging him with entering a building with intent to commit a felony, robbery, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, and on April 11, 1922, was sentenced by the Court in the aggregate to pay a fine of twelve and one-half (12½) cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years and not more than fifteen years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States, of Slavish parentage, twenty-four years of age and unmarried. At the time of his arrest he was a laborer residing in the City of Pittsburgh.

The applicant, after working in the coal mines of Luzerne County, went to Pittsburgh at the age of nineteen years, where for a time he worked steadily. In the depression following the war he found himself out of employment. At this time illicit traffic in liquor was prevalent. He fell in with older men engaged in this business and one transgression led to another until finally he participated with them in the stealing of whisky. He was arrested with five others. He and a co-defendant, Schibick, entered pleas of guilty. The others were either acquitted by the jury or for various reasons they never came to trial.

The applicant has now served five and one-half years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record is excellent, as attested by the prison warden. He was only nineteen years of age when these offenses were committed. He aided the officers of justice in the apprehension of the other members of the gang and received the severest sentence. If released, employment has been offered him.

John D. Meyer, who as Assistant District Attorney prosecuted the applicant, and who is now United States Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania, has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that he was surprised at the length of the sentence and that he regards it as excessive and believes that the ends of justice will be fully served if the applicant is released. District Attorney Gardner has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that he believes that these offenses were the first committed by the applicant, who gave great assistance in the apprehension of the other members of the gang and received the severest sentence. He adds, for the reasons mentioned, that he has no objection to a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crimes were committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the excessive sentence and because of the assistance he rendered in the apprehension of the other members of the gang; in further consideration of the recommendation of the assistant District Attorney and the favorable statement of District Attorney Gardner, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58 and 59, September Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Lancaster, Charles D. Zell pleaded guilty to ten indictments charging him with embezzlement and to four indictments charging him with keeping fraudulent accounts, and also pleaded nolo contendere to indictment No. 76, November Sessions, 1921, charging conspiracy, and on January 21, 1922, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of $7,500.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than twenty-two and one-half years nor more than thirty years.

The applicant is forty-two years of age, a native-born American citizen, and at the time of his arrest was Treasurer of the Agricultural Trust Company, having its office on North Duke Street in the City of Lancaster. He has a wife and two daughters.

The applicant was Treasurer of said Company from 1916 until June, 1921. Early in the year 1921 the State Department of Banking, as the result of an examination, found that the capital of the Trust Company was seriously impaired. The directors of the Company made good the impairment. Later the officers of the State Banking Department discovered that there were a number of irregularities in the affairs of the company. A "run" ensued, and on June 22, 1921, the Commissioner of Banking took possession of the books and property of the company. Further investigation disclosed the fact that the applicant had been guilty of keeping fraudulent accounts, making false entries on the books and embezzlement. He was charged with the embezzlement of $76,179.12, and upon advice of counsel he pleaded guilty to all indictments.

The applicant has now served five years and ten months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His wife and daughters need his support.

The applicant did not secrete any part of the money he is charged with having stolen, but made restitution so far as he was able by turning over every dollar of real and personal property of which he was possessed at the time of his failure. He also assisted in every way possible the officers of the trust company, in the liquidation.

There was filed with the Board many letters from citizens of Lancaster County and elsewhere recommending clemency. These include letters from the Dean of Elizabethtown College, Burgess of Mount Joy, Samuel R. Boggs, of Philadelphia, President, Model Mills Company; Senator Woodward, of Philadelphia; the President and Directors of the Maytown National Bank, the Vice-President of the First National Bank of Marietta, the Register of Wills of Philadelphia and Representative Hess, of Lancaster County.

The authorities of the Eastern Penitentiary certify to the applicant's excellent prison record and recommend a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; the fact that his wife and daughters require support, and because of the recommendations of the Penitentiary authorities and many citizens of Lancaster County and elsewhere we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 58, January Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Chester, John Killinger was convicted of statutory rape, and on February 7, 1922, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary of not less than ten years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, twenty-six years of age, a farm laborer by occupation and unmarried. At the time of his arrest he was employed in Honey Brook Township, Chester County, where he resided.

Marjorie Waltman, thirteen years of age, lived with her parents in said township. On Sunday afternoon, December 14, 1921, during the absence of the parents, the applicant stopped at her home, went into the kitchen where she was sitting and had criminal relations with her in the presence of her two young brothers.

The applicant has now served five years and nine months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The girl was of bad repute and associated with colored men. On two applications for a rehearing she wrote letters to the Board asking for clemency. The parents of the applicant are old and need assistance. The Sheriff of the County has offered him employment if released.

Sheriff Hampton, the Constable of West Caln Township, and the Chaplain of the Penitentiary have filed letters with the Board recommending clemency. The former in his letter states that he has known the applicant all his life and is familiar with all the circumstances of the case; that the girl was of bad repute; that the applicant's parents are infirm and need his assistance and declares that the applicant has been sufficiently punished.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because his aged parents require assistance; because employment has been offered him if released, and in further consideration of the recommendation of the Sheriff of the County, Constable Grow and the Chaplain of the Penitentiary we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 56, 155, 207 and 718, November Sessions, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, in and for the County of Allegheny, Humbert Frandon pleaded guilty and nolo contendere to four indictments charging him with robbery, larceny and receiving stolen goods, and entering a building with intent to commit a felony, and on April 8, 1924, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of 25 cents, costs and to undergo a term of imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of no less than five and no more than ten years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States, twenty-two years of age and at the time of his arrest his occupation was that of a taxicab driver in the employ of the Pittsburgh Taxicab Company, and had been so employed for a period of four years. He resided in the City of Pittsburgh with his parents. He is unmarried.

In the spring and summer of the year 1923, a number of robberies occurred in the east end of the City of Pittsburgh, involving thefts of automobiles and the use of the stolen machines for robbing gasoline stations and drug stores. The culmination was the robbery of a car barn of the Pittsburgh Railways Company at Highland Park in April, 1923. A short time afterwards the police arrested for these crimes seven persons including the applicant. The latter was actually involved in only three of the crimes perpetrated by the gang known as the "Blue Bandanna Gang", namely: the robbery of the car barn, a hold-up of a man named George Daunt, and the robbery of a gasline station. The applicant was a taxicab driver and Nick Romito, who was to a certain extent the leader of the gang, forced him to participation in the robberies at the point of a revolver and he continued to go with the gang by reason of his fear. He was only eighteen years of age. The others were older and had behind them criminal careers. He was not active in the crimes and merely drove the cars in which they traveled. Upon his arrest he confessed his guilt and through the information derived from him the other members of the gang were forced to confess or to plead guilty.

The applicant has now served three years and seven months of his term in prison. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record is excellent. Employment has been offered him if released.

Captain Ambrose of the Pittsburgh police, who was largely instrumental in the arrest of the members of the "Blue Bandanna Gang", has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. He states that the applicant's prior record was good and that his participation in these crimes was induced by fear and bodily harm at the hand of Romito, the leader of the gang. The deputy warden of the penitentiary, the chaplain and others recommend pardon. A petition of citizens to the same effect was also filed with the Board. The prosecuting attorney makes no recommendation.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when these crimes were committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of Captain Ambrose, the prison authorities and other citizens we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if he is now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 1, September Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Juniata, Howard S. Hartman was convicted of larceny and on November 6, 1925, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term not less than three years nor more than six years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, fifty-four years of age. He is a carpenter by occupation, but at the time of his arrest he resided and worked on his farm near Port Royal, Juniata County. He is married and has a wife and eight children.

The applicant was arrested in May, 1921, charged with the larceny of $1,600 from one Henry G. Shearer, who was at that time, and now is, an inmate of the Insane Asylum at Harrisburg. Shearer claimed that he gave the money to the applicant, for safekeeping and that the latter refused to return the same when requested to do so. The applicant has strenuously denied receiving any money from Shearer. The latter was committed to the Insane Asylum during the Fall of 1920, and made the accusation against the applicant while confined in that institution.

The applicant has now served two years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He has a wife and children who are dependent on him for support. Shearer, the man who claimed to have been robbed, appeared at the trial as witness in company with a guard from the State Asylum.

The Chief of Police of Mifflintown, the Editor of the Juniata Tribune, and other citizens, in letters filed, recommend pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendation of the Chief of Police of Mifflintown, the Editor of the Juniata Tribune and other citizens; and because his wife and children require his support we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Howard S. Hartman.

Sir: At Nos. 131, 132, 133, 135, 136, 137, 210, 211, 213, 215, September Sessions, 1921, in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Allegheny, Edward Montgomery pleaded nolo contendere to eleven indictments charging him with robbery, larceny, receiving stolen goods and entering a building with intent to commit a felony, and on September 29, 1921, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of 68% cents, costs and to undergo a term of imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is twenty-six years of age and a native-born American citizen. Before his arrest he was employed in the steel mills, but at the time of his arrest he was unemployed and resided with his parents at Oakmont, Allegheny County. He is unmarried.

In December, 1920, the applicant, who was without employment, casually met a stranger named Edward Burke, who secured for him a job with the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company, but he was discharged after one week because of a dispute with his foreman. Burke suggested that it was easy to secure money by robbery. He said that he was committing these acts regularly and first suggested that the applicant accompany him and finally insisted that he do so. Being out of employment and without funds the applicant finally yielded. The first offense was committed in December, 1920. He subsequently accompanied Burke on various occasions. During this period he was without any regular employment except for brief intervals. His criminal career covered a period of about four months. In March, 1921, he voluntarily severed his connection with Burke and his criminal associates. He was only nineteen years of age.

The applicant has now served six years and two months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The warden of the penitentiary certifies to his good prison record.

The Trial Judge (who is now Mayor of Pittsburgh) has filed with the Board two letters recommending not only a re-hearing, but also a full pardon. The trial district attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that the applicant was not inherently a bad man, but on account of his inability to secure work fell in with one of the worst criminals that he ever dealt with, viz: Edward Burke; he also states that at the time of the trial of the inmates of the Western Penitentiary for the killing of two guards the applicant rendered very valuable assistance to the Commonwealth which enabled it to convict three men. Other letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when these crimes were committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because of the recommendation of the trial judge and the favorable attitude of the trial district attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Edward Montgomery.

Sir: At No. 606, November Sessions, 1918, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Thomas Layden pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with murder, the degree of which was subsequently adjudged by the Court to be murder in the second degree, and on April 9, 1919, he was sentenced to pay costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is twenty-seven years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest he was employed by the American Railways Express Company as a watchman at the West Philadelphia station of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and resided in that City, with his parents.

At about 5.30 A. M. on September 26, 1918, the applicant came into the West Philadelphia station of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, apparently under the influence of liquor or dope. All of the witnesses testified that he was acting in an unnatural manner and was under the influence of some stimulant. He staggered and was unable to talk intelligently or coherently. An altercation ensued between him and officer Ellis, the cause of which was not over-heard by any of the witnesses. Ellis forcibly pushed the applicant out of the station and off the curb, causing him to fall into the street, whereupon he got up, fired two shots, one of which entered the officer's chest and the other his back, with fatal results. The two men did not know each other prior to the shooting and there was no evidence that there had been any animosity between them.

The Applicant has now served eight years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a letter from Dr. William F. Paul, of Philadelphia, in which he states that he had been his family physician for more than 25 years; that the applicant was under treatment in 1905 and 1908, when he suffered an accident and was removed to the Polyclinic Hospital in Philadelphia for concussion of the brain. He believes that a former illness from typhoid fever and the severe concussion of the brain he experienced, were the fundamental factors of the occurrence for which the applicant is now undergoing imprisonment and over which he had no control.

There was filed with the Board a petition and a number of letters recommending clemency from neighbors, employers and others. The trial judge has filed a letter in which he states that he has no objection to a pardon because he is informed that the applicant's prison record is good and that if he had been sentenced under the Ludlow Act, he would have been given a minimum sentence of ten years only.

A representative of the District Attorney's office who was present at the oral hearing stated that they had no objection to a pardon if the Board saw fit to recommend one.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant, the term of imprisonment already served; because of the impaired and physical and mental condition of the applicant when the crime was committed rendering him more or less mentally irresponsible for his actions; because of the favorable attitude of the trial judge and the trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released, would prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 72, June Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Allegheny, James Russo alias Blair R. Kingsley pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with larceny and receiving stolen goods, and on June 10, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of 6½ cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is twenty years of age, and a native of Italy. He was brought to this country by his parents when five years of age, and is now a citizen of the United States, and at the time of his arrest was a resident of the City of Pittsburgh.

The applicant had a number of friends of both sexes and frequently attended parties and dances. In making an appointment with one of his girl acquaintances for a certain evening, he falsely told her that he had an automobile of his own. This he did in order to make a big showing with the girl and to pose as an equal to some of his boy friends who had cars of their own. When the night of the appointment came, he was in a dilemma. He either had to admit that he was a liar, and did not own a car, or had to obtain one by improper means. On May 10, 1926, about 9.30 P. M., as he was passing the garage of McAllister Brothers, East Liberty, Pittsburgh, he noticed a number of cars standing on a side street. He approached the cars and drove away in a Buick Roadster, the property of E. L. Hogan of Pittsburgh. He then drove to the place where he was to meet the girl. After driving around for several hours he took the girl home and was on his way to return the car when he ran out of gasoline. This was at a point about ten or twelve squares distant from the McAllister garage. He was approached by an officer who questioned him as to the ownership of the car. Being unable to answer the question satisfactorily, he was arrested as a suspicious person. At the police station he admitted taking the car for the purpose as stated. The car was restored to the owner several hours later in good condition and the latter has asked the Board for clemency and has also offered to obtain a position for the applicant.

The applicant has now served one year and five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He was only 19 years old.

The assistant trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that the statement of facts contained in the applicant's petition is correct and he believes that the Judge was influenced in his sentence by the fact that the applicant was indicted under several aliases; he further states that the applicant was involved in the taking of only one car and from the facts developed at the time of the hearing, it might be a question whether the crime committed was larceny or operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner. He concluded by stating that this is a case where clemency will be properly granted.

In consideration of all circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the doubt as to his guilt of the crime laid in the indictment, and in further consideration of the recommendations of the owner of the stolen car and the assistant trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and if now released, will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 40, October Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Wyoming, Adolph Hertz was convicted of simple assault and on October 8, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Wyoming County jail for a term of six months.

The applicant is twenty-six years of age and a native-born American citizen. At the time of his arrest he was employed as Chief of Police and Constable of the Borough of West Wyoming, Luzerne County. He is unmarried and resided with his widowed mother.

Several days prior to May 7, 1927, a warrant was issued by Justice of the Peace Carey, of West Wyoming, for the arrest of one Ernest Burgess, on a charge of desertion and non-support of his wife. This warrant was delivered to the applicant for execution. The applicant in full uniform proceeded to Mehoopany, Wyoming County, upon information that Burgess could be found there. The applicant while driving along the highway met Burgess, whom he knew, stopped and asked him whether his name was Burgess. Burgess replied that it was not, that his name was Ross. The applicant said that he had a warrant for his arrest, which he proceeded to read. Shortly after he had started to read the warrant Burgess began to run away. The applicant pursued him and when Burgess outdistanced him he drew his revolver and fired four shots into the air. Burgess continued running after the shots were fired and made his escape. He searched the woods into which the fugitive had disappeared but found no trace of him. The applicant then returned to his home and heard nothing further of Burgess until he was arrested on or about September 7, 1927, four months after the occurrence, on an information sworn to by the father of Burgess. This was the first knowledge the applicant had that Burgess claimed to have been shot. At the trial Burgess testified that he had been shot in the hip, and was confined in two hospitals for long periods of time, but produced no corroborative testimony, nor did he produce the bullet.

The applicant has now served three months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His record as a police officer and as a man is excellent.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency, from Representative Thomas, the Burgess and Tax Collector of West Wyoming, Seward E. Button, former head of the State Department of Mines, and others.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; the need which his widowed mother has of support; because of the strong letters of recommendation which have been filed with the Board, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released that he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 736, 737 and 738, February Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Michael Flynn, was convicted of assault being armed with an offensive weapon with intent to rob, and on June 12, 1925, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nine years and six months nor more than twenty years. At Nos. 739 and 740 of the same term he was acquitted on the charges of entering with intent to commit a felony and conspiracy.

The applicant is twenty-five years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, unmarried, and at the time of his arrest resided in the City of Philadelphia. He is by occupation an electrician and corker of vessels.

On December 8, 1925, at about 3 P. M., Alfred J. Laupheimer, William Guy Worthington and Raymond L. McCauley were in a restaurant located at 412 Market Street, Philadelphia. Worthington was a jewelry salesman and he met Laupheimer in the restaurant for the purpose of selling him jewelry, which he had in his possession, consisting of rings, bracelets, etc. About 4 o'clock there was a phone call on the balcony of the restaurant. Laupheimer, Worthington and McCauley went to the balcony. When they were about to return to the main floor four men held them up with weapons and carried away jewelry to the value of about $9100. Laupheimer in his testimony at the trial identified the applicant as one of the robbers. He claimed that the applicant took money out of his pocket and hit him with a ginger ale bottle. The applicant on this testimony exclusively, was convicted of robbery and sentenced as above stated.

The applicant denies all knowledge of the commission of this crime; denies that he was present and aided and abetted in the commission of the offense.

The applicant has now served two years and six months of his term of imprisonment.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the Trial Judge, in which he states, inter alia:

"My view of the matter is that the perjury of Laupheimer—if he did commit perjury—takes away all justification for the conviction. Besides his testimony at the trial there was nothing that I can recollect but the statement that he had seen Flynn on the street represents the truth. Flynn had already undergone the maximum sentence that could have been imposed upon him for the crime of conspiracy."

On consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served, and because of the letter of the Trial Judge, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Michael Flynn.

Sir: At No. —, January Sessions, 1920, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Chester, Horace Davis was convicted of murder in the second degree and on May 20, 1920, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $1,000, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than 15 years nor more than 20 years.

The applicant is thirty-eight years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States, colored and unmarried. His occupation is that of chauffeur and at the time of his arrest he was so employed by Benjamin Aronsohn of Coatesville, in which city he resided.

On September 1, 1919, the applicant, who coinhabited with one Ruth Carter London, was sick. During the night this woman came into his room and began to quarrel with him. She was abusive and declared that she would shoot him. When the applicant endeavored to get out of bed she shot him through the chest and dropped the gun. He picked up the weapon and shot her twice, after which he became unconscious and knew nothing until after his operation in the Coatesville Hospital. The woman died as the result of the shooting.

The applicant has now served seven years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The hospital authorities have filed with the Board a statement showing that the applicant was admitted to the Coatesville Hospital on September 1, 1919, and remained there until September 24, 1919, and was treated for a gun-shot wound rupturing the spleen.

The present District Attorney, the Mayor, Chief of Police and Postmaster of Coatesville, have filed letters with the Board recommending clemency. The trial District Attorney (who is now one of the Judges of the Court) while not recommending pardon, indicates by letter that he is favorable thereto.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of the present District Attorney, Mayor of the City, Chief of Police, Postmaster and others, and the favorable attitude of the trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 75, February Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Washington, R. Clyde Sebner pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with larceny and forgery and on January 25, 1926, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Washington County jail for a period of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is thirty-three years of age and a native-born American citizen. He is a clerk by occupation. At the time of his arrest he resided in the City of Washington, Washington County, with his aged father and mother and invalid sister.

In January, 1922, the applicant entered the employ of T. J. Underwood, Controller of Washington County, in the capacity of clerk at a salary of $100 per month, which salary was subsequently increased to $150 per month. He worked on the books of the Controller's office but had access to the bonds and coupons which had been redeemed by the County and which had been delivered by the County Treasurer to the County Controller, after redemption, for the purpose of cancellation. The applicant was courting a girl whom he subsequently married. She was of extravagant inclinations and encouraged him to spend more money than his salary justified. In April, 1923, the applicant took certain bonds and coupons belonging to the County from the office of the Controller, to the value of $342.50, said bonds and coupons not having been cancelled by the Controller but having been previously redeemed by the County Treasurer. He took these bonds and coupons to the County Treasurer's office representing that they were the property of McDermott Brothers and received from the County Treasurer a check covering the face value of the bonds and coupons. He then endorsed the check to his own order, forging the name of McDermott Brothers to the endorsement without the knowledge of the latter, who had no interest in or title to said bonds and coupons. After placing this endorsement on the check he deposited the check to his personal bank account and used the proceeds thereof. From the date of the negotiations of the bonds and coupons above mentioned until November 24, 1925, when he was arrested, he followed at various times the same course of procedure with other bonds and coupons which he abstracted from the files of the County Controller's office. The applicant did this on twenty-eight different occasions and the aggregate amount of bonds and coupons which he thus secured from the County Controller's office, for which he received checks from the County Treasurer, amounted to $27,310. The applicant was arrested in the city of New York on November 28, 1925, where he had gone with his wife to attend a football game. When arrested he admitted his peculations and surrendered all of his property in partial restitution of the money of which he had defrauded the county of Washington.

The applicant has now served twenty-three months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His aged father and mother with whom he resided are in infirm health and require his support.

The trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter which indicates a favorable attitude toward the application on account of the need which the applicant's family has of support. Senator Coyne, the Treasurer of the First Bank & Trust Company of Washington, the Judge of the Orphans' Court of Washington County, the County Treasurer, the County Controller (his former employer), the Sheriff, Representative Lockhart, Auditor General Martin, and other prominent citizens, have filed letters with the Board in which they recommend pardon. The trial District Attorney has also filed a letter recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record as certified to by the jail warden; because of the favorable attitude of the trial Judge and the recommendations of county officials, Auditor General Martin, Judge Crumrine and other prominent citizens, and because of the need of the applicant's family for his maintenance and support, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 951 and 956, February Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, John F. Kern pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with larceny, and was convicted of the same offenses in Nos. 952, 953, 954, 955 and 957, of the same term of Court, and on June 22, 1925, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years. Sentences in Nos. 955, 956 and 957 were suspended.

The applicant is twenty-seven years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, unmarried, and at the time of his arrest resided with his widowed mother in the city of Philadelphia. His occupation was that of chauffeur and machinist.

The applicant, for a period of six years beginning with March, 1919, was employed by the American Railway Express Company in Philadelphia as a driver of a delivery truck. For about three months prior to his arrest he was in the habit of meeting two of his friends, Harry McGarigle and Peter Garbosky, fellow employees of the Company and residents of the city of Philadelphia. On several occasions, the applicant met these men under a bridge in the vicinity of Fifth and Pike Streets, Philadelphia, and broke the seal on his truck and unloaded various shipments of express matter into an automobile which McGarigle and Garbosky had for the purpose. These goods were converted by these men to their own use by selling them and dividing the proceeds among themselves. The amount of goods appropriated in this manner ranged from $600 to $1000 in value. For his share in the transaction the applicant received in the neighborhood of $65 to $75. At the trial the applicant pleaded guilty to two of the bills of indictment and the jury convicted him on the remaining five bills of indictment. He was of material assistance to the Commonwealth in the conviction of Berger and Cohen, tried for similar offenses.

The applicant has now served two years and six months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His mother, a widow 56 years of age is entirely dependent on him for support. Both McGarigle and Garbosky, his co-defendants, who were tried and convicted with him, have been released.

The trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that he will be satisfied with whatever action the Board takes. The assistant trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. D. J. Rothermel, a manufacturer of Philadelphia, has offered to employ the applicant as chauffeur if he is released. A number of letters were filed with the Board from Richard Weglein, President of the Board of Mercantile Appraisers, and other prominent citizens of Philadelphia, recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because his two accomplices have been liberated; because of the need which his mother has of support; because employment has been offered him if released; because of the recommendations of the assistant trial District Attorney and other prominent citizens, and in consideration of the letter of the Trial Judge, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said John F. Kern.

Sir: At Nos. 1038 and 1039, October Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Anton Miller was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon and entering with intent to steal and rob, and at No. 1043 of the same term pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with carrying a concealed deadly weapon and on November 1, 1921, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than fourteen years and ten months nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is thirty-two years of age, a Hungarian by nationality and has filed his first papers declaring his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States. His occupation is that of a wood worker and machinist. At the time of his arrest he resided in the City of Philadelphia but was out of employment. He has a wife and child but does not know their whereabouts.

Joseph Somers and the applicant, in October, 1921, were out of employment and came to Philadelphia in search of work. They were almost destitute. They went to a lodging house known as the Hotel Wellington, situated at 47 North Tenth Street, Philadelphia. After engaging a room they asked the clerk, James Cleary to accompany them upstairs to show them the room. When they got him upstairs they held him up, taking an automatic pistol from him and about $20 in cash. They then left the building. The clerk following them made an outcry and the two men were captured, without resistance, within two squares of the place they had entered. Somers, who was jointly tried and convicted with the applicant, was pardoned by this Board in June, 1927.

The applicant has now served six years and one month of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board an affidavit by Emory Miller, a brother of the applicant, residing in Toledo, Ohio, in which he states that he owns real estate and is in fair financial condition and that he will take his brother into his family and give him employment if released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the fact that Somers, the accomplice of the applicant, has already been pardoned by this Board; because of the offer by the brother of the applicant to give him a home and employment if released, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 80 and 81, August Sessions, 1917, in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of York, George Chaney, pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with burglary, felonious entry, larceny and receiving stolen goods, and on September 10, 1917, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of $200, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a period of not less than ten years nor more than sixteen years.

The applicant is thirty years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States and a plasterer by trade. He resided in the city of York with his parents. He is unmarried.

On or about September 3, 1917, Joseph Warden, a resident of the city of York returned to his home and found the applicant therein. He had in his possession a gold watch and other jewelry valued at about $150, the property of Mr. Warden. The latter lost nothing. On the applicant's person there were small trinkets belonging to Robert Emerton of York. He pleaded guilty to the charge of burglarizing the homes of both of these men.

The applicant has served his parole period of eight years on a prior sentence of not less than two years nor more than ten years, and has also served more than two years on the sentence in the current case. He has now served ten years and three months, which is more than his minimum of the present sentence, and, had it not been that he had the parole period of eight years to serve he would now be eligible for parole by the Parole Board of the Eastern Penitentiary, on the present sentence.

The Trial Judge is dead, but the Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that in his judgment the sentence in this case was too severe and urges clemency. The present District Attorney has also filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the excessive sentence imposed by the Court; the need which his parents have of his support; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of the trial District Attorney and the present District Attorney, we have concluded that the defendant has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 63, September Term, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Monroe, Clarence Vanness pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with larceny and receiving stolen goods, and on September 29, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of $5.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than one year and six months nor more than three years.

The applicant is twenty-two years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. He is a chauffeur by occupation and at the time of his arrest was employed on State road work at Eagle, New York. He is unmarried.

In June, 1926, the applicant was the chauffeur on the Bus Line owned by Judson E. Price at Canadensis, Monroe County, Pennsylvania, and boarded with his employer. When not engaged in driving the bus he worked on the farm as a laborer. John Styk came to live at the same place and roomed with the applicant. A warm friendship sprung up between the two men and each used at will the property of the other. Both had automobiles and both used, on occasion, the car belonging to the other. One night about 11 o'clock in the latter part of June, 1926, the applicant had a breakdown with his car on the country road. A stranger took him to his home where the applicant took the car belonging to Styk and drove it to where his own car was stranded with the idea of towing the latter to a garage. Immediately after starting to tow the car the rear tire on the Styk car blew out and as there were no spare tires the applicant pushed the Styk car to the side of the road and left it there, went back home, got the school bus and towed his own car back home. It was about morning and the applicant was tired and decided to leave the Styk car on the road and go after it later in the day. When Styk heard of the incident he became angry and told the applicant he would have him arrested for stealing his car. The applicant said that he was willing to pay for the tire and tube. The applicant had the car towed home and after Styk had the repairs made, the former offered to pay for the work done, but Styk demanded an exorbitant price. A quarrel ensued and the applicant left Canadensis, quit his job as chauffeur for Mr. Price, went to New York State in July, 1926, and worked for the State on road work. On or about August 15, 1926, the applicant, returning to the home of his foster parents at Taylor, Pennsylvania, was arrested for stealing the Styk car.

The applicant has now served one year and two months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He did not steal the car but used it temporarily, which the intimacy between the men seemed to warrant. Acting on the advice of friends and believing that a plea of guilty would result more favorably than a trial, he entered such plea.

The trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which he expresses a favorable attitude toward the present application.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the alleged crime was committed; the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; the reasonable doubt as to the criminal intent of the applicant, and in consideration of the favorable attitude of the trial Judge, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 43, November Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny, Angelo Abbati pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with murder, the grade of which was adjudged by the court as murder in the second degree, and on January 6, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of 6¼ cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is sixty-eight years of age, an Italian by birth, but a naturalized citizen of the United States. He is a laborer by occupation. He was employed at the time of his arrest and for fifteen years previously as a street cleaner in the Department of Public Works, City of Pittsburgh. He is a widower and has two sons and two daughters living.

On September 6, 1925, at about 7:30 P. M. the applicant went to his lodging house and began making preparations to cook his evening meal. While thus engaged Frank Monarino, aged about twenty-seven years, and another young man unknown by the applicant, boldly entered the room which he occupied and approached the stove where the applicant was cooking. The latter inquired the purpose of their visit. In reply they asked if he was going to bed. He answered that he would do so as soon as he had eaten his supper. Upon hearing this the young men assumed a threatening manner and demanded that he go to bed at once or they would kill him. The applicant fearing that they intended to rob him of his savings and valuables which were in the room asked them to leave and threatened to call the police. After his second request that they leave the men became infuriated and struck the applicant in the face several times with their fists and kicked him. The applicant owing to his advanced age realized that he was no match for two younger and stronger men and struggled to free himself. One of the men reached for his hip pocket as if intending to draw a revolver. The applicant being on the verge of collapse, fearing for his life, managed to free himself and ran to the opposite corner of the room where he kept his gun, the men following him and beating him as he ran. The applicant, blinded by the blood that was streaming down his face from cuts inflicted by the men, grasped his revolver and in a last desperate attempt to save his life, which he believed to be in danger, fired in the direction of his assailants. The men fell back and the applicant ran from the house and hurried to the home of his son to seek protection. A short time thereafter he was arrested for the murder of Monarino, who had been fatally struck by one of the bullets.

The applicant has now served twenty-three months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged or convicted of crime.

The Assistant District Attorney who tried the case has filed with the Board a letter in which he expresses a favorable attitude toward the application for pardon. He states among other things that up to the time of the commission of the crime the applicant had borne an excellent reputation and that under the evidence the grade of the crime could as easily have been fixed at manslaughter as murder.

There was filed with the Board an affidavit from Peter A. Connors, connected with the Detective Bureau of the Pittsburgh Police Department, in which he states that he had made the arrest of the applicant and found in his room in a trunk owned by the latter a bank book, a sum of money and other valuable papers. He also states that Monarino was not the real name of the deceased, who was wanted by the Police Department for highway robbery; that Monarino bore a bad reputation, was a Blackhand, seldom worked, and made his living by extorting money and robbing his countrymen, while the applicant bore an excellent reputation as a peaceable and industrious citizen, reared a large family of children who were respectable and law-abiding citizens. There was also filed with the Board an affidavit from Angelo Rocco Perri, a naturalized citizen of the United States, who lived in the same boarding house with the applicant and who overheard the altercation between the latter and Monarino. He states that the applicant was a peaceable and industrious man and that the deceased, whom he had known for several months previously, was a "tough" who threatened everybody, seldom worked and was in trouble most of the time. There was also filed with the Board a number of letters from Representative Dietrich, City Councilman McCardle, and officials connected with the City Government of Pittsburgh, recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the affidavits from the Police Bureau and Perri on file with the Board; because of the evil reputation of the deceased and the recommendations of Representative Dietrich, City Councilman McCardle and other reputable citizens, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 32, February Sessions, 1923, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Erie, Clarence Davis, was convicted of breaking and entering a hen-house with intent to commit a felony and larceny, and on May 14, was sentenced on the first count to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two years and one month nor more than five years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States. His occupation is that of lineman and electrician. He is forty-five years of age and unmarried. At the time of his arrest he was employed by the Penn Public Service Company of Erie, Pennsylvania, and resided in Edinboro, Erie County, with his aged mother and sister.

During the night of September 26, 1925, some unknown person or persons broke into the chicken-house of one Charles Kirschner and damaged the chicken-house, but did not steal the chickens. About six weeks after this event the applicant was arrested, charged with the crime and convicted. He has always maintained his innocence. During the night in question he was in bed at the home of his mother in Edinboro as set forth in an affidavit filed with the Board, executed by Emma Davis and Eaton Davis (the mother and sister of the applicant) and Goldie Pettis and Earl Pettis.

The applicant has now served one year and eight months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record is excellent as shown by the certificate of the Penitentiary authorities. His aged mother and sister require his support. Paul A. Soety, a former employer of the applicant, has offered to give him employment if released.

There was filed with the Board a letter from Corry Steadman, constable of Edinboro, in which he states that Kirschner, the prosecutor, told him that on the night of the stealing he was in the house and had no idea who did it. There was also filed with the Board a numerously-signed petition of residents of Erie and Erie County recommending clemency. The first signer of the petition is Charles Kirschner, the prosecutor, the second is Paul A. Soety, a former employer, who has offered to re-employ the applicant, if released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; the fact that his aged mother and sister require his support; because employment has been offered him by a former employer if released, and in further view of the fact that an affidavit has been filed with the Board executed by four persons, two of whom are disinterested, setting forth that the applicant during the night when the Kirschner hen-house was broken into was in bed at his mother's home, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Clarence Davis.

Sir: At No. 2, June Sessions, 1917, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Lycoming, John Burger, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with incestuous rape and incestuous adultery and on July 18, 1917, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of ten dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than fourteen years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is a native born citizen of the United States, forty-five years of age, married, a laborer by occupation and at the time of his arrest resided in the City of Williamsport.

The applicant was arrested in June, 1917, on information charging him with carnal knowledge of his alleged daughter, Effie Burger, then under the age of sixteen years.

The applicant has now served ten years and six months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the trial District Attorney and addressed to the applicant in which he states that he has great doubt as to his guilt and that he would be willing to certify to this fact before the Board of Pardons. Doctor Lin Bowman, Moral Instructor in the Penitentiary, recommends clemency. There was also filed with the Board a second letter from the trial District Attorney to Doctor Lin Bowman, in which he states that Effie Burger, the victim of his attack was not the daughter of the applicant, but the illegitimate child of his wife, born several years prior to her marriage with the applicant. After the applicant's conviction and sentence Effie Burger was placed in the Girls' Training School of Williamsport, by order of the Court, and afterwards placed in a home in New Jersey. She subsequently married and her present whereabouts is unknown. The trial District Attorney made a strong plea for clemency.

There was also filed with the Board the affidavit of Mrs. Kate Warner, a sister of the applicant's wife, in which she states that Effie Burger was the illegitimate daughter of the latter born about three years before her marriage to the applicant, and that the present whereabouts of the applicant's wife and Effie Burger is unknown. There was also filed with the Board the affidavit of Robert H. Eck, an uncle of the applicant, in which he corroborates the statements of Mrs. Warner.

The applicant, who was without counsel, maintained his innocence of the charge but acting under the suggestion of the sheriff, who stated that he would receive a lighter sentence if he pleaded guilty, he entered that plea.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the affidavits filed setting forth that Effie Burger was not the daughter of the applicant and because of the strong recommendation of the trial District Attorney, with the approval of the Trial Judge, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 477, July Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Ernest Bernabei was convicted of the unlawful possession and sale of drugs, and on May 29, 1925, was sentenced to pay a fine of one thousand dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Philadelphia County Prison for a term of three years. He began to serve his sentence on January 4, 1926, an appeal to the Superior Court delaying the execution of the sentence.

The applicant is forty-four years of age, a native of Italy and prior to his conviction had been a registered pharmacist in the City of Philadelphia and occupied one store room for a period of eighteen years. He resided in Philadelphia with his wife and three children.

The applicant was arrested on June 24, 1924, by the Narcotic Squad of City Police charged with the unlawful possession of narcotic drugs. As a result of complaints to the Narcotic Squad, they sent two drug addicts to the druggist's place of business at 842 Christian Street, Philadelphia, with marked money in order to make a purchase of drugs. This purchase was made and the entire transaction was conducted under the observation of the Narcotic Squad. Later in the day a search warrant was obtained and the applicant's place of business was visited where they found the marked money in the cash register. They found a legitimate quantity of narcotic drugs in the applicant's drug cabinet. At this point the applicant denied absolutely having any more drugs. The officers, however, continued their search and found three packages and a muslin bag on a shelf in the back room, all containing pure cocaine amounting to approximately seventeen hundred grains. The applicant's place of business was but a short distance from the most notorious point in Philadelphia for the distribution of drugs.

The applicant has now served two years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a letter from Francis J. Dunn, Lieutenant commanding the Narcotic Division of the City Police, in which he states that prior to the applicant's arrest, and since his conviction, they have had no complaints concerning his store, which is still in the drug business and that he feels that the applicant has had sufficient punishment. He, therefore, recommends pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendation of the Lieutenant commanding the Narcotic Division of the City Police, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 527 and 795, December Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Philadelphia, Clifford Payton pleaded guilty to the larceny of a Brockway automobile truck owned by William Bright and a similar one owned by the Pennsylvania Sugar Refinery. He had previously been convicted of the larceny of a Paige touring car owned by Henry Frantz, at No. 529, of the same term and in the same Court. On January 20, 1925, he was sentenced in the aggregate to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than 7½ years nor more than 15 years.

The applicant is thirty-six years of age, a native-born citizen of United States, by occupation a salesman, and at the time of his arrest was employed by the Eclipse Paint and Manufacturing Company of Cleveland, Ohio, and resided in the City of Philadelphia, with his wife and two small children.

The applicant strenuously denied his guilt of the crime for which he was convicted, but after his conviction, moved by the pleadings of his wife, mother and counsel, and believing that clemency would be extended to him if he pleaded guilty to other pending indictments charging similar crimes, he, though innocent, pleaded guilty to all charges.

The applicant has now served three years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime; he has an excellent prison record as shown by letters from prison authorities on file. He has a wife and two small children dependent on him for support. Employment has been offered him by his former employer, if liberated.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency from former employers of the applicant and others who came in contact with him in a business way.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of his excellent prison record; because his wife and two small children are dependent on him for support; in consideration of the fact that employment has been offered him by a former employer, if released, and that many letters recommending clemency have been filed in his behalf, we conclude that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 974, May Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Philadelphia, Edward Hennon and John Hennon were convicted of assault, being armed with an offensive weapon, with intent to rob; assault, together with other persons, with an intent to rob and robbery being armed with an offensive weapon, and on June 5, 1925, were jointly sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten years nor more than twenty years, respectively.

Both applicants are native-born citizens of the United States, unmarried, and resided with their aged parents in the City of Philadelphia. Applicant John Hennon is twenty-four years of age and applicant Edward Hennon is twenty years of age.

Both applicants were charged with assault and robbery on one Everett Hort, who testified that in May, 1925, he was held up and robbed, at Girard Avenue, near Academy Road, Philadelphia, of his Essex automobile, a watch and cash. Previous to the robbery he, with a lady friend, was seated in his parked automobile when the applicants, who he identified, drove up in another car and ordered him out of his machine at the point of a revolver. One of the applicants held a revolver in his hand and ordered Hort to hand over his valuables. They then took the automobile and drove away leaving Hort and his lady friend standing in the road.

Both applicants have served two years and seven months of their respective terms of imprisonment; neither was ever before charged with or convicted of crime; their prison records are excellent.

This application was presented by E. M. Hackney, Probation officer of the Court of Common Pleas No. 1, of Philadelphia County, at the request of Judge McDevitt, the trial Judge. The latter has filed with the Board a letter in which he strongly recommends clemency. He states that he was doubtful at the time of the guilt of Edward Hennon and not thoroughly convinced of the guilt of John Hennon. He further states that as a result of a personal investigation made by him shortly after the conviction he determined to give them new trials but intended that they remain in jail until charges pending against them in a neighboring county had been disposed of. He ascertained that the revolvers that they were accused of having in their automobile the night of the hold-up were not found in the car until many hours after their arrest. He concluded by saying, "I think a pardon in this case is well deserved."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of both applicants; the terms of imprisonment already served and because of the strong recommendation of the trial Judge; we have concluded that they have been sufficiently punished and that if now released will prove themselves peaceable and law-abiding citizens.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that pardons be now granted to the said Edward Hennon and John Hennon, respectively.

Sir: At No. 586, April Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Philadelphia, Max Grieshaber, pleaded guilty to the charge of murder (which was subsequently adjudged by the Court to be murder in the second degree), and on June 20, 1922, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight years nor more than twelve years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States thirty-eight years of age, a mechanic by occupation and was so employed up to the time of his arrest. He resided with his wife in the City of Philadelphia.

The applicant, in 1920, married one Florence Duffy, who was about twenty years of age. She had been seduced by a middle-aged Italian, Emidio Pappa (a married man with nine children), about two years prior to the marriage. This relationship seems to have been broken off sometime prior to the marriage but Pappa repeatedly called at the home of the applicant, wrote letters and endeavored to renew the relations which he had formerly maintained with the applicant's wife.

The testimony in the case shows that he expressed himself as determined to get the girl back and at various times made threats against the applicant accompanied with the exhibition of a blackjack.

On March 10, 1922, the applicant's wife, about nine P. M. went out to get a soda, her husband remaining at home. The latter becoming suspicious on account of her long absence went to look for her. About ten o'clock he saw his wife and Pappa come out of a soft drink establishment and saw his wife leave Pappa on a street corner after he had embraced her. He also heard Pappa say: "Be sure to meet me at half past six tomorrow night." The wife returned home and the applicant waited until the deceased approached him. On account of the threats which had been communicated to him, the applicant had armed himself with a revolver. He went up to Pappa on the street and demanded that he cease his attention to his wife. Pappa weighed fifty pounds more than the applicant. A struggle ensued for the possession of the revolver which the applicant produced and one shot was fired inflicting a mortal wound on Pappa. The applicant contended that the revolver was discharged during the struggle for its possession but on the advice of his counsel pleaded guilty to the murder. His wife testified truly and frankly as to her past relations with the deceased, but denied any wrong-doing since her marriage. After the shooting the applicant returned to his home, where he was subsequently arrested. He admitted his guilt.

The applicant has now served five years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the degree of guilt of the applicant; because of his prior good record and the term of imprisonment already served; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., January 18, 1928.

Sir: At No. 94, April Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, Antonio Callendo, was convicted of murder in the first degree, and on May 24, 1923, was sentenced by the Court to be electrocuted. On Easter Monday, 1924, the Board of Pardons commuted this sentence to life imprisonment.

The applicant is 29 years of age, a native of Italy, but a citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest he conducted a confectionery store in the Borough of Swissvale, Allegheny County. He is unmarried. At the time of his arrest he boarded with his brother in said Borough of Swissvale.

On February 19, 1921, about 7:30 P. M., the applicant was returning from his home to his place of business and at the intersection of Agnes Street with Monongahela Avenue in Swissvale, he met Dominic Combrea and Dominic Fiorentino. Combrea was a resident of an adjoining borough and at times patronized the confectionery store and pool room of the applicant. Previous to the killing disputes had arisen between them and Combrea had been put out of the applicant's place of business. At the meeting referred to, after some conversation, Combrea placed his hand in his coat as if in the act of drawing a weapon and stepped towards the applicant, whereupon the latter opened fire on the deceased, shot and killed him.

Before the shooting Combrea had made threats against the life of the applicant which threats had been communicated to him. The applicant contends that he is innocent of the crime of murder and that in the killing of Combrea he acted in self-defense. The only eye-witness to the killing was Fiorentino who, in his testimony, said the applicant acting under the circumstances related by him shot Combrea in order to protect his own life.

The applicant has now served three and one-half years since the death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

The trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that the case was originally prosecuted on the theory that the applicant belonged to the Black Hand Society and had made a demand upon Combrea for money, which demand the latter refused to comply with, and that this was the cause of the killing, but that subsequently he learned that Combrea himself was a member of the Black Hand Society and had threatened to kill the applicant because of his refusal to contribute money and that it was during an argument over this matter that the killing occurred. He further states that it was on the strength of this later information that the death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He also states that he has read two affidavits submitted by the applicant, (hereinafter referred to) and that he has no reason to doubt that they are correct. The first affidavit is by one W. H. Sharah, a resident of the Borough of Braddock, for a period of sixty-four years, to the effect that between the May and June meetings of the Pardon Board in 1924, he met and conversed with a citizen of West Virginia by the name of Rocco, who told him that he, (Rocco) had been secretary of the Black Hand Society at Clarksburg, W. Va., and that Dominic Combrea, a member of the society, told him that the applicant had refused to contribute funds to the society and that he would have to have some person sent to Swissvale to "do away with him;" that someone was sent to Swissvale (the home of the applicant) for that purpose, but failed in his mission; that he returned to Clarksburg and reported his failure to Rocco and Combrea, whereupon Combrea said, "Well, I'll go to Swissvale and do the job myself," and shortly thereafter Combrea went to Swissvale with that purpose in view. Rocco expressed his willingness to appear before the Pardon Board in support of this story. The affiant subsequently read in the newspapers, and was told by friends of the applicant, that Rocco had been assassinated, supposedly by the Black Hand Society for having turned State's evidence against five of their members in West Virginia who were subsequently hanged in the Moundsville, W. Va., prison; that upon inquiry the affiant learned that the said Rocco had turned State's evidence and on his testimony five members of the Black Hand Society were convicted of murder and hanged and that Rocco was subsequently killed by a person unknown. The affiant further states that he is well acquainted with the applicant, who served honorably in the World War and adds that the latter bore an excellent reputation as a peaceful and law-abiding citizen in the community and that he believes that if he is pardoned he will become a useful citizen. The second affidavit is by Charles Perrone, a resident of the Borough of Rankin for more than twenty-five years, and personally acquainted with Combrea in his lifetime and with the applicant. He states that subsequent to the killing of Combrea, Harry B. Cochran, one of the county detectives in and for the County of Allegheny, gave to the affiant an envelope containing certain personal effects of Combrea and that among these effects was a knife, the blade of which opened by means of a spring and after opened it could not be closed without being released by pressing said spring; that these articles were later given to friends of the deceased. The affiant further states that the applicant bore a good reputation for peace and good order in the community and that he believes that if he is pardoned he will prove himself a good and useful citizen.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; in further consideration of the statement of the Trial District Attorney and the two affidavits filed in this case; we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Antonio Callendo.

Sir: At No. 69, November Sessions, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, Ignazio Castiglio was convicted of murder in the second degree and on June 21, 1924, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-five years of age, and a subject of the Kingdom of Italy. At the time of his arrest his occupation was that of a clerk in a general merchandise store. For about two years prior to June, 1923, he had been employed by Abe Jantes of Mt. Pleasant, Westmoreland County. In June, 1923, by reason of illness, he quit his employment temporarily. He is unmarried and resided in Mt. Pleasant aforesaid.

On August 30, 1923, at 11:55 A. M., the applicant shot and killed Antonio Palazzo in front of a foreign banking and steamship agency, at No. 1132 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh.

The deceased was thirty-one years of age, a man of powerful physique, weighing 150 pounds. He was a violent, dangerous and bad man, a blackmailer and extortionist, as shown by testimony produced at the trial. He was reputed to have killed several men and had actually been tried for murder. The two first met in July, 1923, and at the first meeting Palazzo demanded and received money from the applicant for the alleged purpose of aiding some of his friends whom he claimed were charged with capital offenses in West Virginia. The deceased demanded and received money from the applicant upon several subsequent occasions and threatened him with death or serious bodily harm in case of his failure to comply with the demands. The latter believing that he was in danger of death or serious bodily harm shot Palazzo, after the latter, whom he met on the street, had demanded money and threatened to blow out his brains if he refused, and had made a motion towards his hip with one hand and grabbing the applicant with the other hand. It was then that the applicant drew his revolver (which he carried with him to repel threatened attacks from Palazzo) and fired five shots into the body of the latter.

The applicant has now served three years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. Palazzo, on the other hand, had a bad reputation for violence, had threatened the applicant's life and upon the latter's refusal to comply with his final demands had acted in such a manner as to lead the applicant to believe that his life was in danger.

The Burgess of the Borough of Mt. Pleasant, the pastor of the Italian Church and a notary public of said borough have filed letters with the Board in which they certify that the applicant is a person of good moral character and that his reputation for peace and good order in the community was of the best. The warden of the Penitentiary certifies to his excellent prison record.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of his excellent prison record; because of the violent character of Palazzo and threats uttered by him against the applicant from whom he was attempting to extort money; we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 12 and 13, January Term, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Lackawanna, Stanley Dolinak pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with robbery and larceny from the person and on April 1, 1925, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term not less than ten years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is twenty-four years of age, a native-born American citizen, a coal miner and farmer by occupation and was so employed at the time of his arrest. He is unmarried, and resided in the Borough of Olyphant, Lackawanna County.

On the evening of December 4, 1924, Charles Aquisto and the applicant were riding together in an automobile in Greenfield Township, Lackawanna County. Between seven and eight o'clock they stopped their car near the home of Clarence Decker, a farmer. One of the men went to the Decker house for the purpose of getting a pail of water to put in the radiator of the car. Decker got the water and carried it down to the roadway near the car. The two men then assaulted Decker and robbed him of $54.55 in cash and $600 in checks. They then jumped into the automobile and fled. Decker telephoned a warning to the police of Clark's Summit, a borough situated near his home, where the two men were arrested. The money was found in their possession but the checks had been thrown away. The men admitted their guilt.

The applicant has now served two years and nine months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

His father, fifty-five years of age, an invalid with a broken back, is dependent on him for support.

The Trial Judge has since died. There was filed with the Board a letter from Judge Newcomb in which he states that he believes that the sentence imposed in this case was excessive. He adds that it is his personal belief that: "some measure of clemency might very properly be extended" to the applicant.

There was also filed with the Board a letter from the trial District Attorney in which he states that while the applicant was unquestionably guilty of the crime, he feels that the sentence imposed by the trial Judge (now deceased) was excessive and that while he does not desire to recommend a pardon, nevertheless he feels that the sentence imposed was "extremely severe."

There was also filed with the Board a numerously-signed petition for clemency from acquaintances and friends of the applicant.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; the prior good record of the applicant; because of the fact that the applicant's invalid father is dependent on him for support; because of the favorable statements of the trial District Attorney and Judge Newcomb, and the petition of citizens; we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 13, October Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Potter, Leigh Merrick was convicted of statutory rape and assault and battery with intent to ravish, and on October 25, 1924 was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars, costs, and undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than six years nor more than twelve years.

The applicant is forty-five years of age and a native-born citizen. He is by occupation a farmer and has a wife and two small children with whom he resided in the Village of West Bingham, Potter County.

On the evening of July 2, 1924, the applicant began drinking heavily of whiskey and other intoxicants and was badly intoxicated on the following day. Shortly before noon of that day he left his home, came to the Village of West Bingham, took dinner with the family of Marion Shutt, left there and continued drinking. On the evening of the same day a moving picture was in progress in what is called Grange Hall, a short distance from the Shutt home. In company with several friends he went to this show in such an intoxicated condition that he did not recall clearly what occurred. He noticed Dora Shutt, the prosecutrix, standing outside the door twelve or fourteen feet from where he was seated. She beckoned him to come outside. As near as he can remember they sat down on the running board of an old automobile that was parked there. They then went down the street to a candy store. The applicant entered the store and purchased some candy as he was informed by persons who were in the store. The girl remained outside. He then went out of the store and walked down the street with Dora Shutt and went to the station of the Buffalo and Susquehanna Railroad Company. While they were standing on the platform near the building the father of the girl came rushing up to the applicant, roughly caught him by the shoulder and took his daughter away.

The applicant then returned to the moving picture show. He denies that there was any sexual intercourse or that he at any time made any attempt against the chastity of Dora Shutt. He did nothing but stand and talk to her in a maudlin, drunken condition. After the picture show he continued his spree for about a week, and went to Wellsville, New York, where his wife and daughter were. Upon his return to his home he was arrested for the crime of rape.

The applicant has now served three years and four months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There were filed with the Board many letters and a petition of citizens recommending clemency. Among others the County Treasurer, the trial District Attorney, the private prosecuting attorney urged pardon.

There was also filed with the Board the affidavits of Mrs. Ellen Spencer and Mrs. Electa Hand, both residents of the Village of West Bingham, who were well-acquainted with Dora Shutt. Both state that sometime during the fall of 1925, after the applicant had been convicted and sentenced, Dora Shutt came to the front porch of the Spencer home and in the course of conversation with both women said that the applicant did not touch her and that she swore to a lie at the time of the trial.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the grave doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; because his wife and small children require support; because of the evidence on file charging perjury on the part of the chief prosecuting witness; in consideration of the recommendations of the trial District Attorney, private prosecuting attorney, County Treasurer and others, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: In the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Philadelphia, at Nos. 385, August Sessions, 1922; 317 and 318, May Sessions, 1923; 40, June Sessions, 1923, and 212 and 213, March Sessions, 1924, Francis H. McCaulley alias Frank McCaully, alias Francis McCaulley, Jr., alias Edward T. Harkness, alias Harry MacCaulley, pleaded guilty to six indictments charging him with assault and battery, the larceny of two automobiles, operating said automobiles without the consent of the owners, and on October 10, 1924, sentence was suspended by the Court and the applicant was discharged on probation for a period of twenty years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, twenty-nine years of age. He had no occupation. He resided with his parents in the City of Philadelphia. He was married in 1920, but was deserted by his wife one year later.

The applicant served with distinction in the World War from May, 1917, to July, 1919, and lost his right arm. He also suffered shrapnel wounds in his head involving the loss of certain parts of the bone structure of the skull and a small section of the brain under a trepanning operation.

After his indictment for the crimes before-mentioned, a commission was appointed by the Court to inquire into his sanity. He was adjudged a lunatic and committed to the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Fairview.

Subsequently, in October, 1924, he went to the United States Gray's Ferry Hospital, at Philadelphia, under the control of the United States Veterans' Bureau, and was finally discharged therefrom in May, 1926. While in the latter institution, in January, 1925, he was declared mentally incompetent and a guardian was appointed by the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County. On April 1, 1927, after hearing, he was declared mentally competent and the guardian was discharged.

The applicant was indicted for the theft of two motor vehicles and for operating the same without the consent of the owners, and with having committed assault and battery on two persons while operating automobiles. These offenses were committed in July, 1922; March, 1923; May, 1923, and February, 1924, before the United States Veterans' Bureau took him in charge. The Probation Officer of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County advises the Board that the applicant has strictly complied with the terms of his parole and that the Probation Department has no objection to a pardon.

Dr. William S. Ambler, of Germantown, certifies that after the applicant's return from the War his mental condition was bad and that he did not realize the seriousness of his acts, but that since his hospitalization and for the past two years he has been a model citizen.

Dr. Herbert P. Fisher, of Germantown, also certifies that he has been the family physician of the McCaulley family for about ten years, and has been in frequent contact with the applicant; that since the applicant's final return from the hospital his mental and moral condition has improved to such an extent that he believes he is fit to assume the responsibilities of citizenship.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the defective mental conditions of the applicant when the crimes were committed; because of the statements of Drs. Ambler and Fisher as to the applicant's present mental condition; because of the favorable attitude of the Probation Department of the Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia; and because of the fact that a representative of the District Attorney's office stated to the Board orally that they do not object to a pardon: we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Francis McCaulley, Jr., alias Edward T. Harkness, alias Harry MacCaulley.

Sir: At Nos. 18, 19 and 24, December Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Lebanon, John E. Hartman pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with forgery and on December 27, 1922, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of $4.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years nor more than twenty years. Sentence to be computed from March 27, 1922.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, forty-nine years of age. At the time of his arrest he resided in the City of Lebanon with his wife and was engaged in the general real estate and insurance business in that city and also held the position of treasurer of the Lebanon Valley Saving and Loan Association, with its main office in the City of Chester.

The applicant as treasurer of said Association was in possession of blank stock certificates and in some instances issued certificates to fictitious persons and later presented such certificates to the home office for payment. When the checks were mailed to him, countersigned by the president, who resided in Chester, Pennsylvania, he endorsed the names of the fictitious persons and converted the proceeds to his own use. Another fraudulent practice was the following: When the holder of a full-paid certificate presented the same for payment he would persuade such holder to take out a new certificate, send in the old certificate to the home office at Chester, obtain a check for the same and then forge the name of the payee of the check and obtain the proceeds thereof.

The applicant has now served approximately five years and eleven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime; his former standing in the community is evinced by the fact that he served a term as County Treasurer.

The trial Judge, the trial District Attorney and the present District Attorney have filed letters with the Board in which they strongly recommend clemency. A. B. Schropp, President of the Lebanon News Publishing Company, has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends pardon and also offers to become sponsor for the future employment and good behavior of the applicant. The resident physician of the State Penitentiary has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that the applicant has tuberculosis of the right hip and foot and that he is developing a lung condition which will probably result in pulmonary tuberculosis.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the severity of the sentence; the impaired physical condition of the applicant; because of the fact that a responsible citizen has offered to become his sponsor for future employment and future good conduct, and because of the strong recommendations of the trial Judge, trial District Attorney and present District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said John M. Hartman.

Sir: At No. 1, December Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Greene, David H. Thomas pleaded nolo contendere to an indictment charging him with robbery and on September 11, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100.00 and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, twenty-eight years of age. He has no trade or profession and was not employed at the time of his arrest. This unemployment was due to the fact that the applicant is an ex-soldier with a rating of total disability by the United States Veterans' Bureau. He is married and at the time of his arrest resided at the home of his wife's parents in Greene County.

On July 26, 1926, the applicant is alleged to have gone to the home of Delia Porter, a woman of about sixty years of age residing in the Borough of Waynesburg. It is further alleged that he told her that her nephew, Charles Sowers, had been injured and that he, the applicant, would take her to see the said Sowers; that the said Delia Porter went with the applicant in a Ford roadster to a point in the County about eight miles west of Waynesburg, where the applicant is alleged to have taken the said Delia Porter into a woods near the road and there robbed her of $4.00 in cash and two rings of small value. Subsequently he carried her in his machine for about one mile in the direction of Waynesburg, where she got out. He then returned to his home about one mile from Waynesburg, where he remained until his arrest.

The applicant has now served one year and five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

The applicant served overseas in the World War and has an honorable discharge. After his return a claim was filed in his behalf for a disability which resulted from wounds and gas.

He is in a serious condition as the result of chronic tuberculosis and epilepsy. This is shown by letters on file with the Board from Doctors Turnbull, Deputy Secretary of Health; R. H. McCutcheon, Medical Director, Pennsylvania State Sanatorium for Tuberculosis; Dr. C. J. Newcomb, Medical Director, Rockview Farm, Dr. Leroy Locke, of Bellefonte. It appears that the applicant cannot receive proper treatment in the Penitentiary. He is constantly growing worse. His continuance there will have fatal results, whereas proper hospitalization will prolong his life. The United States Veterans' Bureau have offered to take the applicant and hospitalize him whenever he is released.

There was also filed with the Board a letter from the trial Judge stating that his physical and mental condition was unknown to the Court when sentence was pronounced. He adds that he has no objection to a pardon provided the applicant is turned over to the Veterans' Bureau for hospitalization and treatment. Guy Campbell, member of Congress, has also filed a letter with the Board recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of his impaired mental and physical condition when the alleged crime was committed; because of the present critical condition of the applicant and the need which he has of hospitalization and treatment; because of the offer of the United States Veterans' Bureau to care for him; in consideration of the letter of the trial Judge and the recommendation of Congressman Campbell, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 68, 69 and 70, March Term, 1927, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Fayette, Leslie Greenawalt pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with entering without breaking, larceny and receiving stolen goods, larceny and receiving stolen goods, breaking and entering, larceny and receiving stolen goods, and on March 30, 1927, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of 18 cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years.

The applicant is forty-two years of age, a native-born American citizen, a miner by occupation, is married and has a wife and nine children, the youngest being only two years of age; he resided with his family in Melcroft, Fayette County.

On the evening of September 3, 1926, thirty or thirty-five chickens, meats to the value of approximately ten dollars and two bushels of roasting ears (corn) were stolen from the premises of some farmers residing in the vicinity of the applicant's home. The same evening the applicant was riding in his car and having trouble in the operation of it he drove into a lane leading to the premises of an automobile mechanic with the proper tools to fix the car. He drove off of the lane so that he might not obstruct the passage of anyone wishing to use it. He and one Emery Armel, a young man about twenty years of age, slept the night through and were awakened by three farmers of the vicinity, with shotguns, the next morning about 7:30 o'clock, charging them with the theft of the aforementioned chattels, and were commanded to accompany the farmers to the residence of one of their number in order that officers might be summoned to arrest them. While awaiting the coming of the officers the applicant escaped and was not apprehended until February, 1927.

The applicant has now served eleven months of his term of imprisonment. In 1902 he was sentenced to the Pennsylvania Reformatory on the charge of murder in the second degree. The trial Judge in his charge to the jury stated that they could not bring in any other verdict under the circumstances than that of acquittal, nevertheless they rendered a verdict of guilty.

The family of the applicant, consisting of his wife and nine children, during his incarceration have suffered for the bare necessities of life and are objects of charity.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the Warden of the Penitentiary certifying that the applicant's prison record is good; there were also filed with the Board letters from the trial Judge, trial District Attorney, present District Attorney, in which they recommend clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the destitute condition of the applicant's wife and nine children; because of his excellent prison record and the favorable recommendation of the trial Judge, the trial District Attorney and the present District Attorney, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 20, December Sessions, 1914, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, Steve Faytol was convicted of murder in the second degree and on February 6, 1915, was sentenced to pay a fine of 6¼ cents, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than eighteen years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is thirty-four years of age, a native of Czechoslovakia, and owes allegiance to that Republic. At the time of his arrest for the present offense he was a laborer in the Edgar Thomson Steel Works in the Borough of Braddock and resided in said Borough; he is unmarried.

On the evening of May 16, 1914, a public dance was being held in the Borough of Braddock and the applicant, together with his brother Andy, and a number of friends, were standing in front of the dance hall. The applicant first came to this place about 8:00 o'clock in the evening. He left on several occasions to go to a saloon about a half-square distant where he had been drinking. Between 10:15 and 10:45 o'clock on that evening the applicant, with his brother, Andy, and Mike Hudak met in front of the dance hall, had an argument or dispute and after several blows were struck by the applicant and Hudak, the applicant struck Hudak with a knife, inflicting a mortal wound. The applicant and his brother, Andy Faytol, were jointly indicted and tried. Andy Faytol was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and was sentenced to undergo imprisonment for a term of not less than ten years nor more than twelve years in the Western Penitentiary. He was pardoned by this Board in February, 1924.

The applicant has now served thirteen years of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He was only twenty-one years of age when this crime was committed.

A number of letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency. The warden of the Penitentiary certifies to his excellent prison record; the chief witness for the Commonwealth recommends clemency. The present District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that, while he has no personal knowledge of the case, he has no objection to a pardon. The assistant trial District Attorney has also filed a letter in which he indicates a favorable attitude. The resident physician of the Penitentiary has filed a letter in which he states that the applicant is suffering from a leaking heart and that, in his judgment, he will never be able to do hard manual work. Employment has been offered him if released by Joseph M. Hollander, manufacturing chemist, at Rankin, Pennsylvania.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; because of the fact that his brother, an accomplice, has already been pardoned; because the warden of the Penitentiary and the chief witness for the Commonwealth and many citizens recommend clemency; because of the impaired physical condition of the applicant and the fact that employment has been offered him if released; in consideration of the fact that the trial District Attorney and the present District Attorney evince a favorable attitude, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 39, June Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, Albert Briggs pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with statutory rape and on June 16, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of six and one-fourth cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than three years nor more than six years.

The applicant is thirty-five years of age, a native-born American citizen. He is a mill worker by occupation and was so employed at the time of his arrest. He resided with his father and mother in the village of New England, Allegheny County.

The applicant is charged with having made a felonious assault on one Lena Kish on January 1, 1926, the girl being between fifteen and sixteen years of age. She resided with her mother approximately one mile from the home of the applicant. The latter called on her on different occasions, at times in company with other young men, with the consent of the mother. He was in her company on the date mentioned. At the time of his arrest another young man of the neighborhood was charged with the same offense by Lena Kish.

When the applicant entered his plea of guilty he was without counsel and was led to believe that he would immediately be paroled upon entering said plea and was under the impression that his offense would be dealt with as if it were the crime of fornication.

The applicant has now served one year and eight months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the trial District Attorney in which he recommended clemency.

Senator Harris, of Pittsburgh, has also filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends pardon.

James T. Reddington, the prosecutor in the case, a member of the detective force of Allegheny County, has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that Lena Kish had accused both the applicant and one Clarence Forbes, of statutory rape, but that Forbes had never been apprehended. He states that he was present in Court when the applicant entered the plea of guilty and was surprised at his action inasmuch as his family was in excellent standing and the applicant himself had a good record. He adds that the reputation of the Kish home was "not of the best."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of the trial District Attorney, Senator Harris and the letter of Detective Reddington we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful law-abiding citizen.

At No. 7, June Sessions, 1921, and Nos. 132, 186, 187, 188, 213, September Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, George Faub pleaded nolo contendere to indictments charging him with entering a building with attempt to commit felony, larceny, receiving stolen goods, felonious assault and battery, robbery and receiving stolen goods, and on September 27, 1921, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of thirty-seven cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight nor more than ten years.

The applicant is thirty years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States of Bavarian extraction. His occupation is that of a tailor's cutter, but since his incarceration he has become a talented musician, also a first class barber. He was not employed at the time of his arrest, but had been employed as a laborer by the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company, of Pittsburgh. Applicant is unmarried. He resided in Pittsburgh with his brother-in-law. He honorably served in the United States Navy from 1914 to 1919.

During the early part of 1921 the applicant became acquainted with one Edward Montgomery, who roomed in the same apartment house. Through this acquaintanceship he met Michael Norton, alias Edward Burke, who later proved to be an escaped convict from the Illinois prison. All three for a time worked together for the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company.

During the latter part of March and early part of April, 1921, the trio robbed the office of the Hixson Candy Company and residences of David L. Eynon and Cornelius D. Scully, in Pittsburgh. On April 8, 1921, the applicant was arrested at his home, the authorities having connected him with these robberies.

Later Norton and Montgomery, while quarreling in Norton's room over several "jobs," were overheard by the landlady, and she immediately reported the incident to the police. They also were arrested and charged with the robberies above referred to. Montgomery was pardoned by this Board in November, 1927. Burke pleaded guilty to the charges. The applicant appears to have acted in the perpetration of these crimes under the domination of Norton, who was a notorious criminal.

The applicant has now served six years and five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime except on one occasion. In 1919 he served eighteen months in the State House of Correction in New York for "attempt of punishment of consort." He maintained his innocence of this charge.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency. Mayor Kline, of Pittsburgh; C. S. Hixson, one of the persons robbed, and the present District Attorney recommend a pardon.

The deputy warden of the Western Penitentiary, former Warden Egan, Dr. W. T. Root, one of the Trustees, and General Superintendent Stutsman also recommend clemency.

Cornelius D. Scully, one of the persons robbed, appeared in person before the Board as the applicant's attorney and advocated pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant (with the exception noted); the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of the present District Attorney, Mayor Kline and others; because of the recommendations of the prison authorities; because of the fact that one of the persons robbed appeared in person before the Board and urged pardon; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 2, April Sessions, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Chester, James Chambers was convicted of statutory rape and on October 1, 1923, was sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven and one-half years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is thirty-nine years of age, a native-born American citizen, colored and a laborer by occupation. He resided in Avondale, Chester County, and at the time of his arrest was working in a mill situated about four miles from his home. He has a wife but does not know her whereabouts.

A colored girl by the name of Mary Bryant, whose mother said she was only twelve years of age, was induced by the latter to charge the applicant with the crime of statutory rape. The girl claimed that the crime was perpetrated on March 24, 1923, about 5 or 6 P. M., at the home of the applicant. At the trial of the case on October 1, 1923, the girl admitted that she was telling her story at her mother's direction. The father of the girl refused to be a witness in her behalf.

Dr. Moore, a prominent physician of Avondale, in a letter to the trial District Attorney, written just before the trial and filed in this case, stated that the girl was epileptic and a moron, that she was also afflicted with tuberculosis. He adds, "A suggestion of excitement throws her into an epileptic state. I don't believe her testimony will be at all reliable."

The applicant has now served four years and five months of his term of imprisonment; his prior record was good, with the exception of having served three months in the Chester County jail for violation of the liquor law.

A letter was filed with the Board by Oscar T. Quarall in which he states that he has known the applicant for a long time; that he formerly employed him and found him to be a hard-working man, steady in his habits and of a good reputation. He adds, "Since this man has been in prison, from the fall of 1923, I am convinced that he ought now to be given the benefit of the doubt and given his freedom. I know it is regarded in this neighborhood as a very uncertain case. James Chambers never should have been in jail." The writer recommends pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant based on the impaired mentality of Mary Bryant and her consequent unreliability; in consideration of the prior good record of the applicant (with one exception); because of the term of imprisonment already served, because of the letters of Dr. Moore and Oscar Quarall, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said James Chambers.

Sir: At No. 162, September Term, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny, Harry Wilson was convicted of murder in the second degree, "with mercy of Court," and on February 25, 1922, was sentenced to pay a fine of six and one-fourth cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is fifty-eight years of age, a native-born American citizen, and is by occupation a tool grinder, and for twenty-seven years prior to his conviction was employed by the Verona Tool Company. Prior to 1919 he lived in Verona, Allegheny County. In that year he purchased a furnished house-boat, in which he lived and in which this tragedy occurred. When seven years of age the applicant lost his right leg and now walks with the aid of a wooden leg. He is unmarried.

About midnight, July 15, 1921, one George Mitchell, somewhat intoxicated, came to the house-boat of the applicant, which was moored in the Allegheny River opposite Verona. After remaining there an hour or more he returned to his home in Verona. The following morning, Mitchell and the applicant crossed the river, where they procured beer and whisky. They then returned to the applicant's house-boat. Mitchell was surly and quarrelsome. He asked the applicant to sell him the house-boat on the monthly instalment plan, which the applicant refused to do. At this Mitchell became furious, grabbed the applicant and pushed him off the side of the boat where he was sitting. The applicant then told Mitchell that he would have to leave the boat if he intended to make trouble. Mitchell thereupon jumped at the applicant and struck him in the stomach with his fist, grabbed him by the throat with one hand and seriously injured his body with the other hand. He pushed the applicant to the door of the house-boat and tried to open it. Mitchell kept on choking him. Suffering from the brutal attack and in imminent danger of losing his life (as he thought), the applicant grasped a hatchet that was hanging on the door-post, swung it around to defend himself, and struck Mitchell on the neck, severing the jugular vein and several arteries. Mitchell fell to the floor and died in a few minutes. The applicant immediately thereafter surrendered to the chief of police of Verona, told what happened and has steadily maintained that the act was committed in self-defense. Inasmuch as there were no witnesses to the tragedy, there was no corroboration of his statement, nor was there proof submitted to the jury of the serious bodily injury which was inflicted on the applicant. It must be remembered that the latter was a one-legged man, fifty-eight years of age; while Mitchell, his assailant, was a powerful man thirty-two years old.

The applicant has now served six years of his term of imprisonment. On three prior occasions he was imprisoned in the work-house for minor offenses. The one conviction was subsequently set aside.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the present District Attorney in which he states that a verdict of voluntary manslaughter would have been fully justified and that applicant never gave evidence of any vicious tendencies prior to the present case, although addicted to strong drink. He adds that, having served six years of his sentence, he is now by reason of age unlikely to commit another crime of violence and that he has no objection to a pardon. The Trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which he frankly states that he does not recall the case and makes no suggestion as to the action of the Board.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the advanced age and crippled condition of the applicant; his prior good record with minor exceptions; the term of imprisonment already served; in consideration of the fact that the deceased, a much younger and more powerful man, was throughout the aggressor; because of the favorable attitude of the District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 505 and 506, December Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Stano Matuso was convicted of assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery with intent to ravish, rape and incestuous adultery, and on January 10, 1922, was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is forty years of age and a native of Jugoslavia. He came to the United States in 1911 and settled in the City of Philadelphia, where he resided at the time of his arrest. He married a second time in September, 1921, but his wife left him within a month. He is a craneman by occupation.

The applicant, in December, 1921, was living apart from his second wife. His daughter, Theresa, fifteen years of age, managed his home and looked after the two smaller children. The girl was inclined to be wayward, began going out with young men and staying out all hours of the night. He tried to curb her by scolding and chastisement, but to no avail. During this time Theresa frequently visited her step-mother and complained of her father's treatment. The step-mother was on bad terms with the applicant, and it is claimed on his behalf that she and Theresa conspired together to charge the applicant with having ravished his daughter in order to have him sent away. The rape is alleged to have occurred on the night of December 15, 1921. When the applicant returned from work he found his daughter absent. He went to seek her at his wife's home, and when he was about to enter the house he was placed under arrest. At the trial he was not represented by counsel.

The applicant has now served six years and two months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; his conduct in prison has been good, as shown by a letter from the warden of the Penitentiary.

Several letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency. The writers have personal knowledge of the applicant. There was also filed with the Board a petition of citizens of Philadelphia to the same effect.

If released a home has been offered the applicant by Nicolo Matuso.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record, and the recommendations of citizens; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Stano Matuso.

Sir: At Nos. 583 and 584, May Sessions, 1917, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Anton Walush was convicted of murder in the second degree, and on November 2, 1917, was sentenced by the Court to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than sixteen years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is forty-four years of age, a Lithuanian by birth, but a citizen of the United States. He is married and the father of six children. Prior to his arrest he was employed as a motorman by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company and at the time of his arrest he worked in a factory.

On March 22, 1917, the applicant shot and killed Catherine Staniewicz, the widow of his wife's deceased brother. The applicant and this woman, prior to their respective marriages, had kept company. After the death of her husband she came and resided with the applicant's family. There were illicit relations between them. The wife at one time endeavored to break the relationship by making an information for adultery against the husband, but the information was subsequently withdrawn. The applicant appears to have been absolutely dominated by Catherine. He squandered his earnings and his savings on her and neglected to provide for his family. Finally, he endeavored to terminate the relationship, but he could not shake her off. The tragedy resulted at the time his wife was confined in a hospital. He not only killed his paramour, but turned the weapon on himself and put a bullet through his head. Detective Weiss quoted him as saying, while lying in the hospital: "I wanted to end it all."

There was filed with the Board the affidavit of Anton Walush reciting the immediate circumstances leading up to the tragedy. There was also filed with the Board the affidavit of Sophia Walush, the wife of the applicant, in which she recites in detail her domestic trouble, and an abstract of testimony given before the Coroner by Detective Weiss, in which he quotes the applicant as saying that he had been intimate with his sister-in-law for nine years; that on the day of the tragedy they were drinking together; that he was worrying about his wife having been sent to the hospital and because his children were being cared for by the Philadelphia Aid Society; that he wanted to rent a house for his family but had no money; that they began to quarrel, each accusing the other of being the cause of the trouble, and then the tragedy occurred.

The applicant has now served ten years and four months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; his prison record is good. The applicant's wife has been compelled to work in a factory to support her family, which now consists of five children, aged twenty, seventeen, fifteen, thirteen and ten years, respectively. A daughter, nineteen years of age, has been married and resides with her husband.

There was filed with the Board of number of letters recommending pardon, one from the daughter of the woman, who was killed. There were also filed with the Board letters from two responsible citizens offering to give employment to the applicant, if released.

A representative of the District Attorney's office, who was present at the hearing before the Board did not actively oppose the application.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because of the recommendations of persons who are well acquainted with the applicant; because employment has been offered him, if released; because his wife and five children require support, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 43, 45, 46, 48 and 49, February Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Cumberland, Lee Miller pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with robbery, assault and battery with intent to rob, assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, felonious assault and larceny, and on February 10, 1922, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of four thousand dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than sixteen years and four months nor more than nineteen years and eight months.

The applicant is thirty-two years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. His occupation is that of a silk weaver. His place of residence is Carlisle, Pennsylvania. He is married.

The applicant served in France during the World War. After his discharge from the service he was employed for a time in the City of Paterson, New Jersey, where he met one E. T. Bobbitt. After several months the applicant came to Carlisle and was working industriously when Bobbitt came to visit him. The latter did not work and proposed that he and the applicant rob a trolley car. The applicant at first refused but finally yielded to Bobbitt's urging and agreed to participate in the crime.

On January 19, 1922, about 8.00 P. M. Bobbitt and the applicant went about one-half mile east of the borough limits of Carlisle and at a regular schedule stop of the trolley line entered a trolley car bound from Harrisburg to Carlisle. They boarded the car in the rear. On the car, in addition to the motorman and the conductor were two passengers. The four occupants of the car became prosecutors in the informations that were subsequently made. Bobbitt and the applicant had their faces covered with bandanna handkerchiefs. The applicant carried two guns, one in each hand, while Bobbitt had but one. Thus armed they robbed the passengers and secured about seventy-five dollars in cash and three watches. The applicant left the car first. Bobbitt remained on the front platform with the motorman and ordered him to start the car and proceed in the direction of Harrisburg. When Bobbitt attempted to step from the slowly moving car the motorman struck him a glancing blow on the head with the controller handle. Bobbitt wheeled about and fired one shot which grazed the motorman's arm. The applicant, on the outside of the car, in a position to fire, did not attempt to do so. He was arrested the following morning at his residence. The money and watches which were taken in the robbery were returned to the policeman and later restored to the owners. The applicant frankly confessed his guilt, stating that he had been led into the robbery by Bobbitt who was the instigator.

The applicant has now served six years and one month of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His prison record is good. He is suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis and since January 21, 1928, has been confined at the Cumberland County Poor Farm, he having been removed from the Cumberland County Jail in order that he might have better care and attention.

The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that there is no objection to a pardon on the part of the Cumberland County authorities or by the trolley crew, in order that the applicant's life may be prolonged. Doctors VanCamp and Fickel have filed letters with the Board in which they certify to the fact that the applicant is suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis and recommend that he be removed from his present residence in order to prolong his life. The Sheriff, Jail Warden and Probation Officer also recommend pardon. The Warden states that the applicant has been a good prisoner. Three of the four prosecutors in the several cases unite in a recommendation for pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his good prison record; because of his impaired physical condition which would likely improve if he is liberated; because of the recommendations of the Sheriff, Jail Warden, Probation Officer and three of the four prosecutors in the cases, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Lee Miller.

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 21, 1928.

Sir: At No. 703, January Sessions, 1915, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Philadelphia, James Fralry was convicted of murder in the second degree and on September 30, 1915, was sentenced by the court to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than fifteen years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is thirty-three years of age; a native-born citizen of the United States; unmarried, a mechanic by occupation and has resided in the City of Philadelphia during his entire life.

The applicant, who was only twenty years of age, was engaged to be married to Jennie McLaughlin, a young girl residing in the same neighborhood. A quarrel arose because of the friendship of Jennie and an older girl and an estrangement ensued with the result that the applicant brooded over the affair and began drinking heavily. About 9.00 P. M. November 7, 1914, they met at the corner of Eleventh and Shunk Streets, Philadelphia, and a violent quarrel ensued. The applicant had been drinking heavily for some hours prior to the meeting. After an interchange of angry words the applicant pulled out a .22 calibre revolver and shot the girl in the body with fatal results. He then turned the weapon upon himself and inflicted a very serious wound from which he nearly died. His condition was so critical that a magistrate was called to his bedside and a dying declaration was taken from him within an hour of the shooting, a copy of which is included with the papers filed with the application. In it the applicant states that he took the revolver with him to give the girl a scare. He stated that he showed it to her and told her if she didn't stop going with the objectionable girl he would use it. When she declared that she would not discard the girl he shot her once and then shot himself. He declared that he didn't mean to shoot her or to kill her but only meant to scare her.

The applicant has now served twelve years and six months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; he was only twenty years of age when the shooting occurred.

Counsel for the applicant stated to the Board that the present District Attorney told him verbally that he wished the applicant pardoned. A representative of the District Attorney's office present at the hearing stated that while they would not join in the application they would not oppose clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served, and because of the favorable attitude of the District Attorney's office, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 8 September Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, and at Nos. 57 and 72, September Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the same County, Clarence Hosek pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with robbery, receiving stolen goods, entering a building with intent to commit a felony, larceny and receiving stolen goods, and on September 11, 1924, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of eighteen and three-fourth cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven and one-half years or more than fifteen years.

The applicant is a native of Bohemia, thirty-one years of age, but now owes allegiance to the United States. He is unmarried. He is by occupation a dental laboratory technician and when convicted was engaged in the operation of his own laboratory in the City of Pittsburgh where he resided with his father.

On or about June 11, 1924, about midnight, four men went to the ticket counter of the Pittsburgh Natatorium Company, situated on Duquesne Way near Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, and at the point of a gun compelled Walter B. Alston, night clerk in charge, to turn over to them about one thousand eight hundred dollars in cash, thirty-one watches and the contents of the deposited wallets of the patrons of the establishment. The applicant sat in an automobile outside the door awaiting their return. After rifling the office the four men entered the automobile with the applicant and drove away to the home of one of the rumber where the applicant was given the stolen watches to dispose of. The latter was arrested at the home of his father and taken to his place of business where some of the watches were found. He informed the police of the other participants in the robbery and they were all arrested. At the time of the applicant's arrest there was found in his office a suit of clothing left there by one of the other robbers, which was later discovered to have been stolen from one Thomas McMahon. Through the applicant all of the stolen property was recovered and restitution made.

The applicant has now served three years and six months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; he has an honorable discharge from service in the United States Navy during the World War.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the present District Attorney in which he states that all of the charges embodied in the indictments to which the applicant pleaded guilty grew out of one overt act (above referred to) in which the latter was not one of the real aggressors. He further states that the applicant has already served three and one-half years and that his office: "has no objections to a pardon."

The Superintendent of Police of Pittsburgh, Clyde Edelbum, Inspector of Detectives, and Dr. Peter G. Walter, all of Pittsburgh, in letters filed with the Board recommend pardon. Thomas C. McMahon, the complainant, in No. 57, (in which the applicant was charged with receiving stolen goods), has also filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends pardon. He states that he was held up and robbed by two men, named Finegold and O'Brein, who took from him thirty-five dollars in cash and a Tuxedo suit which later was subsequently found in the rooms of the applicant. He further states that the applicant was in no manner connected with the hold-up.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendations of the Superintendent of Police and other citizens of Pittsburgh; the recommendation of the complainant in one of the criminal actions brought against him and because of the favorable attitude of the District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20 April Session, 1919, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Adams, John Miller pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with assault with intent to kill, assault with intent to rob, entering by night with intent to commit robbery, larceny and breaking and escaping from jail, and on April 28, 1919, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of $6.00, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than 27 years nor more than 33 years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, 32 years of age, unmarried and has always resided with his parents in Gettysburg, Adams County. He was engaged as a clerk in his father's grocery store and also drove the delivery wagon.

On February 22, 1919, about 11.00 P. M., the applicant, together with one Fred Moore, went into the grocery store of Abner S. Mills, situated on Baltimore Avenue, Gettysburg, as Mr. Mills was closing the store. Moore entered first and purchased a pack of cigarettes, then the applicant entered the store with a red bandanna handkerchief tied over his face and with a pistol in his hand and commanded Mills to hold up his hands and turn over the money. Mills smiled, thinking it was a joke, and did not comply with the demand, whereupon the applicant fired a shot into the floor near Mills' feet. According to the applicant's written confession Mills grabbed for something and in his excitement applicant claims he fired a second shot not knowing where it struck and ran out of the store. The latter shot struck Mills in the head and he was in a critical condition for at least a month thereafter. The applicant was arrested in his home the following morning. He and his accomplice admitted their guilt and signed written confessions.

The applicant was only twenty-three years of age when this crime was committed. He has served eight years and ten months of his term of imprisonment; his prison record is excellent as shown by the letter of the warden of the Penitentiary. He has an honorable discharge from service in the great World War. Prior to the commission of the present crime he committed minor offenses and was committed to the Huntingdon Reformatory for obtaining goods on false pretense.

Abner S. Mills, the injured person, who has heretofore strenuously objected to a pardon, appeared in person before the Board and asked for clemency. He also filed with the Board a formal letter to the same effect in which he stated that he is satisfied that the applicant when he entered the store had no intention to kill or injure him and that the shots were fired without aiming the gun at him and appeared for the sole purpose of intimidation, that when the applicant saw that he was hit he rushed out of the store without attempting further assault and without taking the money.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency, from prominent citizens of Gettysburg, including former Congressmen Benner and Beales, E. M. Bender, Treasurer of Lincoln Trust Company, Robert C. Miller, Postmaster, H. C. Picking, President of Gettysburg National Bank, Attorneys William McSherry and Charles S. Duncan and others.

The trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. The present District Attorney has also filed a letter in which he states that he will interpose no objections to clemency.

Fred Moore, the accomplice of the applicant, was pardoned in December 1925.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; the term of imprisonment already served; because Mills, the injured man, appeared before the Board in person and asked for clemency; because Moore, his accomplice, has already been pardoned; because of the recommendations of the Trial District Attorney and prominent citizens of Gettysburg, and because the present District Attorney manifests a favorable attitude, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 1 June Term, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of McKean, Fred Mussare was convicted of murder in the second degree and on June 9, 1923, was sentenced to pay the costs and undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of not less than twelve years nor more than eighteen years.

The applicant, a subject of the Kingdom of Italy, is now about forty-one years of age and has a wife and one small child. He resided with them in the City of Bradford, McKean County. Shortly before the commission of the crime the applicant had been a laborer in the railroad shops.

On November 3, 1922, Joe Murphy, alias Joe Feracci, in company with John Catoni came to Bradford about 11:00 o'clock in the morning. They met a friend, one August Asconi, and shortly afterwards they encountered Tony Mussare and his brother, Fred, the applicant. At this chance meeting Murphy and the Mussare brothers shook hands and were apparently friendly. The five men then went together to the business section of the town, traveling along Main Street. Subsequently Asconi left the party. The four men then proceeded westward to Davis Street. Immediately before the shooting the four men were observed on the pavement about twenty feet from the corner of Davis and Main Streets. They were somewhat excited and all talking. Eight or nine revolver shots were then fired at Murphy and Catoni by Tony Mussare. One witness testified that Fred Mussare, the applicant, was seen with a revolver in his hand pointed toward Murphy and Catoni and another testified that he saw the applicant leaving immediately after the shooting with a revolver in his hand. The shooting occurred at about 3:00 o'clock P. M. when there were many people in the business section of Bradford. The witnesses who saw what occurred were attracted by the rapid firing of the revolver and when they observed the parties, the Mussare brothers on one side and Murphy and Catoni on the other, were facing one another. The latter were holding their hands and arms before them as if to shield themselves from the shots that were being fired and at the same time the two couples were separating, each couple moving backward. After the shooting was over the Mussare brothers fled. Tony Mussare was apprehended within a few minutes. Upon being accused by the police he told that he had done the shooting and when asked about his gun he showed the officers where he had placed it. The applicant went across the State line where he was arrested several days later. After the shooting Murphy and Catoni went to Main Street and into the store of one Meyer Brauser. The two men remained in the store but a short time. They came out and were placed in an automobile and were taken to a hospital. Catoni recovered but Murphy died two months later of septicemia, resulting from gunshot wounds.

The Mussare brothers claimed that Murphy and Catoni had demanded money from them. On a former occasion they held up Tony Mussare and took $20.00 from him. Tony Mussare said that when he saw Joe Murphy reach for a gun in his pocket, fearing that he was going to be shot, he, (Tony) drew his gun and shot Murphy and then shot Catoni, who attempted to pull a gun from his pocket.

The defense offered no testimony because at that time they were unable to discover any corroborating evidence.

After the trial the depositions of seven witnesses were taken and their testimony presented to the Board. They were not called as witnesses because the attorneys for the defense had no knowledge of them. The substance of their testimony was that immediately after the shooting Murphy and Catoni, bleeding, rushed into Meyer Brauser's store and left their revolvers there, which were that night removed by two friends who came to the store in an automobile. Murphy's gun was given to his widow. It was also shown that Catoni had asked the Mussare brothers for money to be permitted to work in Bradford. Two witnesses deposed that they observed the Mussare brothers and Murphy and Catoni facing one another and saw Murphy place his right hand to his waistline, whereupon Tony Mussare drew a pistol and rapidly fired seven or eight shots towards Murphy and Catoni. The chief counsel for the Mussares deposed that he never heard of this after-discovered evidence until after the trial.

The applicant has now served four years and nine months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His wife and child are in destitute condition and require his support. Had the after-discovered testimony been submitted at the trial, this, with the testimony of the Mussare brothers, which was not offered because of the then lack of corroboration, would probably have resulted either in an acquittal or, if not, a verdict no higher than voluntary manslaughter.

Messrs. Wilson and Fitzgibbon, private counsel specially appointed by the Court to assist the District Attorney in taking the after-discovered testimony referred to, appeared in person before the Board of Pardons and recommended clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the grave doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the after-discovered testimony; because of the destitute condition of his wife and child; in consideration of the recommendations of the private counsel appointed by the Court to assist the District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Fred Mussare.

Sir: At No. 11 March Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Cambria, Bonnie Gurley was convicted of murder in the second degree, and on March 18, 1921, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100.00 costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight years nor more than nine years.

The applicant is thirty-four years of age, colored, and a native-born citizen of the United States. He was married and at the time of his arrest his occupation was that of chef or cook and he was so employed in a boarding-house conducted by Edna Gurley, his wife, now deceased, in the Borough of Franklin, Cambria County.

The applicant was arrested on January 29, 1921, charged with the murder of Edna Gurley, his wife. The shooting took place while they were in the kitchen of the boarding-house conducted by her, the applicant being the cook and the deceased the proprietress. All of the boarders were colored people. At the time of the shooting three or four of the boarders were in the house and in close proximity to the scene of the shooting. Most of the boarders had been served with their meal and had gone out, but three or four remained in the dining-room. There was an aperture about two feet wide and four feet long in the wall of the kitchen through which the food was passed to the dining-room, enabling the occupants of the latter to command a clear view of the kitchen.

The applicant and his wife had been quarreling during the serving of the meal. The latter went into the dining-room to finish serving the meal and upon her return to the kitchen resumed the quarrel, grabbing a large butcher knife from a shelf and making a dash for the applicant. She continued coming towards him with the knife raised as if to strike him and backed him farther into the corner of the kitchen. When he was about one foot from the corner she made a lunge as if to strike whereupon he pulled his gun out and shot her with fatal results. The four boarders, who remained in the boarding-house, testified at the trial to that effect. The applicant was arrested a short time after the crime. Testimony produced at the trial showed that the deceased was of a quarrelsome disposition and that on several occasions she had abused and threatened the applicant. On one occasion a few months before the tragedy they separated and the applicant went to his former home in South Carolina. She followed him there and made him come back with her threatening him with a large pistol which she carried in her handbag. On another occasion while the applicant was sitting on his bed she thrust at him with an open razor and cut his arm making a deep and long gash near the shoulder. This was exhibited to the jury at the time of the trial. On another occasion when the applicant ran upstairs during a dispute, when he reached the top the deceased fired a revolver at him, the bullet missing him and lodging in the door-frame of the bedroom. Other witnesses testified that at various times they had heard the deceased make threats against her husband and especially so when he would complain of her abuse and threaten to leave her.

The Commonwealth showed no motive on the part of the applicant to shoot his wife other than that they had been quarreling at various times. The motive of the applicant as declared by him was self-defense and in this he was substantiated by all of the witnesses who were close to the shooting when it occurred.

The applicant has now served seven years of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; his prison record is excellent as shown by a letter from the General Superintendent of the Western Penitentiary at Rockview. Shortly after coming there he became cook in the Superintendent's residence. His aged father residing in New York City requires his support. Employment has been offered him if released by the manager of a hotel in Florence, South Carolina.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the trial District Attorney addressed to the applicant's counsel. While this letter does not specifically recommend a pardon the writer states inter alia: "considering all of the circumstances I would not personally oppose a pardon for this man at this time."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because of the fact that employment has been offered him if released and that his aged father requires his support and in consideration of the favorable attitude of the Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Bennie Gurley.

Sir: At No. 289, December Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Fayette, Joseph Toth, Jr., pleaded nolo contendere to an indictment charging him with larceny from the person and larceny, and on January 18, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of six cents, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory. He was finally discharged by order of the Court on August 13, 1927, and consequently was confined one year and seven months. Since his release he has been living at the home of his father.

The applicant is now twenty-two years of age. He was born in Austria-Hungary and came to this country in 1921 with his mother, a brother and sister; the father had preceded them by eleven years. The applicant was employed as a coal miner at the Bridgeport Mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Company near Brownsville Fayette County, and lived with his parents in that place. He is unmarried and an alien.

On November 1, 1925, in the afternoon a number of school children including the applicant (who was only nineteen years of age) were playing in a field near where the applicant lived. They found a drunken man lying in the field. Paper money was protruding from the vest pocket of the man. The applicant and the other boys took the money, amounting to sixty dollars and divided it among themselves. The applicant was subsequently arrested, admitted his guilt and was sentenced to the Reformatory at Huntingdon as above stated. Prior to this offense he was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

This offense was committed within five years of the applicant's entry into the United States. Larceny from the person is one of the classes of crimes which involves moral turpitude, and which, under the Act of Congress of February 5, 1917, makes the perpetrator (an alien) liable to deportation. Upon the applicant's return from the Huntingdon Reformatory he was taken into custody by the Federal Immigration Service of the Department of Labor and ordered to be deported, but when they were informed that he was a mere youth and that his family and nearest relatives were in the United States; that he had never before been convicted of crime; that his family was industrious, substantial and respected, and that the boy had an excellent record in the Reformatory, the Department of Labor stayed deportation proceedings for one year in order that in the meanwhile an application for pardon might be made, and if the pardon were granted, further deportation proceedings would be discontinued and the applicant permitted to remain in the United States with his family.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the Trial Judge in which he states that when he imposed sentence on the applicant he was not aware of the Act of Congress above referred to which contains a provision that the Judge at the time of passing sentence or within thirty days thereafter may recommend that the alien shall not be deported and that in the event no deportation proceedings shall be instituted. Subsequently when his attention was called to the said Act of Congress he notified the Department of Labor of his omission and deportation proceedings were stayed. He adds that the applicant was never in trouble before; that his family is respected, industrious and owns real estate and that the applicant has served his sentence, paid the costs and has deported himself well since his release. He concludes by saying that he would have recommended to the Secretary of Labor that the alien be not deported had the Act of Congress been called to his attention when sentence was passed and he now recommends a pardon for the applicant so that he may not be deported.

Letters from the District Attorney and the Assistant District Attorney, who prosecuted the case, are on file with the Board also recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; his excellent record in the Reformatory and his good record since his release, because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge, the Assistant District Attorney, who tried the case, and the District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 94, 111, 371, 372, 373, 374 and 375, February Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, and in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace and General Jail Delivery, in and for the County of Allegheny, Paul Schibick alias Paul Schivick pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with robbery, receiving stolen goods, breaking and entering a railroad car with felonious intent and entering a building with intent to commit felony and on April 11, 1922, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of twelve and one-half cents, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is thirty-two years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. He is married and the father of two children. Before his arrest he was employed as a laborer by the United States Glass Company at the South Side plant, Pittsburgh, and resided in that city.

The applicant was indicted for entering a freight car standing on a siding of the Pennsylvania Railroad and taking therefrom eighteen automobile tires; also for entering the store of Charles J. Volk at Castle Shannon and taking therefrom the sum of five hundred fifty dollars in cash; also for entering the storeroom of P. W. Warden at Wilksburg, and taking therefrom the sum of one hundred twenty-five dollars in cash; also for entering the hotel of David Garback located at Allison Park and taking therefrom the sum of one hundred ninety dollars in cash; also for robbing Isadore Glick and Peter Napoli of small sums of money and for entering the cellar of John Barnowski located in the city of Pittsburgh and taking therefrom four barrels of whiskey.

Joe Novis and others were jointly indicted with the applicant in these cases. Novis was convicted and received the same sentence as the applicant. He was pardoned by this Board in November, 1927. The others who were convicted received smaller sentences than Novis and the applicant who pleaded guilty and gave great assistance to the officers in apprehending the other members of the gang. At the time of his arrest there were many cases of buildings being entered and whiskey stolen and the applicant received a very severe sentence probably to serve as an example for other evildoers.

The applicant has now served five years and eleven months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the District Attorney in which he states that the applicant (who pleaded guilty and rendered great assistance to the law officers in apprehending the other members of the gang) received a severer sentence by reason of the prevalence of crime of this character at that time. Others of the gang, who went to trial, were acquitted and those who were convicted received smaller sentences. He concludes; "Many worse criminals have received much lighter sentences in our Courts and for that reason I have no objection to the granting of this pardon if the Board feels it is a meritorious case." The First Assistant District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that the present applicant is in the same position before the Board as was Novis, who was pardoned in November, 1927, and states that he can see no distinction between the position of the two men. Frank J. Dodson, connected with the Bureau of Police, has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that without the assistance of the applicant they would not have been able to break up the gang led by Michael Norton alias Burke. He states that he has endeavored to have Novis and the applicant paroled and asks for clemency in their behalf.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the severe sentence imposed upon him; because of the fact that his accomplice, Novis, who received an equal sentence, was pardoned by this Board in November, 1927; because other members of the gang were either acquitted or received lighter sentences; because of the recommendations of Frank J. Dodson of the Police Department and the favorable attitude of the District Attorney's office, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 3, August Term, 1920, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Washington, Guy Piccalo was convicted of murder in the second degree and on August 28, 1920, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is thirty-four years of age, and owes allegiance to the Kingdom of Italy. At the time of his arrest his occupation was that of mill worker and he was so employed by the American Steel and Wire Company at Donora, Washington County. He resided in Monogahela City, same County, and was unmarried.

The applicant came to the United States about 1910 and went directly to Monogahela City, where he has since resided.

About 3.00 o'clock in the afternoon of April 30, 1920, the applicant went to the poolroom of Joe Malise to see his brother, Samuel Piccalo, who lived in the same building, the applicant was engaged in a game of pool with Malise, the proprietor, when Joe Crisafi came into the room. The latter did not join in the game but watched the players. About 6.00 o'clock in the evening the applicant brought Mrs. Malise a can of egg plant and a loaf of bread, and with her permission went into the kitchen, which was in the basement of the dwelling. Crisafi followed him to the kitchen. They began to quarrel immediately over their past differences and were stopped by Mrs. Malise, who then left the room. Crisafi then drew his gun and shot the applicant in the left leg. A fight ensued between the men during the course of which the applicant took the gun from Crisafi and shot him several times with fatal results. Tony Jordan was the only eye witness to the shooting. He stated that the killing was in self-defense; that Crisafi first shot the applicant, then the latter having taken the gun from Crisafi and believing that the latter was about to draw another gun, shot him.

At the trial, on behalf of the applicant, it was shown that he had been attacked and shot three times by Crisafi; that before the killing Crisafi had made repeated threats against the applicant's life; that Crisafi followed the applicant to the kitchen and started the quarrel which resulted in the former's death; that Crisafi first shot the defendant and the latter in his fright, believing that Crisafi was about to draw another gun, and also believing that he was about to lose his life, shot and killed Crisafi. The deceased bore a bad reputation for peace and law observance, he formerly having been convicted of carrying concealed deadly weapons and at the time of the killing two guns and a knife were found upon his person, while the applicant bore the reputation of being quiet, peaceable and industrious man.

The applicant has now served seven years and eight months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; his prison record is good.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the trial District Attorney, who is now one of the Judges of the County, in which he states that when the case was called for trial he offered to accept a plea of voluntary manslaughter, which was refused. On the trial the applicant was convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced accordingly. He concludes: "I believe that the defendant has been sufficiently punished and should be pardoned." The Trial Judge endorsed his concurrence in this recommendation on the letter referred to.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the undue severity of the sentence imposed by the Court; the prior good record of the applicant, the term of imprisonment already served; his good prison record and because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge and Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Guy Piccalo.

Sir: At No. 443, March Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Abraham Omenson pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with assault, being armed with an offensive weapon with an intent to rob, and robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and on April 3, 1925, was sentenced by the court to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, 19 years of age. At the time of his arrest he was a student in the high school, Philadelphia, and resided in that city with his mother who is a widow. He is unmarried.

On or about March 2, 1925, after returning from school, the applicant's mother gave him $35.00 in cash to take to a real estate agent in order to pay the rent of the home in which they were living. When he arrived at the agent's office he discovered that he had lost $5.00 of the rent money. He was fearful of worrying his mother about the matter and made an effort to find work after school hours with which to make up the deficiency. He could not obtain work that day, the day he lost the money. The applicant had been working in the drug store of John Seidel making sales behind the counter and running errands. Mindful of the fact that the proprietor often took the day's receipts home with him at night, he determined to hold him up and take the money. He waited around the drug store on two evenings with this intention but his courage failed him. On the third day he met a boy named William Townsend with whom he had played football, and the latter agreed to help him. Townsend volunteered to sell his football suit in order to buy a pistol and this he did. For two nights Townsend and the applicant walked about for several hours hoping that the druggist would take a trolley to his home in Germantown, at Third Street. On the fifth night while they were waiting a short distance from the drug store, at about 11.00 P. M., the proprietor, Seidel, locked the store and walked along American Street. When he had gone about a square, Townsend walked in front of him and pointing his pistol at him called; "Stick them up." The applicant went through Seidel's pockets and took $48.00 in cash. The following morning the applicant paid the rent. He was too nervous to go to school that day and rode on a delivery truck to Swarthmore returning late in the afternoon. Upon his arrival home he was arrested. All of the money taken from Seidel, except the $5.00 the applicant had paid for the rent, was recovered.

The applicant has now served three years of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; his prison record is excellent; his mother requires support. Since his incarceration he has learned to operate a linotype machine and employment can readily be obtained by him if released. He was only 16 years of age when his crime was committed.

Seidel, the proprietor of the store, who was robbed, has filed a statement with the Board recounting the circumstances of the robbery. In it he says, inter alia, "as far as I am concerned, I have no feeling at all against Omenson (the applicant) and have no objection to his being pardoned." There was also filed with the Board a letter from Nathan Baum, proprietor of the Summit Springs Hotel, Poland, Maine, in which he offers to serve as a Big Brother to the applicant. Dr. Linn Bowman, Moral Instructor, Alfred W. Fleisher, President of the Board of Trustees, Isaac Feinberg, Chaplain, and Herbert Smith, warden of the Eastern State Penitentiary, in letters filed with the Board, urge a pardon. The application was not actively opposed by the representatives of the District Attorney's office who was present at the oral hearing.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the extreme youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because his mother requires his support; in consideration of the fact that prominent officials of the Eastern Penitentiary recommend clemency, and the prosecutor does not object thereto, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now liberated he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 18, 1928.

Sir: -At No. 2, June Term, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Lawrence, John Doe, alias William Fisher alias William Fischer pleaded nolo contendere to an indictment charging him with breaking and entering a building with intent to commit a felony, robbery and receiving stolen goods, and on June 24, 1921, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of $20.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than fifteen years nor more than eighteen years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States, twenty-five years of age, and at the time of his arrest for the present offense was a student residing with his parents in the City of Toledo, Ohio. He is unmarried.

About noon, on May 24, 1921, three men, including the applicant, entered the building of the Union National Bank of New Castle, Pennsylvania. The two foremost men pointed weapons at the employees of the bank, ordered them to line up and put up their hands. The third person, the applicant, was ordered by one of the other men to go into the vault and get the currency. A fourth man stood in the doorway of the bank for a few minutes and then went along the pavement westwardly, and held up a police officer, who was approaching the bank, took his weapons from him and then ran to a car which was parked in front of the bank. The applicant, who at this time was eighteen years of age, entered the vault, secured the loose currency, put it into a bag and then the three men who had entered the bank, ran out and jumped into the automobile. After the fourth man joined them they drove rapidly away.

When arrested the applicant had $407.00 on his person, $375.00 of which was new currency of the Union National Bank of New Castle, Pennsylvania, which had not yet been signed by the proper officers of the bank. The applicant was subsequently identified as being the youngest of the four men, the one who entered the vault and took the currency therefrom.

The day before the robbery the applicant casually met two strangers in a lunch-room in Cleveland, Ohio, who agreed to pay him $200.00 or $300.00 a trip for driving a car. By appointment he joined them in Youngstown, Ohio, that night. They drove into Pennsylvania and arrived at New Castle in the morning when they informed the applicant that they were going to rob a bank. The applicant after some persuasion agreed to enter the bank in place of one of the men who seemed to be afraid to do so. The two men whom he met in Cleveland held up the occupants of the bank while he entered the vault. He never saw these men after the robbery nor were any of his accomplices arrested or punished for their part in the affair.

The applicant has now served six years and ten months of his term of imprisonment, with the exception of thirteen months (from December, 1923, to February, 1925) when he was confined in the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Fairview. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime; his prison record is good.

There were also filed with the Board letters from Doctors Wholey, Wallace, Lynch and Priestes, Alienists, and Charles Matthews, who had been a member of the commission which found him to be insane, in which they state that the applicant had been suffering from mental illness for some time prior to the commission of the offense; that he was mentally irresponsible when the crime was committed, when he entered his plea and when sentence was pronounced, but that now, in their judgment, he is sane and would be a useful citizen if released.

There was also filed with the Board a letter from the trial Judge, in which he states that at the time of the applicant's plea and sentence the question of his sanity had not been raised, but that in 1923 a commission appointed by him found the applicant to be insane and as a result he was transferred to Fairview Hospital and released a year or more later. He further states; "had the question of his sanity been raised at the time of his plea and sentence, I would not have permitted him to plead, neither would I have sentenced him, but would have appointed a commission etc. . . . neither do I think that if he was insane he should suffer imprisonment for an act committed in mental unsoundness."

Peter J. Platte, a substantial citizen of Detroit, Michigan, has offered to provide care and employment for the applicant upon condition that his family physician and the coroner of Wayne County (Detroit) should have general oversight of the applicant's future health.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; his good prison record; because of the fact that there is grave doubt as to his mental soundness when the crime was committed; when his plea was entered and sentence imposed; because of his mental rehabilitation as shown by letters from competent authorities on file; because of the fact that he, the youngest of the participants in the crime, suffered severe punishment while his accomplices went unpunished; because if released, he will return to his family in Detroit where his future health will be under competent supervision; in consideration of the statement of the trial Judge and other favorable letters filed with the Board, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said John Doe alias William Fisher, alias William Fischer.

Sir: At No. 217, November Sessions, 1920, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Luzerne, Antonio Chafie was convicted of murder in the second degree and on April 1, 1921, was sentenced by the Court to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is forty-three years of age and owes allegiance to the King of Italy. At the time of his arrest he was employed in the mines of the D. L. & W. Coal Company at Kingston, Pennsylvania, and resided in that borough. He has a wife and son residing in Italy. He has been in the United States thirteen years.

The applicant kept bachelor's quarters and on the evening of October 26, 1920, he had pared potatoes and placed the knife in his pocket. He went to the saloon located several doors from his residence where he was accustomed to go in the evening for a glass of beer after the day's work, and while he was drinking at the bar, Constantine Krawciewicz who was in an angry mood, came up to him and asked him when he was going to pay the saloon-keeper. The applicant replied that he was not going to run away, whereupon Krawciewicz punched the applicant and knocked him down on the floor. When the applicant arose, Krawciewicz grabbed him by the shirt with the one hand and punched him with the other, and pushed him to the rear of the barroom forcing him down into a chair. With his left hand on the throat of the applicant he punched with the other hand. The barroom was filled with friends and fellow-countrymen of Krawciewicz and the applicant being in fear of his life drew the knife to scare off Krawciewicz. In the scuffle, Krawciewicz was stabbed and died some time later as a result of the wounds.

The applicant has now served seven years of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; his prison record is good; his wife and so are in need of his assistance and support, and he had planned to bring them to America to re-establish the home.

The trial Judge has since died. The District Attorney, who is now a member of this Board, filed a letter in which he states that he does not feel that he should recommend a pardon but at the same time does not feel that he should object to a pardon if the Board concludes that under all the circumstances it is justified in granting clemency. There was also filed with the Board a letter from Evan C. Jones, who was counsel for the Commonwealth at the trial, in which he states that the applicant's offense did not arise higher than manslaughter; that on behalf of the Commonwealth he had offered to accept a plea of manslaughter which was refused, and that the applicant was convicted of murder in the second degree which was a more severe verdict than he had hoped for. He further adds that manslaughter would have been a proper verdict and that on such a verdict the Judge (now deceased) would probably have imposed a sentence which by this time would have expired. He concludes by saying that the applicant has been sufficiently punished for his offense and that therefore he recommends a pardon. Letters from a number of citizens were filed recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his good prison record; because his wife and son require his support; because of the letters filed by citizens who urge clemency, and particularly the recommendation of the counsel for the Commonwealth, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 18, December Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Beaver, Ben Nadolski was convicted of attempted felonious rape and on January 3, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of $5.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than three years nor more than six years.

The applicant is 40 years of age, of foreign birth, and has resided in the United States for sixteen years. He is a laborer by occupation and at the time of the commission of the alleged offense was employed by the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company at Woodlawn, Beaver County, Pennsylvania, and resided in the Borough of Ambridge, in the same county. His wife died shortly before his conviction. He has two children.

Stella Nadolski, the daughter of the applicant, being under the age of sixteen years, charged her father and one John Rezenski (who lodged with the father) with the crime of statutory rape. After the father was convicted of attempted felonious rape the girl was taken to a Polish Orphan Asylum located at Emsworth, Allegheny County, where her highly nervous condition and continued crying attracted the attention of Sister Hilary Okon and Father Hetka, the superintendent. In their efforts to quiet the girl, she finally told them that she had falsely accused her father and Rezenski and that she had been instructed or forced to do so by a neighbor, Mary Faldowski, with whom she lodged some distance from the Nadolski shack. The applicant testified at the trial that he had had trouble with this woman because she had abused his daughter and made her work too hard and that his daughter had complained to him that the Faldowski woman was beating her. He further testified that the woman threatened him stating that she would "get" him.

The affidavit of the daughter was filed with the Board in which she alleges that she made a false accusation against her father and Rezenski because she was afraid of the Faldowski woman who had beaten her and threatened to kill her if she did not charge them with the crime of rape. She alleges that neither of these men had committed any offense against her. There were also filed with the Board affidavits from Sister Hilary Okon and Father Hetka, Superintendent of the Home, corroborating the daughter in her allegation that she had falsely accused her father because she was instructed to do so by a neighbor woman.

There was also filed with the Board letters from the trial District Attorney and trial Judge in which both state that in consideration of the foregoing affidavits they are not opposed to clemency in this case.

The applicant has now served one year and three months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; and in consideration of the favorable attitude of the trial judge and the trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Ben Nadolski.

Sir: At Nos. 798 and 799, March Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Tony Romeo alias Antonio Romeo was convicted of assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, and assault and battery with intent to kill, and on April 29, 1921, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nine years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is 46 years of age and a subject of the King of Italy. His occupation at the time of his arrest was that of laborer. He is unmarried. His former place of residence was in the City of Philadelphia.

The applicant was arrested on February 10, 1921, on the street, at about 12.30 A. M., as he was returning to his home with his cousins, Steven Lorenti and Joseph Lorenti. They had spent the evening with friends where they had indulged in drinking. The next day the applicant was taken to the hospital where James Teevin and Thomas Ryan were confined suffering from knife wounds. The applicant was identified by them as one of the persons involved in the stabbing, although he claims that he never saw them before and was not implicated in the affair. The pocketknife which was taken from the applicant's person had blood-stains on it, which he claimed were caused by his having used the knife to cut pig's meat during the day. The City Chemist, one of the witnesses for the prosecution, testified that the applicant's knife could not have inflicted the stab wounds on the bodies of Ryan and Teevin. The latter, while identifying the applicant as one of their assailants, testified that they had never seen him before. The Commonwealth contended that the applicant and the Lorenti brothers were intoxicated. They were observed by Teevin, a police officer not in uniform, and Ryan, a civilian, acting in a suspicious manner on the street; Teevin told them to move on; the applicant asked him who he was; while in the act of showing his badge, the officer was stabbed by him. Ryan, who went to the officer's assistance, was also stabbed in the back. Teevin was confined in the hospital one month and Ryan three weeks as a result of their injuries.

The applicant has now served approximately seven years of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; the Court subsequently reduced the sentences of the Lorenti brothers to six years and six months in the Philadelphia County Prison. On March 30, 1922, after having served but eleven months, they were both discharged by the Court on parole, for the remainder of their respective terms.

There was filed with the Board a letter from James Teevin, who was the prosecutor in the case, in which he suggests that inasmuch as the Lorenti brothers were released after serving less than a year, the applicant is deserving of favorable consideration. Thomas Ryan, the other injured person, also filed a similar letter with the Board. Both letters are dated almost four years ago, and were filed with former application for pardon. There was also filed with the Board letters from five of the jurors, who convicted the applicant, suggesting clemency, for the same reason advanced by the prosecutor. These letters were also written in 1924. There was also filed with the Board the affidavit of Nathan Beifel, who avers that after a search in the neighborhood where five of the other jurors resided, he was unable to locate them. He also avers that Gilchrist, one of the jurors, has since died.

A representative of the District Attorney's office, who was present at the oral hearing in this case, did not oppose the present application.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his prior good record; because of the fact that his two accomplices were paroled by the Court after having served but eleven months; because of the recommendations of Officer Teevin and Ryan, the two injured persons, and the recommendations of five of the jurors, who convicted the applicant, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Tony Romeo alias Antonio Romeo.

Sir: At No. 1, March Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Warren, Samuel Vallone pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with assault and battery with intent to rob, and on December 30, 1926, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $100.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years.

The applicant is 21 years of age, a native-born American citizen of Italian parentage. At the time of his arrest he was a mechanic by occupation and was so employed by the Warren Gear Products Company at Warren. He resided with his parents and ten brothers in Clarendon, Warren County, Pennsylvania.

On December 8, 1926, the applicant after completing his day's work at Warren, returned to his home about seven miles distant. After the evening meal, about 7.30 or 8.00 o'clock, he went to the railroad station, a short distance from his home, where he met friends. After social conversation he took several drinks out of a bottle. After the last drink the applicant went towards his home when, as the information in the case alleges, he met one L. C. Barnes and immediately, without any provocation, struck or hit him with an iron pipe. This attack is alleged to have occurred between 11.00 or 12.00 o'clock P. M. The applicant finally reached his home but has no recollection of the attack or of the hour when he reached his destination. He worked the following day as usual and was arrested in the evening of that day after he had gone to bed.

The applicant has now served approximately one year and four months of his term of imprisonment; he was never before charged with or convicted of crime; he was only twenty years of age when the alleged crime was committed.

There were filed with the Board letters from the trial Judge and trial District Attorney in which they recommend clemency; also a letter from the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners to the same effect. The prosecutor in the case, who was injured, also recommends clemency. The applicant, being the oldest of eleven sons, is needed to help maintain the family.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the need which his family has of his assistance and support; in consideration of the recommendations of the trial Judge, the trial District Attorney, Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners and the prosecutor in the case, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 443 March Sessions 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, William Townsend pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with Assault and Robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and on March 16, 1925, was sentenced to pay costs and undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight years nor more than twenty years. Later the sentence was reconsidered and modified and the term of imprisonment reduced to not less than five years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is nineteen years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States, is by occupation an electrician's helper, and at the time of his arrest was so employed by his brother. He is unmarried and resided with his brother in the City of Philadelphia.

On or about March 4, 1925, your petitioner came into possession of a revolver by trading a football suit and showed this revolver to one Abraham Ohmenson, who was jointly tried and convicted with him as an accomplice. Ohmenson proposed that they use the pistol in holding up John Seidel, a druggist whose store was located at Tabor Road and American Street, Philadelphia, by whom Ohmenson had been at one time employed. At about 10:45 P. M., the two boys held up Seidel at the point of a gun while he was walking along American Street between Olney and Clarkson Avenues, Philadelphia, and took from him the sum of $40.00 and other articles to the value of $5.00. The money was subsequently returned to Seidel after the applicant's arrest.

The applicant has now served three years and one month of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of a crime with one exception; in April 1923 he was arrested as a suspicious character and released from the Juvenile Court for one year's probation. His accomplice, Ohmenson, was pardoned by this board in April, 1928.

In consideration of the youth of the applicant, to wit, sixteen years, when this crime was committed; his prior good record, (with a minor exception;) the term of imprisonment already served; because of the fact that his accomplice, Ohmenson, has already been pardoned by this board; and because of the further fact that this application for Pardon is filed by Courtland Butler chief Parole Officer of the Penitentiary by direction of Alfred W. Fleisher, President of the Board of Trustees, we have concluded that if the applicant is now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 1137, 1138 and 1139, May Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the City and County of Philadelphia, Samuel Fisher pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with Larceny and Receiving Stolen Goods, and on January 25, 1925, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years.

The applicant is twenty-two years of age and a native-born American citizen. At the time of his arrest he was employed as a driver by the American Express Company and resided in the City of Philadelphia with his parents.

In May, 1922, the applicant began to work for the American Express Company and served it honestly for two years. He was then transferred from the garage to night-truck driving where he continued to serve them honestly for several months. Then, he stole two packages containing two dozen men's suits and sold them to a receiver whose acquaintance he had made at a restaurant where the men congregated, receiving a total of $270.00. He stole again and again, gambled and lost. He was one of twelve drivers and two receivers sentenced as the result of an investigation and confession on the part of another driver. He was the youngest in years, in criminal experience, and in education. With the exception of one man, Kearns, who was later convicted, all of the drivers pleaded guilty. Kearns and the applicant were sent to the Penitentiary; the others, to the county jail. All who were convicted and sentenced for these crimes are now free. The applicant received a longer sentence than any except Kearns, who has since been pardoned by this board, and longer than either of the receivers who were convicted at the same time.

The applicant has now served approximately two years and eleven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He was only twenty years of age when these crimes were committed.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the Trial Judge, in which, while making no suggestion or recommendation, he states that the applicant has been in prison thirty months, that he believes that he, possibly, has learned his lesson, and that he will be satisfied with any action that the board may take. Several other letters were filed with the board from Morris W. Kolander, attorney, Dr. Edward Beecher Fink, and Harry Ferber, commission merchant, all of the city of Philadelphia, in which they recommend clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the fact that with one exception he received a longer sentence than any of his accomplices and was sent to the Penitentiary instead of the county jail; because of the fact that the only one of his accomplices who was sent to the Penitentiary has already been pardoned by this board; in consideration of the recommendations of Morris W. Kolander, Dr. Fink and others, and the statement of the Trial Judge (which is not distinctly unfavorable) we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 133, February Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny, Fred Satis pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with robbery and receiving stolen goods, and on March 19, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of six and one-quarter cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of not less than five years nor more than ten years. On April 1, 1926, the above sentence was modified and the term of imprisonment reduced to a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years in the Western Penitentiary—sentence to be computed from March 19, 1926. At No. 997, of the same term, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, the said Fred Satis pleaded guilty to the charge of robbery and receiving stolen goods and received the same sentence at the hands of the Court, to run concurrently with the former sentence.

The applicant is twenty years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest, he was employed by the West Penn Power Company and resided with his mother in the City of McKeesport, Pennsylvania. Prior thereto he resided in Wellsville, Ohio.

On February 17, 1926, some time after midnight, Thomas J. Judge was held up and robbed on Grandview Avenue in the City of McKeesport by two men, Fred Rodgers and the applicant, both men pointing guns at him. Judge was not only robbed but brutally shot in the hand and beaten. He was searched by Rodgers, who was the master mind of the robbery, and everything of value on his person was taken by Rodgers. Rodgers also did the shooting. The applicant refused to shoot upon Rodgers' insistence that he do so even though he had a gun in his hand. Rodgers, the more desperate of the two men and the leader in the enterprise, received the same sentence as the applicant who was only nineteen years of age at the time. The applicant had met Rodgers earlier the same night while the latter was intoxicated and driving a Ford car. The applicant, realizing his condition, went with him to see that he arrived home safely. When they got there, Rodgers asked him to wait. He went into the house and returned with a gun which he gave to Satis, the applicant. There was no plan about a hold-up. The applicant took the gun, thinking that Rodgers was in no condition to have a weapon. They started to walk down the street. They only went a short distance when they met Judge and immediately Rodgers pulled a gun and commanded him to put up his hands. The applicant did all in his power to stop Rodgers and get him away from Judge. He refused to shoot him when commanded to do so by Rodgers and finally succeeded in getting him away from Judge. While he was present at the robbery and a participant, what he did was solely through fear of Rodgers.

The applicant has now served two years and one month of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He was only nineteen years of age when the robbery occurred.

There was filed with the Board an affidavit from Thomas J. Judge, who was robbed, in which he states that the applicant did not actively participate in the robbery or the assault; that Rodgers engineered the crime and shot him in the hand, after which he insisted upon the applicant shooting the deponent, which the former refused to do. He avers that it was through the tact displayed by the applicant that his life was saved and recommends clemency. The Mayor and police force of the McKeesport, in letters filed, recommend clemency and also the Mayor of Wellsville, Ohio, where the applicant resided for many years. The trial District Attorney is non-committal with regard to clemency, but in a letter filed alleges that Rodgers: "Was much more desperate in his actions than the applicant."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the fact that Rodgers, the master mind in this crime, received no longer sentence than the applicant who was a mere youth; because of the statement and recommendation of the man who was injured and the recommendations of the Mayor and members of the police force of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, the Mayor of Wellsville, Ohio, and others, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released, will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: In the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Lehigh, at Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4, January Sessions 1927, Charles Cane, alias Charles C. Kane, alias William Kuhns, was convicted of assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, playfully and wantonly pointing a gun, carrying a concealed deadly weapon, playfully and wantonly discharging a gun, assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery with intent, breaking and entering, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, and on January 5, 1927, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of one hundred dollars ($100.00), costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than eleven and one-half nor more than twenty-three years.

In the same Court, at Nos. 5 and 6, the same term, Joseph Lenon was convicted of carrying a concealed deadly weapon, playfully and wantonly pointing a gun, playfully and wantonly discharging a gun, assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery with intent, and on January 5, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25.00), costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than three years and six months nor more than seven years.

Convict Cane is twenty-nine years of age and Convict Lenon twenty-seven years of age. Neither had any stated occupation. Both were unmarried. Convict Cane formerly resided in Hoboken, New Jersey, and Convict Lenon in the City of Brooklyn, New York.

On September 24, 1926, the McBride Silk Mill, at Fullerton, Pennsylvania, was broken into by several men. The night watchman, Charles Beutelspacher, was handcuffed to a loom, struck by a revolver and had a gun pointed at him during the time he was so handcuffed, while other men removed $13,165.00 worth of silk from the mill.

On October 14, 1926, Convicts Cane and Lenon were arrested on suspicion in Northampton County, Pennsylvania while traveling in a Haynes sedan bearing a New York license plate. A thirty-eight caliber revolver was found on Lennon's person. They were brought to Allentown and placed under arrest. Two days later while they were being conveyed to the Lehigh County jail by William Fink, the constable, to await a hearing, both convicts pounced upon and assaulted Fink with their fists until passersby came to his aid and overpowered them. Subsequently, Beutelspacher, the night watchman of the McBride Mill, identified Convict Cane as the man who had hit him with the gun during the robbery of the mill and as the man who had pointed a gun at him while he was handcuffed to a loom. He was also identified by a garage keeper as the man who had purchased spark plugs at his garage on the night of the mill robbery and as the man who was driving a car with a New York License plate. Convict Lennon was indicted for an affair which occurred at the Alpine Hotel in Allentown on October 14, 1926, in which both convicts engaged in a barroom fight during which Convict Lennon fired a shot, and was also indicted for assault upon Fink, the constable.

Both convicts have now served one year and four months of their respective terms of imprisonment. Both have extended criminal records.

The present application for pardon is made by the First Assistant Prosecutor of the Pleas in and for the County of Essex, New Jersey, and is made for the sole purpose of obtaining the immediate custody of the said Cane and Lennon so that both may be shortly tried on indictments for murder which have been returned against them in the said County and State.

It is alleged in support of the present application that they have sufficient evidence to convict these men of murder in the first degree and they feel that if these men serve out their present sentences in Pennsylvania the necessary witnesses to prove the murder in New Jersey and their identification as the perpetrators may become difficult, if not impossible. For this reason they have asked that these convicts be turned over to them for immediate trial on the capital charge.

In consideration of the facts recited and accepting the assurance of the First Assistant Prosecutor of the County of Essex, New Jersey, that they have sufficient evidence to convict Cane and Lennon of murder in the first degree we have concluded that the said Cane and Lennon should now be pardoned of the offenses for which they are undergoing imprisonment in order that they may be taken to New Jersey to stand trial for murder.

Sir: In the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny at No. 43 February Sessions 1918, Jesse W. Fail was convicted of murder in the second degree and on May 7, 1918 was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of not less than fifteen years nor more than twenty years.

At No. 41, of the same term, and in the same Court, the said Jesse W. Fail, pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree, and on May 7, 1918 was sentenced to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten years nor more than twelve years,—the last mentioned sentence to take effect at the expiration of the former sentence.

The applicant is forty-three years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, colored, and is by occupation a carpenter. At the time of his arrest, he was working for James L. Stuart of Pittsburgh, in construction work. He was married and resided in the City of Pittsburgh.

The applicant was accused to having shot and killed one Arthur Brown and Lulu B. Fail, his wife, at his home in the City of Pittsburgh, on December 12, 1918, about 1.30 p. m.

The applicant and Arthur Brown knew one another in Richton, Mississippi, where both resided. Brown became infatuated with the wife of the applicant. Later, Brown induced the applicant to go to Pittsburgh, where their acquaintance was renewed, as well as the intimacy between Brown and the wife of the applicant. The applicant caught Brown twice in the act of adultery with his wife, but he forgave her on the promise of both that the illicit relationship would cease. Subsequently, the applicant was told by his five-year old daughter that Brown had again visited his home. He upbraided his wife for permitting Brown to come again to the house. She denied that Brown was in the city. The applicant knowing otherwise went to the home of Brown and persuaded him to come over to his house. An altercation then ensued between Brown, the applicant, and the applicant's wife, during the course of which the double-killing occurred. The applicant claims that he shot Brown after the latter placed his hand in his bosom coupled with an oath and a command that the applicant should not raise the gun which he carried in his hand. In the meanwhile, the applicant's wife came up with a revolver in her hand. She said to her husband with an oath, "Don't raise up," and, when she repeated it a second time, he shot and killed her. The applicant claims that Brown had threatened to kill him; that his wife was loading the revolver which she had threatened him with before, and that he acted in self-defense. He pleaded guilty to the one bill with the expectation that the sentence on the two bills would be made to run concurrently with the first sentence.

The applicant has now served ten years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The sentence which he received was excessive in the view of the trial District Attorney.

There was filed with the board a letter from the last named official, in which he recommends clemency. He states that the applicant rendered the Commonwealth "most valuable assistance" in the trial and conviction of certain convicts who killed two guards in the Western Penitentiary during a mutiny which occurred several years ago. There was also filed with the board a telegram from Warden Egan, in which he strongly recommends clemency because of the applicant's specially good behavior in the institution and because of his assistance in bringing to punishment the convicts who engineered the mutiny in the Western Penitentiary, just referred to. There was also filed with the Board letters from two attorneys residing in Richton, Mississippi, who were well acquainted with the applicant while he resided in that state, certifying to his having been a peaceable and law-abiding citizen. There was also a letter filed from one of the proprietors of a department store in Richton to the same effect. All recommended clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the excessive sentence imposed by the Court; because of the recommendations of the trial District Attorney, Warden Egan of the Penitentiary, and others, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now released, he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 46, June Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Allegheny, Lester Welch was convicted of murder in the first degree and, on May 26, 1927, was sentenced to be electrocuted.

The applicant is thirty-four years of age and is a native-born citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest, he was employed as a tool-dresser by the Harbison-Walker Refractories Company, at Hays Borough, Allegheny County, and resided in the City of Pittsburgh with Mrs. Annie Exline.

On April 4, 1926, and for about one month prior thereto, the applicant and Annie Exline, co-habited in the City of Pittsburgh. They had known one another for a period of two years prior to the date mentioned and had intermittently lived together. The deceased, a widow, was forty-seven years of age and the applicant thirty-three years of age. The relations existing between them previous to the homicide were friendly. The applicant had been drinking during the night previous to the murder, and on the morning of April 4, 1926, became seriously ill and violent. Mrs. Exline called a friend, Mrs. Stella Stutzman, to come and assist her in taking care of the applicant. Mrs. Stutzman states that the applicant was in his bed in his night clothes yelling loudly. Both women sought to pacify the applicant, who was in a violent state. Mrs. Exline did not seem to fear him, but Mrs. Stutzman was afraid and notified the police. The latter on arriving at the home of the applicant, heard his ravings in the bedroom of the deceased, forced open the door, and found him smeared with blood, raving over her dead body. They found him tearing her flesh to pieces with his teeth. There was evidence of a brutal killing and mutilation of the deceased's body. The presence of the police did not stop his ravings or affect his conduct, and it required four policemen to subdue him.

Shortly after the commission of the crime, the applicant signed a paper purporting to be a confession of the murder.

It is claimed on behalf of the applicant that he was of unsound mind due to alcoholism and epilepsy. At the trial he was represented by a young and inexperienced attorney who failed to present to the Court and the jury medical testimony as to his mentality at the time of the killing, believing that the jury, without medical testimony, on account of the horrible circumstances of the crime, would have no difficulty in arriving at the conclusion that the applicant was insane.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency:

Dr. J. W. McMeans, the Coroner's physician, who saw the applicant in the police headquarters on the day of his arrest states that the applicant had in his presence an undoubted seizure of major epilepsy. He concludes: "It is my opinion that this man had an epileptiform attack, and, upon the basis of epilepsy, may be a sufferer of an unusual mental complex, not infrequently associated with this disease."

Benjamin Lencher, trial assistant at the prosecution, states his opinion that the applicant was not sane, within the meaning of the law, at the time of the commission of the offense. He says: "Everything he did confirms the opinion that he was a sex-maddened Sadist, far beyond normal, mental control."

Peter A. Connors, Superintendent of Police of Pittsburgh, states that he believes that the applicant was not in his right senses when he committed the crime and adds that he did not expect a first degree verdict, nor was such a verdict looked for by the police officers generally.

Detective Sweeney was present in police headquarters when the applicant had the seizure described by Dr. McMeans. He avers that the fit lasted for three-quarters of an hour and that Dr. McMeans pried open the teeth of the applicant with a spoon. He states, that the verdict rendered was not expected by the police department.

Detective Ferns states that he was present in police headquarters when the applicant was brought in, immediately after the commission of the crime. He further states that the later was covered with blood, that he raved like a maniac and barked like a dog.

Dr. C. C. Wholey, of Pittsburgh, an alienist, examined the applicant at the request of the attorneys who filed this application. He states, inter alia: "It is my opinion that he was violently insane at the time of the commitment of the crime."

Dr. William C. Sandy, an alienist connected with the Department of Welfare, at the request of the Board also examined the applicant. He concludes his report by stating that the writer believes the prisoner was not at the time of the crime responsible. His condition was probably due to alcoholism, and that he should be seriously considered for commutation of the sentence.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the statement contained in the letters of Dr. McMean, the Coroner's physician and the detective officers; because of the reports of Dr. Wholey and Dr. Sandy, both alienists, and the recommendation of the trial assistant District Attorney, we believe that the sentence of death heretofore imposed upon the applicant should be commuted to life imprisonment. It is the unanimous opinion of the Board that the applicant should be confined in a State hospital for the criminal insane for the remainder of his life.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that the sentence of death heretofore imposed on the said Lester Welch be commuted to life imprisonment.

Sir: At No. 883, July Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the City and County of Philadelphia, Hugh Millien was convicted of murder in the first degree and on May 13, 1927, was sentenced to be electrocuted.

The applicant is forty-seven years of age, a native-born American citizen, colored, and is by occupation a skilled automobile mechanic and was so employed in the City of Philadelphia where he resided. He is married.

The applicant was convicted of killing John F. Barksdale on June 8, 1926. Several days prior thereto the applicant accused the deceased of revealing to a woman who was inquiring for him the fact that he was a married man, and made the threat to "get even" with him. On the afternoon of the day of the murder the applicant called at the barber shop of the deceased, at No. 50 East Sharpnack Street, Philadelphia, and inquired for him, during his absence. The deceased returned to his barber shop shortly after sundown and started to shave several customers. One customer had left the barber chair and the barber was lathering the face of the second customer when the applicant entered the shop, raised a Winchester shotgun and fired one shot at Barksdale, who fell to the floor. The applicant subsequently fired two more shots and walked out. He was seen going down the street on a trot with the gun on his arm. Barksdale died.

There was filed with the Board the affidavit of Dr. George L. Bayton, of Philadelphia, who deposes that he was called by the applicant's sister, Mrs. Eva Guy, between the years 1920 and 1923, to make a physical examination of the applicant who was subject to epileptic fits causing him to be violent. He deposes that he visited the applicant six times during that period and that he found him extremely nervous, administered narcotic drugs and prescribed absolute rest and quiet under careful observation. He further deposes that the applicant was not responsible for his actions while under the influence of the epileptic fits to which he was subject and that as a result of this epileptic condition his mind had become so weakened that he did not appreciate the seriousness of his acts. The affidavit of Dr. Robley D. Snively, of Philadelphia, was also filed in which he states that he has been a practicing physician for thirty-three years; that he was called to attend the applicant twice during the year 1916 and found him suffering from epilepsy and in such a nervous and excitable state that it was necessary to administer narcotic drugs to quiet him. He further avers that the applicant is not responsible for his actions while under the influence of these epileptic fits which would ordinarily weaken him physically, and mentally.

The affidavit of Dr. R. W. Bailey, of Germantown, Philadelphia, was also filed in which he states that he has been practicing medicine for twenty-three years; that he had examined the applicant several times in the year 1924 and found him suffering from the effect of epilepsy to such an extent that he had to administer narcotics to quiet him. He further avers that in his judgment the applicant is not responsible for his actions while under the influence of these epileptic fits and that his mind has become so weakened as to render him unappreciative of the seriousness of his acts.

A second affidavit from Dr. Bayton was filed in which he states that on June 6, 1926, (two days before the shooting), he was called by Mr. Eva Guy, the sister of the applicant, to examine the latter and found him suffering from epilepsy and that he was required to administer narcotic drugs to quiet him. He further states that he believes that the murder committed was in large measure the after-effect of the epileptic fit for which he treated him two days previously.

The wife and sister of the applicant in affidavits filed state that on the sixth of June, 1926, two days before the murder, the applicant suffered from a violent epileptic fit and that Dr. Bayton was called in and gave him narcotic drugs to quiet him.

At the request of the Board, Dr. William C. Sandy, alienist, Director of the Bureau of Mental Health, in the State Welfare Department, examined the applicant and found him to be a chronic epileptic and states that while he is not mentally deficient (feeble-minded), nevertheless he is epileptic and from a medical standpoint would not be considered fully competent.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case and of the affidavits of three reputable physicians and members of the applicant's family; because of the statement of Dr. Sandy, alienist, we have concluded that the sentence of death heretofore imposed on the applicant should be commuted to life imprisonment. It is the unanimous sense of the Board that the applicant should be confined in a State hospital for the Criminal Insane, for the remainder of his life.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that the sentence of death heretofore imposed on the said Hugh Millien be commuted to life imprisonment.

Sir: At Nos. 5, 15, and 15½, January Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Mifflin, Harold Adams pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with Felonious Entry, Breaking Prison and Escaping, and Larceny, and on December 17, 1923, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of $300.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant, now twenty-two years old, was, at the time of his sentence only seventeen years of age. He is a native-born American citizen, and an automobile mechanic by trade. At the time of his arrest he was employed by the John H. Miller Sand Mine, at Burnham, Mifflin County. He then resided in Lewistown with his parents, who are poor financially. His father is a cripple and invalid and the applicant was the support of the family.

In October, 1923, the applicant became associated with Joseph Eward, Jr., and John Vanollman, two men of bad character. They persuaded him (a boy of seventeen years of age) to join them in robbing the store of I. F. Walters, where they took a few small articles such as cigarettes, tobacco, and a little money. The charge of larceny involved the theft of an automobile belonging to Dan Miller, of Burnham. The automobile was taken in order to effect their escape. The circumstances of the escape from jail were as follows: Baker, a convict, was established by the Sheriff as a "trusty" in the residence part of the jail. He took the keys from the jail office, where they were hanging, opened the doors of the jail, and told Vanollman and the applicant, that they "were going out on bail." The latter picked up the handbag containing his clothing and went out of the door. They then scaled the wall and escaped.

The applicant has now served four years and six months of his term of imprisonment.

The Trial Judge, the Trial District Attorney, the present District Attorney, and the Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts of Mifflin County, have filed letters with the Board recommending clemency because of the youth of the applicant, the severe sentence received, and because he was influenced and misled by older men of bad character.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when these crimes were committed; the term of imprisonment already served; and because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge, the Trial District Attorney, the present District Attorney, and Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 76, February Session, 1920, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Allegheny, Raymond Dice alias Gilbert Livingston pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with Breaking and Escaping from the Penitentiary, and on September 7, 1923, was sentenced to pay a fine of six and one-quarter cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two years and not more than five years.

The applicant is thirty years of age and a native-born American citizen. He is a salesman by occupation, but before his arrest for the present offense he was managing a restaurant in New York City, where he resided at that time.

The applicant, on August 4, 1919, was sentenced by the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Blair, on the charge of Burglary and Larceny, to serve a term of not less than three years and nine months nor more than five years in the Western Penitentiary. After being in prison one month and six days, he escaped and led an honest and industrious life until in 1923 he was arrested as an escaped convict and returned to Pittsburgh. In May, 1921, while out of prison, he married an estimable woman who is connected with the Kingsley Association, Pittsburgh, and who at the time did not know of his criminal record, but who has proven an affectionate and loyal wife.

The applicant is now serving in the Penitentiary the remainder of the original sentence imposed for Burglary, the maximum of which expires on July 31, 1928. The sentence for Breaking and Escaping does not become effective until the expiration of the first sentence.

The Trial District Attorney has filed a letter with the Board in which while not recommending clemency he indicates a favorable attitude.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the good record of the applicant before he was sentenced for Burglary, and his excellent record between the time he escaped from the Penitentiary and was recaptured; because of the favorable attitude of the Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he will have been sufficiently punished at the expiration of his sentence for Burglary and should not be required to serve the additional term of imprisonment on the charge of Escaping from the Penitentiary.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Raymond Dice alias Gilbert Livingston on the charge of Breaking and Escaping from the Penitentiary."

Sir: At Nos. 25 and 27, June Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Philadelphia, Edward Sullivan, was convicted of assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery with intent to ravish and rape, rape and fornication and bastardy, and on December 3, 1926, was sentenced on the first indictment to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than six years, nor more than twelve years, and on the second indictment (charging fornication and bastardy), the applicant was sentenced to pay the sum of $3.00 per week from February 3, 1927, for sixteen years, and to enter his recognizance in the sum of $500.00 for the faithful performance of the order of the court and to pay the costs of prosecution.

The applicant is twenty-nine years of age, a native-born American citizen, married, and at the time of his arrest was Assistant Yard Master of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, residing in the City of Philadelphia.

The applicant is charged with having forcibly ravished one, Eleanor Clancy, a girl under the age of sixteen, as the result of which a child was born. It is alleged that this crime was committed on the night of August 20, 1925, between 8:30 and 10:30, while she and one Anna Clark, the applicant and another man were taking an automobile ride together about the streets of Philadelphia, in the car driven by the applicant. Anna Clark flatly contradicted the story of the prosecutrix, and testified that she sat on the front seat with the applicant who drove the car; that the prosecutrix was in the back seat with the other man and that at no time while the four were together did the applicant leave the front seat of the automobile nor was there any sexual intercourse between the prosecutrix and the applicant. The latter also denied the story of the assault.

The applicant has now served almost two years of the term of imprisonment imposed on the first indictment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His wife is in delicate health and requires his support. The District Attorney's Office by its representative present at the hearing opposed the application, but not strongly.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the grave doubt as to the guilt of the applicant on the charge of rape; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because the applicant's wife who is in delicate health requires his support; in consideration of the fact that the representative of the District Attorney's office who was present at the hearing did not strongly oppose the application, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished on the charge of rape embodied in the first indictment and should not suffer further imprisonment by reason thereof. This action of the Board, however, in no wise affects the sentence imposed by the court on the charge of fornication and bastardy.

Sir: At Nos. 33 to 40, November Term, 1924, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny, Richard Thornton, pleaded guilty to eight indictments charging burglary and receiving stolen goods, and on November 21, 1924, was sentenced by the court in the aggregate to pay a fine of fifty cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years or more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-six years of age and a native-born American citizen. He is by occupation an electrician. He is unmarried.

In August, 1924, the applicant came from Cleveland, Ohio, to Pittsburgh in search of work. Shortly thereafter he met in a restaurant a man named Jackson, and later was introduced to Frank Jordan. Both these men were out of work, and learning that the applicant was also idle and practically penniless they suggested that he accompany them in search of work. Instead of trying to find jobs they soon informed him they were going to rob several houses which they had looked over and urged the applicant to go with them. Prompted by financial distress and despondency he finally agreed to accompany them. After taking goods from the homes of William J. Brandt, W. H. Wormsley and others, on August 31st and September 1st, 1924, the three men were stopped on the street as suspicious persons by two policemen. Jackson managed to escape. Some of the stolen goods were found on Jordan and the applicant and they were placed under arrest and subsequently tried and convicted. The applicant entered pleas of guilty while Jordan pleaded not guilty to all of the indictments. The latter, one of the plotters of the burglary and a participant in all of them was found guilty on the minor charge of receiving stolen goods. He received a sentence of one and one-half to three years in the Western Penitentiary and was paroled in May, 1926, and finally discharged in November, 1927. The applicant who was induced to join in these crimes previously planned by others, and who pleaded guilty, received a severer sentence. Jackson was never apprehended and received no punishment for his part in the thefts. The applicant was only twenty-two years of age when these crimes were committed.

The applicant has now served three years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never charged with or convicted of crime except that in 1923 he was, while in the State of Ohio, sentenced to thirty days in the work-house for larceny. His prison record is excellent.

The Trial Judge is dead. The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter recommending clemency. A number of letters recommending pardon have been filed. Senator Einstein, Mayor Kline, the Superintendent of Police of the City of Pittsburgh, Police Magistrate Hough, and others urge pardon. Two of the men who were robbed ask clemency. One of them, William Brant, a prominent citizen of Pittsburgh has actively interested himself in behalf of the applicant. Employment has been offered him if released. His mother sixty-nine years of age is destitute and requires his support.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the excessive sentence imposed upon the applicant; his prior good record, with a minor exception; his comparative youth when the crime was committed; because of the recommendations of the Trial District Attorney and other officials; because his accomplices are out of prison; because employment has been offered him if released; because his aged mother requires support, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 131, February Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Westmoreland, James Horvath pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with murder, the degree of which was fixed by the Court as murder in the second degree, and on February 14, 1924, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, thirty-one years of age. His occupation was that of "dealer in salvaging material." At the time of his arrest he resided in Yukon, Westmoreland County, with his wife, who, since his incarceration, has obtained a divorce.

The applicant and Verna Frenock were married on September 1, 1922. They later moved to Yukon, at the request of the applicant's wife, so that she could be near her parents. On or about August 20, 1925, being unable to find a suitable place to rent, they established their home with Louis Frenock, the applicant's father-in-law. From the beginning, bickering and family quarrels occurred. On November 25, 1923, at the dinner-table, one of the series of quarrels ensued, after which the applicant told his wife that he would obtain a divorce unless she would leave the home of her parents and live with him elsewhere. The wife replied that she would not leave her parents and that if the applicant applied for a divorce she would contest it. About 4:00 o'clock, that afternoon, the applicant went to his sister's house. Two days later, upon entering the kitchen of the home of his father-in-law, he was met by his wife who told him that her father was very drunk and angry with the applicant. She advised him to leave town for several days until her father sobered up. Acting on this suggestion, on the morning of the 28th, the applicant went to his father-in-law's home to get a traveling bag and wearing apparel. Upon entering the kitchen, situated in the rear of the house, he was met by his father-in-law, still under the influence of liquor, who demanded that he leave the house immediately. In order to avoid trouble the applicant left the kitchen and started toward the front of the house and to the street. He was then attacked by his father-in-law and, believing his life was in danger, shot his father-in-law twice with fatal results. This is the applicant's account of the crime.

The present District Attorney (not the Trial District Attorney), has filed with the Board a statement of the crime in which he says that the applicant broke the kitchen window and through it fired three shots at his father-in-law, who at the time was in the kitchen, two of which struck him with fatal results.

The applicant has now served four years and four months of his term of imprisonment. He was in the United States Marines during the World War and has an honorable discharge. His mother, seventy-two years of age, is in destitute circumstances and dependent on the applicant for support. Employment has been offered him by a wealthy coal operator if released. During his incarceration he took by correspondence the Mining Course at the Pennsylvania State College and successfully passed the examination for fire boss, assistant mine foreman, second-grade mine foreman and first-class mine foreman.

Professor William G. Duncan of the School of Mines, Pennsylvania State College, under whom the applicant studied, is strongly interested in his behalf and has presented this application for pardon.

There were filed with the Board many letters urging clemency. Captain McLaughlin, of the State Police, urges pardon. The Trial District Attorney has filed a letter which indicates a favorable attitude towards clemency. Without adverting to the circumstances which led to the crime, he states, "if deportment, * * * educational development, earnest and sincere application * * * by study along technical lines, by this inmate, to successfully engage in industrial pursuits * * * weigh with your Board in determining whether or not clemency to the applicant for pardon should be granted, I believe this application should have favorable consideration at your hands. My opinion is, and I believe the same to be true, that James Horvath has made such a record for himself under very adverse and trying circumstances and surroundings. He, therefore, ought to become a useful citizen if given an opportunity."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; the excellent prison record of the applicant and the extraordinary effort which he has put forth to qualify himself for the duties of citizenship when released; because employment has been offered him by a responsible person if liberated; because his aged mother is in destitute circumstances and requires his support; because of the many letters filed with the Board recommending clemency, and in consideration of the letters of Captain McLaughlin of the State Police and the Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 15-184, June Term, 1927, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Fayette, Joseph Price was convicted of Felonious Burglary, Larceny, and Receiving Stolen Goods, and on June 30, 1927, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of six cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than three nor more than seven years.

The applicant is twenty-four years of age, a native-born American citizen, and a laborer by occupation. At the time of his arrest he was employed by the R. B. Hayes Coal Company, in Fayette County, as a driver in the mines. He is married and resided at Fairchance, Fayette County.

On the night of April 24, 1927, some person burglarized the dwelling house of Mrs. E. A. Laughery, at Fairchance, Fayette County, and removed six gallons of wine, valued at approximately $30.00, one aluminum roaster, and one aluminum kettle valued at $12.50. It was learned that several men had spent the night at the home of J. H. Hughes, located near the Laughery home and that they had been drinking wine. The officers found wine in the Hughes home and were informed by Mr. Hughes that it had been brought there by Robert Hughes and by the applicant, who is a nephew of Mrs. Laugh-

ery. No one saw the applicant remove the wine, but Mrs. Laugherty testified that the former knew that she had wine in her cellar and that he had been in and around her house on many different occasions.

The applicant has now served approximately one year of his term of imprisonment. His prior record is good with the exception that on a previous occasion he entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Fayette County to a charge of Larceny, for which offense he was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and paroled for a period of two years. The applicant has a wife and one child and two aged parents who require his financial assistance.

There was filed with the Board letters from the Trial Judge, the Trial District Attorney, and Assistant Trial District Attorney, in which they state that in their judgment the applicant has been sufficiently punished; that the ends of justice have been met and they accordingly recommend clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; the need which his family and aged parents have of support; because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge, Trial District Attorney, and Assistant Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 34, February Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Montgomery, Robert Thomas, was convicted of murder in the second degree and on May 4, 1925, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight years nor more than sixteen years, to be computed from February 28, 1925.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, colored, aged about thirty years. He was employed as a laborer in the Alan Wood Iron and Steel Company plant at Ivy Rock, Montgomery County. He has a wife and child three years old.

On December 26, 1924, the applicant returned from work at 6:30 P. M. Shortly thereafter William Taylor (the decedent), Sam Booker and Leslie Morgan, all colored, mere acquaintances of the applicant, without invitation and without rapping on the door, entered the house occupied by the applicant. The three men had been drinking. The applicant was sober. The latter asked the men to leave. After some argument the three men withdrew. About an hour later Taylor and Booker returned. A colored man named White, who roomed on the second floor of the house, overheard Booker say to Taylor, "have you got your gun," Taylor replied in the affirmative. Immediately thereafter Taylor and Booker again entered the house. Taylor kept his hand on his hip pocket and called the applicant an opprobrious name and said he would fight it out with fists or shoot it out. Taylor said to the applicant "if you were to come to my house and call me . . . in the presence of my wife I would kill you." Taylor also said to Booker, "I don't like that black scoundrel," referring to the applicant. The latter then went to the third floor of the house, procured a double-barreled shot-gun, came to the second floor and asked White to go down and try to induce Taylor and Booker to leave. White went to the first floor and closed the door of the staircase. The applicant remained on the stairway half-way between the second and first floors. Taylor and Booker refused to leave. Taylor was calling upon White to let the applicant down. The latter was able, through a hole in the door, to observe what was taking place near the door. When the applicant saw Taylor with a revolver try to get White away from the door, applicant broke a panel in the door and pushed the gun through the hole and fired toward the floor. The shot entered the groin of Taylor. The police came, removed Taylor to the hospital, where he died in the receiving ward. The applicant was arrested, taken to the hospital and shown the body of Taylor. He admitted that he shot him and declared that had he not done so Taylor would have killed him.

The applicant has now served three years and four months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. The killing was obviously unpremeditated; the controversy which led up to it was not provoked by the applicant, and the force which he employed was in self-defense and seemed necessary to protect his life.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because his wife and child require his support; in consideration of the fact that the applicant was not the aggressor in this affair and that the crime committed was unpremeditated and in defense of his home and person, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that pardon be now granted to the said Robert Thomas.

Sir: At Nos. 512, August Sessions, 1924, and 198, January Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Stewart Wright, pleaded guilty to two indictments charging him with larceny, and on January 20, 1925, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than six years, nor more than twelve years.

The applicant is twenty-six years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, unmarried, and is by occupation an automobile mechanic. He has always resided in the city of Philadelphia with his parents, and has aided in their maintenance and support.

The applicant was charged with the larceny of a Ford Sedan automobile and a Brockway automobile truck, in October, 1923, and July, 1924, respectively. Both cars were subsequently recovered by the police and restored to their owners. The applicant was one of a gang of seven automobile thieves led by Clifford Payton, who was twelve years older than the applicant. At the time of these thefts the latter was twenty-three years of age.

The applicant has now served three years and five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime except at the age of nineteen he pleaded guilty to the charge of taking an automobile for a "joy ride" (without intent to steal), and was sentenced and placed on probation for one year, which probation he faithfully carried out.

The Trial Judge by a telegram and by letter to the Board has recommended clemency. The District Attorney's office, while not joining in the application, is favorable thereto as evidenced by the oral statement of the representative of that office. A number of letters from prominent citizens of Philadelphia recommending clemency have been filed with the Board. The President of the Board of Trustees of the Penitentiary has offered to become sponsor for the future good conduct of the applicant and has offered to give him employment if released. Three other responsible citizens have also offered employment. The parents of the applicant by reason of age and poor health require support. All of his accomplices have been liberated. Payton, the leader of the gang, was pardoned by this Board in January, 1928.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant (with a single exception, not grave); because of the term of imprisonment already served; because of his excellent prison record; his comparative youth when the crimes were committed; because his accomplices have been liberated; because of the recommendation of the Trial Judge and the favorable attitude of the District Attorney's office; because his parents require his aid in their support; because employment has been offered him by four responsible citizens, and because the President of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern Penitentiary has offered employment and agrees to become sponsor for his good conduct, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Stewart Wright.

Sir: At No. 14, December Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of McKean, James C. Shuman pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery with intent to commit rape, and on December 13, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of Ten Dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, thirty-two years of age, a painter and decorator by occupation, and was so employed in the city of Bradford, McKean County, at the time of his arrest. He is unmarried and resided in that city.

On November 13, 1926, about four P. M., the applicant and one Axel Mannerburg were driving toward the city of Bradford when they passed Sara Simon walking in the direction in which they were going. The applicant asked her if she was going to town; she got into the car, all three of them occupying the front seat. The girl asked the applicant to drive her to several places in the city. When they came to the Emery Landing Field she asked the applicant to let her drive the car. He turned around and kissed her on the neck, but she said she did not like his kisses. She then drove the car to Limestone and back to Bradford and then to various points in the city. She stopped at the Tyler home, went into the house about five minutes, saying that she would call up her mother. The road was wet and slippery, and the applicant told her that he had better drive the car himself. She drove the car a short distance, stopped it in the middle of the street, they changed seats, and as they changed seats she sat down on the applicant's lap and put her arms around his neck. He fondled her and she made no objections. He then took her home, the applicant going into the house with her, as he was on friendly terms with the family. The father of the girl left the room and went up stairs and shortly came down with her and said to the applicant: "See that mark on Sarah's neck, what do you mean?" The applicant replied that if her neck was marked he was sorry, that he had done nothing to the girl and brought her back home just as she was when she entered the car. It was about six P. M. when they stopped the car in the middle of the road and they remained there not more than five minutes.

Two days later the applicant was arrested on the charge of rape. This charge was not pressed against him and he was asked by the prosecutor (the father of the girl), to plead guilty to the charge of assault with intent to ravish, and he did this with the understanding that the charge would not be pressed against him and that the case would be settled out of court. The applicant had no counsel, no witnesses, and no assistance.

The applicant has now served nine months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There were filed with the Board letters from the present District Attorney, the Trial District Attorney, the County Detective and the Trial Judge, in which they state that they have no objections to the granting of a pardon. There was also filed with the Board a communication from the father and mother of the girl in which they state that the applicant has been sufficiently punished, and asking for a pardon. There was also filed a numerously-signed petition of citizens, male and female, requesting clemency. The brother of the applicant filed with the Board an affidavit in which he states that he visited the applicant in the County Jail after his arrest and advised the applicant to plead guilty to the charge of assault; that the applicant told him that he was not guilty of assault but would make such a plea with the assurance that he would not be sent to prison, but would receive a suspended sentence, and further avers that he advised his brother to make such a plea on suggestion of the prosecutor in the case.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the grave doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the favorable attitude of the Trial Judge, Trial District Attorney and present District Attorney; because of the recommendations of the father and mother of the girl, and the petition of citizens requesting clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished; that if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said James C. Shuman.

Sir: At No. 35, April Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Franklin, James S. Kerns was convicted of larceny and on May 5, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of Twenty-five Dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than eighteen months nor more than three years.

The applicant is twenty-three years of age and a native-born American citizen. He is an automobile mechanic by occupation and at the time of his arrest was employed as a brakeman by the Western Maryland Railroad Company and resided in the State of Maryland. He has a wife and one small child. He has an honorable discharge after serving from 1917 to 1919 in the United States Army.

In May, 1926, George Bricker, of Chambersburg, owned an Oakland touring car. At that time the applicant was a resident of Hagerstown, Maryland. The two men were unacquainted. About this time the applicant met a man by the name of P. A. Slimm. Slimm and Bricker had been fellow-inmates in the Eastern Penitentiary. Shortly thereafter the applicant was requested by a Mrs. Weaver to drive three men, Slimm, Bowers and Markell, in her car, from Hagerstown to Chambersburg. He drove the men to Chambersburg, to the home of Bricker, and shortly thereafter returned to Hagerstown with Bowers. That same night Slimm, Markell and a stranger motored to Hagerstown and on the following day the applicant was requested by Slimm to do some work on the car which they had brought from Chambersburg. The applicant believed that he was repairing Slimm's car. About this time he removed from Hagerstown to a point eighteen miles distant. In June, 1926, Slimm asked the applicant to do additional repair work on the car. The applicant did the work, the bill amounting to the sum of $65.00. The bill was unpaid and the car was left with the applicant. From this time until about the middle of November, 1926, the applicant had the car in his possession, holding it for his bill for repairs, and drove the car about the streets of Hagerstown in full view of everybody. About November 15, 1926, the car was taken from the home of the applicant and was afterwards found abandoned on a State highway about one and one-half miles distant. The applicant took the car home. About the middle of January, 1927, Markell and Bowers and some men unknown to the applicant came to his home and demanded the car. The applicant refused to give it up. After some talk the applicant was informed for the first time that the car in question belonged to Bricker. The applicant then turned over the car to the men, went to Chambersburg and told Bricker about the matter and demanded payment of the repair bill due him. Bricker agreed to pay the bill if the applicant would locate the car which the latter failed to do. Subsequently, the applicant was arrested for the theft of the car, and came on to Chambersburg without extradition. The applicant never knew that Bricker had a car or that a car had been stolen from him until informed by the men who came to his home and forcibly took the car away. Slimm is a fugitive from justice, Bowers' whereabouts is unknown and Markell is an inmate of the Huntingdon Reformatory.

The applicant has now served one year and four months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His wife and small daughter are destitute and dependent upon him for support. Employment has been offered him if released.

There were filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency, among other a letter from the prosecutor in the case, one from the Sheriff of Washington County, Maryland, a letter from the Chaplain of the Penitentiary, and a letter from the Speaker of the House of Delegates of West Virginia.

The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a statement in which he recommends an unqualified pardon for the first time in thirteen years' service, because of doubt as to the applicant's guilt and because his wife and child are destitute and require support.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the grave doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because his wife and child require his support; because of the recommendation of the prosecutor and others, and in consideration of the strong appeal for clemency on the part of the Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said James S. Kerns.

Sir: At No. 12 December Term 1927, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Clearfield, John Frankland, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with robbery and on September 1, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven years nor more than fourteen years. This sentence was subsequently modified by the Court and the term of imprisonment reduced to a minimum of one and one-half years and maximum of three years.

The applicant is twenty-nine years of age and a native-born citizen of England. For the past fifteen years he has been a citizen of Australia and New Zealand. By occupation he is a seaman, and at the time of his arrest he was making his way from San Francisco to New York in order that he might secure employment on a vessel bound for his native land, believing that he would have a far better opportunity to do this in New York.

The night of August 29-30, 1927, he spent in Cleveland, Ohio. He accepted lifts from automobiles as they were offered him, as he was without sufficient funds to pay for his transportation, and also traveled afoot. On the morning of the day in question he had traveled about thirty miles when he either asked for or was offered a ride in a Ford car driven by two young men, whom he later found to be John Smith and William Cooper. They gave their destination as Maryland and offered to take him quite a way on his journey to New York. Upon approaching the town of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, they said they would have to get gas and oil and, inasmuch as they did not have much money, they thought it would be best to hold-up a gas station. The applicant objected to this. When they came to the Sterling Gas Station, on the outskirts of Clearfield, Smith told Cooper to stop and, drawing his gun, ordered the applicant to come with them into the office where they covered the attendant with the gun and ordered the applicant to take the money from the safe, which he did, and the money was given to Smith, who said we must get away from here. In passing through the town the applicant asked his companions to let him out of the machine as he did not want to have anything further to do with them. They refused to allow him to leave and continued on through Clearfield and toward the next town, approximately eighteen miles distant. As they approached the latter town they were stopped by a State Trooper who placed them under arrest and lodged them in the county jail at Clearfield. The applicant's sentence was reduced by the Court on the statements of Smith and Cooper that the applicant had nothing to do with the hold-up other than being a victim of circumstances.

The applicant has now served one year of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

The Secretary of the Sterling Oil Company, owner of the filling station which was robbed, has filed two letters with the Board in which, stating that the applicant was the victim of circumstances and that he has been sufficiently punished, he asks clemency. The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that Cooper and Smith were the ringleaders, and the applicant who had been recently discharged from the British Navy, was trying to get to New York and had merely begged a ride from these men. He also states that the applicant had suggested that they had better not hold up the gas station, but they did so and he was arrested with the others. He also states that he does not regard the applicant as a man of bad character nor as a man of criminal nature.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendation of the prosecutor in the case and the favorable attitude of the Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 30, September Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Centre, Lawrence Womer, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with adultery and enticing a female child under sixteen years of age, and on October 11, 1927, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than one and one-half years nor more than three years.

The applicant is twenty-nine years of age, a native-born American citizen. He was engaged in concrete work of all kinds in the borough of State College, and resided in that borough with his wife and four small children.

Hazel Fetzer, the child involved in the present case, was arrested shortly before July 8, 1927, for having been intimate with a married man by the name of Orvis Taylor, the information having been made by Taylor's wife. At that time she gave a list of names of the men with whom she alleged she had been intimate, among them the name of the applicant, whereupon he was arrested, and had a hearing before a Justice of the Peace, at which Hazel Fetzer appeared and testified that within one month of the hearing she had been intimate with ten men, exclusive of the applicant. Her story was that she and a girl by the name of Betty Moore, now confined in a female institution at Muncy, had been taken by Clayton Krebs and the applicant to a farmhouse near State College for immoral purposes. The applicant states that the girls offered to go with them and were not in any manner enticed to do so.

Upon the advice of his counsel the applicant pleaded guilty to the charges. It now appears that this girl at the time the offense was committed was more than sixteen years old, which, if true, would relieve him of the charge of enticing a female child under sixteen years of age. Unfortunately for him, under the law as it then stood the applicant was debarred from showing the ill-repute of the girl.

The applicant has now served eleven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before indicted for any criminal offense. He has an honorable discharge, having served overseas in the World War from 1916 to 1919.

The applicant's family is in a destitute condition and requires his support.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency. Among the writers are Charles E. Dorworth, Secretary of Forests and Waters, Colonel Theodore D. Boal, the Chief Burgess and President of the Borough Council of State College, John L. Holmes, member of the Assembly, the cashier of the First National Bank of State College, the president of the Farmers National Bank of Bellefonte, and other prominent citizens.

The Trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that had the Court been informed of the facts as set forth in the application for pardon the sentence would have been different. He further states that the ends of justice have been met and recommends a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; his excellent war record as an overseas veteran; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the destitute condition of his family, and because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge and many prominent citizens acquainted with the applicant, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., September 26, 1928.

Sir: At Nos. 26-1, February Term, 1927, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Montgomery, Moses V. Rogers pleaded guilty to the charge of voluntary manslaughter, and on February 25, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of Five Dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Montgomery County prison for a term of not less than three years nor more than six years, to be computed from November 8, 1926. The concluding part of the sentence is as follows: "In conclusion let me put on record that in my opinion this is a proper case for presentation, in right season, to the Board of Pardons."

The applicant is forty-two years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, colored, and at the time of his arrest was the janitor of the Haverford School, Haverford, where he had been continuously employed for ten years with the exception of the time he served in the World War. He resided with his wife in Ardmore.

On the evening of July 3, 1924, in Lower Merion Township, Montgomery County, the applicant and one Horace Pennell went to tear down a burning cross erected and set on fire by members of the Ku Klux Klan near their homes, a section of the township largely inhabited by colored people. After tearing down what remained of the cross and extinguishing the fire the applicant discharged from his revolver two shots in the air. A voice was then heard which frightened the applicant. He started to run and fell. As he fell his revolver was accidentally discharged. He jumped to his feet, started to run and fired a shot from his revolver to scare the people whom he thought were pursuing him. This last shot may have been, and probably was, the shot that proved fatal to Officer Francis X. Roy, who died from the effects of a gunshot wound, September 14, 1924. Three men were arrested, indicted and tried for the murder of Roy, but they were acquitted by a jury. The investigation was continued by the Lower Merion Police Department and Pennell and the applicant were finally arrested in November, 1926, charged with the killing of the officer. They both made statements as to their actions on this night. In consequence thereof they were indicted and tried, the result being that Pennell was acquitted by direction of the Trial Judge. The following day the applicant went to trial. He first pleaded not guilty but afterwards withdrew the plea and substituted a plea of guilty of voluntary manslaughter.

The applicant has now served one year and ten months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. The Trial Judge on June 29th, last, in refusing to parole the applicant, stated that he did so, "not because the application is necessarily devoid of all merit but because if relief is to be afforded the case is peculiarly one for executive clemency."

The Trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter which indicates a favorable attitude for pardon. Former Senator George Wharton Pepper has also filed with the Board a letter in which he states among other things that, "Rogers appears to have been convicted on testimony tending to show means and opportunity for the commission of the crime but which fell short of proof of its actual commission by him. He has been a model prisoner and those of us who are interested in the school feel that his previous good character, coupled with doubt as to his guilt, should tell in his favor at this critical moment in his life. The school authorities are ready and anxious to take him back at once in their employ. He has already served twenty-two months of his sentence. I feel justified in commending his case to the special attention of the Board."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the grave doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of favorable attitude of the Trial Judge as indicated in the sentence and in the order refusing parole; because of the favorable attitude of the Trial District Attorney and former Senator Pepper, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Moses V. Rogers.

Sir: At No. 47, November Term, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Montgomery, George Simmons, pleaded guilty to the crime of murder in the second degree and on February 19, 1924, was sentenced to pay a fine of Ten Dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Montgomery County Prison for a term of not less than eight years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is forty-three years of age and a native-born American citizen, colored, and at the time of his arrest was employed as a laborer in the Ehret Magnesia plant at Port Kennedy, Montgomery County. The applicant was divorced from his first wife and married a second time and has, by the second marriage, a child seven years old residing with her maternal grandmother.

The applicant with his wife and baby occupied one of the frame houses used by colored workmen at the Ehret Magnesia plant. It was shown at the trial that the applicant was in a bunk house under the influence of liquor; that his wife went to the second floor of the bunk house and sought to have the applicant come home with her. He refused and said he did not want to be nagged by her and that if she continued to nag him he would kill her. One shot was fired on the second floor of the house but apparently without having been aimed at the wife of the applicant. They came down to the first floor of the house and again the wife sought to have the husband return to their home. The latter repeated that his wife should stop nagging him or he would kill her. He then raised his revolver and shot her twice with fatal results. The applicant remained at the scene of the crime. At the trial of the case, when a number of intelligent witnesses testified that the applicant was so drunk that in their opinion he did not know what he was doing, it was agreed by the District Attorney and counsel for the applicant that a plea for murder in the second degree should be entered.

There is filed with the Board a joint certificate from the prison physician of Montgomery County and Doctor Miller, a practising physician, in which it was certified that they have examined the applicant and consulted over his condition and as a result they unite in the statement that he is affected with valvular disease of the heart and that that organ is enlarged to such an extent that a fatal seizure may come at any time; that the disease is incurable; that his condition will become progressively worse, and that his death is bound to result. They recommend clemency. The prosecutor in the case and the warden of the jail also request clemency. The Trial District Attorney writes the Board that he has no objection to the granting of pardon in this case.

The applicant has now served four years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before convicted of crime. His prison record is good as shown by the letter of the warden.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendation of the prosecutor in the case; the favorable attitude of the Trial District Attorney and the certificate of the two physicians as to his critical condition, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said George Simmons.

Sir: At No. 21, June Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Schuylkill, Joseph Bordulis was convicted of statutory rape and on October 31, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars, costs, and undergo imprisonment in the Schuylkill County prison for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is twenty-three years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, a miner by occupation, and at the time of his arrest he was working in the Mahanoy City Colliery, operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, and resided in Mahanoy City with his father and two brothers. He is unmarried.

The applicant was convicted of statutory rape committed May 2, 1927, on the person of one Anna George, a gypsy girl under the age of sixteen years. The girl, whose residence was in New York, was visiting her grandmother at Lakewood Park, Schuylkill County, Pennsylvania, an amusement resort near Mahanoy City. The grandmother of the girl is a palmist who made her headquarters for the summer at this park. On the night in question Anna George was at the roller skating rink, about 9:30 in the evening, when she was accosted by two young men who asked her if she "read hands." She replied in the negative. She left the skating rink with the young men to take them to her grandmother, and when they reached a point between the rink and her grandmother's tent she was seized by the young men and forced into an automobile, taken to a secluded spot in the mountains several miles distant and outraged. On their return to the park with the girl the automobile was wrecked and she ran into a house nearby and told what had occurred. State Police were summoned, and upon their arrival several men who were about the wrecked car were ordered into the house where the girl was, and she positively identified two of the men, Joseph Stocus and Adam Witkonis, as her assailants. Later she repeated this identification.

Both men were convicted of common law rape and sentenced to terms of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years. At the trial Stocus maintained that, while he was owner of the automobile, he had nothing to do with the assault, that Witkonis and the applicant were the assailants. After Stocus and Witkonis were sentenced the father of Stocus made information against the applicant, charging him with the crime. At the trial Anna George appeared as one of the witnesses for the Commonwealth and testified that Stocus and Witkonis were the men who had outraged her, that she did not know the applicant and had not seen him on the night of the assault. The prosecution then called eight or nine witnesses who testified that, subsequent to the arrest of Stocus, the applicant had told them that he was the guilty person and that Stocus had nothing to do with the crime. Notwithstanding the positive statement of Anna George, the victim, that the applicant was innocent, he was convicted. It was freely admitted by the prosecution at the trial of the applicant that his arrest was pursuant to a declaration by the Court that a parole application for Stocus, made upon the plea of innocence, would not be granted unless a conviction of the applicant was first had. After the conviction and sentence of the applicant, Stocus was paroled, and Witkonis also has since been released on parole.

The applicant has now served eleven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His two alleged accomplices have already been paroled by the Court.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the District Attorney in which he states, among other things, that while the applicant was found guilty by the jury, the lack of identification by the girl raises doubt as to his guilt, and recommends a pardon. There was also filed with the Board a letter from the Chief of Police of Mahanoy City stating that he has grave doubts as to the guilt of the applicant because the girl herself denied his guilt. He continues: "This defendant, however, seemingly, either from a desire to shield others or as a braggart, said he was the one that attacked her. There is no doubt but that he has a loose and wagging tongue and this was his undoing and got him into the trouble." He concludes: "There is so much doubt about this case that I feel a pardon should be granted this man."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the comparative youth of the applicant; the grave doubt of his guilt; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because his two alleged accomplices have already been paroled by the Court; in consideration of the recommendation of the Chief of Police of Mahanoy City and the favorable attitude of the District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Joseph Bordulis.

Sir: At No. 433, April Term, 1922, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Philip Tesone was convicted of murder in the second degree, with a recommendation to the mercy of the Court, and on January 27, 1923, was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar ($1.00), costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than eleven years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is twenty-nine years of age, an American by birth, unmarried, and at the time of his arrest was engaged in the barber supply business in the City of Philadelphia, in which city he resided with his mother, Anna Tesone, a widow, four sisters and one brother.

The history of the crime as contained in the application is as follows:

The applicant, James Markeselli and his brother, Julius, were friends. The Markeselli brothers were the owners of a certain "club" which they conducted in that city, which club was really a gambling establishment. On March 19, 1922, the applicant visited the club and one of the patrons created a disturbance. The applicant was accused by Julius Markeselli with having caused the trouble, and a fight ensued between them, in which the applicant was beaten. Julius Markeselli said to the applicant, "You will see what will happen to you if the place is raided," and threatened him with bodily harm. On the following day the applicant went into a saloon, where he chanced to meet James Markeselli. Fearing that he was being followed and that the threat which had been made might be executed, the applicant borrowed a gun from the bartender and started for home. He was followed out of the saloon by James Markeselli. The applicant asked him to go away, but he refused to do so and continued to follow the applicant, who fired a shot in order to frighten him. He continued to walk down the street, Markeselli being in pursuit, where he fired a second shot. Neither shot struck Markeselli. The applicant then started to run, Markeselli in pursuit, and when the latter was within a distance of eight or ten feet from the applicant the latter turned and fired a third shot, which struck Markeselli with fatal results. The applicant was in fear and dread of the decedent and his brother and fired the third shot in self-defense when the decedent was near him and approaching him in an angry and threatening manner.

The applicant has now served five years and eight months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before convicted of crime, although charged with several offenses.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the Chief Resident Physician of the Penitentiary in which he states that the applicant is suffering from chronic valvular lesion of the heart. Doctors Hoban and Cruice, of Philadelphia, recently examined the applicant, and in their letter to the Board they state that the applicant has a heart lesion which is liable to cause sudden death, and that he has a poor reserve force.

There was also filed with the Board a letter from the Trial Judge in which he states his conclusion, that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and recommends a pardon, unless facts are brought out before the Board which make clemency inadvisable. The Assistant Trial District Attorney has also filed with the Board a letter in which he states that this crime was no higher than second degree murder, and possibly no higher than manslaughter, and that he, at the trial, offered to accept a plea which would have involved a punishment of not less than five years nor more than ten years. He states that, in his judgment, a five-year punishment would have been sufficient and ample for the nature and character of the crime, and recommends a pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; the excessive sentence imposed by the Court; because of his seriously impaired physical condition, as shown by the letters of three reputable physicians; in consideration of the recommendations of the Trial Judge and Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a peaceable and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Philip Tesone.

Sir: At Nos. 1 and 24, September Sessions, 1905, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Lycoming, James Salerno was convicted of murder in the first degree and on September 13, 1905, was sentenced to the hanged. Subsequently, on April 26, 1906, the sentence of death was commuted to life imprisonment.

The applicant is now seventy-six years of age, an Italian by birth but a naturalized citizen of the United States for more than forty years, a track-walker by occupation and a citizen of Williamsport since 1881. The applicant was married in Williamsport on November 1, 1894, to his second wife, and both parties to the union had children by former marriages who resided with them in their home.

The applicant was employed by the Reading Railroad as a track-walker and lived close to the railroad tracks in the City of Williamsport. During the latter part of 1904 and the early part of 1905 the applicant detected his wife in repeated acts of unfaithfulness, and on one occasion he caused the arrest of a man in their home. On the promise of his wife to mend her ways he withdrew this prosecution, but the same trouble occurred again and again until the defendant became mentally unsettled and took to drinking heavily. Violent quarrels ensued, and on the night of July 24, 1905, the applicant entered his home in an intoxicated condition and killed with a razor his step-daughter, aged nineteen years, who was sleeping in the room with her mother, probably thinking at the time that he was attacking his wife. The applicant was arrested early the following morning sleeping alongside the railroad track with a partly filled bottle of whisky beside him.

The applicant has now served twenty-three years since he was first confined in the State Penitentiary, and more than twenty-two years since the death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He is seventy-six years of age. He has an excellent prison record.

The present and a former District Attorney of Lycoming County have withdrawn objections which they formerly filed to the grant of a pardon in this case. Now, in consideration of the facts of his advanced age and long imprisonment, and in further consideration of the fact that a home has been offered the applicant if released, they have filed letters with the Board indicating that they will be satisfied with a pardon in this case.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the advanced age of the applicant; the long term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; in consideration of the fact that a home will be provided for him if released; in consideration of the favorable attitude of the present District Attorney and of the former District Attorney, who in the past had opposed pardon, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said James Salerno.

Sir: At Nos. 94 and 95, April Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Lehigh, Edward Stoltz and James Meighan were convicted of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, and on April 12, 1927, were each sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years.

The applicants are twenty-three years of age, respectively. Both are citizens of the United States, unmarried, and worked in and about Wilkes-Barre in different occupations.

On the morning of February 4, 1927, the applicants, who were residents of the City of Wilkes-Barre, together with Bernard Harris and another man, went to the home of Jacob Snyder, in Lynn Township, Lehigh County, Pennsylvania, for the purpose, as they testified, of purchasing applejack. They journeyed to that place from Hazleton in two automobiles. The testimony in the case indicates that when Snyder ordered them away from his home the four men broke into an out-house, or summer house, and carried away with them the sum of $265.00, which Snyder had concealed behind some articles on the mantel of the room. While this was going on Snyder ran to a neighboring farm house, the occupants of which opened fire upon the robbers as they were leaving in their automobiles, and pursued them until they came to a fork in the road, at which point the one motor car turned toward Hazleton while the other continued toward Allentown. The pursuers followed the car headed toward Allentown and finally caught up with them in the City of Allentown, distant about twenty-four miles from the scene of the crime. The car overtaken was occupied by Harris, the two applicants and an unknown man. Harris pleaded guilty and received a sentence of not less than one year nor more than two years in the Lehigh County jail. The men in the car testified that Harris and one of the men in the other car, who has not yet been apprehended, were the leaders in the enterprise. No weapons were found on the persons of the occupants of the car nor in the car itself.

The applicants have now served one year and five months of their respective terms of imprisonment. Both applicants have mothers who are dependent upon them for support. Harris, one of the ringleaders of the affair, was discharged after serving but one year's imprisonment.

There were filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency—from the Mayor of the City of Wilkes-Barre, a County Commissioner of Luzerne County, and others. The Trial District Attorney has filed a letter in which he states that both applicants have been sufficiently punished particularly so in view of the fact that Harris, a more active participant in the crime, only served one year's imprisonment. While he does not ask for clemency, he states that he has no objection to a pardon. There was also filed with the Board a letter from the private counsel for the prosecutor in which he states, inter alia, that the applicants were not "ringleaders o the robbery but only pawns." He further states that, after personal investigation, he is satisfied that when the applicants left Wilkes-Barre and until they reached the Snyder premises they did not know upon what mission they were going. He concludes that neither the prosecutor nor he himself object to a pardon. The warden of the Lehigh County prison certifies to their excellent prison record.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the comparative youth of the applicants when the crime was committed; the term of imprisonment already served; because the mothers of the applicants require their support; because of the letters from prominent citizens recommending clemency; because of the favorable attitude of the Trial District Attorney, the prosecutor and the private counsel for the prosecution, we have concluded that the applicants have been sufficiently punished and that if now released they will prove themselves useful and law-abiding citizens.

Sir: At No. 86, March Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Beaver, Thomas Imrie pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery with intent to commit rape, and on February 26, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

The applicant is twenty-one years of age, a native-born American citizen, and at the time of his arrest was learning the trade of stone cutter with his father, who is a general contractor in cut stone work. He is married and resided with his parents in the Borough of Beaver.

On the night of February 28, 1927, about ten o'clock, the applicant met Anna Frew, aged fifteen years, about a block from her home in the residence portion of the Borough of Beaver, as she was walking to her home. They had a speaking acquaintance. The applicant was returning home intoxicated from a pool room down the street. Without any exchange of greetings, he grabbed hold of the girl and she either fell or was thrown to the ground by him. The girl screamed and the applicant proceeded to his home and retired for the night. The following afternoon he was arraigned before a Justice of the Peace and admitted the attack. The next day he was brought into Court and, on the advice of his father, pleaded guilty to the charge. At the time of the occurrence he was twenty years of age and recently married. His parents had had trouble with him in the matter of strong drink. He had gotten a quantity of strong wine earlier in the evening from a man who was later sentenced to a year at the Work House for having supplied him and other youths with intoxicating liquors.

The applicant has now served one year and seven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He was twenty years old when the alleged assault occurred.

The applicant is suffering from a very dangerous heart ailment and his lungs are seriously affected. The medical director of the Penitentiary, under date of September 10, 1928, reports that the applicant "is in a very serious condition"; that he has been in the hospital since July 27, 1928, and is unable to be out of bed; that the "prognosis is not good for surviving many months." There was also filed with the Board letters from the Postmaster of Beaver, the President of the Beaver Trust Company, and other prominent citizens, recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; term of imprisonment already served; because of doubt as to the complete guilt of the applicant by reason of intoxication; because of his seriously impaired health, as shown by the letter of the Medical Director, and in consideration of the recommendations of the Postmaster of Beaver, President of the Beaver Trust Company and other prominent citizens, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now liberated will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 297, August Sessions, and 103, December Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Paul Dannstadter pleaded guilty to two indictments charging him with the larceny of automobiles, and on January 20, 1925, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight years nor more than sixteen years.

The applicant is twenty-seven years of age and of American parentage and allegiance. He is an auto mechanic by occupation and unmarried. At the time of his arrest he resided in the City of Philadelphia and worked for Fred Holler as clerk in his bakery.

On June 25, 1924, Stewart Wright and the applicant were riding in Philadelphia in his car. They saw the Ford sedan of one John Blum standing in an isolated place and decided to take it, sell it and divide the proceeds. The applicant got into the Blum car, drove away, put it into a private garage over night, and in the morning when Wright and he went to get the car they were arrested. The above is the history of the crime embraced in No. 297.

On or about November 6, 1924, the applicant stole a Ford sedan which was the property of Anna M. Carr. The automobile was standing on the streets when it was taken. This was the crime involved in No. 103.

The applicant pleaded guilty to both offenses and turned State's evidence with respect to certain other defendants. He was one of a gang of seven automobile thieves, and through his testimony the gang was broken up and the members convicted and sentenced.

The applicant has now served three years and eight months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His parents, aged, respectively, seventy-one and seventy-four years, require his support. Two of his accomplices have already been pardoned by the Board: Payton in January, 1928, and Wright in June, 1928.

The District Attorney's office, while not joining in the present application, is not unfavorable thereto. It favored the pardon of Wright after he had served three and one-half years.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because the aged parents of the applicant require his support; because of the fact that two of his accomplices have already been pardoned, and because of the favorable attitude of the District Attorney's office, we have concluded that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Paul Dannstadter.

Sir: At No. 55, June Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Lycoming, Charles J. Fowler pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with statutory rape, and on September 7, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than three years nor more than six years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, twenty-two years of age. He is a rigger and seaman by occupation and was discharged and paid off from his ship June 11, 1926, after its arrival in Baltimore, Maryland. The applicant, after first going to Pittsburgh to seek work, was on his way back to Baltimore, intending to rejoin his ship on its next voyage, and in furtherance of this plan he traveled as far as Jersey Shore, Lycoming County, where, at the time of his arrest, he was temporarily employed as a ferris wheel operator by Smith's Greater United Carnival Company. He is unmarried.

On July 25, 1926, the carnival arrived at Jersey Shore and remained there for one week. The girl in the case, Martha C. Wise (who was twelve years of age at the time of the arrest), came to the show grounds every day and remained there until as late as 12:00 and 1:00 o'clock at night. She made advances to the applicant and asked him to take her home. Finally, on Saturday night, July 31, about 9:00 o'clock, she asked the applicant to take an automobile ride with herself and two friends, a male and female. The applicant drove with the automobile party, along the highway, for about one hour, during which time the crime was committed. The applicant returned to his work in the show grounds. The following morning, about 5:00 o'clock, as the carnival was about to leave town, he was arrested. About 10:00 o'clock in the morning he was visited in his cell by the Chief of Police, the girl, Martha C. Wise, and her mother. The mother told him she would not have cared so much had it been her other daughter, and on being offered a financial settlement by the applicant said that she would see about it. The applicant was bound over for trial after being in jail a month. On the advice of the District Attorney and other officials he pleaded guilty to the crime. No child was born. The applicant has been on friendly terms with the girl and her mother since his incarceration. The girl for eighteen months wrote him regularly once a week. The mother has also written letters to him expressing friendship. The information against him was made by the step-father.

The applicant has now served two years of his term of imprisonment. He was only twenty years of age when the crime was committed. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

The Trial Judge has filed a letter with the Board stating that the ends of justice will be subserved by pardon. The Trial District Attorney has also filed a letter which evinces a favorable attitude toward the applicant. He states, inter alia, that as a result of investigations made by him, the girl's reputation was not good and she was just as much at fault as the applicant. He states that: "No particular harm would be done if he were pardoned and instructed to leave the State and not come back." There was also filed with the Board a letter from the Trial Judge addressed to the attorney in the case, in which he says: "I am convinced from reliable information given since the said sentence was imposed, that the sentence was too severe. He has already served more than would have given him as a minimum sentence had I had the information before sentencing which I now have. As stated in my former letter, I would be well satisfied if a pardon were now granted."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; the severe sentence imposed by the Court; because of the favorable attitude of the Trial Judge and Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 4, September Session, 1923, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Warren, Patrick Ponsoll pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with felonious rape and assault with intent to ravish, and on September 22, 1923, was sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than six years nor more than twelve years.

At No. 7, May Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Centre, the said Patrick Ponsoll pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking and escaping the Penitentiary, and on February 28, 1925, was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than six years nor more than twelve years; sentence to compute from completion of sentence from Warren County for rape.

The applicant is thirty years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, a tree surgeon by occupation and at the time of his arrest in 1923 was an iron worker employed at the plant of Struthers-Wells Company, Warren, in which borough he resided with his father. He is unmarried.

On June 4, 1923, at 8:30 P. M., the applicant was driving his Ford sedan through the public streets of Warren when he picked up, on one of the side streets, a Swedish girl whom he had never seen before and whom he invited to go with him for a ride. They drove into the rural districts, where they had criminal intercourse, with her consent, and then returned to Warren. The applicant left her out of the car near where she said that she lived. Several days later he was arrested on the charge of rape. At the trial the girl was the only witness against him. He first entered a plea of not guilty but afterwards, upon the advice of his attorney, changed his plea to that of guilty.

The girl's name was Gunhild Eckstrom, and at the time the crime was committed she was twenty-one years of age.

After his sentence the applicant remained in the Western Penitentiary until July 11, 1924, when he was transferred Rockview. He escaped from Rockview on February 23, 1925, and was captured four days later at Mansfield, Pennsylvania. His escape was not attended with any violence or breaking. The applicant merely walked away. He was homesick and in poor health and took the opportunity to leave.

The applicant has now served five years of his original term of imprisonment, with the exception of four days after his escape in February, 1925. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. He is in poor condition of health. The resident physician of the Penitentiary, in a letter filed with the Board, states that he has a bad heart. There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency. The Trial Judge and Trial District Attorney, in letters filed with the Board, both recommend a pardon on account of his poor health. The Chief Burgess of Warren also recommends clemency.

Erick S. Munson, the prosecutor in the case and uncle of the girl, has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that this girl had led a fast life in Sweden before she came to this country and that after she came to America she continued her evil conduct. That on the evening that the crime was alleged to have been committed she was a caller at the Munson home until about 9:00 o'clock, when she left for her home; that before leaving she was admonished by Mrs. Munson, her aunt, as well as by her own brother, to go straight home; that nevertheless, she permitted the applicant, a stranger, to pick her up on the street and take her for a ride in his car; that it was during this ride that the so-called crime was committed. He further states that he has good reason to believe that the girl was a "willing partner" to the crime.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his impaired health; because of the recommendations of the Chief Burgess of Warren, and others; because of the recommendations of the Trial Judge and Trial District Attorney, and the statement of the prosecutor in the case relative to the bad character of the girl, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 138, November Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Allegheny, Edward Kaminski pleaded guilty to the charge of robbery, and on January 5, 1928, was sentenced to pay a fine of six and a quarter cents, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years.

The applicant is twenty-two years of age, of Polish descent, but a citizen of the United States. He has no regular occupation on account of his weak physical condition. He resided with his parents in Sharpsburg, Pennsylvania.

The applicant, and one Frank Jerkiwitz, were jointly charged with assaulting and beating Howard L. Strain and robbing him of the sum of two hundred and forty dollars. Both men pleaded guilty to the charge and received a like sentence.

The applicant is now confined in the hospital of the Western Penitentiary and is in the last stages of consumption, and is not expected to live more than a few weeks. J. C. Coulter, Parole Director of the Penitentiary, appeared in person before the Board and made this statement. There were filed with the Board letters stating that the applicant had been confined in the Cresson State Sanatorium from October to December, 1926, as a sufferer from early pulmonary tuberculosis. Also a letter from the resident physician of the Western Penitentiary, dated September 7, 1928, which states that the applicant is suffering from advanced pulmonary tuberculosis, and that it is not expected that he will live more than a month or two. There was also filed with the Board a letter from the prosecutor in the case (the man who was robbed) in which he asks clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the comparative youth of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendation of the prosecutor in this case; in consideration of the critical condition of the applicant's health and the imminency of his death, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and should now be released in order that his remaining days may be passed with his parents, who will provide the care which his physical condition requires.

Sir: At No. 69½, November Term, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Washington, William Borchers, Junior, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with the crime of procuring an abortion resulting in death, and on November 12, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than three years nor more than six years.

The applicant is twenty-seven years of age, a native-born American citizen, and resident of the County of Washington. At the time of his arrest he was an electrician and radio contractor. He resided with his parents in the Borough of East Washington, Washington County.

Margaret A. Foley, an unmarried woman, was pregnant and did not wish to bear an illegitimate child. The applicant was on friendly terms with Miss Foley, in nowise responsible for her condition, but in response to a frantic appeal for assistance he made arrangements for her to go to the home of Magdalena Medrella, a registered midwife, residing in Washington. Miss Foley herself made arrangements to be attended by her family physician, Dr. Roger Parry.

The applicant, because of her appeal and because of close friendship, tried to aid her when she appealed to him and after she had proceeded with the initial steps to produce an abortion. Dr. Parry's efforts were unsuccessful and Miss Foley died on September 1, 1926. Dr. Parry, because of the fatal result, took his own life.

The applicant was overwhelmed by the tragic turn of events, but upon the death of Miss Foley he notified the undertaker, asking that a mortician call immediately at the proper address and gave the proper name of Miss Foley. He also disclosed to the authorities full information concerning his connection with the unfortunate tragedy, and later he voluntarily pleaded guilty to the indictment above stated, making no personal statement in his own behalf of any facts which might tend to mitigate his punishment. He desired to spare the parties directly connected with the tragedy and the families involved the pain and notoriety of further publicity.

The applicant has now served one year and ten months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a photostatic copy of a portion of a letter written by the decedent shortly before her death in which she states: "The gentleman's home is in Pittsburgh (?) Fellow who merely too kadvantage of an occasion. I shall not be unkind enough to betray him, even though I should. Now and forever." (Signed) Margaret Adelaide Foley.

There was also filed with the Board the affidavit of the applicant in which he states that he learned of the pregnancy of Margaret Foley about seven weeks before the time of her death; that she asked his assistance in the matter of an attempt at abortion, toward which she had already taken definite steps, stating that she had seen a doctor about the matter; that he tried to talk Miss Foley out of her intention, but was unable to induce her to change her plans, she stating that she had already gone too far in the matter; that in view of the situation and because of her frantic pleading for help in her endeavor to procure a miscarriage he did reluctantly agree to do what he could to assist her in the course upon which she had already started; that he had no part in any acts connected with the abortion, his effort being merely to endeavor to keep the matter secret; that he urged her to go to a hospital and receive treatment there and inform her family and the parish priest of her condition.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency. The Trial Judge and former Judge McIlVaine recommend pardon. The Trial District Attorney has also filed a letter with the Board which evinces a favorable attitude toward pardon. The deputy warden of the Penitentiary has filed a letter in which, after referring to the excellent prison record of the applicant, he recommends clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; the favorable attitude of the Trial District Attorney and the recommendations of the Trial Judge and former Judge McIlVaine and other prominent citizens, and in consideration of the affidavit of the applicant and the fragmentary letter of the deceased in which she exonerated the applicant from responsibility for her pregnancy, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 3 and 5, May Term, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Montour, Chester Starr pleaded guilty to two indictments charging him with breaking and entering in the night with intent to commit felony and larceny, and on March 20, 1926, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States, twenty-five years of age. He has a wife and two small children. He is a laborer and farm helper by occupation but had been idle prior to the time of his arrest, being unable to secure work. The applicant resided with his family in the City of Danville.

The applicant was arrested on the 27th of February, 1926, in company with George Mason and Norman Starr for breaking and entering into the store of Frank N. Sandel of Valley Township, Montour County, and taking therefrom cigarettes and other articles to the value of ten dollars. They were also indicted for the larceny of seventeen chickens taken from the residence of Cora Diehl, Mahoning Township, Montour County, to the value of nineteen dollars. The applicant was younger and less experienced than the other men and was led into the commission of these crimes by stronger minds.

The applicant has now served two years and six months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His wife and children have become separated, the two small children being in the custody of strangers.

There was filed with the Board a letter from Fred Doone, a trucker residing in Elmira, New York, and a responsible citizen, offering to give him employment if he is released. Sandel, the prosecutor in one of the cases, has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. There was also filed with the Board a letter from the Trial Judge addressed to the applicant, dated September 4, 1928, in which he states: "If the letter from Fred Doone of Elmira, New York, dated August 29, 1928, comes to you in good faith I would be inclined to say: 'The Board of Pardons should grant you a pardon.'" The letter referred to is the one in which Doone offers to give the applicant employment if released. With the Doone letter was filed a letter from Harry E. Record of Elmira, New York, who certifies that he is personally acquainted with Doone; that he is in the trucking business in Elmira, and a reliable man.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; the excessive sentence imposed by the Court, disproportionate to the value of articles taken; the fact that his wife and two small children require his support; because employment has been offered him by a responsible person if released, and in consideration of the favorable attitude of the Trial Judge, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Chester Starr.

Sir: At No. 61, May Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Northumberland, John Yudock pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with shooting with intent to rob, and on May 25, 1925, was sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-one years of age, of Lithuanian nationality, but a native-born American citizen, and at the time of his arrest was employed as a laborer on his father's farm, located near Catawissa, Columbia County, Pennsylvania.

The applicant on April 1, 1925, while on a visit to Shamokin, in company with four other defendants, namely Joe Mansfield, Harry Mansfield, Al Corcoran and Theodore Barni, drove an automobile from Shamokin to a hotel in Trevorton. The other four defendants entered the hotel with the intent to rob the same. The proprietor, resisting, was shot by one of the men, but not fatally. They did not rob the cash register, as had been planned, but came out of the hotel and got into the car, which had been left in charge of the applicant, who was the driver of the car. He remained in the car while his companions were in the hotel. They returned to a point near Shamokin, where the car was abandoned, and then separated. The applicant walked to his home, a distance of fifteen miles from Shamokin. He was arrested two weeks later and made a confession of his part in the affair. He first entered a plea of not guilty, but after the testimony of the Commonwealth was closed changed his plea to that of guilty.

Joe Mansfield, one of the defendants, is a fugitive from justice, but the others were convicted and sentenced. Harry Mansfield is still in prison, Corcoran and Barni were pardoned in November, 1926.

The applicant has now served three years and five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. He was only eighteen years of age when this crime was committed. His father is fifty-nine years of age and unable to operate the farm of one hundred thirty acres (which he owns), without the assistance of the applicant.

There was filed with the Board a letter from Harry Mansfield, a co-defendant, in which he states that he asked the applicant to drive his friends and himself to Trevorton in his car (which was stolen from a garage). He led the applicant to believe the car belonged to him and that they were going for a ride. The applicant consented, not knowing what the plans were.

There was also filed with the Board a letter from the Trial District Attorney in which he recommends pardon on account of the youth and ignorance of the boy, who was deceived by older and more experienced men. Richard H. Klein and J. A. Welsh, both special counsel for the Commonwealth, have also filed letters with the Board recommending pardon for the same reasons advanced by the District Attorney in his letter.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth and inexperience of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the fact that two of his co-defendants, older and more experienced men, have already been pardoned; because of the statement of Harry Mansfield, one of his co-defendants; because his aged parents need his assistance in operating the farm; in consideration of the recommendations of the Trial District Attorney and of the two special counsel for the Commonwealth, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 966-67-68-69 and 70, February Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Harry J. McGarigle was convicted of receiving stolen goods and on June 22, 1925, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years.

The applicant is thirty-seven years of age and a native-born citizen of the United States. He resided in the City of Philadelphia with his widowed mother and three motherless children of five, two and one year old respectively. At the time of his arrest for the present offense he was employed as a driver by one Martin Comber and had been in his employ for about five or six years. He served with distinction for twenty-two months in the World War.

Several months prior to his arrest he was in the habit of meeting two of his friends, Peter Goborsky and John Kern, both residents of the city, the latter employed as the driver of a delivery truck for the American Railway Express Company, at Philadelphia. On a number of occasions the applicant met these two men under a bridge in the vicinity of Fifth and Pike Streets, Philadelphia, where Kern broke the seal on his truck and unloaded various shipments of express matter into an automobile which Goborsky and the applicant had stationed there for the purpose, which goods were afterwards sold by them and the proceeds converted to their own use. The value of the goods appropriated in this manner (the property of the Express Company as bailee) ranged from six hundred to one thousand dollars. The applicant received as his portion of the proceeds of the robberies sixty-five to seventy-five dollars.

The applicant has now served three years and four months of his term of imprisonment. His mother who is upwards of sixty years of age is entirely dependent on him for support, (he being the only son), and his three small children are also dependent. Kern, the man who actually stole the goods from the Express Company, was pardoned by this Board in January, 1928. Goborsky is still in prison.

There was filed with the Board a petition of citizens recommending clemency. A representative of the District Attorney's office who was present at the oral hearing did not oppose the application and stated that inasmuch as Kern had been liberated, the Board could hardly do otherwise than free the applicant.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; because the applicant's aged mother and three small children are dependent on him for support; because John Kern, the ringleader, who stole the goods, has already been pardoned; because of the petition of citizens and the favorable attitude of the District Attorney's office, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Harry J. McGarigle.

Sir: At No. 96, February Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Luzerne, Victor Pugarelli was convicted of statutory rape, and on February 24, 1926, was sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than six years nor more than twelve years.

The applicant is of Italian descent, twenty-two years of age, a farmer by occupation, and resided in the Borough of Wyoming, Pennsylvania. He assisted his father on the farm.

On the night of November 13, 1926, the applicant visited a neighbor until about 9.30, when his oldest brother James, who had returned from Scranton where the brothers conducted a wholesale produce business, called for him. When they reached the roadway his brother told him that he had two girls in his automobile which stood on the road nearby. It was shown at the trial that the girls had entered the car at Scranton and that the brother had driven them down to this point. The brothers got into the car, James, the elder, driving. The applicant sat with Bertha Packock. At the trial she testified that she was thirteen years old and that the applicant had forcibly ravished her in the automobile shortly after the party drove away. She was corroborated by the other girl.

The applicant has now served two years and eight months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. He was only twenty years of age when the alleged crime was committed.

In July, 1927, while engaged in prison work he suffered an injury to his right leg which caused an infection and necessitated his removal to the General Hospital in the City of Wilkes-Barre for treatment. Infection has again appeared in the leg which is swollen and much discolored, and he is informed by the County Doctor that another operation is imminent.

There was filed with the Board a letter from Dr. James T. Williams, a prominent physician and surgeon, addressed to the Trial Judge, in which he states that the applicant is in need of surgical attention, "at once." He concludes: "this lad will become a case of tuberculosis if kept confined in jail much longer." There were filed with the Board letters recommending clemency from Rinaldo Cappellini, President, District No. 1, United Mine Workers of America, Assemblymen Hefferon and Thomas, the Principal of the Public Schools and the Chief of Police, of Wyoming, the Postmaster of Pittston, the cashier of the First National Bank of Wyoming and others. The Trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which, upon the strength of the certificate of Dr. Williams, he states that he has no objection to a parole or pardon.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the youth of the applicant when the crime was committed; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the certificate of Dr. Williams, showing his seriously impaired physical condition; because his aged father requires his assistance on the farm; because of the recommendations of Rinaldo Cappellini and other prominent citizens, and in consideration of the favorable attitude of the Trial Judge, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 11, September Sessions, 1922, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, John Davis, alias J. C. Clark, alias Harold Davis, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with the theft of an automobile, and on September 29, 1922, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-eight years of age, a native-born citizen of the United States, a chauffeur by occupation, but at the time of his arrest he was unemployed. He was married and resided in the City of Philadelphia.

The applicant served throughout the World War in the United States Marines Corps. After his discharge he took a position as chauffeur. While engaged in this work he became acquainted with other chauffeurs at the same garage, one of whom persuaded him to join him in the larceny of automobiles. The applicant subsequently being out of employment finally acquiesced and on the twenty-fourth of August, 1922, stole a Ford automobile, the property of Byron Roberts.

Since his incarceration the applicant has patented a ship model which may be sent through the mails, and has established a lucrative business which can be carried on on a larger scale if released. He has the offer of a managerial position at a high salary with Ship Models, Incorporated, a Philadelphia corporation.

The applicant has now served approximately six years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime.

The Trial Judge has filed with the Board a letter in which he states that in 1925, when the applicant filed his first petition for pardon, he had recommended clemency, because of the critical condition of the applicant's wife at the time, due to an automobile accident. He concludes his letter: "I think compared with others he has been well punished; and if the Board see fit to exercise clemency in his case I have no objections."

A representative of the District Attorney's office, who was present at the oral hearing of the case, stated that he would not oppose the application. He confirms this by letter on file. There were also filed with the Board several other letters from citizens recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because a lucrative position awaits him, if released; because of the severe sentence imposed; in consideration of the favorable attitude of the Trial Judge and Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in the open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said John Davis, alias J. C. Clark, alias Harold Davis.

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., October 17, 1928.

Sir: At Nos. 546 and 548, February Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, Harold August Nissen, alias Henry Gibson, pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with robbery and carrying concealed deadly weapons, and on March 1, 1921, was sentenced on the robbery charge to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nine years, eleven months nor more than ten years, and on the second charge was sentenced to undergo imprisonment in the Philadelphia County prison for a term of one year; to compute from the expiration of the former sentence.

The applicant is thirty-nine years of age, of German descent but a citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest he was employed as an automobile operator, automobile mechanic and salesman and resided in the City of Philadelphia. He is unmarried.

On February 19, 1921, at 3:15 in the afternoon, George Burton and the applicant entered a building at No. 627 East Thompson Street, Philadelphia, which building was used for the combined purpose of a private garage and office by Dr. Robert Rogers, who was engaged in the real estate business. Burton carried a revolver and the applicant carried a blackjack. The two men held up Dr. Rogers and took from him a diamond pin valued at Five Hundred Dollars and One Hundred Fifty Dollars in cash. The money was subsequently returned. The pin, taken from the men at the time of the arrest, has never been recovered by the owner. No shot was fired nor was the blackjack used.

The applicant has now served seven years and seven months of his term of imprisonment. Employment as an automobile salesman has been offered him, if released, by the Gomery-Schwartz Motor Car Company of Philadelphia. The applicant was never before charged with nor convicted of any offense involving violence.

The Pennsylvania Prison Society, through one of its officers, in a letter filed, recommends clemency. The Warden of the Penitentiary in a letter filed, certifies that he has been a model prisoner. A representative of the District Attorney's office, who was present at the oral hearing, did not oppose the present application. He stated that the Trial Judge had authorized him to say to the Board that the latter was not opposed to a pardon.

In consideration of the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because employment has been offered him, if released; because of the severe sentence imposed; because of the fact that the District Attorney's office and the Trial Judge are not opposed to the application, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Harold August Nissen, alias Henry Gibson.

Board of Pardons.

Harrisburg, Pa., October 17, 1928.

Sir: At No. 13, February Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Columbia, Charles Ball pleaded guilty to three charges of larceny, and on January 18, 1926, was sentenced to imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than four and one-half years nor more than nine years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States, thirty-four years of age. At the time of his arrest he was employed as an express messenger for the American Railway Express Company, on the branch of the Lackawanna road extending from Northumberland to Scranton. He has a wife and four children, the eldest being twelve years of age. He resided with his family in the City of Scranton.

The applicant had been employed as an express messenger for about nine years. He was arrested on January 16, 1926, charged with extracting money on three different occasions from express packages, all occurring within one month, during the latter part of the year 1925.

The applicant has now served two years and nine months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the Trial Judge in which he recommends pardon. There was also filed with the Board a letter from the Trial District Attorney in which he authorized applicant's counsel to state to the Board that he is not opposed to a pardon in this case. Several other letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because the applicant's wife and small children require his support; in further consideration of the recommendation of the Trial Judge and the favorable attitude of the Trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 221, November Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Luzerne, Mike Sidor, alias Michael Sidor, was convicted of statutory rape and on November 30, 1921, was sentenced to pay a fine of Five Hundred Dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than twelve years nor more than fifteen years.

The applicant is a native of Czecho-Slovakia, sixty-two years of age, who came to the United States in 1884 and is now a citizen by naturalization. He is by occupation a coal miner. He was not employed at the time of his arrest because of bad health. His last employment was with the Brushwood Coal Company, Indiana County, in January, 1921. He resided in Dupont, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, was married and had seventeen children, ten of whom are living. He was an industrious and frugal man, owned his own home, saved money and had no debts. During the World War he invested Five Hundred Dollars in Liberty Bonds.

On September 4, 1921, Lizzie Sidor, daughter of the applicant, aged thirteen years, told her sisters that her father had forcibly outraged her the previous evening while in the cellar basement of their home.

The applicant has now served approximately six years and eleven months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a certificate from Dr. Stephen Stephens, residing in Pittston, Pennsylvania, setting forth that on September 5, 1921, he made a vaginal examination of Lizzie Sidor, the victim of the alleged attack, five days after the crime was committed, but found no evidence whatever of forcible rape or attempt to rape. He concludes that in his opinion no rape had been committed.

There was also filed with the Board the petition of six children of the applicant requesting pardon, in which they state that they have grave doubt as to the guilt of their father. They further state that their sister, Lizzie, who made the charge, left town nearly two years ago without notice and that none of them know her present whereabouts.

There was also filed with the Board a letter from the prosecutor in the case (formerly a constable but now a Justice of the Peace), in which he states that he arrested the applicant, who strenuously denied his guilt. He further states that Lizzie Sidor left home nearly two years ago and that no one knows her present whereabouts; that the applicant was an industrious man, owned his home, reared a large family, was more than fifty years of age at the time of the alleged offense and that he was in poor health as the result of an operation undergone four years before. He recommends clemency.

There was also filed with the Board a petition of citizens asking pardon. The private counsel for the prosecution and the District Attorney in letters filed also recommended clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the grave doubt as to his guilt, evidenced by Dr. Stevens' letter; the excessive sentence imposed by the Court; in consideration of the fact that the six children of the applicant, the District Attorney, the prosecutor in the case and the private counsel for the Commonwealth and many citizens recommend clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now liberated he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 25, May Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Cumberland, Harry Darhower was convicted of Statutory Rape and on September 24, 1927, was sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred fifty dollars, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Cumberland County jail for a term of not less than two and one-half nor more than five years; sentence to be computed from May 30, 1927.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States twenty-eight years of age, a tinner by occupation and was so employed at the time of his arrest. He has a wife and one child about one year of age.

The applicant was arrested on January 15, 1927, charged with having committed the crime of statutory rape (without force) on the person of one Hazel Bowermaster, fourteen years of age. The applicant denied his guilt but on May 21, 1927, married the girl and now has a child about one year old.

The applicant has served one year and five months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with nor convicted of crime. He has an excellent prison record, as shown by a letter from the Sheriff and Warden of the jail.

The present District Attorney and the Trial District Attorney have both filed letters with the Board recommending pardon. The Sheriff and Warden of the jail in a joint letter filed with the Board also recommend clemency. The applicant's former employer offers to re-employ him if released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the former good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because he married the victim; because his wife and child require his support; because of the recommendations of the Trial District Attorney, the present District Attorney, the Sheriff and Warden of the jail, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 459 and 647, October Sessions, 1921, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia Charles Rickerts, alias Charles Ruckert pleaded guilty to two indictments charging him with assault, being armed with an offensive weapon with an attempt to rob, and robbery, and larceny, and on October 18, 1921, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nine years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is twenty-five years of age, unmarried, a native-born citizen of the United States, and resided with his parents in the city of Philadelphia at the time of his arrest.

On October 6, 1921, the applicant stole a Packard automobile, the property of Joseph O'Neill, and on October 15, 1921, he and Joseph Kennedy, a minor, robbed Gus Lauber of one hundred eighty dollars. The applicant was only eighteen years old when these offenses were committed.

The applicant has now served seven years of his term of imprisonment. Courtland Butler, Chief Parole Officer of the Penitentiary, and W. J. McFarland, Deputy Warden of the Penitentiary, have filed with the Board letters in which they certify to the applicant's excellent prison record. There were also filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency. Employment has been offered him if released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the youth of the applicant when the crimes were committed; because employment has been offered him if released; because of his excellent prison record; because of the recommendations of persons who know the applicant, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen. Judge Monaghan the Trial Judge also recommends clemency.

Sir: At No. 32, September Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Centre, Clayton Krebs pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with Statutory Rape, Adultery and Enticing a female child, etc., and on October 11, 1927, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of One Hundred Dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than one year and six months, nor more than there years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, twenty-five years of age, a truck driver by occupation, and at the time of his arrest was employed by James Rider of Bellefonte. He resided at or near State College, Pennsylvania. He is married and has a wife and one child.

Hazel Fetzter, the girl involved in the present case, was arrested shortly before July 8, 1927, for having been criminally intimate with a married man by the name of Orvis Taylor; the information having been made by Taylor's wife. At that time she gave out a list of names of the men with whom she alleged she had been intimate, and later at a hearing before the Justice of the Peace, she named ten men with whom she had been intimate within one month of the hearing. Among the number were Orvis Taylor, Lawrence Womer, and the applicant. Thereupon the applicant was arrested. At the hearing it was shown that Hazel Fetzter and a girl by the name of Betty Moore (the latter now confined in a Female Institution at Muncy, Pennsylvania) had been taken by Lawrence Womer and the applicant, to a farm house near State College for immoral purposes. The applicant states that the girls offered to go with them and were not in any manner enticed to do so. Upon the advice of counsel, the applicant pleaded guilty to the charges. It now appears that Hazel Fetzter at the time the offense was committed, was more than sixteen years old, which if true, would now relieve him from the charge of enticing a female child under sixteen years of age. Unfortunately for him, under the law as it then stood, the applicant was debarred from showing the ill-repute of the girl.

The applicant has now served one year and one month of his term of imprisonment. With a minor exception he was never before charged with, or convicted with crime. Lawrence Womer, who was convicted and sentenced for a similar crime committed on the person of the same girl, was pardoned by this Board in September, 1928.

A number of letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency.

The trial Judge has filed with the Board, a letter recommending pardon. In it, inter alia, he states: "I am satisfied if the Court had been informed of the facts set forth in this application for pardon, the sentence would have been different from the one imposed. I have made inquiry among the officials of the Rock View Prison, and learn Clayton Krebs, has been a model prisoner; that he has worked industriously, and has given every indication that he has arrived at the firm determination to lead a better life. I feel that the ends of justice have been met and that no good is to be expected from further imprisonment, and recommend the granting of the pardon prayed for."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant (with one exception); the term of imprisonment already served; because his wife and child require his support; because of the letters filed with the Board recommending clemency; because Hazel Fetzter having been more than sixteen years old when the alleged crime was committed, he was not guilty of enticing a female child for immoral purposes; because Lawrence Womer, similarly sentenced for the same offense with the same girl, has been pardoned by this Board, and because the Trial Judge recommends clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now liberated, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

THOMAS J. BALDRIGE,

Sir: At No. 2, November Term 1925, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Montgomery, George Cushion, alias George Cushin, was convicted of Rape, and on November 21, 1925, was sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Montgomery County Jail for a term of not less than five (5) years, nor more than ten (10) years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States, twenty-nine years of age. At the time of his arrest he was a chauffeur by occupation, being employed by Branigan Brothers, General Contractors, in the City of Philadelphia, and resided in that city with his aged mother. He was married but temporarily separated from his wife. He had two small children, one of whom has since died.

On July 4, 1925, the applicant together with eleven other men and four young women attended a picnic given by the Bryant Social Club, a club for young working people in North Philadelphia. The picnic was held on a small farm occupied by Mrs. Burleigh in Montgomery County. The picknickers came to the farm in a truck between 10:00 and 11:00 A. M. of that day. They brought with them refreshments, including two and one-half barrels of high-powered beer. They amused themselves by drinking, eating, dancing, swimming and playing the Victrola until the middle of the afternoon. Considerable beer was consumed, the amount being in dispute at the trial. It was claimed on the part of the defense that everyone, including the applicant and the prosecutrix, were drunk. Mrs. Burleigh, who spent the day in her home nearby, said the party was neither a drunken one nor a sober one. The fact that the prosecutrix danced the Salome dance for the entertainment of the crowd and went in bathing with her clothes on, would seem to indicate that she felt the effects of the alcohol. About the middle of the afternoon, the prosecutrix suggested to the applicant that she would like to have some cherries. They picked up a bucket of beer and wandered off through the woods in quest of cherries. They went some distance, sat down on a stone and talked until, (according to the story of the prosecutrix) several other men joined them, and then the applicant and four others including one, Charles Gogel, forcibly ravished her. Of the men involved in the crime, the applicant, Gogel and one Perry, (who held the girl by the ankles) were the only ones of the crowd arrested and brought to trial. Gogel was sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars and to undergo imprisonment from four to eight years, but was paroled by the Court on June 29, 1927. Perry was sentenced to the Huntingdon Reformatory but has since been released.

The applicant has now served three years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with, or convicted of crime. His prison record is good. His wife, with whom he has re-established friendly relations, and small child, require his support.

A number of letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency and also a petition of citizens. Anna Carothers, the victim of the attack, has filed with the Board a letter in which she asks for clemency. Robert P. Gallagher, her stepfather, is also favorable to a pardon. The trial District Attorney has filed with the Board a letter in which, while not specifically recommending a pardon, he evinces a favorable attitude.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of his excellent prison record; because his wife and small child require support; because of the recommendations of citizens, the victim and prosecutrix in this case and her stepfather; because the applicant has served a longer term than any of the persons implicated in the crime; because his accomplices have been released; in consideration of the favorable attitude of the trial District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law abiding citizen.

Sir: At Nos. 115, 118, and 120, April Sessions, 1922, George Logue was convicted of assault, being armed with an offensive weapon, with an intent to rob, and on March 27, 1923, was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven years nor more than ten years. Joseph Clegg, jointly indicted and tried with the applicant, received the same sentence, and was pardoned by this Board in September, 1927.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, thirty-seven years of age, unmarried, a mechanic by occupation, and has resided in the City of Philadelphia during his lifetime.

Clegg and the applicant were jointly charged with the robbery of Abe Brickman, in his grocery store, situated at the southwest corner of Seventh Street and Columbia Avenue, on April 1, 1922, between 11.45 P. M. and midnight. There were no eye witnesses, but Brickman identified the applicant as one of the robbers. His identification of Clegg was not certain. Brickman testified that two men entered his store, drew pistols, and commanded him to throw up his hands, and, while one pressed a gun against his side, the other, (the applicant) went to the cash register and rifled it, obtaining fifty dollars. The robbery took but a few minutes, after which the men left the store, got into a waiting motor car, and drove away. Both men set up alibis, which the District Attorney's Office, in a statement filed with the Board in October, 1927, pronounced, "exceptionally strong." The latter statement also contains the following paragraph: "It is only fair to say that it was the general impression in the court room during the trial of this case that the prosecutor, Brickman, was mistaken and that the defendant's alibi witnesses were correct."

The applicant has now served five years and eight months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. Clegg, his accomplice, was pardoned by this Board in September, 1927.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency and also a numerously-signed petition of citizens. The prosecutor in the case has filed with the Board a letter in which he asks for clemency, alleging that while he believes that the applicant robbed him, the amount taken was only fifty dollars, the applicant was under the influence of liquor at the time, and has been sufficiently punished for his offense.

The statement of the District Attorney's office above referred to concludes with these two paragraphs: "In the opinion of the writer, these two men committed the robbery, but, in view of the circumstances, and in view of the length of time the men have been incarcerated, it is his opinion that a proper policy would be not to oppose the pardon. It has come to the attention of the writer that the Board of Pardons has granted Clegg his liberty. As there is no doubt that these two men stood on exactly the same footing, so far as their guilt is concerned, each admitted that he was with the other on the night in question, not only to the police officers when arrested, but also on the witness stand during the various trials, it would seem that, in order to be consistent, Logue (the applicant) should now be pardoned."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the grave doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the recommendation of the prosecutor in the case; because of the petition and letters filed recommending clemency; because Clegg, his accomplice, has already been pardoned by the Board, and in consideration of the statement of the District Attorney's office, filed with the Board in 1927, none of the statements contained therein having been negated by a representative of the District Attorney's office present at the recent hearing, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 25, July Sessions, 1916, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Luzerne, Alexander Shavitz was convicted of murder in the second degree, and on November 23, 1916, was sentenced by the Court to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nineteen years and eleven months nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is about forty-seven years of age and of Polish nationality. He is a miner by occupation and at the time of his arrest was employed in the mines and was a resident of Plains Township, Luzerne County. He has no near relatives in Pennsylvania.

The applicant went to live with one Mary Bukoski at her home in said Township, shortly after November 1913. She was a widow with three or four children. The applicant furnished the house and supported the widow and her family. Sometime thereafter he proposed marriage to her and they went to Scranton and obtained a marriage license but the ceremony was never performed, owing to the fact she backed out. This incident occurred in April, 1916. About four days before the tragedy, which occurred on May 29, 1916, while the applicant was at work in the mines, Mary Bukowski attempted to move her belongings from the house where they both lived to some other location. The applicant returning from work, unexpectedly, came upon her and a quarrel ensued. He searched the drawer of the bureau which was already on the moving van where he had placed his savings amounting to five hundred dollars. When he did not find the money he accused Mary of taking it. She told him on two subsequent occasions she would return the money, but failed to do so. She again promised to give him the money and asked him to call at the home of Adam Berkowski (no relation) at 7.00 o'clock in the evening of the day above-mentioned. She had taken two or three rooms on the second floor of the Berkowski residence. The applicant arrived at 7.00 o'clock, as requested. Several witnesses testified on the trial that Mary threatened the applicant with an axe. Shortly after the applicant entered the Berkowski home shots were heard. Neighbors and police who entered the house found Mary and the applicant both lying on the front room floor. The woman had been shot and was unconscious. He was also unconscious but unharmed. He was revived but again collapsed. Mary died the same night. Two bullets entered her body. At least four shots were heard by witnesses. The Commonwealth rested largely upon uncorroborated testimony of Ida, the fifteen year old daughter of the decedent. She swore she was in the room upstairs and saw the applicant shoot her mother once and then she ran downstairs. The applicant contended the revolver belonged to the dead woman; that it was lying on the table in the room; that Mary Bukoski reached for it and that in the struggle for its possession she was shot. There was conflicting testimony with regard to the ownership of the weapon.

The applicant has now served twelve years and one month of his term in prison. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the Trial Judge in which he states that he would neither recommend nor oppose a pardon but would rest the case on the: "Wise discretion of the Board governed by circumstances indicative of genuine repentance, reformation and reclamation to good citizenship". The trial District Attorney added to the above letter the following words: "I concur in the above." Arthur H. James, former District Attorney, and present Lieutenant Governor, filed a letter with the Board in which he states that he is not familiar with the facts of the case but that he joins with the Trial District Attorney in stating that he is not opposed to a pardon. W. O. Coolbaugh, one of the jurymen, has filed with the Board a letter in which he recommends clemency. The Deputy Warden of the Penitentiary certifies to the applicant's good prison record.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; his excellent prison record; because of the fact that the Trial Judge, the Trial District Attorney and the succeeding District Attorney evince a favorable attitude, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At. No. 102, April Term, 1928, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Montgomery, Henry P.

Gilbert pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with Larceny and Receiving Stolen Goods, and on April 5, 1928, was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $5.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a period of not less than one year and three months nor more than three years.

The applicant is forty-five years of age; a native-born American citizen, a consulting chemist by profession, and at the time of his arrest maintained an office at his residence at No. 1 Franklin Terrace, New York City. He is unmarried. From a paper on file with the Board, it appears that the applicant comes from an excellent family and is a well-educated man.

On March 21, 1928, the applicant came from New York City to Philadelphia and proceeded towards Villa Nova College with the intention of securing information pertaining to a friend, the Reverend Father Mythen, who had died a year or more prior to that time, and whose family was reported to be in destitute circumstances. It was about five o'clock in the evening, and the applicant concluded to defer his call until the following day. He got off the train at Narberth, intending to return to Philadelphia on the next train. He strolled about Villa Nova waiting for the train. It being the Lenten Season, the applicant went into the Catholic Church to "say his devotions." He had completed his devotions and was arising from his knees at the rail, when he lost his balance, and, in his endeavor to recover his equilibrium, he grasped a stand or candlestick to which an alms box was attached. This stand or holder upset, and the contents was scattered on the floor. The applicant immediately began to pick up the money, which he put into his hat. At this particular time the Curate came into the church, and the applicant immediately handed to him the hat with the money in it and explained how the box had been upset. The Pastor of the church then came in and suggested that they go to the house and talk the matter over, whereupon the police were called and the applicant was taken into custody. At the hearing before the Justice of the Peace the Curate appeared and told his story, which was the same as above set forth, and added that he could not say what the intentions of the defendant had been. The applicant was then bound over to appear at Court to answer the charge of Larceny. While in prison, it was suggested that he employ an attorney to defend him at the trial. He did so, and employed one whom he afterwards found had only been practicing four years and, consequently, was inexperienced. The attorney advised him to plead guilty, stating that such a plea would result in a short sentence in the County Jail, but that if he went to trial the fact of a former conviction in New Jersey for the crime of carrying burglar tools would be brought out. The applicant denied his guilt of the last-mentioned crime, but was advised by his attorney that if he went to trial, the former conviction would cause a more severe sentence to be imposed for the present offence. Acting under the advice of counsel, he accordingly pleaded guilty to the present charge, although strenuously denying all criminal intent.

The applicant has now served eight months of his term of imprisonment. His prior record was good with the exception of the offense for which he was convicted in New Jersey, and of which he has always maintained his innocence.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters from prison officials, including letters from the Deputy Warden and Chaplain, in which they certify to the applicant's exceptionally good prison record, and recommend clemency.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the grave doubt as to the guilt of the applicant; his prior good record, with but one exception; the term of imprisonment already served, because of his excellent prison record as shown by letters from the prison officers filed with the Board and their recommendations of clemency, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and that if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session", recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said Henry P. Gilbert.

Sir: At No. 174 June Sessions, 1915, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Berks, George Seibert was convicted of Murder in the Second Degree and on February 21, 1916, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a period of not less than sixteen years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is a native-born American citizen, forty-nine years of age. His occupation is that of blacksmith. At the time of his arrest he was so employed in the City of Reading, where he resided. He has no dependents.

About 1904 or 1905 the applicant married the woman whom he afterwards killed. She proved unfaithful to him during the last seven years of their married life. She remained away at night with other men, until 2:00 or 3:00 o'clock in the morning and on seven different occasions he found her in bed with other men. Money which he gave her she spent on her paramours. This resulted in domestic friction. They lived together about one-half of their married life. On the morning of June 12, 1915, the applicant said goodbye to his wife and went to his work as usual. Not having much to do in the morning he began drinking and about 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon became drunk. He had a razor with him which he was in the habit of bringing to the blacksmith shop to lend to a companion to shave himself. He had been brooding a long time over his domestic difficulties, his wife's unfaithfulness and the neglect of her household duties and while in this state of mind he was seized with an impulse to kill his wife. He went to his home, cut his wife's throat and immediately returned to the stable from which point he started to go to his home, and was there arrested. During the trial and at all times the applicant maintained that he was so drunk on the afternoon of the tragedy that he didn't know what he was doing.

The applicant has now served twelve years and ten months of his term in prison. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime with a single exception: in 1906 he was convicted of forgery and sentenced to six months in jail.

There was filed with the Board a letter from the President Judge of Berks County in which he states that he was appointed by the Court as one of the applicant's counsel at the time of the trial; that he has kept in touch with him ever since his conviction, and has frequently talked about him with the Warden and Chaplain of the Penitentiary. He adds: "From all the knowledge I have thus gained of the crime and of the man, I am of the opinion that his is a proper and worthy case for the extension of clemency at this time. Were he within the jurisdiction of this Court and nothing contrary to my present knowledge appeared, I should consider his case one in which a parole should rightfully be granted." The District Attorney of Berks County has also filed a letter with the Board in which he states: "I believe that the ends of justice have been met by the punishment already suffered by Seibert and therefore have no objection to this application." There was also filed a letter from the resident physician of the Penitentiary. He states that the applicant is suffering from arthritis, and is also developing a gastric condition, which is becoming chronic. He adds: "It is believed his condition would markedly improve should he be granted his liberty."

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant, (with but a single exception); the term of imprisonment already served; his present impaired physical condition; because of the statement of the resident physician of the Penitentiary and the recommendations of the President Judge and District Attorney, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said George Seibert.

Sir: At No. 258 February Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Philadelphia, John Baradone was convicted of Rape, and on June 4, 1926, was sentenced to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than four years nor more than eight years.

The applicant is a native of Italy but a citizen of the United States, thirty years of age; a printer by occupation; married, and was living with his wife and five-year old child and working steadily at the time of his arrest.

The applicant was convicted of the crime of Common Law Rape on the testimony of one Elizabeth Klick, a married woman having three children. She testified that she first met the applicant at the home of her cousin in South Philadelphia on January 17, 1926, but could not recall the address of the house where this meeting took place. She said that an appointment was made for the defendant to call at her home with his wife two days later. She further stated that he came to her house alone about 7.30 of the evening of that day and at that time informed her that he was not married. After social and friendly conversation, she claims that the applicant forcibly ravished her. She admitted that the children were upstairs at the time. The woman's husband did not appear in Court, but on January 22, three days after the alleged rape, he made a complaint to a police officer in the district that his wife had been attacked on the evening of January 19. The applicant admitted that he met the woman as detailed above and that he called at her home, at her request, several days later, where they spent a social evening together without any immoral conduct. At the trial he produced a number of witnesses to testify to his good reputation.

The applicant has now served two and one-half years of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime, but while a lad was arrested in a street fight and discharged before the magistrate.

Louis Pizzo, a cousin of the applicant, who is a member of the detective division of the police force of Philadelphia, appeared before the Board, in person, to advocate clemency, and also filed a letter to the same effect. In the letter he states that he has made an investigation of the case and finds that when the alleged crime was committed the woman was at her home and her three children (the eldest being eleven years of age) were upstairs; that she treated him to wine and also made an appointment to go with him to a party a few nights later. That she did not ask for a warrant for the applicant's arrest until three days after the alleged offense. He further states that after the preliminary hearing the applicant was approached by the attorney for the prosecutor and was informed that the case would be dropped on payment of $2,000.

A number of letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency, among others one from a former employer, who offers to re-employ the applicant if released.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the grave doubt as to the guilt of the applicant on the charge of forcible rape; because of his former good record; the term of imprisonment already served; because employment has been offered him if released, and in further consideration of the fact that his wife and five-year old child require support, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished, and if now released will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Sir: At No. 549, September Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in and for the County of Philadelphia, James G. Joyce pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with assault, being armed with an offensive weapon with the intent to rob; robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon and robbery in the commission thereof, beating, striking and ill using, and on September 19, 1924, was sentenced by the Court to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than nine years nor more than twenty years.

The applicant is twenty-eight years of age; a native-born citizen of the United States; by occupation a rigger and a resident of the City of Philadelphia. He is unmarried; his parents are dead, but he has brothers and sisters living; he has an honorable discharge for service in the World War.

On September 14, 1924, about 4.00 A. M. (Daylight Saving Time), William Weintraub, a driver for the Yellow Cab Company, was instructed to go to Eighty-second and Tintinuc Avenue, Philadelphia, to pick up a party and when he arrived there found seven men who asked him to drive them to Fort Mifflin. When he reached the latter place, two of the men got out of the Cab, and the remaining five requested him to drive them about the city. Subsequently, they asked him to drive them to Eleventh and Filbert Streets where the five men with the Cab driver as their guest went into a restaurant to obtain food, after which the driver was asked to take them to Broad and Oregon Avenue. Here three of the men got out, leaving in the Cab, Albert Egar and the applicant. The driver was then requested to take the two men back to Fort Mifflin, which he did. When they reached this point, Egar jumped out of the Cab and grabbed the driver by the foot while the applicant hit him over the head with a black-jack and knocked him unconscious. He was beaten up, but not seriously injured. They took from him twenty-six dollars in cash and his watch, worth about seventeen dollars. The latter article was subsequently recovered. They drove away with the car and Egar was later arrested as he was leaving the Cab.

When the Cab driver regained consciousness, he called the police and reported what had happened. He was taken to the Police Station where Egar was being detained. The latter was identified by the Cab driver as one of the men who had beaten him and robbed him. Egar confessed and implicated the applicant who was arrested on the following day. The watch was found in his possession. During the night in question he was very much under the influence of liquor, and denied all knowledge of what had happened. He claims that he knew nothing of the theft of the watch or money, until the next morning when he was awakened at which time he had the watch and money in his possession.

The applicant has now served four years and three months of his term in prison. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters and statements with regard to the prior good record of the applicant. Many of these communications came from North Carolina where the applicant was born and reared and certify to the excellent standing of his family and to his good record in that State. A former employer residing in Philadelphia, certified to his good conduct while in his employ and has offered to re-employ him, if released. The prosecutor in the case recommends clemency. The President of the Yellow Cab Company has filed with the Board a letter in which he joins in the request of the prosecutor in the case that the applicant be pardoned.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; his excellent war record; the term of imprisonment already served; because of the fact that the prosecutor in the case and the taxi cab company both recommend clemency; in consideration of the fact that his former employer has offered to re-employ the applicant if released, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said James G. Joyce.

Sir: At Nos. 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 75 and 76 October Sessions, 1926, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of York, J. M. Glassbrenner, alias John M. Glassbrenner, pleaded guilty to indictments charging him with Felonious Entry, Larceny and Receiving Stolen Goods, and on October 27, 1926, was sentenced by the Court in the aggregate to pay a fine of $10.00, costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

The applicant is a native-born citizen of the United States, forty-seven years of age. At the time of his arrest he was engaged in the sale of firewood. Prior thereto he worked as a farm hand and laborer. At the time of his arrest he resided in the City of York. He is married and has three children, aged five and one-half, three and one-half, and two years, respectively. There are also dependent on him a son of his wife by a former husband, aged eleven years, and a widowed mother, aged seventy-one years, infirm and without means of support. At the present time two of his children are inmates of the Children's Home at York.

There had been numerous thefts of chickens in the vicinity of the City of York. On or about September 22, 1923, Harvey Heistand asked the applicant to meet him near the Borough of Loganville in said county with his automobile. It was understood that Heistand was to steal the chickens and the applicant with his truck was to help haul them away and was to receive the sum of twenty dollars for his services. The applicant met Heistand at the appointed place and when he arrived, Heistand was in his car and led the way to a point in a small wood near the farm of Allen Stermer. The automobiles were parked in the woods. The applicant stood watch on the public road in front of the buildings while Heistand and his son, Ellsworth, entered the hen-house and took therefrom two or three coops of chickens. The owner about this time discovered the theft and fired a gun; whereupon the applicant and the Heistands fled to their machines. Subsequently, Harvey Heistand was arrested and Ellsworth (the son) and the applicant were arrested the following day. Subsequently, warrants were served upon the applicant in nine other cases of chicken stealing.

The applicant expressed a willingness to enter a plea of guilty and was brought to the District Attorney's office and asked to plead guilty to the ten indictments. He protested, claiming that he was guilty in only three of the charges preferred. The District Attorney thereupon suggested that the applicant discuss the matter with Harvey Heistand, co-defendant. The applicant was not represented by counsel. He was told by Heistand, who had been in Court on numerous occasions, that it would be for the best interests of all to enter pleas of guilty. The applicant finally yielded and entered a plea of guilty to all of the indictments although only guilty of the offenses charged in Nos. 70, 75 and 76.

The applicant has now served almost two years and two months of his term of imprisonment. He was never before charged with or convicted of crime. His family is in destitute circumstances and requires his support.

A number of letters were filed with the Board recommending clemency, including one from the Warden and Deputy Warden of the York County Jail, where the applicant is now confined. They certify that his prison record is excellent.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant; the term of imprisonment already served; because of his excellent prison record and the recommendations of the prison authorities; and in further consideration of the fact that the applicant's family is in destitute circumstances and requires his support; we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if now released, he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

We, therefore, "after full hearing upon due public notice and in open session," recommend that a pardon be now granted to the said J. M. Glassbrenner, alias John M. Glassbrenner.

Sir: At Nos. 51 and 439, September Sessions, 1925, in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of the Peace, respectively, in and for the County of Allegheny, John Adrian alias John Adriana was convicted of Highway Robbery and Felonious Assault and Battery (two counts), and on January 18, 1924, was sentenced in the aggregate to pay costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than five years.

At No. 46, May Sessions, 1924, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Centre, the said

John Adroni alias John Adriana pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with Breaking and Escaping from the Western Penitentiary, and on February 13, 1926, he was sentenced on the last mentioned charge to pay a fine of $1.00, costs, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of not less than two years and six months nor more than five years; sentence to compute at the expiration of sentence from Allegheny County.

The applicant is a native of Italy and thirty years of age. He took out his first naturalization papers and served in the United States Army in the World War and obtained an honorable discharge, and by reason thereof is now a citizen of the United States. At the time of his arrest in Allegheny County he was employed by the Carnegie Steel Company at their furnace plant in Rankin, Allegheny County, where he resided with his wife and two small children.

The two Allegheny County indictments referred to were based upon the charge that the applicant did, on the 29th day of July, 1923, feloniously assault and rob one Owen Owens at a place called Regent Square, which is situated approximately one mile from the applicant's home. Although convicted of this crime the applicant has steadfastly maintained his innocence. On April 19, 1924, while confined in the Penitentiary on his first conviction, he escaped for the purpose, as he alleges, of caring for his family, which was in need. He obtained employment, resided with his wife and children and supported them until he was re-arrested on August 24, 1925, on the charge of escaping from the Penitentiary, and for the latter offense was convicted and sentenced as above stated.

The applicant has now served more than three years, which is more than six months beyond the minimum sentence imposed for Highway Robbery. Prior to the first conviction, hereinbefore stated, he had a good record.

There was filed with the Board a number of letters recommending clemency; among others one from the Chief of Police of the Borough of Rankin. His wife and two small children are in destitute circumstances and require his support.

In consideration of all the circumstances of this case; the prior good record of the applicant previous to his conviction for robbery, and because of his excellent war record; the term of imprisonment already served; because his wife and small children require his support; because of the recommendations of the Chief of Police of Rankin Borough and others, we have concluded that he has been sufficiently punished and if he is now released he will prove himself a useful and law-abiding citizen.

Harrisburg, Pa., December 3, 1928.

In the matter of the petition of M. John Liddy for remission of fines and costs, Sir: M. John Liddy, a citizen of the State of New York, residing in the city of Elmira, has filed with the Governor of Pennsylvania an application for the refund of certain fines and costs illegally collected from him, and this petition has now been referred to the Board of Pardons, pursuant to Section 999 of The Administrative Code, approved June 7, 1923, P. L. 493.

The petition, which is verified by affidavit, discloses the following facts:

M. John Liddy is the owner of a Hudson automobile. He holds both an owner's certificate of registration and an operator's license for the calendar year 1928, granted by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles of the State of New York.

On May 27, 1928, Susan E. Logue, a citizen of said State and residing in said city, was driving the petitioner's automobile along a public highway in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, leading from Troy, Pennsylvania to Elmira, New York. The petitioner, at the time, was a passenger in the car. He had in his possession the operator's license and certificate of registration granted him by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles of the State of New York. The said Susan E. Logue was duly authorized to operate an automobile over the public highways of the last mentioned State by virtue of a learner's thirty-day permit granted her on the previous day by the latter State, which permit she had in her possession at the time. While the petitioner and the said Susan E. Logue were proceeding in a lawful manner along the public highway as above stated, they were stopped by a Pennsylvania State Trooper and taken before Henry T. Andrus, a Justice of the Peace residing at Gillett, Bradford County, Pennsylvania, where the petitioner was charged with violating Section 623 of The Vehicle Code of May 11, 1927, P. L. 886, in that he permitted his car to be operated by a person who did not possess an operator's license, and the said Susan E. Logue was charged with violating Section 601 of the same Code, in that she operated the petitioner's car without an operator's license.

The petitioner at the time of his arrest exhibited his certificate of registration and operator's license to the Trooper but did not exhibit the learner's permit of the said Susan E. Logue, because the only question asked by the Trooper was as to whether or not the said Susan E. Logue possessed an operator's license. The Trooper did not inquire whether or not she owned and carried a learner's permit. Both were released upon deposit of bail and were directed to return on the following day.

On that day the petitioner and the said Susan E. Logue presented themselves before the Justice of the Peace. The petitioner exhibited to that official not only his own certificate of registration and operator's license, but also the learner's permit of Susan E. Logue. The Justice informed the petitioner that the said Susan E. Logue was legally entitled to operate an automobile over the highways in Pennsylvania by virtue of her learner's permit. Nevertheless, he proceeded to fine both the petitioner and the said Susan E. Logue, the sums of twenty-five dollars and ten dollars, respectively, pursuant to Section 1203 of said Code, which said amounts the petitioner paid to the Justice together with the additional sum of five dollars costs, making a total of forty dollars, for which amount the petitioner holds the receipts of the Justice of the Peace. The records of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department show that the amount of the two fines, to wit: the sum of thirty-five dollars, was actually paid into the State Treasury and credited to the Motor License Fund, pursuant to Section 1101 of said Code.

In consideration of the above stated facts; it appearing that the fines imposed as aforesaid upon M. John Liddy, the petitioner, and Susan E. Logue, respectively, were imposed by Justice Andrus under an erroneous conception of the law, and it further appearing that the said fines were collected by the said Justice and were by him paid into the State Treasury, and that the defendants were in fact innocent of the charges on which said convictions were had and said fines were imposed, we, after due consideration of the petition of the said M. John Liddy, do recommend that the said fines of twenty-five dollars and ten dollars, respectively, imposed on and paid by the said M. John Liddy, the petitioner, and the said Susan E. Logue, be now remitted by the Governor of this Commonwealth, by virtue of the authority vested in him by Article IV, Section 9, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

With regard to the refunding of the costs which were collected by the Justice of the Peace, we submit that the Governor is without legal authority to remit the same.

Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

as four (4) Major Operating Special Funds and many other Special Funds not in the State Treasury used for the payment of salaries and expenses of administration of departments, boards and commissions were abolished by an Act approved May 6, 1927, P. L. 848, (No. 428) or by executive order of the Governor. There still remain seven (7) Operating Special Funds in the State Treasury and one (1) Major Operating Special Fund not in the State Treasury (See page 26) which are used for administrative expenses of departments, boards and commissions. In addition, there are about forty-eight (48) Institutional Special Funds collected and expended by the State-Owned Institutions and Commissions without passing through the State Treasury. (See page 28).

INSTITUTIONAL SPECIAL FUNDS

The State-Owned Educational and Welfare Institutions have accounts in various Pennsylvania banks in which these institutions deposit State Funds collected by them from various sources. These collections approximate $15,000,000.00 each biennium and are expended by the institutions for operation, maintenance, repairs and other purposes without passing through the State Treasury.

REVENUE AVAILABLE FOR GOVERNMENTAL EXPENDITURE

During the 1927-29 biennium the estimated revenue of the General Fund available for appropriation only, is $153,069,239.34 which added to the estimated receipts of non-revenue in the General Fund and the estimated receipts of Operating Special Funds amounts to $281,682,251.84. This amount, added to the receipts of the Institutional Special Funds, makes $296,163,176.84 available for expenditure, during the 1927-29 biennium, by all agencies of the State Government. For the 1929-31 biennium the revenue for the same funds is estimated to be about $301,676,830.00.

For estimates of revenue available for appropriation only and receipts available for special purposes, see page 26.

CUSTODIAL SPECIAL FUNDS

There are twelve special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer (See page 224) in addition to the General Fund and the Operating Special Funds. The balances to the credit of these Custodial Funds at the dates indicated are as follows:

Balance	June 1, 1927	May 31, 1928	Nov. 30, 1928

INVESTMENTS IN CUSTODIAL FUNDS

The General Assembly of 1927 by amendment of Section 701 (f) of the Administrative Code, authorized the Governor to approve or disapprove all investments by Departments, Boards, or Commissions of funds administered by such Departments, Boards or Commissions.

Previous to that time, all investments were made by the several boards without any coordination. It was found upon investigation, that very few investments had been submitted to the Department of Justice for approval as to their legality. A method was established providing for specific information as to the condition of the funds and eligibility of all investments. (See page 223).

Under the plan now in operation, each Board or Commission, after deciding upon the investment that it desires to purchase, submits the required information to the Budget Secretary, who in turn submits the data to the Department of Justice. If the Department of Justice reports favorably on the legality and the Budget Secretary is satisfied as to the security, the investment is approved.

A statement of the investment transactions showing par values, is as follows for the periods indicated:

	June 1, 1927 to May 31, 1928	June 1, 1928 to Nov. 30, 1928	June 1, 1927 to Nov. 30, 1928

DEBT OF THE COMMONWEALTH

A comparison of the Debt as of June 1, 1925, June 1, 1927 and December 1, 1928 is as follows:

The Debt of the Commonwealth, on June 1, 1925, was $68,045,320.26 divided as follows:

Non-Interest Bearing Debt and Matured Loans Unclaimed	$ 141,320.26
Interest Bearing Debt (Excluding Road Bonds)	17,000.00
Outstanding Road Bonds of $70,000,000.00 Issued, Series "A" to "E" Inclusive ...	67,888,000.00
	$68,046,320.26

The Debt of the Commonwealth, on June 1, 1927, was $98,046,320.26 divided as follows:

Non-Interest Bearing Debt and Matured Loans Unclaimed	$ 141,320.26
Interest Bearing Debt (Excluding Road Bonds)	17,000.00
Outstanding Road Bonds of $100,000,000.00 Issued, Series "A" to "G" Inclusive ...	97,888,000.00
	$98,046,320.26

The Debt of the Commonwealth, on December 1, 1928, was $93,379,320.26 divided as follows (See page 206):

Non-Interest Bearing Debt and Matured Loans Unclaimed	$ 141,320.26
Interest Bearing Debt (Excluding Road Bonds)	17,000.00

	$93,379,320.26

SINKING FUND

Prior to June 1, 1927, $2,112,000.00 of the $100,000,000.00 Road Bonds issued were retired through the Sinking Fund. From June 1, 1927 to November 30, 1928, Road Bonds in the amount of $4,667,000.00 were canceled and retired through the Sinking Fund, leaving, December 1, 1928, outstanding $93,221,000.00 which, added to $141,320.26 Non-interest Bearing Debt and $17,000.00 Interest Bearing Debt, made the total Debt of the Commonwealth $93,379,320.26. The net balance calculated on an actuarial basis to meet the Sinking Fund Requirements, May 31, 1929, is $8,511,128.88, and it is estimated that the amount in the Sinking Fund on that date will be sufficient (See page 207).

It is estimated that $13,855,219.55 (See page 210) will be necessary for interest and Sinking Fund Requirements for the 1929-31 biennium, to pay not only the interest charges when due but also to provide for the payment of bonds at maturity. It is recommended that this amount be appropriated from the Motor License Fund.

UNEXPENDED APPROPRIATIONS

On June 1, 1927, there were a number of unexpended appropriations as far back as 1911 on the books of the Auditor General for several Departments, Boards and Commissions, some with and some without apparent obligations.

By Appropriation Act No. 25-A of 1927, it was provided that all unexpended or unencumbered balances of appropriations prior to 1925 should lapse on May 31, 1927, with the result that all old unencumbered appropriations have been lapsed and the books for many of them closed.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE LAND SCRIP FUND

The Agricultural College Land Scrip Fund consists of a Guaranteed Principal of $500,000.00, representing the balance of the proceeds from the sale of land scrip donated to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by the Land Grant Act of Congress in 1862 for the endowment and support of a college for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts. One-tenth of the entire proceeds from the sale of the land scrip was used for the purchase of the Eastern, Western and Central Experimental Farms and the balance of the proceeds was invested in a bond of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the amount of $500,000.00, dated February 1, 1872, to mature February 1, 1922. This bond was redeemed at maturity and the $500,000.00 was kept in the Sinking Fund until May 12, 1924, when it was segregated as a special fund. The Act of Congress provided that the proceeds thereof be invested, to yield not less than five per centum, and the principal thereof never to be impaired. The General Assembly of the Commonwealth has biennially appropriated moneys sufficient to make up the difference between the interest earned and the guaranteed rate of five per centum. The Eastern and Western Experimental Farms were sold under the Act of May 13, 1887, P. L. 115. The proceeds of this sale, amounting to $17,000.00, are in the Sinking Fund and the General Assembly has biennially appropriated sufficient moneys to pay Pennsylvania State College interest at the rate of six per centum. It is recommended that this item be transferred to the Agricultural College Land Scrip Fund.

THE INSURANCE FUND

The Insurance Fund was created by the Act of May 14, 1915, P. L. 524, to provide for the rebuilding, restoration or replacement of buildings, equipment or other property owned by the Commonwealth and damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty. This act set apart (a) all revenues under the then existing laws that were appropriated and set apart to the Sinking Fund in excess of Sinking Fund requirements, (b) the then existing surplus in the Sinking Fund, (c) one-half of all taxes received upon premiums of foreign fire insurance companies, and (d) any moneys that the Commonwealth might receive under the then existing insurance policies or from cancellations. The amending Act of May 8, 1919, P. L. 157, omitted the revenue provided by item (a), while the Act of July 15, 1919, P. L. 964, diverted the revenue of item (c) to certain municipalities. The revenues under items (b) and (d) have automatically ceased. Since 1919, the revenue of this fund has consisted solely of the interest on investments and bank balances, and the proceeds from salvage of State property damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty.

The Insurance Fund has been practically wiped out by the losses of recent years and there remained on December 1, 1928, only $322,326.00, obligated to approximately $155,000.00, leaving an unobligated balance of about $167,000.00, December 1, 1928.

INSURANCE TAX FUND

The two per centum tax on foreign fire insurance companies, levied by the Act of June 1, 1889, P. L. 420, as amended by Act of May 6, 1925, P. L. 526, has been deposited in this fund, pending distribution to the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth. On December 31, 1925, there was an undistributed surplus of $598,326.09 which has gradually increased to $1,- 193,294.04 as of December 15, 1928. (See page 41). The Insurance Department advises that this condition arises from a practice which has prevailed of receiving two annual reports from all foreign fire and foreign fire and marine insurance companies. One report is known as the "Premium Report" showing the premiums written in Pennsylvania during the year, corresponding to the business as reported in the annual statement forms. The other is known as the "Agents' Premium Report," which is prepared by the companies from information received from their agents, showing the premium writings in the respective districts. A recapitulation of the agents' reports is certified by the Insurance Commissioner to be the total premiums written upon which the two per centum payable to the respective districts is calculated. The premium reports upon which the tax is collected exceed the agents' reports upon which distribution is made.

The auditors of the Insurance Department have brought the figures up to December 15, 1928, and I recommend that the unobligated balance be paid into The Insurance Fund in order that it may be better prepared to meet emergency demands for restoration of State property destroyed.

GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITION OF THE DEPARTMENTS, BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS, MAY 31, 1927

Under the Administrative Code, Act of June 7, 1923, P. L. 498 as amended by Act of April 13, 1927, P. L. 207, the Governor is given the power to supervise generally the fiscal affairs of all Administrative Officers, Departments, Boards, Commissions and Agencies of the State Government, except the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department. He has the authority and it is his duty to call upon the several Departments, Boards and Commissions for advance estimate of expenditures and to approve or disapprove the budgetary proposals submitted to him.

Charged with direct responsibility for the fiscal condition of the State, I desired to be informed in detail with regard to the affairs of the several Departments, Boards and Commissions, particularly at the beginning of the first biennium of my administration, June 1, 1927. With this in mind, I requested practically all Departments, Boards and Commissions to obtain and submit to me audits as of May 31, 1927. In response to this request, most of the Departments, Boards and Commissions employed public accountants to make audits as requested.

Previous to making this request, however, I was advised by the Department of Justice that it was undoubtedly the function of the Auditor General to ascertain whether the various Departments, Boards and Commissions had paid into the State Treasury all moneys coming into their hands which should be paid into the Treasury, and whether there had been any irregularities in the handling or use of public funds by such Departments, Boards and Commissions. Beyond the group covered by the Auditor General there were many phases of operation and disbursement in which the Governor and the agencies had an administrative responsibility.

The Department of Justice advised me it could find nothing in any statute which renders examination, by public accountants, unlawful or inconsistent with the functions of the Auditor General, and that it was therefore entirely proper for the several Departments, Boards and Commissions, if and when necessary for the intelligent management of their own affairs and for enabling them to give to the Governor such information as he desired, to employ persons to make such examinations.

Accordingly, three firms of public accountants were employed and comprehensive studies were made at a cost of $509,574. (See page 42.) To November 30, 1928, there had been actual recovered and deposited in the State Treasury as a result of these audits $286,826.29, and charges of $282,671.72 entered upon the books to be collected, making a total of $569,498.01. Cash surpluses aggregating $2,080,835.42, held by Departments, Boards and Commissions, were disclosed, as of May 31, 1927, which had accumulated from various sources for many years. In many instances these surpluses were not heretofore considered State funds, but the Department of Justice advised me that these surpluses are State funds, no part of which may be used unless authorized by the General Assembly. I, therefore, request the General Assembly to require the several Departments, Boards, and Commissions having these surpluses in their possession to pay them into the State Treasury.

The public accountants estimated further, that approximately $2,500,000.00 could have been collected or saved for the biennium ending May 31, 1927, if different methods had been resued.

Therefore, the audits resulted not only in more than paying themselves by actual moneys received or to be received but also in suggesting the introduction of better practices which would involve the saving of substantial sums of money each biennium. With the knowledge gained from the audits it has been possible to bring under budgetary control expenditures heretofore so regulated.

Beginning June 1, 1927, there was installed by the Budget Secretary, at my direction, a complete system of accounting in Departments, Boards and Commissions, with monthly reports, so that the Governor through the office of the Budget Secretary would be informed whether the approved budgets had been complied with. This system has been in operation between months and has met the test. It has brought about improved methods in all Departments, Boards and Commissions, and its efficiency is reflected in the negligible apparent deficiencies.

I directed the Budget Secretary to prescribe and install on June 1, 1928, a new accounting system in the State Welfare Institutions in such form as, not only to bring the financial records in accord with the budgetary methods, but also to furnish all information necessary for all departments of State Government, desiring information, without duplication of records.

The audits further disclosed deficiencies in State Welfare Institutions for periods prior to June 1, 1927, amounting to $136,-17.

DEFICIENCIES

The General Assembly of 1927 appropriated $5,824,544.85, to cover deficiencies for prior years; $4,374,532.27 (See page 44) which were General Fund deficiencies and $1,450,012.58 (See page 82) Sinking Fund deficiency.

On May 31, 1927, there were deficiencies aggregating $136,-17 which were not provided for by the General Assembly of 1927 as they either had not been requested at that time or had not been ascertained. (See page 35.) Apparent deficiencies aggregating $484,978.00 have been incurred during the 1927-29 biennium to meet emergencies and unforeseen conditions that have arisen during this period. (See page 35.)

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The State Treasurer advises he will have a deficiency of $500.00; this is recommended.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS

The Bureau of Aeronautics and the Division of Bond Approval were newly created and it was found that the amounts appropriated in 1927 were not sufficient to care properly for the work assigned to them. A deficiency of $20,000.00 is, therefore, recommended.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRY

During the present biennium, many more State employees were injured than had been estimated. Under the amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Law passed in 1927, increased benefits for injured employees. Therefore, more was required to be paid for workmen's compensation to injured State employees than was anticipated. A deficiency of $5,000.00 is recommended.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES

Additional $5,000.00 is recommended for compensation and expenses attending the examination of candidates for mine men, assistant mine foremen and fire bosses.

DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

Increased appropriations for construction of buildings and increased expenses in supervision. Surety bonds had been provided in the past for many State employees handling State funds. Increased work of the Department's requires additional office space and office supplies. These, coats were not anticipated at the last Session of the General Assembly. It is estimated this total will be $171,000.00 more than the appropriations. This amount is recommended.

DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE

Penal and Correctional Institutions

The increased number of criminal insane made it necessary to provide for the care of a number of these patients at Rockview at an additional cost of $33,949.00 as the Fairview State Hospital was not able to receive and care for them. This item is recommended.

Institutions for Feeble Minded and Epileptics

Feeble minded patients in excess of the number contemplated in the appropriation of 1927 have been cared for at Polk State School at an additional cost of $63,379.00 for the biennium. This item is recommended.

Medical and Surgical Hospitals

The business conditions in the coal fields and an increased number of patients are responsible for a deficiency of $129,-150.00 in the State-Owned Medical and Surgical Hospitals, which is recommended.

JUDICIARY

The Supreme Court has requested $2,500.00 additional for Prothonotary fees and it will take approximately $30,000.00 additional to pay the expenses of Traveling Judges. These items are recommended.

GENERAL FUND APPROPRIATIONS

The amount recommended for the ensuing biennium is $167,044,799.17 (See page 40) and is the estimated General Fund Revenue available for appropriation after taking into consideration the estimated balance in the Treasury and the estimated appropriation liability on June 1, 1929.

GOVERNOR'S AND LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR'S OFFICES

DEPARTMENT OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL

The increase in Administration of the Department of the Auditor General of $75,750.00 is requested to provide for the expansion of business of the Department. There is an increase of $1,000.00 for Refund of Stock Transfer Stamps, a decrease of $5,000.00 for Refunding Retail Liquor License Fees, a decrease of $25,000.00 for Refunding Inheritance Taxes, and other minor refunds. The net increase in the Department, therefore, is $47,083.91.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The State Treasurer has requested an increase of $40,750.00 over the amount appropriated for the 1927-29 biennium for increased salaries and expenses in the Department.

The amount of $9,440.00 interest on the Funded Debt is recommended for appropriation to the Board of Finance and Revenue.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The special funds heretofore available for this Department have been abolished by an Act of the General Assembly of 1927. The entire Department is now maintained from the General Fund. The $5,069,000.00 recommendation for appropriation to this Department is $61,000.00 in excess of the last appropriation. This results from an increase of $12,000.00 in salaries and expenses, $5,000.00 for Agricultural Exhibits due to premiums paid by smaller fairs and the additional fairs applying for State aid, and $44,000.00 for the State Farm Products Show Commission.

For Japanese Beetle Control and for Control of Corn Borer, specific amounts are not recommended but have been included in the recommendation for the salaries and expenses of the Department.

ANIMAL INDEMNITY

The amount of $2,160,000.00 is recommended for the payment of cattle destroyed. Since July 1, 1918, the Federal Government has allocated $2,670,100.00 toward this work in addition to the amount paid by the State. (See page 48.)

BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY

There is recommended $1,707,000.00 for the maintenance of the Bureau of Animal Industry and for the enforcement of the Dog Law, the same as appropriated in 1927.

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

There is recommended $150,000.00, an increase of $25,000.00. The general administration of the Department and of the Pennsylvania Securities Commission is self-sustaining.

DEPARTMENT OF FORESTS AND WATERS

The total recommendation, to the Department is $4,338,120.00, an increase of $188,280.00 over the present biennium.

Forests

There has been included in the recommendation for salaries and general expenses, the maintenance of the Pennsylvania State Forest School at Mont Alto, the forest nurseries in different sections of the State, annual fixed charges on land, the maintenance and development of Cook Forest Park, and the Maintenance of fire prevention and fire fighting forces in the various sections of the State, an increase of $108,030.00.

There is further recommended $1,000,000.00 for the purchase of forest land, an increase of $500,000.00 over the appropriation for the present biennium.

Waters

There is an increase recommended for the Water and Power Resources Board of $45,000.00 for additional work of the Board for the next biennium.

There is recommended for land purchases on the Pymatuning Project, $300,000.00, and a further recommendation of $200,000.00 to be available for improvements and maintenance.

Parks, Boards and Commissions

The increased recommendation is $135,000.00; increases of $160,000.00 for Valley Forge Park Commission and $20,000.00 for Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission of Erie, and decreases of $25,000.00 for Bushy Run Battlefield State Park and $20,000.00 for Conrad Weiser Memorial Park.

There are recommended for the Lake Erie and Ohio River Canal Board and Washington Crossing Park Commission, the same appropriations granted in the present biennium.

I have recommended that there be appropriated from the Motor License Fund, complying with the Act of April 29, 1925, P. L. 367, $200,000.00, for the improvement and repair of roads and highways within State forest lands and, also, from the Motor License Fund, complying with the Act of May 6, 1927, P. L. 843, the sum of $100,000.00 for building and constructing roads and drives within the State Parks at Valley Forge, Washington Crossing and Erie.

Miscellaneous

As the $41,750.00 appropriated in 1927, for the payment of the mortgage debt on Fort Washington Park, could not be paid, this amount will lapse and there is recommended the sum of $47,000.00 to pay the mortgage and interest charges.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

The recommendation for salaries and general expenses, including the maintenance of the State Hospital for Crippled Children at Elizabethtown, is an increase of $480,000.00 over the present biennium. There is, also, an increase of $50,000.00 recommended for the Sanitary Water Board, due to its enlarged field. I recommend $1,000,000.00 for new construction of buildings at the State Tuberculosis Sanatoria.

The amount recommended for the Department, therefore, is $6,450,000.00, an increase of $1,180,000.00 over the present biennium.

In compliance with the Act of May 6, 1927, P. L. 843, I have recommended the sum of $150,000.00 to be appropriated from the Motor License Fund for building and constructing roads and drives on lands of State institutions within the Departments of Welfare and of Health.

DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS

Funds for the support of the Department of Highways are from Motor License Fees, Fines, Liquid Fuels Tax, Local Federal Aid, Interest on Bank Balances, Miscellaneous Income and a reimbursement from the General Fund for the amount advanced in building the North Office Building.

Expenditures embrace the general administration of the Department, including registration and control of motor vehicles, operation of the Highway Patrol, the building of highways, maintenance of the Interstate Joint Bridges over the Delaware River, the payment of interest and sinking fund requirements on bond issues and such special appropriations therefrom as the General Assembly may make.

The Department of Highways has furnished the following statement of the State Bond Road Fund, the Motor License Fund and General Fund Appropriations showing the balance, receipts and expenditures, the encumbrances and the estimated unencumbered balances available for expenditure during 1927-29 biennium, and the estimated balance June 1, 1929, together with the estimated receipts and unencumbered available funds for the biennium 1929-31. --	------------------

The only appropriation recommended for this Department out of the General Fund is the salary of the Secretary of Highways at the rate of $12,000.00 per year.

There is a total estimated balance of $631,086.00 in the General Fund State-Aid Highway appropriations granted previous to 1923. It is recommended that all General Fund balances be transferred to the Motor Fund in order that all expenditures for the Department of Highways may be made from one fund.

The amount recommended for Sinking Fund and Interest Requirements in 1927, has proved to be sufficient and there is recommended to be appropriated from the Motor License Fund $13,855,220.00 for the payment of the Sinking Fund and Interest Requirements for the next biennium. A further sum of $30,000.00 is recommended for payment to the Loan and Transfer Agent to be paid from the Motor Fund.

The Department of Highways has all facilities for building highways and roads and is in a position to build them at the lowest possible cost.

There are roads and drives on lands of State Institutions and State Parks which, under the Act of May 6, 1927, P. L. 843, may be built by the Department of Highways from the Motor Fund upon approval of the Governor. I, therefore, recommend that there be specifically appropriated from the Motor Fund $150,000.00 for roads and drives on lands of State Institutions within the Departments of Welfare and of Health, $50,000.00 for roads and drives on lands of State Institutions within the Department of Public Instruction and $100,000.00 for roads and drives at Valley Forge, Washington Crossing and Erie Parks—the amount to be allocated to each institution or park to be requested by the Department having supervision over the Board or Commission and approved by the Secretary of Highways and the Governor.

The Act of April 29, 1925, P. L. 367, provides that there may be expended from the Motor Fund $100,000.00 per annum for roads and drives on lands within State Forest Reservations. I, therefore, recommend an appropriation from the Motor Fund of $200,000.00 for this purpose.

I, further, recommend that the sum of $250,000.00 be specifically appropriated from the Motor Fund for Grade Crossing Elimination.

The unencumbered funds available for the biennium 1929-31, after providing for the Sinking Fund and Interest Requirements and other special appropriations as per statement furnished by the Department of Highways, will be $120,372,150.00 (See Schedule "I.")

In my message I recommended that bridges and city streets needed to unify the driveways on the existing State Highway System be taken over and the construction and upkeep thereof assumed by the Commonwealth. I, also, recommend that the appropriations for State Aid Highways and Township Rewards be materially increased. If these additional obligations meet with legislative approval, additional revenue must be provided or the rate of construction on the main system must be materially curtailed from what it has been for some years past.

* Per Act of May 6, 1927, P. L. 843.

† Per Act of April 29, 1925, P. L. 367.

Later, specific amounts will be recommended for each hospital and institution, and for the care and treatment of the indigent insane, and separate bills will be presented for consideration by the General Assembly.

In compliance with the Act of May 6, 1927, P. L. 843, I have recommended the sum of $150,000.00 to be appropriated from the Motor License Fund for building and constructing roads and drives on lands of State institutions within the Departments of Welfare and of Health.

Working Capital Fund for Welfare Institutions (State-Owned)

It has been ascertained during the present biennium that there were surplus funds of $980,806.55 held to the credit of some of the State-Owned Welfare Institutions (See page 42) which, in many cases, were not considered State Funds. Under an Opinion of the Attorney General, these have been declared funds belonging to the Commonwealth, and I have recommended, in another Section of the Budget, that the General Assembly direct the institutions to pay these funds into the State Treasury.

Many of the institutions that did not have the accumulated surpluses have been greatly hampered in paying their bills promptly. Advance requisitions granted, have not, in many cases, provided the means by which the institutions could take all available discounts, thereby causing heavy losses to the Commonwealth.

In order to place all the institutions upon an equal basis and give them an available capital fund upon which to draw for the payment of maintenance bills, while requisitions are being transmitted and audited, I have recommended that there be appropriated to the Department of Welfare $1,000,000.00, to be allocated by it, subject to the approval of the Governor to the several institutions and used as working capital.

This will not only provide a method to obtain all available discounts but will make it possible for the institutions to purchase more economically when it is known that all bills can be paid when due.

COMMISSIONS

There is recommended for the Pennsylvania-New Jersey Joint Bridge Commission, $200,000.00, to match a similar sum appropriated by the State of New Jersey, for the purchase of toll bridges over the Delaware River between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey, if it be deemed wise to make further purchases.

BOARD OF FISH COMMISSIONERS

All fees, fines, penalties received, recovered and collected under the fish laws are deposited in an Operating Special Fund in the State Treasury known as "The Fish Fund."

Moneys received from license fees in any calendar year in excess of $350,000.00 may only be used for the purchase and acquisition of additional land, water and buildings for State fish hatcheries, the propagation and protection of fish therein and the stocking of waters within the Commonwealth. All other moneys in the fund are available for administration, field work, propagation, supplies, repairs, and, with the approval of the Governor, for the purchase of lands and waters and the impounding of waters for use by the citizens of the Commonwealth for fishing, hunting and forest purposes.

BOARD OF GAME COMMISSIONERS

All fees, fines and penalties and other moneys collected are deposited in an Operating Special Fund in the State Treasury known as "The Game Fund." Departmental expenses together with the protection and care of game and other wild birds and wild animals are paid from this Fund and $100,000.00 is specifically appropriated annually from the Fund for the purchase or propagation of game for stocking purposes, the distribution of game, and the supply of feed for game.

Under the Act of May 5, 1927, P. L. 815, increasing the Resident Hunters' License Fees, it was provided that 75 cents of each fee be set aside for the creation, acquisition by purchase, lease or otherwise and the maintenance of public hunting grounds and game refuges.

GENERAL FUND AND SPECIAL FUNDS

In the Budget now presented to the General Assembly, a very clear distinction is made between the General Fund Receipts and the General Fund Revenue.

In the General Fund Receipts there are included, in addition to General Fund Revenue, the Liquid Fuels Tax returned to counties and other minor items that are appropriated as soon as received.

General Fund Revenue indicates the amount of money available for specific appropriation.

The Budget, further, divides all funds into General Fund, Operating Special Funds in the State Treasury, Operating Special Funds not in the State Treasury, Custodial Special Funds in the custody of the State Treasurer, and Institutional Special Funds in the custody of the institutions, and defines them distinctly.

Very respectfully submitted,

JOHN S. FISHER,
Governor.

(e) This amount represents the proceeds from the Eastern and Western Experimental Farms sold in accordance with the Act of May 13, 1887, P. L. 115, which provided that this money was to be deposited in the State Treasury as a special fund and that the Commonwealth pay to the Pennsylvania State College, annually, interest at the rate of six per centum on said amount. The General Assembly has biennially appropriated an amount equal to the annual interest requirements, from the General Fund to the Pennsylvania State College. It is recommended that the amount of $17,000.00 be transferred to the Agricultural College Land Scrip Fund as both funds are for the same purpose.

The Agricultural College Land Scrip Fund consists of a Guaranteed Principal of $500,000.00, representing the balance of the proceeds from the sale of land scrip donated to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by the Land Grant Act of Congress in 1862 for the endowment and support of a college for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts. One-tenth of the entire proceeds from the sale of the land scrip was used for the purchase of the Eastern, Western and Central Experimental Farms and the balance of the proceeds was invested in a bond of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the amount of $500,000.00, dated February 1, 1872, to mature February 1, 1922. This bond was redeemed at maturity and the $500,000.00 was kept in the Sinking Fund until May 12, 1924, when it was segregated as a special fund. The Act of Congress donating the land scrip provided that the proceeds thereof must be invested so that they yield not less than five per centum per annum and the principal thereof should never be impaired. The General Assembly of the Commonwealth has biennially appropriated moneys sufficient to make up the difference between the interest earned by the moneys in the Agricultural College Land Scrip Fund and the guaranteed interest rate of five per centum so that the Pennsylvania State College has received annually five per centum on $500,000.00. The Eastern and Western Experimental Farms were sold under the Act of May 13, 1887, P. L. 115. The proceeds of this sale, amounting to $17,000.00 are in the Sinking Fund and The General Assembly has biennially appropriated sufficient moneys to pay the Pennsylvania State College interest at the rate of six per centum per annum on this fund of $17,000.00. It is recommended that this amount of $17,000.00, now in the Sinking Fund, be transferred to the Agricultural College Land Scrip Fund, thus placing in the one fund all moneys to be applied to the same purpose.

The Insurance Fund was created by the Act of May 14, 1915, P. L. 524, to provide for the rebuilding, restoration or replacement of buildings, equipment or other property owned by the Commonwealth and damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty. This Act set apart for this fund (a) all revenues under then existing laws that were appropriated and set apart to the Sinking Fund, (b) the then existing surplus in the Sinking Fund, (c) one-half of all taxes received upon premiums of foreign fire insurance companies, and (d) any moneys that the Commonwealth might receive under then existing insurance policies or from the cancellation of same. The amending Act of May 8, 1919, P. L. 157, omitted the revenue provided by item (a), while the Act of July 15, 1919, P. L. 964, diverted the revenue of item (c) to the political subdivisions within the Commonwealth. The revenues under items (b) and (d) have automatically ceased. Since 1919 to the present time, the revenue of this fund has consisted solely of the interest on investments and bank balances, and the proceeds from salvage of state property damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Bridge Fund was created by the Act of July 18, 1919, P. L. 1049, as amended by the Act of May 12, 1921, P. L. 551, which authorized the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings to erect a soldiers' and sailors' memorial bridge in the City of Harrisburg to commemorate the services of the soldiers and sailors of the Commonwealth. This Act provided that the City of Harrisburg should pay Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000) into this fund, that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and any street railway company or public service corporation which secures the right to use the bridge for the purpose of laying tracks, pipes, or conduits thereon, shall pay into this fund such sum as shall be determined by the said Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings with the approval of the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth, and, in addition, that any money paid by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for a certain strip of land along the tracks of this company shall also be paid into this fund. The above powers of this board are now exercised by the Department of Property and Supplies under the Administrative Code. Up to the present time, the Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000) contributed by the City of Harrisburg and the accumulations thereon, has been the only income that has been paid into this fund.
